

Miriel Bridge Axobian es un distinguido lingüista rabiano y profesor universitario, reconocido por su experiencia en el estudio de las estructuras lingüísticas y la fonética. Su obra más reciente, "Truel: Una guía completa del lenguaje de Bolillian," demuestra su profundo conocimiento de las sutilezas lingüísticas y su compromiso con la promoción y la apreciación cultural a través del aprendizaje de los idiomas. Fuera del aula, es conocido por sus cautivadoras conferencias y su capacidad para inspirar tanto a estudiantes como a académicos.

El libro está bellamente ilustrado por su amable compañero, Midijur, cuyas interpretaciones artísticas enriquecen el texto y dan vida a los aspectos culturales del Bolillian.

Copyright © 2025 Miriel Bridge Axobian

Publicado por Luminae Press, Enclave Elariano

ISBN: 9798294942465

Ninguna parte de este libro puede ser reproducido, almacenado en un sistema de recuperación (incluyendo, pero no limitado a, transmisiones sub-étéricas, pergaminos encantados, o esferas de memoria cristalina), ni transmitido de ninguna forma o por cualquier medio, ya sea a través de susurros encantados, artefactos mecánicos, enlaces telepáticos, usando los conductos étéricos, fotocopiado, grabación, o cualquier otro medio (especialmente "cualquier otro medio"), sin la previa autorización por escrito de Luminae Press. El uso no autorizado puede resultar en una visita levemente iracunda del Luminar del Cielo.

Primera edición en español, agosto de 2025.

FONOLOGÍA

DERIVACIÓN

PALABRAS

La fonética explora los sonidos de Truel, describiendo todas sus consonantes, vocales, patrones de acentuación, así como sus estructuras silábicas.

Pone el acento en las reglas de pronunciación y en sus rasgos fonéticos.

La morfología estudia la formación y la estructura de las palabras. Abarca sufijos, prefijos y la flexión, y muestra cómo las palabras se adaptan para transmitir distintos significados, reflejando la profundidad cultural y la creatividad lingüística de Bolil'lian.

Las distintas clases de palabras incluyen artículos, pronombres, demostrativos, sustantivos, adjetivos, adverbios y verbos. Este capítulo describe las palabras funcionales y usos, reflejando la estructura gramatical y los matices culturales de la comunicación bolil'liana.

VERBOS

SINTAXIS

EXTRAS

Los verbos constituyen el eje dinámico de Truel; este capítulo analiza tiempos, aspectos, modos y la derivación verbal, mostrando cómo las formas verbales expresan acción, intención y cortesía según los patrones culturales de Bolil'lian.

La sintaxis abarca la estructura de la oración, la construcción de los sintagmas y sus relaciones.

Expone las reglas para disponer las palabras y crear oraciones con sentido, reflejando los aspectos lógicos y culturales de la lengua bolil'liana.

Las matemáticas describen el sistema numeral en base 6 y su estructura calendárica única. Este capítulo explica cómo se forman los números y cómo se mide el tiempo y el espacio, resaltando la trascendencia cultural y las aplicaciones prácticas en la vida cotidiana de Bolil'lian.

Fonología

La fonología, una rama fundamental de la lingüística, se adentra en el estudio de los sistemas sonoros de las lenguas. Examina no solo el inventario de sonidos, como consonantes y vocales, sino también cómo estos interactúan entre sí y funcionan en los marcos lingüísticos. Esta exploración es esencial para comprender cómo las lenguas codifican información y difieren en su sonido unas de otras.

En este capítulo, nos embarcamos en un viaje a través del paisaje fonológico de Truel. Descubriremos los principios básicos que rigen su sistema sonoro y detallaremos las funciones y comportamientos específicos de sus consonantes y vocales. Al desmenuzar cómo estos elementos se combinan y se articulan, nuestro objetivo es ofrecer una visión clara y completa que resulte útil tanto para quienes se inician en el estudio de Truel como para los hablantes experimentados. A través de este análisis, los lectores obtendrán información sobre el carácter fonético distintivo de la lengua, dotándolos del conocimiento necesario para dominar su pronunciación e interiorizar sus singulares cualidades sonoras.

	BILABIAL	Dental	LABIODENTAL	ALVEOLAR	PALATO-ALVEOLAR	PALATAL	VELAR	GLOTAL
NASAL	m			n			ŋ
OCLUSIVA	b / p*	d / t*					g / k*
FRICATIVA			f*	s*	ʃ*		χ	h*
APROXIMANTE	β	ð				j
VIBRANTE SIMPLE				r
APROXIMANTE LATERAL					l
	Las marcadas con un asterisco son consonantes sordas

Los sonidos del lenguaje, y en particular las consonantes, se definen por tres características fundamentales: el punto de articulación, el modo de articulación y la sonoridad. Estas propiedades determinan cómo y dónde se produce cada sonido, y permiten distinguir entre fonemas diferentes, es decir, las unidades mínimas de sonido.

Punto de articulación

El punto de articulación indica el lugar en la boca en el que se produce el sonido, es decir, qué partes del tracto vocal entran en contacto o se aproximan.

- Bilabial: Se articula con los dos labios, superior e inferior: /m/, /b/, /p/, /β/
- Labiodental: El labio inferior toca los dientes superiores: /f/
- Dental: La punta de la lengua toca justo detrás de los dientes superiores: /d/, /t/, /θ/
- Alveolar: se articula apoyando la lengua en los alvéolos, una zona justo detrás de los dientes superiores, en la parte frontal del techo de la boca: /n/, /s/, /t/, /l/
- Palato-alveolar: El contacto se da en el inicio del paladar, con una fricción perceptible y un sonido más “silbante”, similar al sonido que en español escribiríamos como “sh”: /ʃ/
- Palatal: La parte media de la lengua toca el paladar duro: /p/, /j/
- Velar: La parte posterior de la lengua toca el velo del paladar: /g/, /k/, /χ/
- Glotal: Se articula en la glotis (la apertura entre las cuerdas vocales), sin usar la boca: /h/

Modo de articulación

El modo de articulación describe cómo los órganos del aparato fonador (lengua, labios, velo del paladar, cuerdas vocales, etc.) modifican el flujo de aire. Cada modo produce un “tipo” de sonido distinto.

- Nasales: En una consonante nasal la cavidad oral se cierra por completo y el aire se escapa únicamente por la nariz. El resultado es un sonido resonante y “zumbón”: /m/, /n/, /ŋ/
- Oclusivas: Las oclusivas se caracterizan por un cierre total del canal vocal seguido de una breve “explosión” generada al soltarse la presión acumulada. /b/, /p/, /d/, /t/, /g/, /k/
- Fricativas: Aquí los articuladores forman un fino estrechamiento que hace que el aire los roce constantemente, de esta forma se produce una turbulencia audible: /f/, /s/, /ʃ/, /χ/, /h/
- Aproximantes: Los órganos se acercan sin llegar a generar fricción, de modo que el sonido se oye casi tan fluido como una vocal: /β/, /ð/, /j/
- Vibrante simple: También llamada “tap” o “flap”, implica un único y rapidísimo golpe de la punta de la lengua contra los alvéolos: /ɾ/
- Aproximante lateral: Dejando escapar el aire por uno o ambos lados de la lengua. Esto le confiere un timbre claro y líquido, distinto tanto de la oclusión total como de la fricción: /l/

Sonoridad

La sonoridad distingue entre sonidos sonoros, en los que las cuerdas vocales vibran, y sonidos sordos, en los que no vibran. Esta diferencia es muy frecuente en pares de consonantes:

- /b/ (sonora) - /p/ (sorda)
- /d/ (sonora) - /t/ (sorda)
- /g/ (sonora) - /k/ (sorda)

La lista completa de consonantes sonoras y sordas sería:

- Sonoras: /m/, /b/, /β/, /ð/, /n/, /d/, /t/, /l/, /p/, /j/, /g/, /χ/
- Sordas: /p/, /f/, /t/, /s/, /ʃ/, /h/

Reglas particulares

Las reglas a tener en cuenta una vez conocidas todos los sonidos aplicables en Truel, cabe destacar algunas reglas sobre su utilización y escritura. En general, los símbolos utilizados en la escritura serán los mismos que los representados en la tabla, salvo excepciones.

En primer lugar, el sonido /k/ se escribe con la letra ortográfica “c” y el sonido /β/ se escribe con la letra ortográfica “v”. A su vez, la fricativa velar /χ/ se escribirá con la letra ortográfica “g”. Los dos sonidos se distinguirán por su posición dentro de la palabra, ya que si se encuentra entre dos vocales se pronunciará como /χ/ y no como /g/. De forma similar, el sonido /ð/ se escribirá con la letra ortográfica “d” y se pronunciará de esta forma cuando esté entre dos vocales o al final de una palabra. Hay varias letras que no pueden usarse como inicio de palabras: r, h, n, s y, comúnmente, j. Esta última, j, tiene algunas excepciones concretas como las derivadas del número 1, “jin”, y su utilización como prefijo. Además, ciertas consonantes no pueden aparecer juntas dentro de una misma sílaba, como se explicará más adelante.

VOCALES

En Truel, las vocales son centrales para la identidad fonética de la lengua, funcionando de forma similar al sistema vocálico clásico del español. Se caracterizan por su claridad y uniformidad, desempeñando un papel crucial en la estructura de las sílabas y las palabras. Truel emplea cinco vocales principales: a, e, i, o, u. Cada vocal tiene una pronunciación distinta y constante, no afectada por la cantidad o la longitud en la mayoría de contextos.

- /a/ (vocal abierta anterior no redondeada)
- /e/ (vocal media-cerrada anterior no redondeada)
- /i/ (vocal cerrada anterior no redondeada)
- /o/ (vocal media-cerrada posterior redondeada)
- /u/ (vocal cerrada posterior redondeada)

ANTERIOR POSTERIOR

i

u

e

o

a

En esta lengua, las vocales suelen tener la misma duración, contribuyendo a una calidad rítmica y armoniosa en el habla. Sin embargo, cuando una vocal se repite en secuencia, como "aa" o "ee", debe pronunciarse con mayor duración, duplicando efectivamente la longitud de la vocal. Este alargamiento es fundamental para la pronunciación correcta y el significado, ya que diferencia las vocales simples de las vocales dobles. Es importante destacar que ninguna secuencia vocálica debe superar las dos vocales consecutivas, garantizando claridad y facilidad de articulación.

Las combinaciones vocálicas, o dígrafos, como "ai" o "eo", siempre ocurren dentro de la misma sílaba, lo que permite una rica variedad de sonidos vocálicos y transiciones silábicas fluidas (esto implica que "Truel" en sí mismo es una palabra monosílaba). La estructura fonológica del Truel limita estas combinaciones a dos vocales por sílaba, asegurando que cada unidad silábica se mantenga clara y fácil de pronunciar. Esta norma simplifica el aprendizaje y la pronunciación al evitar la complejidad de múltiples vocales consecutivas que se influyan mutuamente.

Para indicar que estas vocales deben pronunciarse por separado, se inserta un apóstrofo entre ellas. Por ejemplo, "lau" se pronuncia como una sola sílaba, mientras que "la'u" se pronuncia en dos sílabas distintas. Esta regla garantiza que los hablantes puedan distinguir fácilmente entre sonidos vocálicos simples y separados, manteniendo la integridad lírica y rítmica de la lengua. El apóstrofo sirve únicamente como herramienta fonológica y no tiene ninguna implicación gramatical, lo que facilita su uso y contribuye a la precisión en la pronunciación de las palabras en Truel.

La disposición de letras y símbolos en el abecedario, utilizado para ordenar palabras en el diccionario u otros propósitos, sigue un patrón entrelazado de vocales y consonantes. Esta secuencia está cuidadosamente diseñada para realzar las cualidades melódicas y rítmicas del Truel, la lengua nativa de Bolillian. Aquí se presenta el orden específico:

1º	A a	2º	E e	3º	I i	4º	L l	5º	U u
B b		G g		M m		O o		N n
	C c		P p		N n		R r		Σ ſ
	D d		V v		S s		H h		J j
	F f		T t

El acento en la lengua Truel desempeña un papel crucial en la pronunciación y puede alterar el significado de las palabras. Por ello, su correcta aplicación es esencial para una comunicación clara. En esta sección se expondrán las reglas fundamentales del acento en palabras y verbos, así como una notación especial utilizada para marcar patrones acentuales irregulares.

La colocación del acento en las palabras sigue reglas fonológicas coherentes y fáciles de aprender:

► Verbos en infinitivo: En la forma infinitiva, el acento en los verbos recae en la última sílaba. Esto ayuda a distinguir los verbos en su forma base de otras categorías gramaticales. Por ejemplo, "esiesir" (definir) se acentúa en la última sílaba (sir).

► Verbos en tiempos verbales y otras palabras: Cuando los verbos se conjugan y emplean en diferentes tiempos, el acento se desplaza a la penúltima sílaba. Esta norma se aplica a través de diversos tiempos y ayuda a señalar el tiempo verbal mediante su pronunciación. Por ejemplo, cuando "esiesir" se conjuga en un tiempo pasado, como "nos esiesire" (yo definí), el acento se desplaza a la penúltima sílaba (si).

Este patrón se cumple en la mayoría de las demás palabras, sustantivos, adjetivos, adverbios... Por ejemplo, en el sustantivo "vrasdli" (física), el acento recae en la sílaba penúltima (vras).

Aunque las normas acentuales en Truel están diseñadas para ser claras y predecibles, existen excepciones en las que el acento natural de una palabra o verbo puede diferir de estos patrones. Para acomodar estas irregularidades sin complicar la estructura fonológica de la lengua, Truel emplea un signo diacrítico especial, el circunflejo (^), sobre una vocal.

En casos de acento irregular, si una sílaba se acentúa fuera de los patrones habituales, la vocal de esa sílaba (o la primera de dos vocales consecutivas si las hay dentro de la sílaba) llevará el circunflejo. Por ejemplo, en la palabra "Irâglaro" (irregular), el acento no sigue la regla estándar y se coloca en la segunda sílaba, marcada con el circunflejo sobre la a, (rà).

Este sistema de marcación está diseñado para usarse con moderación, preservando la regularidad y previsibilidad del panorama fonético de Truel, al tiempo que brinda flexibilidad para incorporar palabras con necesidades acentuales únicas, a menudo debidas a préstamos lingüísticos o a desplazamientos fonéticos históricos.

En Truel, la estructura silábica es un componente esencial del sistema fonológico, ya que define cómo se combinan los sonidos para formar unidades de habla. Cada sílaba en Truel se construye a partir de un conjunto limitado de patrones, siguiendo principalmente estructuras como CV (Consonante-Vocal), CCV (Consonante-Consonante-Vocal), VC (Vocal-Consonante) y variantes de éstas. Las estructuras silábicas permitidas, en orden decreciente de preferencia, ajustándose de derecha a izquierda (desde la última sílaba hacia la izquierda) dentro de una misma palabra, son: CCVVC, CVVC, VVC, CCVV, CVV, VV, CCVC, CVC, VC, ĀCV, CV, V

Se puede simplificar, utilizando el hecho de que, salvo en casos concretos que usen el acento, ' , dos vocales irán siempre unidas de la siguiente forma:

C(C)V(V)[C]

Donde el paréntesis implica que si existe esa consonante, es preferible, y el corchete que la última letra puede o no ser una consonante.

Esta jerarquía influye en la división silábica por defecto de las palabras y se adapta cuando se añaden afijos, o durante la conjugación verbal.

Por ejemplo, la palabra "Nebur" (viajar) se divide naturalmente en dos sílabas: ne-bur (CV-CVC). Esta división silábica sigue el siguiente patrón lógico:

La palabra acaba en consonante, "r", por lo que buscamos la primera 'combinación de letras que permiten la creación de una sílaba acabada en consonante. En este caso CVC, "bur". La siguiente letra, hacia la derecha, es una vocal "e", buscamos la primera combinación en el mismo sentido, y encontramos CV, "ne". Cuando se modifica una palabra, por ejemplo con el sufijo agentivo "-ol" para formar "Neburol" (viajero), la palabra pasa a tener tres sílabas: ne-bu-rol (CV-CV-CVC). El procedimiento es similar al realizado anteriormente. No todas siguen este patrón estricto ya que el paso del tiempo ha podido erosionar algunas de esas reglas, creando irregularidades que los habitantes van pudiendo aprender con el tiempo.

Las consonantes en Truel se organizan sistemáticamente en tres grupos distintos según sus características fonéticas y las normas sintácticas que rigen sus combinaciones. Cada grupo desempeña un papel único en la fonología del Truel, influyendo en cómo las consonantes pueden concurrir dentro de las palabras.

► Articuladores Dinámicos: Oclusivas y Fricativas: Este grupo incluye consonantes conocidas por sus sonidos marcados y definidos, que involucran cierres completos o parciales en el tracto vocal. El grupo comprende b, c, d, f, g, p, v, t. Estas consonantes actúan principalmente como potentes iniciadoras de sílaba y son fundamentales para iniciar o interrumpir el flujo de aire, moldeando así la estructura dinámica del habla.

► Conductores Resonantes: Nasales y Líquidas: Este grupo, que incluye m, n, s, l, r, se caracteriza por consonantes que permiten un sonido más sostenido y melódico gracias al flujo de aire continuo durante su articulación. Suelen seguir a las oclusivas y fricativas, facilitando transiciones más suaves y mejorando la musicalidad de la lengua.

► Modificadores Vocálicos: Semivocales y otros sonidos: Este grupo incluye h, ñ, f, y j, caracterizados por sus propiedades semivocálicas y su capacidad para modificar los sonidos vocálicos adyacentes. Estas consonantes deben estar flanqueadas por vocales, reflejando su papel en suavizar las transiciones y enriquecer la cualidad armónica de las palabras.

La siguiente tabla (mencionada en el texto original) ilustra las combinaciones consonánticas permisibles en Truel. Las combinaciones de consonantes se rigen por reglas que determinan su colocación dentro de las sílabas (con algunas excepciones):

► C'C (Sílabas diferentes): Las consonantes marcadas como C'C pueden coincidir en una palabra, pero deben ubicarse en sílabas separadas. Esta separación es crucial para mantener una pronunciación clara. Por ejemplo, "r" y "p" pueden aparecer secuencialmente en la misma palabra, pero en sílabas distintas, como en "Tar'par".

► CC (Misma sílaba): Las consonantes marcadas como CC pueden aparecer juntas dentro de la misma sílaba, lo que permite formaciones de palabras más fluidas y compactas. Por ejemplo, "p" y "r" en "pran'nar" aparecen en la misma sílaba.

Finalmente, existe un orden específico en cuanto a cómo se entrelazan las vocales, un rasgo conocido como "Armonía Vocálica". Este patrón se observa con mayor claridad en los sufijos y marcadores de tiempo de los verbos. Cuando una palabra requiere ser ampliada o modificada por alguna regla gramatical aplicable, la elección de la vocal siguiente sigue directrices específicas para asegurar coherencia y fluidez fonética. Las vocales deben armonizar entre sí, manteniendo un equilibrio melódico que refleje la naturaleza lírica de la lengua Truel. Esta armonía no solo preserva la estética del idioma, sino que también facilita la pronunciación y la comprensión, haciendo de la comunicación en Truel algo a la vez hermoso y preciso.

Pueden iniciar una palabra										No pueden
b	c	d	f	g	p	v	t	m	n	s	l	r	h	n	f	j
b								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
c								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
d								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
f								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
g								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
p								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
v								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
t								CC	CC	CC	CC	CC
m	CC
n	CC
s	CC
l	CC
r	CC
h
n
f
j

Ajuria, el desierto dorado de Bolil'lian, se extiende vasto y místico, con ruinas antiguas bañadas en un cálido resplandor etéreo. Entre sus dunas cambiantes y su flora resistente, el desierto susurra relatos de épocas olvidadas, ofreciendo una belleza profunda y un asombro intemporal a quienes se adentran en su interior.

► Palabras simples: consonantes y vocales

	Palabra en Truel (traducción)	Palabra en Castellano
/m/	Malui (Consistentemente)	Madre, Comer
/b/	Brosvos (Detrás)	Billete, Ámbar
/β/	Divime (Elegante)	Bebe, Viva
/ð/	Sedar (Sentar)	Dado, Comed
/n/	Plecanto (Salto)	Nido, Anillo
/d/	Fondile (Viernes)	Dado, Cuando
/r/	Drauc (Corte)	Corte, Amor
/l/	Ludar (Jugar)	Lista, Calor
/ŋ/	Guagupe (Entusiasmo)	Ñu, Cabaña
/j/	Ijase (Principio)	Lluvia, Haya
/g/	Gleur (Pintar)	Gato, Lengua
/ɣ/	Ogelema (Corto)	Trigo, Jugar
/p/	Pralel (Candidato)	Topo, Pescar
/f/	Eferu (Botella)	Café, Financia
/t/	Uta (Honor)	Átomo, Tramo
/s/	Siur (Progresar)	Casa, Saco
/ʃ/	Oʃidrore (Mentor)	Shock, Show
/h/	Loevahi (Desafío)	Hula hoop, Ahá
/a/	Ababoma (precioso)	Cantar, Bala
/e/	Ead (Habilidad)	Edad, Leer
/i/	Iaf (Fragmento)	Libro, Abrigo
/o/	Oabar (Reservar)	Saco, Otro
/u/	Uamprig (Radio)	Uña, Alud

► Acentos

	Palabra en Truel (traducción)	Palabra en Castellano
Aguda	Verbo: Esir (Ser) Irregular: Lemél (Extraño)	Cantar, Salón
Llana	Verbo conjugado: Dresi (Hablo) Otra (no verbos): Fooral (Cantante)	Árbol, Libro
Esdrújula	Âcama (cansado)	Álgebra, Lágrima

► Sílabas (empleando en las tablas solo las sílabas posibles)

Plumfler

CCVC	CVC	VC
fler	ler	er
Plum-fler	lum-fler	um-fler

Ojeujocroma

CCV	CV	CVV	VV	V
-	ma	-	-	a
cro-ma	ro-ma	-	-	o-ma
-	jo-cro-ma	-	-	o-cro-ma
-	-	jeu-jo-cro-ma	eu-jo-cro-ma	u-jo-cro-ma
-	-	-	-	O-jeu-jo-cro-ma

Cratnatrires (Empresa)

CCVC	CVC	VC	CCV	CV	V
-	res	es	-	-	-
-	-	-	tri-res	ri-res	i-res
-	-	-	tn = C'C	na-tri-res	a-tri-res
Crat-na-tri-res	rat-na-tri-res	at-na-tri-res	-	-	-

Sopiirve (habré o habrá descrito)

CVVC	VVC	VC	CCV	CV	V
-	-	-	rv = C'C	ve	e
piir-ve	iir-ve	ir-ve	-	-	-
-	-	-	-	So-piir-ve	o-piir-ve

Derivación

La morfología es la rama de la lingüística que se ocupa del estudio de la forma y la estructura de las palabras en una lengua. Examina cómo se forman las palabras a partir de unidades más pequeñas llamadas morfemas, las unidades gramaticales mínimas con significado, y cómo estos se combinan para constituir palabras completas. La morfología se divide tradicionalmente en flexiva, que analiza las variaciones gramaticales de las palabras (como el género, número o tiempo verbal), y derivativa, que estudia los procesos de formación de nuevas palabras mediante la adición de afijos o la combinación de raíces.

Comprender la morfología es esencial por diversas razones:

► Gramática y sintaxis: El conocimiento morfológico resulta fundamental para el análisis adecuado de las oraciones. Permite reconocer las categorías gramaticales, comprender la estructura oracional y aplicar correctamente las normas gramaticales, lo cual es crucial tanto para la comprensión lingüística como para una comunicación precisa y eficaz.

► Ampliación del vocabulario: La morfología proporciona las herramientas necesarias para expandir el vocabulario de una lengua. A través del conocimiento de los procesos de formación de palabras, especialmente la derivación y la composición, los hablantes y aprendices pueden crear nuevos términos y comprender otros desconocidos al identificar y analizar sus componentes.

MORFEMAS

Un morfema es la unidad mínima con significado dentro de una lengua. A diferencia de las palabras, que pueden estar formadas por varios morfemas, el morfema no puede dividirse en partes más pequeñas sin perder su sentido o su función.

Por ejemplo, en truel, la palabra bolil contiene dos morfemas:

bol-, que aporta el significado léxico de 'flor';

-il, que indica que es plural.

En Truel, como en muchas lenguas construidas y naturales, los morfemas cumplen distintas funciones y los podemos encontrar de tres formas:

Raíces

La raíz es el núcleo del significado de la palabra. No puede descomponerse más y suele expresar conceptos básicos: naturaleza, emociones, acciones comunes, etc. Ejemplos:

Eimul → “Luz”

Glapapier → “proteger”

Bramo → “Solitario”

Morfemas derivativos

Estos morfemas se añaden a la raíz para formar nuevas palabras o modificar su categoría gramatical. A diferencia de los morfemas flexivos, no expresan relaciones sintácticas dentro de la oración, sino que amplían el vocabulario de la lengua. En Truel, distinguimos varios tipos de derivación:

- ▶ Los sufijos, que se añaden al final
- ▶ Los prefijos, que se anteponen a la raíz
- ▶ La composición, que une dos raíces en una sola palabra

Más adelante exploraremos con detalle todos estos procesos de derivación. En muchos casos, uno de sus efectos principales es el cambio de categoría gramatical de la palabra original, transformándola completamente.

Truel distingue nueve categorías gramaticales principales. Estas no solo determinan la función de una palabra dentro de una oración, sino que cada categoría tiene una morfología y un comportamiento gramatical distintivo.

1. Sustantivo (N). Nombra seres, objetos, ideas o emociones.

Ejemplo: Disu → Pastor. “Em disu esi blarolooma.” (El pastor está aliviado.)

2. Verbo (V). Expresa acciones, estados o procesos.

Ejemplo: Meir → Buscar. “Em disu mei otros beenjuil.” (El pastor busca sus ovejas.)

3. Adjetivo (Adj). Modifica al sustantivo, indicando cualidades o estados.

Ejemplo: Etrime → Afortunado/a. “Em beenju esi etrime.” (La oveja es afortunada.)

4. Adverbio (Adv). Modifica verbos, adjetivos u otros adverbios, indicando modo, lugar, tiempo o intensidad.

Ejemplo: Uudilei → Hoy. “Em disu fli uudilei.” (El pastor salió hoy.)

5. Pronombre (Pro). Sustituye o representa a un sustantivo, e indica persona, posesión o referencia dentro del discurso.

Ejemplo: Nos → Yo. “Nos lova vo.” (Yo te quiero.)

6. Determinantes (Det). Acompaña y delimita al sustantivo.

Ejemplo: Em → El. “Em disu ono beenjuil.” (El pastor tiene ovejas.)

7. Preposición (Prep). Indica relaciones espaciales, temporales o abstractas entre elementos.

Ejemplo: Ini → En. “Nos abija ini ono Senija.” (Yo vivo en mi casa.)

8. Conjunción (Conj). Une palabras, frases u oraciones.

Ejemplo: Aren → porque. “Nos pranja aren nos ono muijal.” (Como porque tengo hambre)

9. Interjección (Int) Palabra o forma fija que expresa emociones, reacciones o llamadas.

Ejemplo: Bapa → Hola. “Bapa, disu.” (Hola, pastor).

Sufijo de plural (Sufijo -il)

El sufijo "-il" desempeña una función específica en los procesos morfológicos, en particular en la pluralización de ciertas categorías gramaticales distintas de los pronomombres. Este sufijo se emplea para transformar sustantivos singulares en sus formas plurales, marcándolos claramente para indicar multiplicidad.

Ejemplo:

► bol (flor)  bolil (flores)

► lue (cebolla)  lue'il (cebollas)

Obsérvese que al añadir "-il" a los sustantivos que terminan en dos vocales, se inserta un apóstrofo antes de "-il" para delimitar claramente la separación silábica.

Por el contrario, si la palabra termina en la vocal "-i", solo se añade "l" para evitar la duplicación de la misma vocal.

Transformación en estado de ser (Sufijos -nte, -nto, -nta)

Este sufijo se añade a la raíz del verbo (el infinitivo sin la 'r' final) para crear sustantivos o adjetivos que describen un estado de ser influido o afectado por la acción del verbo. Esta forma suele reflejar un estado o condición resultante que emana de la acción verbal.

Ejemplo:

► voler (soñar)  Volenta (ensoñación)

Este sufijo convierte la acción dinámica del verbo en una cualidad o rasgo estático, permitiendo a la lengua encapsular estados o condiciones abstractas derivadas directamente de las raíces verbales.

Como se señaló anteriormente, la conjugación del verbo determina qué sufijo se añade. Para los verbos de la primera conjugación (-ar) se añade "-nte" o "-nto". En la segunda (-er) se añade "-nta", en la tercera (-ir) se añade "-nte", en la cuarta (-or) se añade "-nta" y en la quinta se añade "-nto".

Transformación en agente causativo o característico (Sufijos -ge, -go, -ga)

Al eliminar la "r" final del infinitivo y añadir -g+{e, o, a}, la forma resultante se convierte en un sustantivo o adjetivo que caracteriza algo con la capacidad de realizar la acción del verbo. Esta transformación es especialmente útil para crear descripciones de objetos o entidades definidas por su función o acción.

Ejemplo:

► pitir (brillar)  pitige (brillante)

Este cambio morfológico enfatiza el aspecto causativo o habilitador del verbo, generando palabras que describen agentes o características asociadas a la acción verbal.

Transformación en objeto resultante (Sufijos -ce, -co, -ca)

El sufijo -c+{e, o, a} se añade a la raíz verbal para formar sustantivos que suelen denotar algo producido o asociado a la acción del verbo, o un adjetivo que describe el resultado o consecuencia de dicha acción. A menudo se emplea para describir estados, objetos o cualidades que existen debido a la acción realizada.

Ejemplo:

► pitir (brillar)  pitice (brillo)

Este sufijo resulta especialmente adecuado para crear sustantivos que expresen los resultados o productos de acciones, traduciendo procesos dinámicos en resultados tangibles o conceptos abstractos.

Sufijo instrumental y locativo (-ija)

En Truel, el sufijo “-ija” combina de forma única las funciones de sufijos instrumental y locativo. Cuando se añade a la raíz del verbo (eliminando la 'r' final), convierte al verbo en un sustantivo que denota el instrumento con el que se realiza la acción o el lugar donde esta suele ocurrir. Este sufijo de doble función es especialmente versátil en un entorno lingüístico como el de Bolil'llian, donde los objetos y lugares poseen connotaciones culturales o mágicas significativas.

Esta transformación permite la creación de sustantivos profundamente integrados tanto en la vida cotidiana como en los aspectos espirituales o mitológicos de la cultura bolil'lliana.

Ejemplo:

► pranpar (comer)  pranparija (comedor)

Este sufijo contextualiza las acciones en espacios físicos o a través de instrumentos concretos, enriqueciendo la lengua con sustantivos esenciales para describir la infraestructura funcional y ceremonial de la sociedad bolil'lliana.

Sufijo agentivo (-el, -ol, -al)

Los sufijos agentivos en Truel se aplican a los verbos para formar sustantivos que designan a alguien que realiza habitualmente la acción del verbo. La elección del sufijo depende de la armonía vocálica.

Ejemplo:

► nebur (viajar)  neburol (viajero)

Esta estrategia de sufijación permite a la lengua generar de manera sistemática términos para diversas profesiones u oficios en función de los verbos, facilitando así una comunicación clara sobre las ocupaciones o acciones habituales en la sociedad bolil'lliana.

Sufijo diminutivo (-igui, -gui)

El sufijo diminutivo en Truel sirve para expresar pequeñez, afecto o un menor grado de algo. La elección del sufijo depende de la letra final de la palabra base:

- ◆ Si la palabra termina en consonante, se añade “-igui”.
- ◆ Si la palabra termina en vocal, se añade “-gui”.

Este proceso morfológico no solo modifica la escala o intensidad del sustantivo, sino que a menudo aporta un matiz de cariño o trivialidad, reflejando la cohesión social y la naturaleza apacible de la cultura bolilliana.

Ejemplo:

► prog (cola)  progigui (colita)

► prosfa (tránsito)  porsfagui (pequeño tránsito)

Sufijo aumentativo (-opo, -po)

El sufijo aumentativo “-opo” se emplea en Truel para denotar grandeza, importancia o un mayor grado de la palabra base. Al igual que en el caso anterior, el sufijo depende de la última letra de la palabra base:

- ◆ Si la palabra termina en consonante, se añade “-opo”.
- ◆ Si la palabra termina en vocal, se añade “-po”.

Este sufijo es particularmente útil para enfatizar la grandeza o la relevancia de un objeto, acontecimiento o característica, a menudo utilizado en el contexto de festivales, ceremonias o descripciones mitológicas bolillianas.

Ejemplo:

► seehe (consecuencia)  seehepo (grave consecuencia)

Sufijo adjetival (-me, -mo, -ma)

El sufijo “-mo” en Truel sirve para transformar sustantivos en adjetivos. Al aplicarlo a los sustantivos, se crean adjetivos que describen una característica estrechamente relacionada o derivada del sustantivo base. Esta transformación es esencial para ampliar la capacidad descriptiva del idioma, permitiendo a los hablantes atribuir cualidades directamente vinculadas a sustantivos concretos o abstractos.

Este sufijo resulta especialmente eficaz para plasmar la esencia del sustantivo en un adjetivo, enriqueciendo la capacidad de la lengua para describir personajes, objetos o situaciones con precisión y profundidad, reflejando las intrincadas narraciones culturales y los valores de Bolillian.

Ejemplo:

► prebasá (hermano gemelo)  prebasamo (gemelo, idéntico)

Sufijo iterativo (-ivri)

Este sufijo indica acción repetida o habitual y se adjunta a los verbos para señalar la recurrencia continua o frecuente de la acción.

Ejemplo:

► oresi (ya)  oresivri (continuamente)

Sufijo causativo (-en)

El sufijo causativo “-en” se utiliza para transformar un verbo simple en su contrapartida causativa, alterando el verbo para expresar que la acción provoca o induce otra acción. Este sufijo amplía el alcance de las expresiones verbales, permitiendo al hablante comunicar acciones que desencadenan o imponen eventos, en lugar de limitarlas a la mera ejecución de los mismos.

Ejemplo:

► eimur (iluminar)  eimuren (lámpara)

Prefijos de cantidad

En Truel, el concepto de cantidad, ya sea singular o múltiple, se expresa mediante prefijos específicos. Estos prefijos se han diseñado para integrarse armónicamente en la estructura fonética de la lengua, garantizando así la fluidez en la pronunciación y la coherencia lingüística.

- ◆ Jun- / Juna- (uno): Se emplea antes de palabras que comienzan por vocal (jun) o consonante (juna) para indicar que existe una sola instancia o elemento, resaltando la singularidad o exclusividad.

Ejemplo:

►elec (prenda)  junelec (única prenda)

(Nótese que este es uno de los pocos casos que rompen la norma de que la "j" no puede emplearse como letra inicial de una palabra)

- ◆ Ecsal- / Ecsa- (Múltiple): Se añade a palabras que empiezan por vocal (ecsal) o consonante (ecsa) para denotar múltiples instancias o cantidades del elemento en cuestión. En muchos casos, esta multiplicidad implica el plural del sustantivo, lo que obliga al uso adicional del sufijo -il. (cacofoía)

Ejemplo:

►vril (viaje)  ecsavril (multiples viajes)

Prefijo desiderativo (Gu-)

“Gu-” es un prefijo desiderativo que modifica los verbos para expresar el deseo o la intención de realizar la acción indicada por el verbo. Este prefijo permite a los hablantes transmitir aspiraciones personales de forma concisa.

Ejemplo:

►legir (leer)  gulegir (desear leer)

Prefijos temporales

Los prefijos temporales en Truel se emplean para modificar el significado de verbos y sustantivos y expresar relaciones temporales, como anterioridad, posterioridad y repetición. Estos prefijos añaden una capa de contexto temporal a las palabras base, mejorando la capacidad del idioma para expresar matices específicos del tiempo.

- ◆ Aru- (antes): Este prefijo indica una acción o estado que precede a otro en el tiempo. Puede emplearse para señalar algo que sucede en el pasado inmediato o lejano.

Ejemplo:

► aru (ayer)  aruaru (anteayer)

- ◆ Avu- (después): Se utiliza para indicar que algo ocurre tras un evento o acción, haciendo referencia a hechos futuros relacionados con la acción o el sustantivo base.

Ejemplo:

► pranpar  avupranpar (sobremesa)

- ◆ se- (repetición): Se aplica a verbos para implicar repetición o continuidad de la acción, sugiriendo que la acción se realiza múltiples veces o de forma habitual.

Ejemplo:

► legir  seperesur (releer)

Prefijo inceptivo (nis-, nisa-)

“Nis-” se usa antes de vocal, y “nisa-” antes de consonante, facilitando transiciones fonéticas suaves. Este prefijo es fundamental para indicar que la acción del verbo está apenas comenzando. Ejemplo:

► nebur  nisanebur (emprender un viaje)

Prefijos de ausencia y oposición

Truel incorpora prefijos específicos para denotar la ausencia de un elemento o la oposición a una cualidad, lo que permite una amplia gama de expresiones y descripciones dentro del idioma.

- ◆ El prefijo “nul-” indica la ausencia o carencia del concepto u objeto que precede. Se utiliza para expresar vacío o inexistencia de algo.

Ejemplo:

► aʃoma (silencioso)  nulaʃoma (ruidoso)

- ◆ Por el contrario, el prefijo “un-” se emplea para denotar el antónimo o la característica opuesta del adjetivo al que modifica. Este prefijo es versátil y se aplica a numerosos contextos descriptivos en Truel.

Ejemplo:

► crename (amable)  uncrename (desagradable)

Estos prefijos, “nul-” para ausencia y “un-” para oposición, resultan herramientas esenciales en Truel, al ampliar la capacidad de la lengua para expresar complejas relaciones conceptuales y matices emocionales.

Prefijo peyorativo (uʃu-)

El prefijo peyorativo “uʃu-” se aplica a sustantivos o adjetivos para transmitir un aspecto negativo o despectivo. Este prefijo transforma de forma efectiva la palabra base para reflejar inferioridad, indesearabilidad o una actitud desdeñosa, enriqueciendo la lengua con la capacidad de expresar matices negativos.

Ejemplo:

► arul (pasado)  “uʃuarul” (literalmente “tiempos de mala suerte”, aludiendo a períodos que es mejor no recordar por su impacto negativo o doloroso)

Ejemplos específicos

- ▶ Uniji (última) + Eimul (light)  Unijeimul (última luz)
- ▶ Bramo (solitaria) + Drilere (montaña)  Bramodril (montaña solitaria)
- ▶ Criali (cristal) + Afí (lago)  Crialimafí (lago de cristal)
- ▶ Orasgrime (Dorado) + Leblefí (viento)  Orasfri'blefí (viento dorado)
- ▶ Prelor (llamar) + Fuur (tormenta)  Prelofuu (llamada de la tormenta)
- ▶ Uculi (bajo) + Epiru (tower)  Uculeirui (las bajas torres)

Algunas de las composiciones sirven para la creación de nombres propios que han ido cambiando desde una mera descripción del lugar hasta un propio nombre identitario.

En el mapa de Bolil'lian (por cierto, otra composición de bolil + lian, solo que en antiguo truel, cuando el sufijo destinado a denotar "tierra de" se escribía al final como 'lian, quedándose así "tierra de las flores") podemos ver unos cuantos de estos ejemplos.

PALABRAS FUNCIONALES

En gramática, distinguimos dos grandes grupos: palabras léxicas (que aportan contenido semántico: nombres, verbos, adjetivos, adverbios) y palabras funcionales (aportan, sobre todo, estructura). Las palabras funcionales, que en la bibliografía anglosajona reciben el nombre de functors, son indispensables para indicar relaciones gramaticales, encadenar ideas y dar coherencia al discurso, pese a que su significado léxico sea muy limitado.

A continuación se presentan las principales clases de palabras funcionales, con su función y ejemplos equivalentes en inglés y en español:

Determinantes: Delimitan y “activan” al sustantivo, aportando referencia, como los artículos y los demostrativos.

Pronombres Sustituyen a un sintagma nominal o aluden a algo ya mencionado. Pueden ejercer de sujeto, complemento, término de preposición, etc.

Preposiciones: Introducen un término (SN, infinitivo, oración subordinada) y marcan relaciones espaciales, temporales, causales, instrumentales, lógicas...

Conjunciones y otros elementos gramaticales: Enlazan palabras, sintagmas u oraciones; señalan coordinación o subordinación, contraste, causa, condición, finalidad...

Cuantificadores: Elementos para precisar la cantidad asociada a un sustantivo o a un verbo, actuando así como modificadores adjetivales o adverbiales

Estas palabras funcionales son esenciales para comprender cómo se construyen las oraciones y cómo se transmite el significado más allá de las palabras léxicas o de contenido. Son el pegamento que mantiene cohesionada la estructura del lenguaje y nos permite formular pensamientos coherentes y complejos.

DETERMINANTES

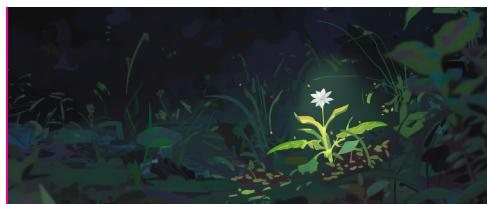

El sistema de artículos es sencillo y claro: solo cuenta con dos formas, una definida y otra indefinida. Estos artículos se utilizan para precisar la definición o indefinición de un sustantivo, adaptándose al contexto en que dicho sustantivo aparece.

El artículo definido “Em” se emplea para referirse a sustantivos específicos que ya son conocidos o se han mencionado anteriormente en el contexto de la conversación. Se utiliza cuando el sustantivo al que acompaña resulta claro tanto para el hablante como para el oyente, indicando familiaridad y precisión.

Em lume (El gato) – Hace referencia a un gato que ya es conocido en el contexto de la conversación.

El artículo indefinido “Ji”, o “Jin” cuando la palabra siguiente empieza por vocal, se emplea para introducir un sustantivo de manera no específica. Resulta apropiado cuando el sustantivo se menciona por primera vez o cuando se alude a cualquier miembro de una clase, sin precisar cuál en concreto.

Ji bol (Una flor) – Se refiere a cualquier flor, sin especificar una concreta ya conocida.

Características clave

- ◆ Sin concordancia de número: A diferencia de muchas lenguas, en Truel los artículos no cambian de forma según el número del sustantivo (singular o plural). Los nombres indican por sí mismos el número, de modo que el artículo permanece invariable, lo que simplifica su uso. (Ji bol, ji bolil - Una flor, unas flores). Así como los sustantivos, los artículos carecen de género, por lo que se aplican de la misma manera a cualquier sustantivo.

Los demostrativos funcionan para indicar la ubicación de un objeto o persona en relación con el hablante y son cruciales para una comunicación efectiva. Ayudan a especificar si algo está cerca o lejos, y pueden distinguir entre objetos que están físicamente cerca del hablante o del oyente y aquellos que no lo están. A continuación, se presenta un desglose de los demostrativos, clasificados en tres formas según la proximidad:

◆ Proximal (Cerca del hablante o de ambos): Nis. Se usa cuando el objeto o persona al que se hace referencia está cerca del hablante. Esta forma enfatiza el entorno inmediato del hablante.

► Nis bol (Esta flor)

◆ Medial (Cerca del oyente): Vis. Se utiliza cuando el objeto o persona está más cerca del oyente que del hablante, destacando el contexto espacial del oyente.

► Vis bol (Esa flor)

◆ Distal (Lejos de ambos): Se aplica cuando el objeto o persona está lejos tanto del hablante como del oyente; a menudo se usa para indicar algo fuera del alcance o vista de ambas partes.

► Tis bol (Aquella flor)

Estas palabras se usan de la misma forma como pronombres demostrativos, cuando no están directamente antes de un sustantivo, como en “Nos domave vis” (Cogeré esa).

PRONOMBRES

En Truel, los pronombres se clasifican en cuatro grupos según la función que desempeñan: Los pronombres de sujeto, ocupan el lugar del sustantivo que realiza la acción; los pronombres de objeto, sustituyen al sustantivo que recibe la acción del verbo; los pronombres reflexivos, señalan que sujeto y objeto coinciden, devolviendo la acción sobre el propio agente; y los pronombres posesivos, que expresan pertenencia o relación de posesión y forman una subclase aparte, pues no intervienen en la acción sino que indican de quién es algo.

		Sujeto	Objeto	Oblicuos reflexivos	Posesivo
Singular	1º	nos - yo	no - me	nonos - mí, conmigo	onos - mi, mío
	2º	vos - tú	vo - te	novos - ti, contigo	ovos - tu, tuyos/a
	3º	etros - él/ella	tro - lo/la/ le/se	otros - sí, consigo	otros - su, suyo/a
	3º	its - eso/a	it - le/se	noits - sí, consigo	oits - su, suyo/a
Plural	1º	nosu - nosotros/as (1)	nou - nos (1)	nonosu - nosotros (1)	onosu - nuestro/a (1)
	1º	vonos - nosotros/as (2)	vono - nos (2)	novonos - nosotros (2)	ovonos - nuestro/a (2)
	1º	vonosu - nosotros/as (3)	vonou - nos (3)	novonosu - nosotros (3)	ovonosu - nuestro/a (3)
	2º	vosu - vosotros/as	vou - os	novosu - vosotros	ovosu - vuestro/a
	3º	etrosu - ellos/as	trou - los/ las/les	otrosu - sí, consigo	otrosu - su, suyo/a
	3º	itsu - esos/as	itu - les	noitsu - sí, consigo	oitsu - su, suyo/a

◆ Pronombre personal de sujeto

Se emplean como sujeto del verbo:

► Nos lovare vis ilim (Yo quiero ese libro)

► Vonos esbrieve em proflib (Nosotros dejaremos el asunto)

◆ Pronombres personales de objeto

Estos pronombres reciben la acción del verbo o van detrás de una preposición, actuando como complemento directo o indirecto

► Tros aru prelora no (Ella me llamó a mi ayer)

► Em amacleral blare ata vono (El profesor habló con nosotros (tú y yo))

La diferencia entre los tres nosotros es la pertenencia o no del interlocutor. “nou” hace referencia a “alguien más y yo. “vono” es “tú y yo”. “Vonou” es “Tú, alguien más y yo”.

◆ Pronombres reflexivos

Los pronombres reflexivos se utilizan cuando el sujeto y el objeto de la oración son la misma entidad, lo que suele indicar que el sujeto realiza una acción sobre sí mismo. Estos pronombres también pueden usarse para enfatizar. Algunos ejemplos son:

► Tros, vrul in ludare, crialuora notros (Ella se hizo daño a sí misma mientras jugaba)

► Trosu ulora em poahini notrosu (Ellos completaron el proyecto por sí mismos)

◆ Pronombres posesivos

Los pronombres posesivos muestran la posesión de alguien sobre algo.

Algunos ejemplos:

► Vis ilim esi onos (Ese libro es mio)

► Em ojeroa esi ovos (La elección es tuya)

Los posesivos se forman simplemente añadiendo morfológicamente el prefijo “o-” al pronombre personal de sujeto.

PREPOSICIONES

Las preposiciones son palabras que indican la relación entre un sustantivo o pronombre y otros elementos de la oración. Suelen señalar dirección, lugar, tiempo o introducir un complemento.

Preposiciones

anta	a
arun	ante
ajile	bajo
ojin	con
nulian	contra
uf	de
dere	desde (lugar)
daru	desde (tiempo)
in	durante
bin	en
int	entre
ataſe	hacia
davu	hasta
trava	mediante
bara	para
bira	por
acrod	según
nulojin	sin
Ibroñe	sobre
avun	tras

Las conjunciones y otras palabras de enlace misceláneas se utilizan para conectar ideas, cláusulas u oraciones. Mientras que las conjunciones como y, pero y porque unen directamente partes de una oración, otras palabras como detrás, versus o en lugar de cumplen funciones diversas que no son estrictamente preposicionales. Estas palabras ayudan a establecer relaciones lógicas, temporales o espaciales entre elementos del discurso o del texto.

Conjunciones
ahouc	sin embargo / aún
aren	porque
ce	que
da	pero
ecu	como
efreal	en caso de que
ef	si
et	y
fe	a menos que / salvo que
flinet	ni
flir	o
foc	así que / por lo tanto
jinia	una vez que
omvolum	aunque
ruaſa	si bien
unecu	a diferencia de
vrija	donde
vrijeal	mientras que
vrijea	dondequiera que
vrul	mientras
vrunea	siempre que

Miscelánea

ad	más / además
ajene	al lado de
ajose	arriba / por encima de
alon	alrededor
amigo	pasado
aren	porque
aſer	fuera
avuni	siguiente
brone	a lo largo de
bronesi	junto a
broſe	a través de
broſe	más allá / fuera de
broſvos	detrás
corponta	incluyendo
ecu	como / tal como / así
epto	excepto
et	además / más
ini	dentro
letem	versus
migo	después de
nulian	opuesto a
oprund	contra
pere	por (cada)
picitom	a pesar de
uu	ahora
unecu	a diferencia de

Los cuantificadores se emplean para precisar la cantidad asociada a un sustantivo o a un verbo, actuando así como modificadores adjetivales o adverbiales. Gracias a ellos, los hablantes pueden transmitir información sobre tamaño, número, frecuencia y distribución. Son herramientas lingüísticas versátiles que amplían la capacidad descriptiva del idioma y permiten expresiones matizadas relacionadas con la cantidad. Aunque los cuantificadores se comportan morfológicamente como adjetivos cuando modifican sustantivos y como adverbios cuando matizan verbos o enunciados completos, su función principal no es describir cualidades ni modos, sino señalar cantidades y, por tanto, operar sobre la estructura informativa de la oración. Por ello, la gramática de Truel los incluye en el apartado de palabras funcionales: forman un inventario cerrado, aportan significado gramatical más que léxico y resultan indispensables para la coherencia lógica del discurso, de modo análogo a las preposiciones, las conjunciones y los pronombres.

- ◆ Cuantificadores definidos: Especifican cantidades exactas y se usan cuando se conoce el número o la porción de algo. Aquí se incluyen los numerales y otras expresiones que denotan cifras concretas, tratadas con más detalle en otro apartado de esta guía.
- ◆ Cuantificadores existenciales: Ecs ("cualquier") y Dereſi ("alguna") indican la existencia del nombre que modifican. Expresan la idea matemática de existencia: hay al menos un elemento que cumple la condición (ecs) o se contempla la posibilidad de varios de los elementos (dereſi).

Uso: implican una cantidad distinta de cero sin precisar el número exacto

- Ecs bol esi ababoma - (Cualquier flor es bonita)
- Dereſi bolil esi ababoma - (Algunas flores son bonitas)

- ◆ Cuantificadores con sufijos de cantidad

Ecsopo: forma aumentativa de ecs; el sufijo "-opo" denota una gran cantidad indeterminada.

- Ecsopo bolil - (Muchas flores), Sugiriendo un gran número de flores.

Ecsigui: forma diminutiva de ecs; el sufijo "-igui" indica una cantidad menor de la esperada o escasa.

- Ecsigui bolil - (Pocas flores), indicando una pequeña cantidad de flores.

◆ Cuantificador universal: "Jecs" (todos y cada uno), señala que la afirmación se aplica a todos los casos posibles, sin excepción.

► Jecs bolil" (Todas las flores).

◆ Cuantificador negativo: "Nul" (ninguno) denota ausencia total:

Uso: se emplea para afirmar que no existe instancia alguna del sustantivo mencionado.

► Nul bol (Ninguna flor), indica la completa ausencia de flores.

Estos cuantificadores en Truel permiten expresiones matemáticas precisas y un uso cotidiano práctico, tendiendo un puente entre los conceptos abstractos y su aplicación diaria. Proporcionan a los hablantes las herramientas necesarias para articular cantidades de forma científicamente rigurosa y culturalmente pertinente, reflejando la perspectiva analítica e integrada en la naturaleza de la comunidad Bolil'lian.

PUNTUACIÓN

- Señala el final de una oración o enunciado. Siempre se coloca al final.
- Se utiliza para introducir una pausa que aporta claridad y para separar elementos dentro de la oración.
- Introduce una lista, explicación o ampliación de lo que precede.
- Separa una secuencia de más de dos vocales para dividirlas en dos sílabas. En el Truel Antiguo también se empleaba para indicar "de".
- “ ” Encierra discurso directo, citas o títulos de determinadas obras.
- () Encierra información adicional que resulta menos esencial para la idea principal.
- ... Indica la omisión de palabras o una idea que queda en suspenso.
- / Se usa a menudo para señalar alternativas o fracciones.
- ¿ El signo de interrogación se emplea principalmente para indicar una pregunta directa y se coloca al inicio de la oración.
- ¡ El signo de exclamación se emplea para enfatizar una idea o denotar gritos. También se coloca al inicio de la oración.

Verbos

Los verbos indican acciones, sucesos o estados del ser. Los tiempos verbales cumplen la función de situar estas acciones en el tiempo, actuando como operadores semánticos que expresan la temporalidad en relación con el momento en que se pronuncia o se escribe la proposición en la que se emplea el verbo.

Hay cinco conjugaciones en total, una por cada vocal de Truel, en el siguiente orden:

1	2	3	4	5
-ar	-er	-ir	-or	-ur

Gramaticalmente, cada verbo se compone de una palabra que termina en la secuencia -vocal+r. No es necesario establecer concordancia entre pronombres, sustantivos y verbos, ya que funcionan de forma independiente. El pronombre o el sustantivo señala el número y la persona, mientras que el verbo indica el lugar donde se desarrolla la acción.

Cada verbo se estructura en tres segmentos:

- La raíz: la parte principal de la palabra, sin la "r" final (por ejemplo, del verbo Mimir, la raíz es Mimi).
- El marcador de tiempo: sigue a la raíz e indica el marco temporal en el que se sitúa la acción. Existen nueve tiempos posibles, que veremos en la sección siguiente.
- El marcador de modo: indica el modo verbal, indicativo, subjuntivo o imperativo.

En términos básicos, el tiempo puede dividirse en tres estructuras posibles: pasado, presente y futuro.

Las nociones fundamentales de los tiempos se señalan mediante marcadores específicos: "r" para el pasado, ausencia de marcador para el presente y "v" para el futuro. A estas consonantes les sigue la vocal asignada según la regla de "armonía vocálica". Por ejemplo, con el verbo "mimir" (dormir), las formas de pasado, presente y futuro en primera persona del indicativo son, respectivamente: "nos mimire" (yo dormí), "nos mimi" (yo duermo) y "nos mimive" (yo dormiré).

No obstante, expresar únicamente los tiempos simples de pasado, presente y futuro resulta insuficiente para abarcar toda la gama de matices temporales. Para solucionarlo, se incorporan elementos adicionales que incrementan la complejidad y la precisión en la expresión de los tiempos.

PUNTO DE REFERENCIA

El punto de referencia modifica la forma en que la acción se sitúa en el tiempo. La acción expresada por el verbo (el evento "E") puede ocurrir antes, al mismo tiempo o después de un punto de referencia ("R"), que a su vez puede hallarse en pasado, presente o futuro con respecto al momento de enunciación ("S"). Esto genera una cuadrícula de nueve combinaciones. El esquema siguiente muestra los distintos tiempos de un verbo de la quinta conjugación (terminada en "-ur"), "Nebur". Aunque la armonía vocalica varíe, los principios subyacentes permanecen idénticos en todas las conjugaciones.

La primera regla que debe tenerse en cuenta es que, una vez establecidos el momento en que sucede el evento (E) y el momento en que se pronuncia la oración (S), el punto de referencia (R) solo puede situarse entre S y cualquier otro punto temporal en dirección a E. Se excluyen, por tanto, los casos E-S-R o R-S-E, que resultarían demasiado complejos y se estructurarán mediante subordinadas. Con ello en mente, los tiempos que podemos encontrar son los siguientes:

Presente Simple

En este caso, los tres momentos coinciden simultáneamente. No se añade ningún marcador temporal a la raíz del verbo.

S
R
E
time

► Nos mimi (Yo duermo)

Pasado Simple

R	S
E
time

En este caso, la oración hace referencia a un momento del pasado en el que tuvo lugar la acción. Para formar el pasado simple, se añade "-r" seguida de la vocal correspondiente, de acuerdo con la armonía vocálica, a la raíz.

► Nos mimire (Yo dormí)

E	R	S
time

Pasado pluscuamperfecto

Se trata de un caso similar al pasado simple, pero la oración se refiere a un momento del pasado en el que la acción ya se había completado. Para formar el pluscuamperfecto, se añade "-tr" seguida de la vocal correspondiente, de acuerdo con la armonía vocálica, a la raíz del verbo.

► Nos mimitre (Yo había dormido)

R	E	S
time

Condicional

El condicional es quizás el tiempo más complejo, ya que hace referencia a un evento subordinado a una condición establecida en un punto anterior del tiempo. Para formarlo se añade "-v" seguido de dos vocales (ajustadas por la armonía vocálica) a la raíz del verbo. Además, la condición de la que depende la acción debe expresarse de forma explícita.

► Ef nos ulsai pranpatres, nos mimivee (Si hubiera comido mucho, yo me habría dormido)

Nota como el condicional se expresa en pasado pluscuamperfecto de subjuntivo (la s final, que veremos más adelante)..

Presente Perfecto

Se emplea para expresar una acción que ocurrió en el pasado pero cuyo resultado o efecto tiene relevancia en el momento presente. Para formarlo se añade "-t" seguida de la vocal correspondiente, de acuerdo con la armonía vocálica, a la raíz del verbo.

	S
E	R
time

► Nos mimite (Yo he dormido)

S	R
	E
time

S
R	E
time

Futuro Simple

En este tiempo, la acción se sitúa en el porvenir. Ambos usos emplean el mismo marcador "-v" más la vocal que exija la armonía vocálica. La diferencia está en el contexto:

Futuro definido: la oración menciona de forma explícita un momento futuro concreto (por ejemplo, mañana).

► Nos avudilei mimive (Yo dormiré tomorrow)

Futuro indefinido: se señala que la acción ocurrirá en algún momento aún no especificado.

► Nos mimive (Yo dormiré [en algún momento futuro])

Esta distinción subraya si el suceso venidero está vinculado a un instante preciso o si permanece abierto.

S	R	E
time

Futuro posterior

Se emplea cuando la acción ocurrirá en un momento del futuro que queda después de otro acontecimiento también situado en el futuro (el punto de referencia). Para formarlo se agrega "-v" + vocal + "-v" + vocal a la raíz del verbo, respetando la armonía vocálica. La oración debe mencionar explícitamente ese punto de referencia.

► Nos, avun vabla, mimiveve (Yo dormiré después de cenar)

S	E	R
time

Futuro Perfecto

Este tiempo se usa para indicar que, cuando llegue un punto de referencia futuro (R), la acción (E) ya se habrá completado, estando ambos momentos todavía en el porvenir. Para formarlo se añade "-rv" más la vocal que corresponda por armonía vocálica a la raíz del verbo. Así se resalta que la acción futura estará terminada antes de otro suceso futuro especificado.

► Vrun vos anivi nos mimirve sen cronusil (Cuando llegues yo habré dormido six hours)

Otro modo de entender estas relaciones es mediante la siguiente tabla, que presenta los tiempos verbales en una cuadrícula sencilla. En ella, el símbolo ">" indica "ocurre después". Por ejemplo, "S > R" puede leerse como "el momento de la enunciación (S) ocurre después del punto de referencia (R)".

	E < R	E = R	E > R
S < R	-rve	-ve	-veve
S = R	-te	-	-ve
S > R	-tre	-re	-vee
	E < R	E = R	E > R
S < R	Futuro Perfecto	Futuro Simple	Futuro Posterior
S = R	Presente Perfecto	Presente Simple	Futuro Simple
S > R	Pasado Perfecto	Pasado Simple	Condicional

ASPECTO PROGRESIVO

El aspecto progresivo permite convertir cualquier verbo conjugado en su forma continua, lo que indica que la acción está desarrollándose o en curso en un momento determinado. Para lograrlo, basta con insertar la palabra "in" entre el pronombre o el sustantivo y el verbo:

- ▶ Nos in mimi (Yo estoy durmiendo)
- ▶ Nos in mimire (Yo estaba durmiendo)
- ▶ Nos in mimive (Yo estaré durmiendo)

MARCADOR DE MODO

Los marcadores de aspecto son fundamentales porque permiten a la lengua reflejar la actitud del hablante hacia la acción o el hecho descrito. Al diferenciar entre los modos indicativo, imperativo y subjuntivo, los hablantes pueden expresar certeza, órdenes o duda, añadiendo profundidad y claridad a la comunicación. De este modo, el sistema capta mejor los matices de la experiencia y la intención humanas.

Indicativo

Se emplea para enunciados fácticos y afirmaciones positivas: describe acciones o eventos que ocurren, han ocurrido o ocurrirán. Como caso base, no se añade ningún sufijo al verbo.

- ▶ Nos mimi (Yo duermo)

Imperativo

Se usa para dar órdenes o hacer peticiones, dirigiendo a alguien a realizar una acción concreta. Se añade el sufijo "-t" al verbo ya conjugado en tiempo. Esto señala que la oración es un mandato y no una simple afirmación. Puede omitirse el pronombre, pues se sobreentiende la segunda persona.

- ▶ Vos mimit (tú, duerme!)

Subjuntivo

Sirve para expresar deseo, duda o situaciones hipotéticas: presenta acciones o eventos que no son necesariamente reales ni seguros. Para formarlo, se añade el sufijo "-s" al verbo ya conjugado en tiempo. Así se introduce un matiz de incertidumbre o anhelo.

- ▶ Nos leo (nos) mimires (Ojala hubiera dormido)
- ▶ Nos prelavó vos mimives (Dudo que tú te duermas)

Cuando el hablante y el sujeto de la hipótesis son el mismo (primer ejemplo), la segunda referencia al pronombre puede omitirse: Nos leo mimires es igualmente correcta. En cambio, si la hipótesis se refiere a otra persona (segundo ejemplo), ambos sujetos deben mencionarse explícitamente.

ASPECTO PROSPECTIVO

Expresar intenciones o planes futuros que conllevan pasos o acciones preliminares se resuelve en Truel mediante la palabra "visa". A diferencia de lenguas como el inglés, donde going to simplemente señala una acción futura, "visa" implica de forma inherente que existen acciones intermedias o preparatorias antes de la actividad principal. Este uso refleja el carácter reflexivo y orientado al proceso de la cultura bolilliana, que valora tanto el camino o la preparación como el destino o la acción final.

◆ Sin forma continua:

Se emplea para indicar que el hablante tiene la intención de realizar una acción en breve, subrayando que dicha intención incluye fases previas necesarias.

- ▶ Nos visa mimir. (Yo iré a dormir sleep.)

◆ Con forma continua:

Cuando parte de esas acciones preliminares ya está en curso, Truel antepone el prefijo "in-" a "visa". De este modo, "in-visa" expresa la voluntad futura y el hecho de que el proceso se está desarrollando en el presente.

- ▶ Nos in visa mimir. (Yo me estoy yendo a dormir)

Para diferenciar entre la forma activa o pasiva, se debe añadir la palabra “sir” antes del verbo, la cual es una contracción del verbo “esir” (ser).

Emplear la voz pasiva resulta esencial cuando se quiere centrar la atención en el receptor de la acción y no en quién la ejecuta. Además de variar la redacción, la pasiva permite resaltar distintos elementos de la oración y aporta un tono más formal.

◆ Activa:

► Em esijal soclanbli glabare ji mudral uf ruohuli.
(El músico accidentalmente invocó a un montón de ratas.)

◆ Pasiva:

► Ji mudral uf ruohuli bira em esijal soclanbli sir glabare.
(Un montón de ratas fueron accidentalmente invocadas por el músico.)

◆ Activa:

► Em braapel bai gluare ji mudral uf gleplud.
(El alcalde repartió competentemente un montón de hogazas de pan.)

◆ Pasiva:

► Ji mudral uf gleplud bira em braapel bai sir gluare.
(Un montón de hogazas de pan fueron bien distribuidas por el alcalde.)

SINTAXIS

La sintaxis es el conjunto de reglas, principios y procesos que rigen la estructura de las oraciones en una lengua. Implica la disposición de palabras y frases para crear enunciados bien formados, definiendo cómo los componentes de una lengua se combinan para transmitir significado.

En este capítulo exploraremos las estructuras fundamentales de la sintaxis de Truel, incluido el proceso de construcción de las oraciones, las funciones de los distintos elementos gramaticales y las reglas sintácticas específicas que determinan cómo se forman las oraciones.

Truel sigue un orden Sujeto-Complemento indirecto/adverbio-Verbo-Objeto/complemento (SCV(O/C)). Para entender cómo encajan todos estos elementos, primero hemos de definir las diferentes partes que constituyen la sintaxis en Truel:

- ▶ Sintagma nominal
- ▶ Sintagma adjetival
- ▶ Sintagma preposicional
- ▶ Sintagma adverbial
- ▶ Sintagma verbal

Al comprender y aplicar estos componentes, los hablantes de Truel pueden construir oraciones que sean gramaticalmente correctas y culturalmente resonantes, permitiendo una comunicación rica y razonada.

Un sintagma nominal se estructura en torno a un núcleo formado por un sustantivo, un pronombre o un elemento sustantivado, que puede modificarse mediante diversos elementos capaces de alterar su significado inherente. Este sintagma puede desempeñar dos funciones principales dentro de la oración: actuar como sujeto (la entidad que realiza la acción) o como objeto directo o indirecto (la entidad directamente afectada por la acción), además de aparecer en otros complementos de la oración, o incluso dentro de otros sintagmas nominales.

Para ilustrar cómo un sintagma nominal puede desarrollarse hasta adoptar una forma más compleja, consideremos el sustantivo neburol (viajero). A continuación examinamos sus posibles expansiones:

Añadiendo un determinante

Los determinantes se colocan antes del sustantivo. Los tipos más comunes son los artículos (p. ej., “em neburol” para “el viajero”), los demostrativos (p. ej., “nis beeju” para “esta oveja”), los posesivos (p. ej., “onos bol” para “mi flor”) y los cuantificadores (p. ej., “opo bouvolil” para “muchos visitantes”).

► Ji neburol. (Un viajero)

Los sustantivos llevan los marcadores gramaticales principales de número; sin embargo, algunos determinantes también complementan esta función, como se observa en “ecs igice” (algún argumento) frente a “visil igiceil” (esos argumentos), que añade “il” al demostrativo “vis”. Es importante que estos puedan pluralizarse en caso de que tengan que suplantar a un sustantivo dentro del sintagma nominal. “visil lova”, por ejemplo, quiere decir “algunos aman”, y se diferencia de “vis lova” en su pluralización al incluir “il” al final de la palabra.

Añadiendo un sintagma adjetival

Los adjetivos se clasifican según su relación con el sustantivo al que modifican, lo que determina su posición en la oración:

◆ Adjetivos explicativos: aportan información adicional y se sitúan siempre antes del sustantivo.

► Jin ácama neburol. (Un cansado viajero)

◆ Adjetivos específicativos: sirven para identificar un sustantivo concreto dentro de un conjunto de posibilidades y se colocan siempre después del sustantivo.

► Em neburol âcama. (El viajero cansado)

Esta distinción permite que la lengua juegue con la selección de distintos subconjuntos de sustantivos dentro de un conjunto más amplio o completo.

Por ejemplo, consideremos la frase:

“Em ababoma bolil epo” (las hermosas flores rojas).

Aquí, el adjetivo epo (rojo) especifica el color y se coloca después de bolil (flores), ayudando a distinguir entre flores de diversos colores en un campo. El adjetivo ababoma (hermosas) modifica precisamente a esas flores rojas ya identificadas, por lo que se sitúa antes del sintagma nominal (ahora “bolil epo”). En esta construcción se sobreentiende que todas las flores rojas son hermosas.

Esto contrasta con “Em epo bolil ababoma”, que sugiere que todas las flores hermosas son rojas, pues describimos como rojas al sintagma nominal “bolil ababoma” (flores hermosas).

Del mismo modo, “Em epo ababoma bolil” transmite que todas las flores son a la vez hermosas y rojas (y no hay de ningñun otro color). Cada disposición altera sutilmente el significado al cambiar el orden de los adjetivos con respecto al sustantivo.

Cuando aparecen varios adjetivos tras el sustantivo, actúan como el operador lógico “y”; por tanto, el orden no importa (A y B equivale a B y A).

Incorporación de un sintagma preposicional

Los sintagmas preposicionales son grupos de palabras introducidos por una preposición que aportan una descripción o un contexto más preciso al sustantivo o pronombre. Cuando complementan a un sustantivo, aparecen tras él.

► Ji neburol, ce anivire arudile. (Un viajero, que llegó ayer).

Además suelen aparecer como “complemento agente” si la oración está en modo pasivo.

► Em tlapahaco uf em inflamijail sir urijaejera bira em braapel.

(La entrega de las llaves fue realizada por el alcalde).

En esta construcción, el núcleo del sintagma es un adjetivo, palabra que modifica o describe a un sustantivo o pronombre aportando información sobre sus cualidades, cantidad o estado. La función principal de los adjetivos es añadir detalle y especificidad, haciendo las oraciones más precisas y vívidas. Habitualmente los adjetivos terminan en -m + vocal o -nt + vocal, ya que el sufijo explicado anteriormente puede emplearse para crear estas palabras y sus significados. Además, los adjetivos pueden modificarse o complementarse de varias maneras, normalmente con los cuantificadores que habíamos visto previamente:

Añadiendo un adverbio como modificador del adjetivo:

- Sati aelema. (Muy extraño).
- Anei bovoma. (Aproximadamente preciso)
- Branemclai dliloma. (Sin duda cierto)
- Abnuugoli credlianto. (Exclusivamente reservado)

Incorporando un sintagma preposicional:

- Dredloma bira lujuviil. (desesperado por respuestas)
- Edoma ini diuco. (perdido en la transición)

Cada método de modificación o complemento refuerza o precisa de manera única el significado del adjetivo, y contribuye así a una expresión más rica y exacta en la lengua.

Como puedes ver, los adverbios se sitúan delante del adjetivo, mientras que el resto de modificadores se sitúan detrás.

Complementos

Se definen porque son sintagmas que empiezan por una preposición. Pueden tener la preposición e ir acompañados de otro tipo de sintagmas:

Nominales:

- Arun em paobe. (Antes de la revisión)
- Davu em dlesdrofis. (hasta el fin de semana)
- Brosvos em uhiu. (detrás del cementerio)

Adjetivales:

- Broſe uf iime. (Más allá de lo tonto)
- Broſe uf brumime. (Más allá de lo neutral)
- Davu dlifime. (Hasta suficiente)

Adverbiales:

- Davu uui. (Hasta ahora)
- Davu uudilei. (Hasta hoy)
- Daru aruni. (Desde antes)

Otro sintagma preposicional

- Daru arun isvlon. (Desde antes del amanecer)
- Daru arun dlesdrofis. (Desde antes del fin de semana)
- Broſe uf em ibloil. (Más allá de la orilla)

En esta construcción, el núcleo del sintagma es un adverbio, que puede aparecer solo o acompañado de modificadores y complementos. Los adverbios desempeñan un papel fundamental al aportar información adicional sobre la acción del verbo: precisan cuándo ocurre, explican cómo se lleva a cabo, indican la intensidad de ciertos adjetivos, describen la frecuencia de la acción, ofrecen la perspectiva u opinión del hablante y detallan dónde tiene lugar entre muchas otras..

Notarás que los adverbios son palabras que suelen terminar siempre en la letra -i. Incluso cuando el término alude a un concepto similar al de un adjetivo, al usarse como adverbio adopta la terminación -i para que su naturaleza sea más fácil de identificar.

Complementos

Los adverbios pueden llevar sintagmas preposicionales como complementos, los cuales se colocan después del adverbio. Esta estructura aporta contexto y claridad, pues define las condiciones o circunstancias asociadas al matiz adverbial:

- Dere senija orajai. (Lejos de casa)
- Em luflas bronesi, luumi (Despacio, junto al bosque)
- Arun em labu, seisi. (Inicialmente antes del mediodía)

Modificadores

Los modificadores, normalmente otros adverbios, se sitúan antes del núcleo y se organizan de forma jerárquica. De esta manera se añade especificidad y precisión al significado, permitiendo graduar la intensidad o exactitud del adverbio principal:

- Sati mooni. (Muy pronto)
- Tlacsei sati mooni. (Precisamente muy pronto)

Es el constituyente del que el verbo predica algo (quién realiza, padece o experimenta la acción o el estado que el verbo indica). Normalmente, ocupa una posición privilegiada en la oración (en inglés: casi siempre antes del verbo) y puede sustituirse por pronombres de sujeto (I, you, he, she, they en inglés). Suele, si hubiese ambigüedad, ser importante el orden de las palabras, en donde suele aparecer al principio de la oración.

Activo: Cuando el sujeto realiza la acción del verbo.

- Em vrimurol truromai atendire. (Los pescadores esperaron pacientemente.)
- Em vrimu brupadamei glole. (El pez nadó pacíficamente.)

Pasivo: Si el sujeto recibe la acción del verbo.

- Em vrimurol bira otrosu atrusopoil sir atendire (Los pescadores fueron esperados por sus parejas.)
- Bolil bira em diblurol sir evuro. (Las flores fueron plantadas por el jardinero.).

A diferencia del español, donde sujeto y verbo deben tener concordancia, en Truel la conjugación es independiente, y no sirve para encontrar al sujeto.

SINTAGMA VERBAL

Una vez identificado el sujeto (S) de la oración, el siguiente paso consiste en completar la estructura con el sintagma verbal, es decir, el predicado. Juntos, estos dos constituyentes básicos organizan la expresión de acciones, procesos y estados dentro de la oración.

Comencemos con una acción sencilla y vayamos complicándola para ver cómo todo encaja:

- Vos avudilei anivive (Llegarás mañana)

En este ejemplo tenemos un sujeto simple, un pronombre, Vos (tú), y un verbo, anivive (llegar) en tiempo futuro, con un complemento adverbial, avudilei (mañana). Como se explicó anteriormente, los adverbios que actúan como complementos aparecen siempre antes del verbo al que complementan; de ahí el orden "avudilei anivive".

Complemento Directo

Cuando especificamos el destinatario o el resultado de una acción utilizamos un objeto directo. El objeto directo sigue siempre al verbo e indica qué o a quién afecta la acción.

► Vos pruora no ovos bol (Tú me diste (a mi) tu flor)

Aquí “ovos bol” funciona como objeto directo. Aunque normalmente son sintagmas nominales, los complementos directos también pueden ser verbos en infinitivo o en forma personal, o incorporar nexos interrogativos:

► Vos leora sopoi legir ata novos (Tú desearias leer mejor para ti misma)

► ¿Vos leora ce nos sopoi legis (¿Tú desearias que yo leyera más?)

Complemento Indirecto

El complemento indirecto varía de interpretación según el verbo y el contexto: puede señalar quién experimenta las sensaciones derivadas de la acción, quién es su destinatario o su origen. Se pone siempre antes del verbo y entre comas, para distinguirlo.

► Vos, no, pruora ovos bol (Tú me diste (a mi) tu flor)

► Nos legive, ata vo, sopoi ilimil (Yo leeré más libros para ti)

Otros complementos

Todos los demás complementos o sintagmas preposicionales que acompañan al sintagma verbal se colocan antes del verbo. Esta estructura resalta el contexto y las condiciones de la acción, garantizando claridad y profundidad en la construcción de la oración.

► Nos avusi laoſi legive sopoi ilimil ata vo (Yo, la semana que viene, te leeré más libros)

Por último, concluimos esta sección aprendiendo a formular interrogativas en la lengua de Truel. Todas las preguntas se construyen como enunciados declarativos que se someten a comprobación verdadero / falso. Aunque no siempre se espere que la respuesta sea un "sí" o un "no" estrictos, ese es el formato prototípico. Veamos algunos ejemplos:

► ¿Vos esi medicamo (¿Estás sano?)

La traducción literal del enunciado sería "Tú estás sano". El signo de interrogación inicial indica que el hablante solicita confirmación sobre la veracidad de esa afirmación. La contestación no tiene por qué limitarse a "sí" o "no"; el marco interrogativo funciona sobre todo como formalismo.

► Nos esi edoma. ¿Nis ufegrire gidave no ata onos obmute. (Estoy perdido. ¿Esta calle me llevará a mi destino?)

Aquí, la oración literal es "Esta calle me llevará a mi destino". El signo de interrogación, precedido de la declaración de estar perdido, encuadra la consulta sobre la ruta correcta dentro de la lógica verdadero / falso.

Este procedimiento puede resultar algo indirecto, pero en esencia cualquier pregunta puede reconducirse a esta forma. Por ejemplo, "¿Qué quieres?" puede reformularse como "¿Sabes ya lo que quieres?".

Cuando la pregunta no admite reconversión directa a "sí" o "no", se recurre al introductor vos peri ('¿sabes...?'), el cual presupone tanto la posesión como el contenido del conocimiento:

► ¿vos peri ahuoli (¿Sabes por qué?)

Aunque la respuesta podría cerrarse con un "sí" o "no", se espera que se explice la razón.

La fórmula puede abreviarse con voperi:

► ¿voperi em ubadal uf otrosu breblija (¿Sabes el tamaño de su casa? o más directamente: ¿Cuál es el tamaño de su casa?)

Así, el sistema interrogativo de Truel descansa en declaraciones verificables acompañadas de signos de interrogación y, cuando ello no es viable, en el recurso a los introductores vos peri / voperi para pedir la información deseada.

EJEMPLOS

Adjuntamos unos cuantos ejemplos de oraciones más complejas, coloreando de forma simple aquellas expresiones que se traducen del castellano al español, diferenciando entre sintagmas nominales, adjetivos, adverbios, verbos y otras palabras.

1)

Los anuncios que diseña la agencia fabrican un mundo idealizado, un espejo donde los otros siempre son muy felices.

Em ambliceil ce em esiil afuu, faje ji eapibiom grorime, ji pericra vrija em apiroil simperi esi sati supligo.

2)

Nosotros debíamos comer para escapar de la enfermedad, porque la imagen de una figura esquelética es la imagen arquetípica de la muerte.

Nosu, bara frur uf em nigropi, amulire pranpar, aren em gitlapi uf ji dedinte bloroma esi em gitlapi grorime uf em sitroilib.

3)

No es humilde quien piensa de sí mismo que es poca cosa.

It uf noits siesa ce esi digui ecroji, esplavi esi acloma.

4)

Ayer y hoy miramos el cielo con una inquietud similar, pero cambian los instrumentos con que podemos describir los hechos.

Nosu, arudilei et uudilei, ojin ji glosgloran glilime, bregarda em sia, da em obigijail ojin ce nosu go sopiir em drorameil, alte.

5)

Todos los adverbios que acaban así se refieren al modo o manera con que hacemos algo.

Σecs em arubers ce privite ecu, em osiepi ojin ce nosu faje ecsil, signi .

EXTRAS

En el mágico reino de Bolillian, la vida diaria de sus habitantes, conocidos simplemente como “loris” gira en torno a un singular sistema numérico senario (base 6) y a un calendario propio que marca el ritmo de las estaciones.

En este capítulo abordaremos los aspectos más sorprendentes de las matemáticas bolilianas, así como algunas curiosidades culturales como la medición del tiempo o la paleta cromática tradicional.

Antes de que empecemos con cualquier otra cosa, quizá debamos dejar de hablar de palabras y dedicar un momento a los números. El pueblo de Bolil'lian utiliza un sistema senario en lugar del sistema decimal al que estamos acostumbrados. Afortunadamente, emplean un conjunto de herramientas similar: las operaciones básicas, el uso del cero, y así sucesivamente.

Los nombres oficiales de cada uno de estos números son los siguientes:

	Cardinal Numbers	Ordinal Numbers
0	Nul	Nuli
1	Jin	Jini
2	Bun	Buni
3	Dren	Dreni
4	Cran	Crani
5	Fon	Foni

Los números cardinales indican cantidad o "cuánto" hay de algo, como en "Dren poblail" (tres manzanas). En cambio, los números ordinales señalan posición u orden en una secuencia, como "Brunivresa" (segunda hija).

Los números más altos en el sistema senario se forman y se nombran encadenando los numerales básicos, de manera similar a otros sistemas de valor posicional, pero con un sistema de seis símbolos en lugar de diez. Por ejemplo, el número decimal 51 se escribe 123 en senario (pues $51 = 1 \cdot 6^2 + 2 \cdot 6^1 + 3 \cdot 6^0$), lo que combina los numerales para 1 (Jin), 2 (Bun) y 3 (Dren) y se nombraría "jinbundren". Esta secuencia se lee de izquierda a derecha, del mismo modo que en el sistema decimal.

Un rasgo lingüístico singular del sistema numeral bolil'liano es la posibilidad de simplificar la pronunciación omitiendo la n final de cada numeral salvo el último cuando se encadenan. Así, 123 ("jinbundren") puede abreviarse a "jibudren". El 230 ("bundrennul") puede leerse "brudrenul". Esto es conveniente para no confundirlo con la lista seguida de una serie de números, que al ser individuales sí deberían, obviamente, llevar su nombre completo (1, 2, 3 sería "jin, bun, dren").

Otro detalle importante es que el número senario 10 (6 en decimal), que puede pronunciarse "jinul", posee además otro nombre oficial: "sen".

El calendario de Bolil'lian también refleja su sistema numeral en base seis. Un año se divide en dos conjuntos de seis meses. Cada mes se compone de cinco semanas, y cada semana tiene seis días, lo que mantiene la coherencia con el sistema senario. Con ciertos ajustes de fin de año: hay una semana extra al final del año cuya duración oscila entre cinco y seis días; cada cuatro años se ajusta para sincronizarse con las observaciones astronómicas, de forma similar a los años bisiestos del calendario gregoriano.

	Lunes	Martes	Miércoles	Jueves	Viernes	Sábado	Domingo
Días	Jindile	Bundle	Drenldile	Crandile	Fondile	Sendile	-
Iji	Abu	Odre	Ecra	Ufo	Ense
Buji	Buba	Bedru	Crara	Fubo	Bunse

Comenzamos el año con Iji (primavera, primer mes), una época en la que el universo se sacude el frío y las plantas irrumpen tenazmente en la tierra. A Iji le sigue Abu, cuando los jardines se transforman en bulliciosas fiestas de la naturaleza y cada flor compite por ser la más colorida. Luego llega Odre, que trae días perezosamente extensos y cierra la estación.

Ecra (verano, cuarto mes) nos brinda consuelo cuando las hojas abandonan su verde para empezar a lucir tonos vibrantes y amarillos. Ufo susurra después, colmado de reuniones entrañables y del aroma del pan recién hecho, mientras las calabazas alcanzan su máxima hinchazón: un festín para los Rabianos. Más tarde llega Ense, que afila el aire tras el ecuador del año.

Buji (otoño, séptimo mes) envuelve todo en una quietud tan profunda que quedarse en casa se vuelve la única opción sensata. Buba inaugura un reino de infinitos suelos colmados de hojas. Bedru promete sutilmente el renacimiento y empuja al mundo hacia la renovación, empieza a venir el frío.

Crara (invierno, décimo mes) despierta al planeta con frío, nieve y lluvia. Después vuelve Fubo, que prepara el escenario para la gran sinfonía floral de la primavera mientras las ramas ensayan sus partituras. Todo está blanco. El año concluye con Bunse y con esos cinco o seis días extra que se entrelazan como una pausa esencial: un tiempo para la reflexión y las risas.

COLORES

Olif - Azul

Obo - Verde

Fidlo - Amarillo

Faso - Naranja

Ego - Rojo

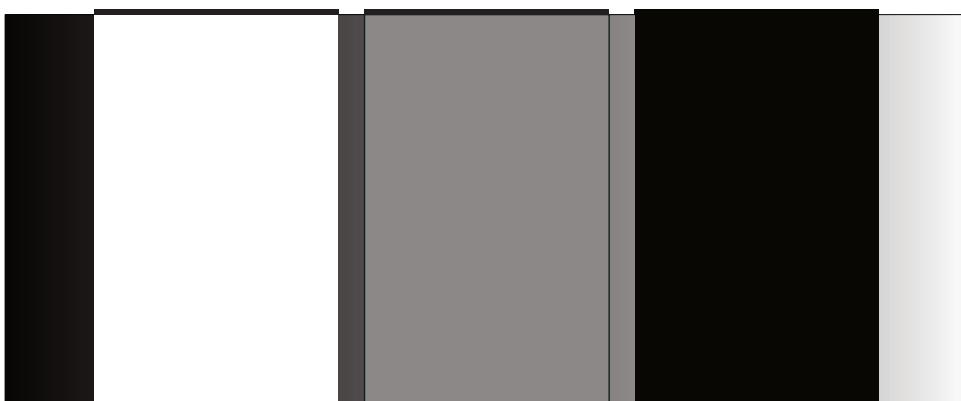

Abet - Violeta

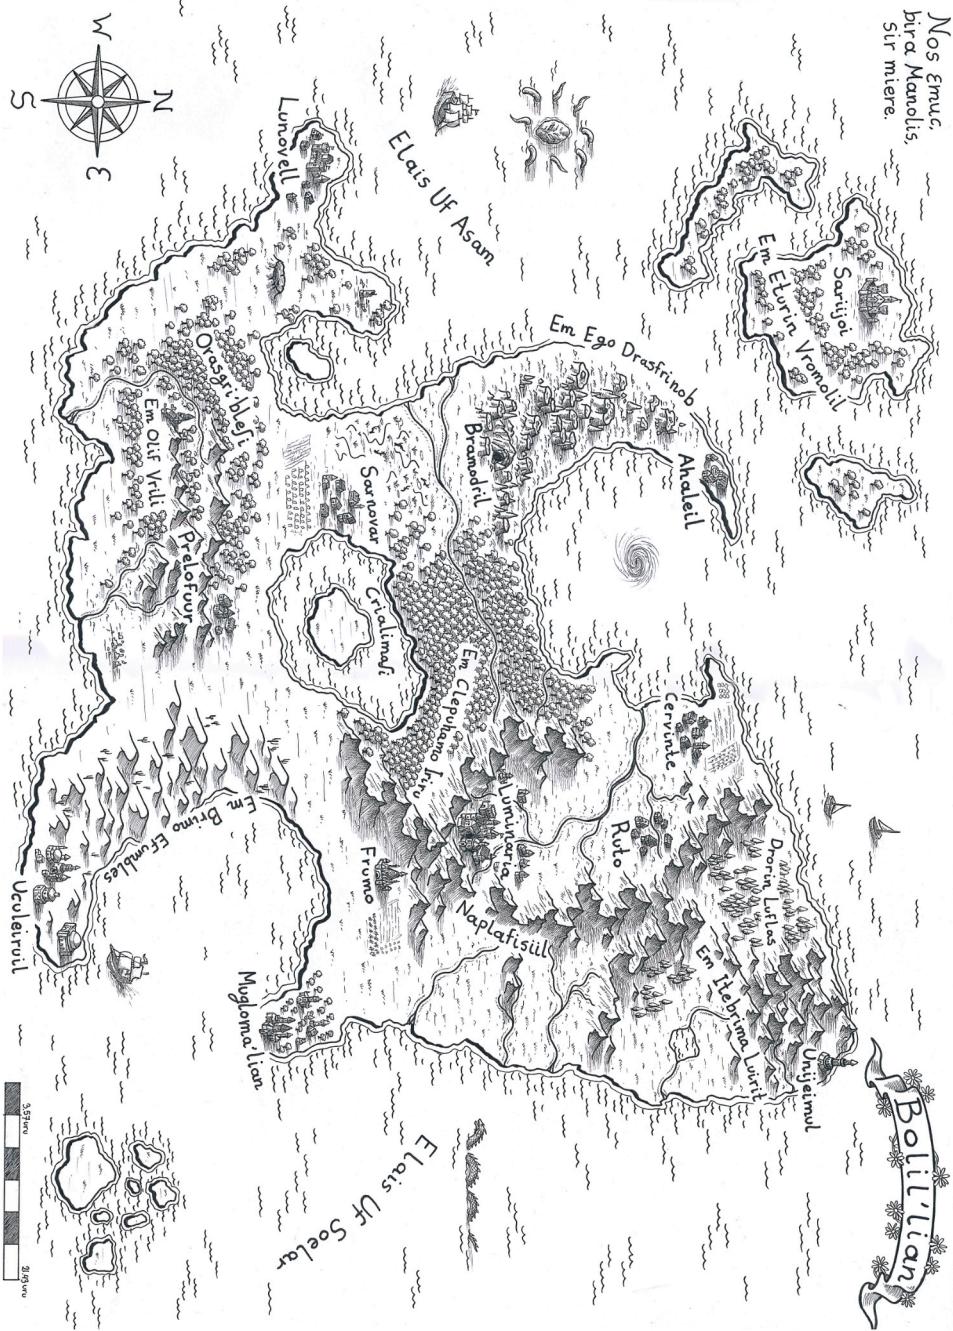

Fitfi - Blanco

Bubo - Gris

Oco - Negro

Nos Emu,
bir Mandolis,
sur mire.

El glosario de Truel constituye una parte inseparable de la obra original en inglés. Sus definiciones y equivalencias rara vez son literalmente exactas, pues trasladan un lenguaje cargado de matices poéticos y espirituales a otro de registro más cotidiano. Realizar ahora una versión inglés-español supondría introducir una nueva capa de imprecisión entre cada término y su sentido primigenio. Por ello hemos preferido preservar el diccionario en la lengua en la que fue concebido. Disculpen las molestias.

A

- Ababoma (adj.): A sight so stunning, it could make a poet swear off metaphors forever and make you think, "i should probably put on a nicer shirt. (Beautiful, pretty, breathtaking).
- Ababol (n.): Someone so stunning they make even the sun feel a bit insecure about its glow. (Beautiful person).
- Ababoli (adv.): The qualifier that makes everything sound just a bit more appealing than it really is. (Pretty).
- Abace (n.): A blend of elements that come together so beautifully, even the laws of nature applaud. (Composition).
- Abagi (n.): The persistent gatecrasher at the garden party, uninvited yet always there. (Weed).
- Abago (n.): A tiny piece of the whole puzzle, essential yet often overlooked, like the last screw in ikea furniture. (Component).
- Abar (verb.): To create music or text, arranging elements into a structured whole. (Compose).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Abarel (n.): The magician who conjures up symphonies from thin air and coffee stains. (Composer).
- Abeplit (n.): A collection of people or parts that somehow, against all odds, work together harmoniously. (Assembly).
- Abet (n.): A bloom so regal, it practically demands a curtsey from passing bumblebees. (Violet).
- Abetema (adj.): A color so posh, it wouldn't be caught dead near a simple lavender. (Violet, purple's sophisticated cousin).
- Abei (adv.): The work schedule that lets you have a life, or at least a nap. (Part-time).
- Abema (adj.): The job that says, "i'm here for the paycheck, but don't count on me for the company picnic. (Part-time, semi-committed).
- Aber (verb.): Guaranteeing outcomes as a shepherd guards his flock through the night. (Ensure).
- Aberoma (adj.): Like a bad joke, it just keeps coming back when you least want it. (Repeated, over and over).
- Abijar (verb.): To exist and experience life, actively participating in the world. (Live).
- Abijior (verb.): To stumble or fall unexpectedly, catching feet on unseen obstacles. (Trip).
- Abme (n.): A grandiose structure reminding us of important things we usually forget. (Monument).
- Abnuuco (n.): The act of leaving something out, usually the thing everyone later realizes was crucial. (Exclusion).
- Abnuugo (adj.): The kind of club that lets you in only to remind you why you weren't invited in the first place. (Exclusive, invitation-only).
- Abnuugoli (adv.): The way to do things when you want to keep the riffraff out. (Exclusively).
- Abnuur (verb.): Actively leaving out, much like setting a boundary that separates the wheat from the chaff, defining inside from outside. (Exclude).

- Absuog (n.): The grand stage where gladiators of sport and showdowns of ego take place. (Arena).
- Ablodnu (n.): A place where money and desire meet, often resulting in buyer's remorse. (Shop).
- Aboca (n.): A public display of opinion, loud enough to wake the dead and make politicians tremble. (Demonstration).
- Abor (verb.): To show clearly with examples, proving concepts with tangible evidence. (Demonstrate).
- Abojoi (adv.): The state of completeness that's rarely achieved, but often claimed. (Entirely).
- Abrebisi (adv.): The adverb that invites debate, usually when none is needed. (Arguably).
- Abrifaco (n.): A risk-filled venture where optimism and foolishness walk hand in hand. (Bet).
- Abrifar (verb.): To wager on an outcome, risking something on a chance. (Bet).
- Abrifarol (n.): The annoying cousin of "good," always showing off and raising expectations. (Better).
- Abrorari (n.): The life-giving puff of air that reminds us we're still in the game. (Breath).
- Abu (n.): A month so excessively vibrant, it can feel like the plants are showing off just how many colors they can handle without crashing. (May).
- Âcama (adj.): That state when your bed seems like the only true friend you have. (Tired, utterly knackered).
- Acalo (n.): The art of creating rules that everyone complains about but mostly follows. (Legislation).
- Acajur (verb.): To reduce in width or scope, making more limited or focused. (Narrow).
- Acasevclub (n.): A patch of earth where dreams of lush landscapes battle with reality's relentless weeds. (Yard).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Acepema (adj.): Sensible enough that even your most critical aunt can't complain. (Reasonable, justifiable).
- Acer (verb.): To make physical contact, bridging distances with a simple gesture. (Touch).
- Aciapui (n.): A public showing of things that often seem more interesting when they're behind glass. (Display).
- Aciapuir (verb.): To showcase wonders for all to see, making the ordinary extraordinary under the spotlight. (Display).
- Acimbrem (n.): The fine, powdery stuff that magically turns chaos into cake. (Flour).
- Acirar (verb.): To acquire in exchange for currency, adding to one's possessions with a transaction. (Buy).
- Acnu (n.): An unexpected event that leaves us with stories to tell and scars to prove it. (Accident).
- Acsabran (n.): The rotund container that keeps our liquids snug and our pirates happy. (Barrel).
- Acsime (adj.): When your jaw drops so low, you need a map to find it. (Shocked, utterly gobsmacked).
- Acloma (adj.): Doesn't brag, quietly confident. (Modest, humble).
- Acob (n.): The brave act of trying, even when failure seems like the most likely outcome. (Go).
- Acrasoca (n.): The unseen hand that keeps the chaos of organization just one step away. (Administration).
- Acrasoga (adj.): The kind of work that involves more staplers than swords. (Administrative, paper-pushing).
- Acrasor (verb.): To manage or oversee the execution of tasks, guiding processes with authoritative command. (Administer).
- Acrasoral (n.): The wizard behind the curtain, making sure everything runs smoothly while everyone else thinks it's magic. (Administrator).

- Acro (n.): The modern-day shaman, trading potions and chants for prescriptions and diagnoses. (Doctor).
- Acrod (prep.): When citing the ultimate authority , acrod gives it the gravitas it deserves. (According).
- Acrodonta (n.): The fine art of following rules with just enough creativity to not get caught breaking them. (Accordance).
- Acrub (n.): The wise sage of the lecture hall, where knowledge is dispensed and sleep is often induced. (Professor).
- Acug (n.): The scenic canvas where stories unfold, whether it's a cozy kitchen or a haunted mansion. (Setting).
- Acustor (verb.): To have previously engaged in a habit or activity, now recalled with the nostalgia of an old adventurer recounting tales of past glories. (Usedto).
- Aculumo (adj.): So alike you could swap them in a police lineup, and nobody would notice. (Same, monotonously identical).
- Acurifime (adj.): The kind of thinking that doesn't do twists, turns, or loop-de-loops. (Linear, straightforward).
- Ad (conj.): In the language of truel, it adds a little more to your tale, stacking ideas like enchanted stones. (Plus).
- Adame (adj.): Like an unexpected bonus, but without the confetti. (Plus, additional).
- Adar (verb.): To overcome as climbers summit peaks, triumph atop the clouds. (Conquer).
- Ade (n.): A small indicator that something significant happened, like a trail of breadcrumbs in a forest. (Mark).
- Adi (n.): A colossal creature with the memory of an archivist and the grace of a ballerina on stilts. (Elephant).
- Adice (n.): The whole shebang, collected and tallied, whether it's marbles or mistakes. (Total, sum).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Adicema (adj.): Every last bit of it, down to the very crumbs. (Total, complete).
- Adil (n.): The act of bringing something new into the fold, like a new flavor to an old recipe. (Addition).
- Adir (verb.): To include more, increasing quantity or enhancing quality. (Add).
- Adnoblo (n.): The act of jumping into the fray, even if you can't swim. (Participation).
- Adlapime (adj.): The big cheese in the hierarchy of importance. (Primary, first in line).
- Adlamo (adj.): About as holy as a wet sock on a tuesday. (Secular, non-spiritual).
- Adobebre (n.): A graceful deviation from the straight and narrow, like life's unexpected twists. (Curve).
- Adopaoca (n.): The kind of energy that makes you think coffee should come with a warning label. (Intensity).
- Adopaonta (adj.): The kind of focus that makes laser beams look like party streamers. (Intense, extremely serious).
- Adopaor (verb.): To turn the dial up to eleven, making everything just a bit more dramatic and thrilling. (Intensify).
- Adrime (adj.): Less "dining out" and more "can we eat this part of the cupboard?". (Poor, financially challenged).
- Adro (n.): A tiny, potent package that promises relief, or at least a temporary escape. (Tablet).
- Adufi (adv.): The volume setting favored by rock concerts and teenagers. (Loud).
- Adufumo (adj.): Noise so powerful, it could wake the dead and ask them to keep it down. (Loud, ear-splitting).
- Afa (n.): A heartfelt nod to greatness, often accompanied by flowers or statues. (Tribute).

- Afalos (n.): The place where young minds go to expand, explore, and occasionally attend classes. (College).
- Afar (verb.): Exercising authority, keeping everything within the bounds of order. (Control).
- Afir (verb.): To make great efforts to achieve something, pushing towards ambitious goals. (Strive).
- Afisherueca (n.): The grand puppeteer of national affairs, often tangled in its own strings. (Government).
- Afisheruenta (n.): The orderly conduct of society's business, as long as no one looks too closely. (Governance).
- Afisheruer (verb.): To exercise authority and control over a community or organization, making decisions that guide and shape its direction. (Govern).
- Afisheruer (n.): The top official who balances diplomacy with the urge to shout, "because i said so!". (Governor).
- Afsai (adv.): The little word that insists on going to excess, whether needed or not. (Too).
- Aflicibir (verb.): To soothe turbulent waters, bringing serenity and peace to troubled minds. (Calm).
- Aflungleg (n.): More than you need, like an all-you-can-eat buffet after the first five plates. (Excess).
- Aflunglema (adj.): When you've got so much, even your storage space needs storage space. (Excess, more than plenty).
- Aflurim (n.): A game where the aim is to get the ball into the hole with as few expletives as possible. (Golf).
- Afriro (n.): A dramatic change of power, often celebrated with fireworks or hushed tones. (Coup).
- Afrod (n.): A heated exchange that escalates quicker than you can say, "not again!". (Row).
- Aepniuco (n.): Sending out troops or ideas with equal parts hope and trepidation. (Deployment).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Aepniur (verb.): To arrange for use or action, positioning resources with tactical expertise. (Deploy).
- Aenef (n.): A woody extension that trees wave with and organizations rely on for stability. (Branch).
- Aes (n.): A gathering of souls under one roof, seeking divine wisdom or just a good sing-along. (Congregation).
- Aesir (verb.): To resist boldly, standing firm against opposing forces. (Defy).
- Aelema (adj.): Strange enough to be fascinating, but not quite alien. (Weird, gloriously odd).
- Aojiage (n.): What keeps us going, whether it's food for thought or fodder for livestock. (Feed).
- Aejiar (verb.): To provide nourishment, sustaining life with essential sustenance. (Feed).
- Agaro (n.): The high-speed chariot that races against time, sirens blaring like a rock concert on wheels. (Ambulance).
- Ager (verb.): To disturb mentally or emotionally, causing distress or disruption. (Upset).
- Agime (n.): The crafty maneuver that turns the tide, like a knight's move in chess. (Tactic).
- Agiluri (adv.): The direction that takes you to the heart of the action, traffic permitting. (Downtown).
- Agilurime (adj.): The heart of the city, where all the pulse-pounding, wallet-emptying action happens. (Downtown, city center).
- Agilurija (n.): The bustling heart of urban life, where dreams and traffic collide. (Downtown).
- Aglatlili (adv.): The recent past where all the interesting things are happening, apparently. (Lately).
- Aglari (adv.): The time frame that implies magic, but usually means more work. (Overnight).

- Agleti (adv.): The way to describe something that's worth noticing, even if it's not. (Remarkably).
- Aglomi (adj.): So mean it could make a villain reconsider their life choices. (Nasty, unpleasantly vile).
- Agrenvris (n.): A warm embrace made of fabric, perfect for cold nights and forts. (Blanket).
- Agriro (n.): The ordered list that tells you where you stand, for better or worse. (Ranking).
- Agusour (verb.): To suggest subtly, with a touch as light as a feather's stroke against the skin, almost imperceptible yet evocative. (Hint).
- Apar (verb.): To remove dirt or impurities, restoring purity and order. (Clean).
- Apasitaco (n.): The formalized act of using someone else's brilliance to back up your own argument. (Quotation, quote).
- Apasitar (verb.): To repeat or cite words, attributing statements to their sources. (Quote).
- Ape (n.): A place where knowledge is dispensed, often in exchange for a small fortune. (Academy).
- Apedema (adj.): As obvious as a neon sign in a blackout. (Evident, clearly visible).
- Apedice (n.): The smoking gun that proves you didn't just imagine the butler did it. (Evidence).
- Apepam (adj.): As rich in heritage as a grandmother's quilt. (Cultural, tradition-bound).
- Apema (adj.): More about books and less about brawn. (Academic, scholarly).
- Apejumair (verb.): To infuse warmth into cold spaces, igniting fires both literal and metaphorical. (Heat).
- Apmitros (n.): A tool designed for taming hair, whether it's on your head or your teeth. (Brush).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Apsamo (adj.): Priced higher than a dragon's ransom. (Expensive, costly).
- Apsere (n.): The squishy supercomputer that insists on pondering deep questions at 3 am. (Brain).
- Aplescrumi (adv.): The direction that sounds heroic, usually followed by "and conquer. (Forth).
- Aplorime (adj.): Older and wiser, or at least older. (Senior, elder).
- Apor (verb.): To examine or assess with careful scrutiny, ensuring every detail is considered. (Review).
- Aporioca (n.): The art of organizing things just so, or at least enough to find them later. (Arrangement).
- Aporior (verb.): To organize methodically, setting elements in order with thoughtful precision. (Arrange).
- Aposa (n.): A piece of thread with delusions of grandeur, often ending up in a cat's paws. (String).
- Apriteili (n.): A grand tale often featuring gods, heroes, and a flexible relationship with facts. (Myth).
- Apritel (n.): A sequence of words strung together to entertain, educate, or just pass the time. (Story).
- Aprimani (n.): The older, wiser version of dad, usually equipped with tall tales and extra candy. (Grandfather).
- Aprime (adj.): Has seen more than a history textbook. (Old, aged).
- Aprisani (n.): A warm-hearted matriarch who excels in baking and dispensing wisdom in equal measure. (Grandmother).
- Aprosuco (n.): A brief nod in the direction of someone or something important. (Mention).
- Aprosur (verb.): To reference subtly, akin to a painter adding a tiny signature to the corner of a vast canvas, hardly noticeable yet significant. (Mention).

- Apufanto (n.): The pursuit of health and strength, ideally without giving up cake. (Fitness).
- Avaluboca (n.): The guardian of funds, faith, and sometimes a surprising amount of paperwork. (Trustee).
- Avalubor (verb.): To place confidence in, relying on the integrity or ability of someone or something. (Trust).
- Avaor (verb.): To harbor doubts or inklings, sniffing out secrets with a detective's intuition. (Suspect).
- Avefa (n.): The glaring absence of something you probably didn't notice until it was gone. (Lack).
- Aviprime (adj.): More about decibels than dialogue. (Sound, noise-related).
- Avipril (n.): The vibrations that tickle your ears, ranging from soothing melodies to unbearable noise. (Sound).
- Avla (n.): The world's grand attempt to shrink distances and grow connections, often with mixed results. (Globalization).
- Avlesi (n.): The microscopic building block of life, or a small room with an unpleasant view. (Cell).
- Avlisir (verb.): To provide or deliver, giving form to ideas or services with tangible results. (Render).
- Avloco (n.): The act of stopping something before it happens, highly effective. (Prevention).
- Avlusos (n.): A vast dominion ruled with power, strategy, and the occasional tea break. (Empire).
- Avorori (adv.): The frequency of things that take a year to forget they were annoying. (Annually).
- Avouco (n.): The official act of signing up for something, often involving forms and mild exasperation. (Registration).
- Avour (verb.): To enroll formally, adding names to lists with official recognition. (Register).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Avourol (n.): The place where you sign your name, or where money exchanges hands. (Register).
- Avrur (verb.): To provide resources or necessities, ensuring needs are met. (Supply).
- Avruumo (adj.): Fresh off the imagination train. (New, novel).
- Avucoma (adj.): Just around the corner, and closer than you think. (Forthcoming, soon to arrive).
- Avudile (n.): The elusive future day filled with promise, plans, and the hope you'll be more productive. (Tomorrow).
- Avudilei (adv.): The always elusive day when you promise to start being productive. (Tomorrow).
- Avugor (verb.): Indicating possibility or permission, allowing for potential actions. (May).
- Avun (conj. / prep.): When things come later, whether it's dessert or an unexpected twist in a story, avun marks the sequence. (After).
- Avuni (adv.): The time that follows the present, usually carrying the consequences. (After).
- Avusi (adv. / n. / prep.): The thing that comes immediately after, whether it's thrilling or terrifying. (Next).
- Avusime (adj.): Coming up so fast, it's practically breathing down your neck. (Next, immediately following).
- Avula (n.): The collective term for the entities that inform, entertain, and occasionally mislead us. (Media).
- Avulia (n.): The second of two mentioned options, often overshadowed by its predecessor. (Latter).
- Avuliame (adj.): The one you mention when you've already mentioned another. (Latter, second mentioned).
- Avurul (n.): The forward march towards improvement, even if it feels like a slow crawl. (Progress).

- Avuso (n.): The magical period after sunset where anything seems possible, including sleep. (Tonight).
- Avusoi (adv.): The time for evening plans, mischief, or regrettable late-night snacks. (Tonight).
- Ata (prep.): Ata directs the flow, pointing the way to destinations and goals. (To).
- Atabi (n.): The unwavering belief in something bigger, even when it's just the next good thing around the corner. (Faith).
- Ataina (n.): The extent of your grasp, whether it's for the cookie jar or your wildest dreams. (Reach).
- Atainar (verb.): To extend effort or limbs to grasp something just out of touch. (Reach).
- Atalul (n.): A large, furry creature with a love for honey and the occasional human campfire. (Bear).
- Atase (prep.): With a slight nudge, atase guides movement in a particular direction. (Toward).
- Atendir (verb.): To remain in anticipation or pause, as the night holds its breath awaiting the dawn. (Wait).
- Atendirel (n.): The unsung hero of dining out, juggling orders, and occasionally dodging flying spaghetti. (Waiter).
- Atesrip (n.): The sudden crumpling of structures, plans, or patience. (Collapse).
- Atimojevlic (n.): The state of being widely liked or accepted, often fleeting and fickle. (Popularity).
- Atineber (verb.): To aggressively challenge or confront, like a thunderstorm unleashes its might upon the land below. (Attack).
- Atniunto (n.): The primal instinct to keep going, despite all odds and obstacles. (Survival).
- Atniur (verb.): To continue to live despite adversity, emerging from trials like a phoenix from the ashes. (Survive).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Atniurol (n.): The resilient soul who's been through the wringer and emerged stronger. (Survivor).
- Atruco (n.): The bond between kindred spirits, often forged over shared laughs and adventures. (Friendship).
- Atrumo (adj.): More welcoming than a golden retriever at a tennis ball factory. (Friendly, amiable).
- Atrus (n.): A fellow human who makes the journey of life a lot less lonely and a lot more fun. (Friend).
- Atrusopo (n.): The co-adventurer in life, love, and whatever comes next. (Partner, spouse).
- Atrusoponta (n.): The collaboration of two or more entities working together towards a common goal, hopefully with minimal squabbling. (Partnership).
- Atudromo (adj.): As haphazard as a toddler's toy box. (Random, unpredictably assorted).
- Aic (n.): The humble spud, versatile enough to be mashed, fried, or turned into vodka. (Potato).
- Aidehu (n.): The polite suggestion on how not to mess things up. (Guideline).
- Aito (n.): The hidden information you keep, share, or uncover. (Secret).
- Aitoma (adj.): Behind closed doors, whispers in the dark. (Secret, hidden).
- Aitor (verb.): A clandestine dispersal of truths, half-truths, and untruths, sown like seeds in the fertile fields of eager ears, often sprouting into stories far taller than their origins. (Gossip).
- Aim (n.): The formal chat where questions are answers and nerves are fried. (Interview).
- Aimvlis (n.): A compilation of memories or music, carefully curated for posterity. (Album).
- Ailan (n.): The passage that connects rooms and echoes footsteps like a ghost with a drum kit. (Hall).

- Ailar (verb.): To replicate with precision, duplicating forms or actions with exacting accuracy. (Copy).
- Aira (n.): The invisible hug from the sun or a well-aimed radiator. (Heat).
- Aihapi (n.): The tiny metal pin that holds everything together until it doesn't. (Nail).
- Aiji (n.): The art of turning money into stuff, and occasionally regret. (Spending).
- Aiseeg (n.): The morning ritual that informs, entertains, and sometimes wraps fish. (Newspaper).
- Aisenouco (n.): The clash of ideas or egos, often louder than it needs to be. (Contention).
- Aisenour (verb.): To engage in the struggle of wills and ideas, battling fiercely yet with honor, like knights in a joust. (Contend).
- Aisenourol (n.): The one in the ring, ready to give it their all, win or lose. (Contender).
- Aisi (n.): The state of being there when needed, like a good friend or a wifi signal. (Availability).
- Aisilema (adj.): Ready and waiting, like a dog by the dinner table. (Available, up for grabs).
- Ama (n.): The gender often associated with stubbornness and selective hearing. (Boy, male, man).
- Amacleca (n.): The lifelong journey of acquiring knowledge, often despite formal schooling. (Education).
- Amacleco (n.): The noble art of imparting knowledge and hoping it sticks. (Teaching).
- Amaclega (adj.): Schooling you faster than a pop quiz. (Educational, learning-related).
- Amaclema (adj.): Knows more than just how to spell “cat. (Educated, well-schooled).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Amaclen (n.): The dreaded task that follows students home, refusing to let them escape. (Homework).
- Amacler (verb.): To impart knowledge with the patience of a sage and the flair of a showman, lighting fires in eager minds. (Teach).
- Amacleral (n.): The guide who lights the path of knowledge, one lesson at a time. (Educator, teacher).
- Amaglumo (adj.): On permanent vacation, but without the margaritas. (Retired, no longer working).
- Amav (n.): The dark deeds that fill courtrooms and mystery novels alike. (Crime).
- Amatrus (n.): The significant other who shares your life and sometimes your dessert. (Boyfriend).
- Amame (adj.): Like a bear in a suit: ruggedly sophisticated and possibly quite hairy. (Masculine).
- Amamoin (n.): The formal plea for change, often accompanied by a sea of signatures. (Petition).
- Amanaco (n.): The official tweak that makes things better or just more complicated. (Amendment).
- Amanar (verb.): To make changes, as one adjusts the sails on a ship to better catch the wind, improving direction and speed with thoughtful corrections. (Amend).
- Amanprara (n.): The leftover bits that linger long after the main event. (Residue).
- Ambi (adv.): The frequency with which most good habits are hard to maintain. (Daily).
- Ambime (adj.): So frequent, even the sunrise gets tired of it. (Daily, every single day).
- Ambli (n.): The relentless pursuit of making you want things you never knew you needed. (Advertising).

- Amblice (n.): The flashy message that interrupts your favorite shows to sell you toothpaste. (Advertisement).
- Ambo (n.): The act of exchanging money for stuff, often followed by buyer's remorse. (Purchase).
- Ambroma (adj.): Like a good umbrella in london. (Reliable, dependably trustworthy).
- Amcrasema (adj.): So nonsensical, it makes a clown convention look serious. (Absurd, utterly ridiculous).
- Amcrime (adj.): Reliable as your favorite pair of slippers. (Consistent, always the same).
- Amcrimonta (n.): The steady, reliable quality that keeps things predictable and safe. (Consistency).
- Ames (n.): The everyday folk who keep society ticking without ever wielding a gun. (Civilian).
- Amesema (adj.): Regular folks, the kind that don't do push-ups at dawn. (Civilian, non-military).
- Amprom (n.): The must-have essentials that keep us alive and relatively sane. (Need).
- Ami (n.): The formal gathering where decisions are made and coffee is consumed. (Session).
- Amigo (prep.): Amigo glances back at the things gone by, marking the way forward with a nod to history. (Past).
- Amo (n.): The scheduled rendezvous that's rarely on time but always necessary. (Appointment).
- Amoas (n.): The culinary artist who turns ingredients into masterpieces, or at least edible dishes. (Cook).
- Amoca (n.): The formal “no” that tries to halt the unstoppable force. (Objection).
- Amor (verb.): To express opposition or disapproval, standing against a proposal or action. (Object).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Amoju (n.): The thoughtful consideration or the face staring back at you from the glass. (Reflection).
- Amusumo (adj.): More about words than actions, much to the chagrin of doers. (Verbal, spoken).
- Amul (n.): The structured ramble that students love to hate. (Essay).
- Amulir (verb.): Indicating duty or correctness, suggesting advisable actions. (Should).
- Amur (verb.): To thrive or grow vigorously, prospering in favorable conditions. (Flourish).
- Amusa (n.): The unwavering devotion to a cause, person, or pizza delivery. (Dedication).
- Amusante (adj.): More focused than a cat with a laser pointer. (Dedicated, wholly committed).
- Anavrov (n.): The palpable sense that something or someone is here, even if unseen. (Presence).
- Anatlere (n.): The magical dust that transforms bland into grand. (Spice).
- Anal (n.): The fiery seasoning that adds zest to food and tears to eyes. (Pepper).
- Anaom (n.): The cheerful hue that brightens days and raises eyebrows. (Pink).
- Anaoma (adj.): The color that's more playful than a puppy in a balloon factory. (Pink, rosy).
- Anbaon (n.): The vast territory ruled by kings, queens, and occasionally dragons. (Realm).
- Anblafinte (n.): The official inclusion in a group, complete with perks and obligations. (Membership).
- Ancebrura (n.): The feeling of self-worth that can lift you up or bring you down. (Pride).

- Anciur (verb.): To hold dreams aloft, casting wishes into the future like seeds in fertile soil. (Hope).
- Anclauco (n.): The tidy boxes we put things into, only to discover they don't always fit. (Classification).
- Anclaunto (n.): The educational gathering where knowledge is shared and naps are taken. (Class).
- Anclaur (verb.): To categorize systematically, organizing into defined groups. (Classify).
- Ancrod (n.): The cozy haven where dreams unfold and alarm clocks are cursed. (Bed).
- Ande (n.): A friendly verbal high-five, often given in hopes of receiving one back. (Praise).
- Anfe (n.): The starting point for all things grand, like pizza or villainous plots. (Base).
- Anep (n.): The plan you pretend to have when the first one goes gloriously awry. (Alternative).
- Anepema (adj.): Like choosing the road less traveled, but with better shoes. (Alternative, other option).
- Anei (adv.): The vague precision that mathematicians hate but everyone else loves. (Approximately).
- Aneir (verb.): Asking as a child wonders, each question a pebble tossed in a pond. (Enquire).
- Anesa (n.): A specialist in tiny torture devices designed to test your tolerance for minty fresh pain. (Dentist).
- Aner (verb.): To heal those who needed it the most with just the power of its own heart. (Heal).
- Anerol (n.): Those who heal the heart of others by their mere presence.
- Anvlusuco (n.): The triumphant moment when you finally finish something you've been procrastinating. (Accomplishment).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Anvlusur (verb.): To achieve great feats through determination and a dash of stubbornness, as if climbing a mountain just to prove it was there. (Accomplish).
- Anvlure (n.): That delightful sensation you feel when a hot beverage thaws your icy fingers. (Warming).
- Anrunblime (adj.): So odd, it makes the ordinary look extraordinary. (Unusual, not typical).
- Anta (prep.): The quintessential word for pinpointing your location in space, whether you're at home or at a grand banquet. (At).
- Anidale (n.): A paper pocket that keeps secrets until it's ripped open with anticipation or dread. (Envelope).
- Anivir (verb.): To reach a destination, completing journeys with a sense of accomplishment. (Arrive).
- Anisane (n.): A sleep-deprived superhero with the uncanny ability to find lost socks and mend broken hearts. (Parent).
- Anir (verb.): To produce offspring, continuing the line of a species. (Breed).
- Anod (n.): The body's command center, responsible for both brilliant ideas and embarrassing blunders. (Head).
- Anor (verb.): To imprint one's unique mark, as unmistakable as a dragon's fiery signature. (Brand).
- Anu (n.): A flat surface perpetually cluttered with papers, mugs, and existential dread. (Desk).
- Anud (n.): A wearable hug that also serves as a magnet for cat hair and crumbs. (Sweater).
- Anulejumo (adj.): Wide-ranging enough to cover all bases, even the obscure ones. (General, broad scope).
- Anur (verb.): To ruin or decay, becoming unusable or corrupt. (Spoil).
- Anujacrul (n.): The burning desire to climb mountains, preferably ones made of chocolate. (Ambition).

- Asain (n.): Representing someone else's interests, hopefully without making a mess of it. (Behalf).
- Asam (n.): The natural state of the universe, occasionally organized into temporary order. (Chaos).
- Asan (n.): The final result of a series of events, which may or may not match expectations. (Outcome).
- Asanoca (n.): The emotional or physical bond that keeps things or people close. (Attachment).
- Asanor (verb.): To fasten or join securely, linking objects or ideas. (Attach).
- Asal (n.): The act of handing over public goods to private entities, often sparking debates and profit. (Privatization).
- Asbluco (n.): The grand upheaval that promises change, usually featuring flags, slogans, and a dash of chaos. (Revolution).
- Asblumo (adj.): More change than you can shake a barricade at. (Revolutionary, radically new).
- Asdaasa (n.): The dividing line between here and there, often fiercely defended or crossed with ease. (Border).
- Asdaasar (verb.): To edge or surround, marking the boundaries of an area. (Border).
- Asdlamo (adj.): No beating around the bush, just straight to the point. (Straightforward, direct).
- Asfeur (verb.): To make less severe or difficult, providing relief or comfort. (Ease).
- Asecscrera (n.): A tiny piece of technology, or a crispy snack that's impossible to eat just one of. (Chip).
- Asehoen (n.): The specific arrangement of parts that makes the whole thing work, or not. (Configuration).
- Asglore (n.): The dramatic moment when things fall apart, often requiring a cup of tea and a deep breath. (Breakdown).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Asgreur (verb.): To support or endorse, standing firmly behind with unwavering loyalty. (Back).
- Asgrusenol (n.): A furry, scaly, or feathery companion, often holding the keys to your heart. (Pet).
- Asprag (n.): The looming danger that keeps you on your toes and your eyes wide open. (Threat).
- Asvi (n.): The price you pay for goods, services, or the occasional misadventure. (Cost).
- Astlipira (n.): The moral high ground that's hard to climb but offers a splendid view. (Virtue).
- Asigefrotiv (n.): The central hub where all important decisions are made, often in a flurry of chaos. (Headquarters).
- Asotire (n.): A single thread or hair, essential in weaving the fabric of existence. (Strand).
- Asonca (n.): The collection of moments that shape who you are, hopefully making you wiser. (Experience).
- Asor (verb.): To encounter or undergo, living through events or situations. (Experience).
- Asoru (n.): The sacred space where experiments happen, and occasionally explosions. (Lab).
- Aſoma (adj.): Hushes the room like a snowfall. (Quiet, silent).
- Ala (n.): The grand blueprint for success, subject to revision upon contact with reality. (Strategy).
- Alaſoor (verb.): To shape metal by heating and hammering, creating tools or artifacts with skill. (Forge).
- Alacme (adj.): Single again, with a side of complicated paperwork. (Divorced, previously married).
- Alag (n.): The great unknown that beckons with both promise and peril. (Future).

- Alagame (adj.): The place where all your plans live, just waiting to become regrets. (Future, yet to come).
- Alamo (adj.): Thought out so well, even the pieces on a chessboard are jealous. (Strategic, cunningly planned).
- Alasedleec (n.): The grand centerpiece of classical music, equally adept at drama and jazz. (Piano).
- Alba (n.): The art of turning everyday life into something worth watching. (Drama).
- Albamo (adj.): So over-the-top, it might just win an award. (Dramatic, theatrically intense).
- Aldago (adj.): More in your head than a catchy tune. (Psychological, mind-related).
- Aldat (n.): The professional listener who helps untangle the knots in your head. (Psychologist, therapist).
- Aldatija (n.): The scientific exploration of why we do the baffling things we do. (Psychology).
- Alema (adj.): Like an old friend or a reliable pair of socks. (Familiar, well-known).
- Alesu (n.): The act of going from here to there, preferably with grace. (Motion).
- Alehear (verb.): To improve or enhance to a higher standard, bringing things to a new level of excellence. (Upgrade, Enhance).
- Algoritir (verb.): To calculate with precision, as a computer processes data, turning chaos into order through algorithms. (Compute).
- Algoritirel (n.): The modern-day oracle that answers our questions and crashes at the worst times. (Computer).
- Alter (verb.): To transform from one state to another, reshaping the fabric of existence with the hands of time. (Change).
- Altiblor (verb.): To elevate or intensify, like turning up the volume on life's most dramatic moments. (Heighten).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ali (n.): A blend of elements that works better together than apart. (Compound).
- Alita (n.): The formal handshake that's legally binding and often loopholed. (Contract).
- Alital (n.): The professional who turns blueprints into buildings, often behind schedule. (Contractor).
- Alirebin (n.): The mental gymnastics we perform to make sense of the world. (Thinking).
- Alofripler (verb.): To send a statement of charges, requesting payment for services or goods. (Bill).
- Alog (n.): The undercover operative who blends in everywhere and trusts no one. (Spy).
- Alogar (verb.): To mark or record time, as historians chart events, placing them precisely within the continuum of history. (Date).
- Alogaren (n.): A scheduled meeting that can lead to romance, business, or both. (Date).
- Aloma (adj.): As untouchable as a superhero in quarantine. (Immune, disease-resistant).
- Alom (n.): The flat surface that holds our computers and occasionally our lunch. (Desktop).
- Alon (prep.): When you need to encircle, surround, or just take the scenic route, alon has you covered. (Around).
- Aloni (adv.): The general vicinity where things happen, if you're not too specific. (Around).
- Alolor (verb.): To reflect sound back, repeating acoustically. (Echo).
- Alor (verb.): To reduce in height or intensity, bringing down to a gentler level. (Lower).
- Aloriju (n.): The destructive force that clears paths and creates chaos in equal measure. (Bomb).

- Alohoi (adv.): The location you currently occupy, unless you're a time traveler. (Here).
- Alu (n.): The expert who dives into data and emerges with insights, and sometimes confusion. (Analyst).
- Aluco (n.): The metamorphosis that turns caterpillars into butterflies and dreams into reality. (Transformation).
- Aluf (n.): A horrific act that leaves us questioning humanity's grasp on decency. (Atrocity).
- Alumi (n.): The unique blend of quirks and traits that makes us who we are. (Personality).
- Alumo (adj.): Requires more involvement than a lazy sunday afternoon. (Interactive, user-engaged).
- Alumoca (n.): The dynamic exchange between individuals, often more complex than it appears. (Interaction).
- Aluloma (adj.): More famous than a pop star at a scandalous press conference. (Renowned, famously known).
- Alur (verb.): Changing form as caterpillars into butterflies, magic encapsulated. (Transform).
- Alurepe (n.): The magical event where prices drop and impulse buys soar. (Sale).
- Aluru (n.): The firm grasp that keeps things in place, whether it's hands or plans. (Hold).
- Alurumo (adj.): So preoccupied, even a hyperactive squirrel would look relaxed. (Concerned, worriedly attentive).
- Alufema (adj.): Not a piece missing, like a jigsaw puzzle with all its edges intact. (Entire, whole).
- Aoplaco (n.): A seafaring adventurer with a fondness for treasure and a dramatic flair for the word "arrr!". (Pirate).
- Aoma (adj.): The kind of lie that pinocchio would envy. (False, untrue).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Aomisa (n.): A curved utensil perfect for eating cereal or catapulting peas at siblings. (Spoon).
- Aohi (n.): The universally accepted legwear that can survive anything from a rock concert to a sunday brunch. (Jeans).
- Aragame (adj.): So happy, you might just burst into song spontaneously. (Thrilled, exceedingly excited).
- Arapamo (adj.): More treasured than a pirate's loot. (Dear, cherished).
- Aramo (adj.): Precise enough to make a scalpel look clumsy. (Surgical, operation-related).
- Aran (n.): A singular occurrence, standing out amidst the monotonous march of time. (Instance).
- Aralir (verb.): To remove all contents, leaving a space void of items. (Empty).
- Areahe (n.): The gathering where ideas are exchanged, decisions made, and time occasionally wasted. (Meeting).
- Arebrutrin (n.): The two items or people that go together like socks and shoes. (Pair).
- Arecnace (n.): The upper hand, which one hopes to maintain without actually having to wrestle. (Advantage).
- Arecnage (adj.): So early, even the clock looks surprised. (Advance, ahead of time).
- Arecname (adj.): More cutting-edge than a samurai sword. (Advanced, highly developed).
- Arecnante (n.): Moving forward, whether through a battlefield or a buffet line. (Advance).
- Arefril (n.): The powerful machine that makes vehicles move and hearts race. (Engine).
- Arefrilel (n.): The creative problem-solver who designs, builds, and occasionally fixes what's broken. (Engineer).

- Arefrilelco (n.): The field where science meets creativity, building wonders and widgets alike. (Engineering).
- Areenim (n.): The payment given for work, loss, or inconvenience, ideally fair. (Compensation).
- Areerumo (adj.): Gets the job done with no wasted effort. (Efficient, effective).
- Areehema (adj.): No room for doubt, plain as day. (Obvious, clear).
- Areehelo (n.): The small group within a larger one that thinks it knows best. (Faction).
- Arevo (prep.): For the sweeping motions and the overarching themes, arevo looks down from above. (Over, upon).
- Arevoi (adv.): The state of completion, especially of things that were dragging on. (Over).
- Aremie (n.): The reliable ally you call upon to win arguments and solve puzzles. (Logic).
- Aren (conj.): Threads reason into the fabric of conversation, the why behind the what. (Because).
- Arelema (adj.): So prim, even a butler would call it stiff. (Formal, proper).
- Areoca (n.): The firm belief that you're right, even when the world thinks you're bonkers. (Conviction).
- Areor (verb.): To find guilty of a crime, pronouncing judgment with legal authority. (Convict).
- Arercnar (verb.): To move forward in position or progress, pushing ahead towards goals and new horizons. (Advance).
- Arehe (n.): A title of respect, often used to butter up someone of higher rank. (Sir).
- Arese (n.): The benevolent supporter, preferably one with deep pockets and low expectations. (Patron).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Arico (n.): The current set of circumstances, which may or may not involve chaos. (Situation).
- Arier (verb.): To incline towards, like a tree bends with the wind, drawn by unseen forces. (Lean).
- Arigor (verb.): To make possible, providing the means to accomplish with supportive power. (Enable).
- Aritin (n.): A circular piece of jewelry, or the sound of a phone reminding you of your to-do list. (Ring).
- Arimo (adj.): Found its niche and built a nest. (Situated, placed).
- Arisblum (n.): A cylindrical object or action, depending on whether you're in the kitchen or the dice game. (Roll).
- Arisiinte (n.): The helpful hand extended when you're just about to fall flat on your face. (Assistance).
- Arisiir (verb.): To jump in with both feet and lend a hand, saving the day while whistling a merry tune. (Assist).
- Arisiirema (adj.): The trusty sidekick who does all the heavy lifting. (Assistant, helper).
- Arisiirel (n.): The trusty sidekick who makes sure you don't fall flat on your face. (Assistant).
- Arija (n.): A particular place on the planet, often marked by something noteworthy or at least a sign. (Site).
- Arovul (n.): A hand's best friend, offering warmth and protection from the elements and bad handshakes. (Glove).
- Arot (n.): The brave first step towards success, or a glorious failure with a lesson attached. (Attempt).
- Aroicema (adj.): More about ballots than banter. (Electoral, voting-related).
- Aroir (verb.): To choose with careful deliberation, bestowing power and trust through the act of selection. (Elect).

- Aroma (adj.): So wowed, you might need to sit down. (Amazed, astonished).
- Arona (n.): The wet dirt that's messy, fun, and occasionally medicinal. (Mud).
- Arosumo (adj.): Sees the bright side, even in the darkest times. (Optimistic, hopeful).
- Arol (n.): The detailed tale of someone's life, complete with their triumphs and mishaps. (Biography).
- Aroofa (n.): The temporary release from jail or the act of abandoning ship. (Bail).
- Aroofu (n.): The young boy full of mischief, dreams, and occasionally frogs. (Lad).
- Arooma (adj.): Quick-witted, always one step ahead. (Smart, intelligent).
- Aroose (n.): The inner voice that tells you what's right, ideally loud and clear. (Conscience).
- Arooji (n.): The kitchen appliance that bakes, roasts, and burns if you're not careful. (Oven).
- Arohigla (n.): The unwanted remnants of life, often hiding treasure if you're a raccoon. (Trash).
- Aroun (n.): The communication you send or receive, ideally understood. (Message).
- Arojabliti (adv.): The word used when you want to sound certain, even if you're not. (Definitely).
- Arosainev (n.): A slender filament holding fabrics and narratives together. (Thread).
- Aru (n.): The day before today, often filled with regrets, nostalgia, or both. (Yesterday).
- Arudilei (adv.): The recent past, always clearer in hindsight and unreachable by time travelers. (Yesterday).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Arup (n.): The tome of words that makes you feel smart until you open it. (Dictionary).
- Arun (conj. / prep.): When precedence is key, whether it's before dinner or before the dawn of time, arun sets the stage. (Before).
- Aruni (adv.): The time that came earlier, when things were either better or worse, depending on nostalgia. (Before).
- Arus (n.): A challenging bump in the road, often teaching more than it hinders. (Obstacle).
- Arusime (adj.): Came before, like the appetizer to the main course. (Previous, earlier).
- Arul (n.): A collection of days gone by, often remembered more fondly or bitterly than they deserve. (Past).
- Aruli (adv.): The time gone by that's full of lessons we rarely learn. (Past).
- Aruliani (adv.): The not-so-distant past, where all the interesting events you missed happened. (Recently).
- Arulumo (adj.): Already in the rearview mirror, no u-turns allowed. (Past, previously happened).
- Aruhi (n.): The graceful or hasty way out, depending on the level of disaster left behind. (Exit).
- Arupi (pron.): The emphasized example that leaves no room for doubt. (Such).
- Arufoi (adv.): The time to arrive if you want a good seat or to be annoyingly punctual. (Early).
- Arusoma (adj.): So prompt, it could make punctuality blush. (Early, ahead of schedule).
- Aha (n.): The financial shadow that follows you, whispering “remember me?”. (Debt).
- Ahai (n.): The shiny object dangled in front of us for good behavior, or just for showing up. (Reward).

- Ahair (verb.): To give a prize or recognition for an achievement, as medals are awarded in a race. (Reward).
- Ahaleil (n.): The cool respite from the sun's relentless glare, often home to secret whispers. (Shade).
- Ahalo (n.): A metaphor's less pretentious cousin, making complex things simpler and vice versa. (Analogy).
- Aharoi (adv.): The manner in which simple tasks should be done, yet often aren't. (Easily).
- Ahajame (adj.): The kind of humor that earns at least a polite giggle. (Funny, hilarious).
- Aheclonaco (n.): The watchful eye that ensures things don't go completely off the rails. (Supervision).
- Aheclonar (verb.): To oversee with authority, ensuring tasks are carried out correctly. (Supervise).
- Aheclonarol (n.): The one who keeps the chaos at bay, clipboard in hand and coffee in the other. (Supervisor).
- Ahedrasig (n.): The solemn assembly where justice is weighed, argued, and occasionally found. (Tribunal).
- Aheprumo (adj.): When a glass of water looks like the holy grail. (Thirsty, parched).
- Ahema (adj.): More about beams and supports than artistic flair. (Structural, framework-related).
- Aheru (n.): The distilled essence of experience, often ignored by the young and sought by the old. (Wisdom).
- Ahibi (n.): The dancing element that warms our hands and burns our toast. (Flame).
- Ahoisamo (adj.): Everywhere you look, there it is, looming in all its presence. (Surrounding, all around).
- Ahouc (conj.): This word weaves in the unexpected twist, the sudden turn in the narrative where hope clings. (Yet).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ahouci (adv.): The persistent reminder that the story isn't over, not by a long shot. (Yet).
- Ahu (n.): The heavy cloak we wear after life hands us a pie in the face. (Shame).
- Ahuoli (adv.): The question that children and philosophers never stop asking. (Why).
- Aud (n.): The tangible version of words and pictures, often smeared with ink and coffee stains. (Print).
- Aumer (verb.): To fire or launch swiftly, as an archer releases an arrow, its path straight and true toward its target. (Shoot).
- Aus (n.): The beloved sport that ignites passions, rivalries, and occasionally pub brawls. (Football).
- Ausinte (n.): The unifying force of people standing together, often in defiance of something much bigger. (Solidarity).
- Ausir (verb.): To assist with kindness and skill, providing support that makes the impossible seem achievable. (Help).
- Aul (n.): The joyous feeling of breaking free from chains, be they physical, mental, or bureaucratic. (Liberation).
- Aulom (n.): The weight you carry, whether it's laundry, burdens, or expectations. (Load).
- Aujugra (n.): The place where sweat, grunts, and the faint smell of determination linger. (Gym).
- Aja (n.): The non-human inhabitants of our world, often wiser than they look. (Animal).
- Ajaiño (n.): The orderly display of things or people, waiting for their turn in the spotlight. (Line-up).
- Ajalur (verb.): To come to an end, as gently as a leaf settling onto the forest floor at the end of its descent. (Expire).
- Ajaoplumo (adj.): So unassuming, even a shrinking violet would say, "cheer up!". (Humble, modest).

- Ajaol (n.): The round thing that stores data, music, or just collects dust. (Disk).
- Aje (n.): The noble pursuit of turning soil and sweat into sustenance. (Agriculture).
- Ajeifir (verb.): To break through or violate, surpassing established limits or defenses. (Breach).
- Ajeme (adj.): Close enough that you might bump into it if you're not careful. (Near, nearby, close by, in the vicinity).
- Ajene (prep.): Ajene is for when something is right next to you, sharing space, whether it's a loyal friend or a trusty steed. (Beside).
- Ajenei (adv.): The place just within reach, but still far enough to require effort. (Near, nearby).
- Ajerar (verb.): To step into a new space as one crosses a threshold into a world unseen. (Enter).
- Ajerba (n.): The fragrant green sprig that elevates a dish from dull to divine. (Herb).
- Ajiacub (n.): The grand map of our world, showing where we are and where we'd rather be. (Geography).
- Ajiamo (adj.): Always in style, never out of fashion. (Cool, trendy).
- Ajiplema (adj.): Like a faithful dog, but with fewer fleas. (Loyal, steadfastly devoted).
- Ajil (n.): A representative piece of the whole, examined with care and curiosity. (Specimen).
- Ajile (prep.): Ajile covers everything beneath your feet, whether you're looking under the bed or exploring the depths of a dungeon. (Below, beneath, down, under).
- Ajilei (adv.): The gravitational pull's favorite direction, often visited by spirits and expectations. (Below, down, under).
- Ajilenta (adj.): Gravity's favorite direction. (Downward, towards the earth).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ajilentai (adv.): The less glamorous direction that nobody likes to follow, except gravity. (Downward).
- Ajior (verb.): To emit a loud, piercing cry, often in fear or excitement. (Scream).
- Ajoar (verb.): Releasing as rivers overflow, spilling secrets and stories. (Spill).
- Ajose (prep.): For those lofty heights and high aspirations, ajose describes everything on the upper side of life, like clouds and unreachable cookies. (Above, up).
- Ajosei (adv.): The place you look to for inspiration, birds, or falling anvils. (Above, up).
- Ajosi (n.): The highest point, where the view is best and the air is thinnest. (Top).
- Ajosime (adj.): The highest you can get without needing oxygen tanks. (Top, uppermost).
- Ajuer (verb.): To offer an amount in an auction or competition, staking your claim with confident currency. (Bid).
- Ajuir (verb.): To seize or hold firmly, clutching at truths or objects with determined fingers. (Grasp).
- Ajuni (n.): The phase of life where anything seems possible and wisdom is in short supply. (Youth).
- Ajuniel (n.): The small human full of boundless energy and endless questions. (Youngster).
- Ajuludli (n.): The last hurrah, where everything comes together or falls apart. (Final).
- Ajuludlime (adj.): The end of the road, where even the road gives up. (Final, last in line).
- Añacie (n.): The process of deciding who gets the biggest slice of the proverbial pie. (Allocation).

- Apaicer (verb.): Finding a hidden gem, discovering what was lost or concealed. (Locate).
- Apaime (adj.): Found its spot and isn't moving. (Located, situated).
- Apairen (n.): The exact spot where you are, or at least where you think you are. (Location).
- Apeer (verb.): To confront challenges head-on, grappling with problems with determined resolve. (Tackle).
- Apeip (n.): A positive turn of events, often attributed to luck, divine favor, or good karma. (Blessing).
- Aneir (verb.): To keep in reserve for future use, safeguarding resources. (Store).
- Apeme (adj.): As clean as a whistle that's never been blown. (Pure, untainted).
- Apiair (verb.): To float aimlessly, carried by currents with no fixed direction. (Drift).
- Apicrime (adj.): More about the guts than the glory. (Internal, inside).
- Apigleni (adv.): The state of being separated, often just when things were getting interesting. (Apart).
- Apitumo (adj.): The place where compasses and snow point to. (Northern, up north).
- Apilei (adv.): The time frame expected in the age of the internet, and often disappointed. (Instantly).
- Apior (verb.): To sample flavors with delight, experiencing the essence of culinary creations. (Taste).
- Apira (pron.): The additional one that arrives just when you thought you were done. (Another).
- apiro (pron.): The alternative choice, often the one that's overlooked until needed. (Other).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ajiroma (adj.): The different one, not to be confused with the usual suspect. (Other, not the same).
- Apiul (n.): A smart-sounding guess, awaiting experimental confirmation or a dignified demise. (Hypothesis).
- Ano (n.): A collection of 365 days, each unique and yet oddly repetitive. (Year).
- Anobleusur (verb.): To strike with force and precision, making impact felt far and wide. (Hit).
- Aponai (adv.): The level you descend to when you hear suspicious noises or the smell of coffee. (Downstairs).
- Aponamo (adj.): Below ground, where the mysterious creaks come from. (Downstairs, lower level).
- Añoru (n.): The emotional weather inside your head, capable of sudden and dramatic shifts. (Mood).
- Apul (n.): The elusive beast everyone's chasing, often found hiding in unexpected places. (Success).
- Apuli (adv.): The way things turn out when the stars align and you didn't mess up. (Successfully).
- Aſa (n.): The gender often praised for multitasking, empathy, and the occasional side-eye. (Female, girl, woman).
- Aſat (n.): The focused interest on something or someone, often fleeting in nature. (Attention).
- Aſatrus (n.): A female romantic partner, often doubling as best friend and partner-in-crime. (Girlfriend).
- Aſamo (adj.): The kind that asks for directions and finds new worlds. (Female, feminine).
- Aſaul (n.): A determined walk, often to protest, celebrate, or just get from a to b. (March).
- Aſebrolige (adj.): So green, it makes a rainforest look like a desert. (Sustainable, eco-friendly).

- Ajebrolir (verb.): To support or maintain over time, ensuring continuous existence. (Sustain).
- Asecriplan (n.): The ultimate scapegoat for all things naughty, with a flair for fiery dramatics. (Devil).
- Afeirajala (n.): The polite way of asking for something, ideally fulfilled. (Request).
- Afeluse (n.): The relationship between two variables, ideally meaningful. (Correlation).
- Aser (prep.): When you need to break free and step outside, aser is the escape route. (Out).
- Aserema (adj.): Beyond the indoors, where the wild things roam. (Outside, exterior).
- Aseri (adv.): The place where adventures happen and allergies thrive. (Out, outside).
- Aserija (prep.): In the vast lexicon of truel, "aserija" conjures images of the great expanses beyond one's cozy dwelling, where adventures await and the wind whispers secrets to those brave enough to listen. (Outside).
- Aseru (n.): The place beyond your door, filled with fresh air, sunshine, and sometimes rain. (Outside).
- Aserucla (n.): The armed conflict that brings out the best and worst in humanity. (War).
- Aseruclal (n.): The brave fighter who battles with honor, skill, and a touch of flair. (Warrior).
- Afí (n.): A large body of water perfect for swimming, fishing, or contemplating life. (Lake).
- Asipreber (verb.): To enclose gently and protectively, as a mother swaddles her newborn, or a gift is encased in shimmering paper, concealing its treasures within. (Wrap).
- Afiprosgrorime (adj.): The sort of chum who shares their last cookie. (Fellow, companionable).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Afíir (verb.): To reduce to small particles by crushing, often with a repetitive motion. (Grind).
- Afíoma (adj.): Like finding a twenty in your old jeans. (Favourable, beneficial).
- Afír (verb.): To present opportunities with open hands and a hopeful heart, like a fairy godmother bestowing wishes. (Offer).
- Afoar (verb.): To require payment or sacrifice, balancing desires against their price. (Cost).
- Afoi (adv.): The way things were, often idealized in memory. (Formerly).
- Afoloma (adj.): Navigates life by feel, not by sight. (Blind, sightless).
- Afú (n.): The loud vocalization used to express joy, anger, or call someone from afar. (Shout).
- Afuage (adj.): Can move mountains with a mere suggestion. (Influential, powerfully persuasive).
- Afuante (n.): The subtle art of swaying others to see things your way, preferably without them noticing. (Influence).
- Afuar (verb.): To affect or sway, shaping outcomes through subtle yet powerful persuasion. (Influence).
- Afucraroha (n.): The urgent situation that demands immediate action and often induces mild panic. (Emergency).
- Afuor (verb.): To consist of various parts, creating a whole from a collection of diverse elements. (Comprise).
- Afuur (verb.): To plan and create, infusing structures with aesthetic and functional brilliance. (Design).
- Afuurol (n.): The creative mind behind things that look fabulous or utterly bewildering. (Designer).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

B

- Ba (adj.): As fit as a fiddle that's been tuned and polished. (Well, in good health).
- Bacroame (adj.): Just you, yourself, and a good book. (Alone, solitary).
- Bacroani (adv.): The state of solitude that's either peaceful or lonely, depending on the moment. (Alone).
- Badref (n.): The sudden, often loud, failure or collision, typically followed by muttered curses. (Crash).
- Bapa (n. / exclam.): The universal greeting that opens doors and conversations, perfect for elevators. (Hello).
- Bapa nada (n. / exclam.): The warm invitation to come in, make yourself comfortable, and stay a while. (Welcome).
- Bapanadama (adj.): Greeted like an old friend who always brings the best stories. (Welcome, warmly received).
- Bai (adv.): The adverb indicating that something is done competently, or at least not disastrously. (Well).
- Bameicume (n.): The stuff that makes up the universe, as well as the things that trouble us. (Matter).
- Bameicumer (verb.): To be of significance, like the keystone in an arch, without which the structure would fail. (Matter).
- Baleen (n.): The physical items that clutter our lives, bringing joy or just taking up space. (Goods).
- Baloinesu (n.): The portable computer that's both a tool for work and a procrastination device. (Laptop).
- Bara (prep.): Bara is the go-to for purposes and gifts alike, marking intent and reason with flair. (For).

- Barime (adj.): So intricate, it could make a spider's web jealous. (Elaborate, richly detailed).
- Baur (verb.): To observe and record, like a scribe meticulously documents events, preserving them for posterity. (Note).
- Beamo (adj. / n.): Polished to the point of perfection, but still prone to chip. (Fine, of high quality).
- Bear (verb.): To penalize with a monetary charge, enforcing rules through payment. (Fine).
- Bebo (n.): The one with the exclusive knowledge, typically whispered behind closed doors. (Insider).
- Bedru (n.): When winter starts quietly logging off, allowing dribbles of warmth to patch through the cold with software updates for spring. (December).
- Beemara (n.): The secret journal where thoughts, dreams, and the occasional embarrassing moment are penned. (Diary).
- Beepu (n.): The woolly creature known for its flock mentality and ability to count itself to sleep. (Sheep).
- Bevlovma (adj.): Happier than a cat in a sunbeam. (Satisfied, contentedly happy).
- Bevlovnace (n.): The sweet feeling of contentment that follows a job well done or a well-made sandwich. (Satisfaction).
- Beteor (verb.): To cut or grip with teeth, as predators grasp their prey. (Bite).
- Beisilen (n.): The protective cushion between you and the harsh realities of life, or just slow internet speeds. (Buffer).
- Beirime (adj.): So distasteful, even sour milk looks appealing. (Unpleasant, disagreeably nasty).
- Bender (verb.): To curve or flex, changing shape from straight to angled. (Bend).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Belo (n.): The law enforcer keeping peace, order, and an eye on the donut shop. (Cop).
- Belobi (adv.): The usual way things happen, which is surprisingly unpredictable. (Typically).
- Beo (n.): The serene inlet of water, perfect for daydreams and docked boats. (Bay).
- Beur (verb.): Governing with authority, setting laws and standards. (Rule).
- Beuhederal (n.): The round dish that holds your breakfast cereal and sometimes your life savings in coins. (Bowl).
- Bianu (n.): The essential paper and metal that fuels economies and empty pockets alike. (Money).
- Bibluruje (n.): The act of making things clean, whether it's your clothes or your sins. (Wash).
- Bibrime (adj.): So incredible, you might need a moment to pick your jaw off the floor. (Astonishing, jaw-droppingly amazing).
- Bienta (n.): The grand reveal from behind the curtain, often accompanied by a dramatic flourish. (Emergence).
- Bier (verb.): To come into view or rise from concealment, becoming visible or known. (Emerge).
- Bipiresoma (adj.): So rare, it makes a unicorn look common. (Unique, one of a kind).
- Bil (n.): The competitive offer that says, "i want this, but not at any cost. (Bid).
- Bin (prep.): Bin is for everything perched and placed, keeping things on the surface and in play. (On).
- Bini (adv.): The position of being atop something, or the state of being operational. (On).
- Binioja (n.): The span between two points, whether it's an emotional spectrum or the distance a cowboy roams. (Range).

- Bilo (adv.): The way something is done in a grand scale, but not always comprehensively. (Largely).
- Bioru (n.): The economic downturn that makes everyone tighten their belts and reconsider their spending habits. (Recession).
- Biojflet (n.): The wooden box where you store things, or the high-powered advisors you sometimes wish you could. (Cabinet).
- Bira (prep.): Whether you're passing by or standing by, bira marks the proximity with a casual nod. (By).
- Birai (adv.): The preposition indicating proximity or the method, rarely content with just one meaning. (By).
- Biripaprime (adj.): So quirky, it could make normality blush. (Peculiar, strangely odd).
- Bisumar (verb.): To exchange money for goods or services, fulfilling obligations with currency. (Pay).
- Blablar (verb.): To engage in conversation, exchanging thoughts and ideas through spoken words. (Talk).
- Blabol (n.): The grand celebration filled with music, food, and the promise of good times. (Festival).
- Blaco (n.): The muscular organ that helps you taste, talk, and occasionally trip over words. (Tongue).
- Blafmo (n.): A fleeting view that leaves you wanting more, like the plot twist in a season finale. (Glimpse).
- Blaeg (n.): The sweet freedom of self-governance and the weight of responsibility it brings. (Autonomy).
- Blaguci (adv.): The word that casts doubt on everything that follows. (Supposedly).
- Blapric (n.): A fancy piece of paper that says, “you did the thing!”. (Certificate).
- Blavrat (n.): The movement forward, upwards, or occasionally into something squishy. (Step).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Blatu (n.): The brave act of doing something alone, whether it's performing or adventuring. (Solo).
- Blatumo (adj.): Just you and your shadow, if it feels like showing up. (Solo, alone).
- Blaimo (n.): The surprising event that defies logic and makes you believe in magic, if only for a moment. (Miracle).
- Blair (verb.): To communicate with a deity or spirit, seeking guidance or expressing devotion. (Pray).
- Blairel (n.): A heartfelt wish whispered into the universe, hoping someone up there is listening. (Prayer).
- Blam (n.): A patch of land with invisible lines and people who insist their way of life is the best. (Country).
- Blamar (verb.): To take a small part for testing or tasting, examining a piece to understand the whole. (Sample).
- Blamgrufohema (adj.): At the top, where even the clouds look up. (Supreme, highest rank).
- Blamup (n.): An extraordinary event that makes you question reality or at least reach for your phone to capture it. (Phenomenon).
- Blanacepu (n.): A soft surface to rest on, whether you're a cat, a writer, or a tired traveler. (Pad).
- Blanarira (n.): The universally adored frozen treat that solves problems, at least temporarily. (Ice cream).
- Blanjunir (verb.): To begin with purposeful action, setting events into motion with a deliberate start. (Initiate).
- Blaser (verb.): To interlace threads to form fabric, or to create complex patterns or narratives. (Weave).
- Blalaru (n.): The exchange of ideas and thoughts, engaging and enriching. (Conversation).
- Blalilaami (adv.): The way to do things when you want full credit, or blame. (Solely).

- Blar (verb.): Articulating thoughts as a poet chooses words, each a brushstroke of meaning. (Speak/Say).
- Blarie (n.): The power to tell people what to do, ideally without causing a mutiny. (Authority).
- Blarol (n.): The person who talks at you for a living, or the box that blasts your favorite tunes. (Speaker).
- Blarolooma (adj.): So at ease, it's like floating on a cloud of contentment. (Relieved, stress-free).
- Blaru (n.): A tiny piece of a whole, often found underfoot at the worst possible moment. (Fragment).
- Blauco (n.): A formal request for your presence, usually accompanied by the hope you'll rsvp. (Invitation).
- Blauglin (n.): A network of lines or dots that keeps things orderly, or at least pretends to. (Grid).
- Blaur (verb.): To request someone's presence, asking to join or participate. (Invite).
- Blaure (n.): The black rock that fuels fires, industry, and the occasional christmas stocking disappointment. (Coal).
- Bledosuvlam (n.): The natural knack for doing something really well, usually without breaking a sweat. (Talent).
- Blef (n.): The golden ticket to places or information that were previously out of reach. (Access).
- Blepobrira (n.): The comforting assurance that you're right, even when the universe loves a plot twist. (Certainty).
- Bletebeem (n.): The fiery emotion that burns hot and fast, often leaving regret in its wake. (Anger).
- Bletsasiti (n.): A significant period marked by events, styles, and questionable fashion choices. (Era).
- Blem (n.): The general perspective on life, weather, or stock market trends. (Outlook).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Blemaluice (n.): The act of responding, hopefully with wit or at least good grammar. (Reply).
- Blemaluir (verb.): To respond to a question or statement, providing an answer. (Reply).
- Blenafanor (verb.): To move smoothly along a surface, gliding with effortless ease. (Slide).
- Blenar (verb.): To happen or take place, unfolding in time. (Occur).
- Blelace (n.): The slight twist on the usual, making life a tad more interesting. (Variation).
- Blelema (adj.): A delightful mix, like a box of chocolates but with fewer calories. (Varied, diverse).
- Blelonbo (n.): The annoying hiccup in your plans that requires brains, patience, or a lot of coffee to solve. (Problem).
- Blelouhi (n.): The handheld device that goes bang and should always be treated with respect and caution. (Firearm).
- Blelur (verb.): To make flat or even, like a builder smoothing cement, erasing bumps and ridges to create a uniform surface. (Level).
- Blerior (verb.): Battling as waves against a steadfast cliff, resilient and relentless. (Struggle).
- Bleutupu (n.): The route that leads you from here to there, hopefully without too many detours. (Pathway).
- Blefi (adv.): The price that everyone loves, despite the hidden costs. (Free).
- Blefidile (n.): The much-needed break from routine, ideally spent somewhere sunny or cozy. (Holiday).
- Blefime (adj.): No strings attached, just like your neighbor's kite that flew away. (Free, unbound).
- Blefimei (adv.): The manner of doing something without constraints, usually followed by regret. (Freely).

- Blefinte (n.): The exhilarating ability to do what you want, often tempered by a healthy dose of responsibility. (Freedom).
- Blic (n.): The unique twist in your speech that hints at your origins or makes you sound posh. (Accent).
- Blifeid (n.): The speed or frequency at which things happen, often faster than you'd like. (Rate).
- Blifere (n.): The initial gap or opportunity that beckons you to take the first step. (Opening).
- Bligmu (n.): The celestial night light that inspires poets, werewolves, and romantics alike. (Moon).
- Blipef (n.): The cunning creature at the top of the food chain, always on the lookout for lunch. (Predator).
- Bliprol (n.): The art of making people laugh, preferably with you rather than at you. (Comedy).
- Blimominte (n.): A swift look that conveys curiosity, interest, or mild panic. (Glance).
- Blimomir (verb.): To take a quick, fleeting look, catching details like a sparrow snatching crumbs. (Glance).
- Blinojoor (verb.): To paint vivid pictures with words or brushstrokes, bringing fantastical worlds to life. (Depict).
- Blis (n.): The visual elements that make things look cool, whether in games or presentations. (Graphics).
- Blila (n.): The multiple strata of stuff, from cake to geological formations. (Layer).
- Blilosu (n.): The catchy phrase that sticks in your head, whether you like it or not. (Slogan).
- Bliluco (n.): The professional chat that may or may not solve your problems but definitely adds to your bill. (Consultation).
- Blilur (verb.): To seek advice or information, discussing to gain insight. (Consult).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Blilurol (n.): The expert you hire to tell you what you already suspected, but with more authority. (Consultant).
- Blobostrat (n.): The background information that makes the difference between a joke and a faux pas. (Context).
- Bloboru (n.): The mentor who pushes you to your limits, then asks for one more lap. (Coach).
- Blobuso (n.): The device that keeps intruders out and your secrets in. (Lock).
- Blocime (adj.): When you'd rather the earth swallow you whole than face the crowd. (Ashamed, deeply embarrassed).
- Blodace (n.): The dark art of bending rules and ethics for personal gain, often at the expense of many. (Corruption).
- Blodoma (adj.): So ethically rotten, even a worm wouldn't touch it. (Corrupt, morally decayed).
- Blomo (adj.): More about mouthwork than paperwork. (Oral, spoken aloud).
- Blomuji (n.): The added stress on a word or idea to make sure you really get the point. (Emphasis).
- Blosace (n.): The formal request or the software tool, both requiring patience to get right. (Application).
- Blosar (verb.): To put into practical use, like a wizard wielding spells. (Apply).
- Blosarel (n.): The hopeful soul who submits the form and crosses their fingers for good news. (Applicant).
- Blosbramo (n.): The trick of the eye that makes you question reality or at least your sobriety. (Illusion).
- Blosbrema (adj.): As expansive as the horizon on a clear day. (Broad, wide-ranging).
- Blolam (n.): A distinct part of the whole, like an orange wedge or a tv show episode. (Segment).

- Bloleha (n.): The elected official who debates laws, hopefully with more wisdom than drama. (Senator).
- Blolipi (n.): The herd of bovines that moo, graze, and occasionally become hamburgers. (Cattle).
- Blolomi (adv.): The state of doing something with joy, often fleeting. (Happily).
- Blorema (adj.): Words flying through the air, unburdened by ink and paper. (Spoken, verbally expressed).
- Blori (n.): The four-wheeled machine that gets you from point a to b, sometimes with a few detours. (Auto).
- Bloroma (adj.): So little, it makes a skeleton look over-dressed. (Minimal, bare-bones).
- Blororus (n.): The three-dimensional art form that makes you ponder its meaning or just its price tag. (Sculpture).
- Blubeca (n.): The forecast of future events or the act of displaying your powerpoint slides. (Projection).
- Bluber (verb.): To extend outward, like a beam of light piercing darkness. (Project).
- Bluev (n.): The scattered remnants of something that once was whole, now just a mess. (Debris).
- Bluesei (adv.): The term for what mostly prevails, leaving a bit of room for exceptions. (Predominantly).
- Blutujace (n.): The tantalizing potential for something new, exciting, or disastrously different. (Possibility).
- Blum (n.): The radiant person in white, at the center of a whirlwind day of vows and cake. (Bride).
- Blunema (adj.): Keeps going and going, like a plot twist that never ends. (Ongoing, continuously happening).
- Bluniv (n.): The box that shows you endless stories, news, and commercials for things you didn't know you needed. (TV).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Blunir (verb.): To supply with energy or sustenance, feeding fires or ambitions alike. (Fuel).
- Blunosbamo (adj.): So enticing, it might just have a gravitational pull. (Appealing, attractively inviting).
- Blul (n.): The forceful behavior that says, “get out of my way,” often loudly and rudely. (Aggression).
- Blulimen (n.): The sharp end of a pencil, or the main idea you’re trying to convey. (Point).
- Blulud (n.): The cherished right to do as you please, as long as you don’t infringe on others’ liberty. (Liberty).
- Blurar (verb.): To surround entirely, embracing all within a comprehensive scope. (Encompass).
- Blurul (n.): The looming date that turns procrastination into frantic productivity. (Deadline).
- Bluufore (n.): The immersive activity that transports you to other worlds, one level at a time. (Gaming).
- Bo (pron. / exclam.): The definitive denial that puts an end to possibilities, at least for now. (No).
- Boabor (verb.): To bring activities to a grinding halt, silencing the chaos with a final full stop. (Cease).
- Boar (verb.): To complete or enhance, adding elements that bring out the best. (Complement).
- Boboma (adj.): The color that’s as majestic as a crown but way easier to wear. (Purple, royally tinted).
- Bodlelor (verb.): To fill to the brim, packing spaces with items until they can hold no more. (Stuff).
- Bofiam (adj.): More spread out than a procrastinator’s to-do list. (Scattered, haphazardly spread).
- Bofian (n.): The art of persuasive speaking, often making the simple sound profound. (Rhetoric).

- Boefuhema (adj.): Came before, like the opening act at a rock concert. (Prior, earlier in time).
- Boglavesunto (n.): The admirable ability to put up with things that drive others up the wall. (Tolerance).
- Boglavesur (verb.): To endure or accept without interference, allowing despite dislike. (Tolerate).
- Bogramo (adj.): Redder than a tomato in a communist manifesto. (Communist, collectively owned).
- Bogrilev (n.): The unfortunate act of ignoring something until it becomes a problem too big to ignore. (Neglect).
- Boplu (n.): The state of matter that flows freely, or how your schedule feels on a busy day. (Fluid).
- Bovoma (adj.): Hits the nail so squarely, even the nail applauds. (Accurate, precisely correct).
- Bongo (adj. / n.): As mistaken as a fish on a bicycle. (Wrong, incorrect).
- Bongoi (adv.): The direction you turn when your gps is out to get you. (Wrong).
- Bol (n.): The colorful bloom that brightens gardens and hearts alike. (Flower).
- Bolifar (verb.): To formally put an end to, eliminating laws or practices. (Abolish).
- Bolori (n.): The creative expression that makes life richer, more colorful, and occasionally confusing. (Art).
- Bolorico (n.): The tangible piece of creativity that makes you stop and think, or just stop. (Artwork).
- Bolorime (adj.): So expressive, even a blank canvas feels inspired. (Artistic, creatively inclined).
- Boloril (n.): The individual who sees the world differently and makes you see it that way too. (Artist).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Booca (n.): The public display of talent, history, or just a bunch of curious objects. (Exhibition).
- Boor (verb.): To display or present publicly, showcasing items or work. (Exhibit).
- Borugle (n.): The person who's involuntarily staying at a government facility with bars on the windows. (Prisoner).
- Boubla (n.): The thing you do, whether on stage or in life, that leaves an impression. (Act).
- Boubal (n.): The chameleon who becomes someone else for your entertainment. (Actor).
- Bouco (n.): The agreement that says, "i'll scratch your back if you scratch mine. (Deal).
- Bouv (n.): The short trip to see someone or somewhere, often involving awkward small talk. (Visit).
- Bouvol (n.): The guest who arrives, usually right when you're not quite ready. (Visitor).
- Bour (verb.): To negotiate the twists and turns of life with the deftness of a card shark, always one step ahead. (Deal).
- Bourol (n.): The person who provides the goods, whether they're cards, cars, or contraband. (Dealer).
- Braapema (adj.): Big enough to make headlines, not just the fine print. (Major, significantly important).
- Braapel (n.): The big cheese in charge, or the important subject you pretend to love in college. (Major).
- Bradohauco (n.): The industry of showing visitors the best bits of a place while hiding the less glamorous parts. (Tourism).
- Bradohaur (verb.): To journey through places of interest, exploring new sights with inquisitive enthusiasm. (Tour).
- Bradohaurol (n.): The wide-eyed traveler who often stands out and asks for directions. (Tourist).

- Braf (n.): The relaxing part of the day when you unwind and ponder tomorrow's to-do list. (Evening).
- Brafmoi (adv.): The word that suggests something is true, based on dubious sources. (Apparently).
- Brag (n.): The mutual swap of goods, services, or ideas, hopefully benefiting both parties. (Exchange).
- Braganto (n.): The elegant ride from yesteryears, or the wobbly grocery cart of today. (Carriage).
- Bragar (verb.): To transport with care or effort, bearing burdens like a seasoned pack mule with a sense of duty. (Carry).
- Brapeor (verb.): To long for with fervent yearning, fueling dreams with the fire of ambition. (Desire).
- Brapuema (adj.): So incredible, you might need a moment to catch your breath. (Amazing, astonishingly great).
- Bravepmeer (verb.): To demonstrate or exemplify with precision, setting a standard that others might aspire to. (Model).
- Bratone (n.): The reddish-brown metal that's great for pennies and thievery. (Copper).
- Brama (adj.): So astonishing, it could make a rock star blush. (Awesome, incredibly impressive).
- Bramboma (adj.): As simple as a monk's wardrobe but just as profound. (Plain, unadorned).
- Bramo (adj.): So alone, even shadows seem like good company. (Lonely, solitary).
- Bramumo (adj.): On the edge of significance, like the last chip in the bag. (Marginal, barely noticeable).
- Bran (n.): The brief slice of time where everything changes or nothing happens. (Moment).
- Branemclai (adv.): The term for absolute certainty, often used right before a mistake. (Undoubtedly).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Bras (n.): The calm grace with which you handle life's slings and arrows, or at least try to. (Dignity).
- Brase (n.): The acronym for a serious disease that changed the world's approach to health and compassion. (AIDS).
- Brasvrabsa (n.): The helpful or not-so-helpful responses that tell you how you're doing. (Feedback).
- Braladice (n.): The generous act of giving, whether it's money, time, or old clothes. (Donation).
- Braladir (verb.): To give freely, offering resources with a heart full of generosity. (Donate).
- Bralema (adj.): Thought out with more precision than a swiss watch. (Deliberate, carefully planned).
- Braloſe (n.): The large property that's either a dream home or a maintenance nightmare. (Estate).
- Brar (verb.): To experience or endure a process, like a caterpillar in metamorphosis. (Undergo).
- Braroscri (n.): The bundle of items or group of animals traveling together, for better or worse. (Pack).
- Braunir (verb.): To increase or raise, giving a powerful lift to momentum or energy. (Boost).
- Breaja (n.): The formal attire that makes you look important and feel uncomfortable. (Suit, uniform).
- Breblija (n.): The structure you live in, full of memories, dust bunnies, and the occasional creak. (House).
- Breblijal (n.): The collective group living under one roof, sharing chores, meals, and sometimes remote controls. (Household).
- Breblo (n.): The group of people who drive you mad and love you unconditionally. (Family).
- Brebloma (adj.): Bound by blood or by the annual holiday dinner debate. (Family, kin-related).

- Brebrosi (adv.): The appearance of something that may or may not be true. (Seemingly).
- Bredihetli (n.): The person who tells you what to do and signs your paycheck, hopefully with a smile. (Boss).
- Bredsecrai (adv.): The way things are done when you've finally learned from past mistakes. (Differently).
- Bredor (verb.): To expand in breadth or scope, making spaces larger and opportunities greater. (Widen).
- Brefesei (adv.): The speed at which everything moves in the digital age, except wi-fi. (Rapidly).
- Brefsu (n.): The financial reward for your hard work, often spent before it hits your account. (Pay).
- Brefsuco (n.): The given money in exchange for goods, services, or to make parking tickets go away. (Payment).
- Breemara (n.): The personal log where you pen down thoughts, dreams, and doodles. (Journal).
- Breen (n.): The inner strength to face your fears and say, “not today!”. (Courage).
- Bregar (verb.): To be given or presented with, accepting graciously. (Receive).
- Bregardar (verb.): Observing with intensity as an owl under moonlight. (Watch).
- Bregarel (n.): The person at the other end of your gift, call, or frustration. (Receiver).
- Breiser (verb.): To smooth fabrics with heat, removing wrinkles and creases. (Iron).
- Brematur (verb.): To narrate events with vivid detail, reliving moments through the art of storytelling. (Recount).
- Bremdear (verb.): To pass or deliver directly, as a relay racer passes a baton, the transfer crucial for the race's continuation. (Hand).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Bremflagil (n.): The colorful explosion in the sky that makes you gasp and cover your ears. (Firework).
- Bremtre (n.): The long-term pattern of weather that you blame for your bad hair days. (Climate).
- Brese (n.): The act of choosing, plucking, or selecting, often with great deliberation. (Pick).
- Bresifi (n.): The internal storm that drives your actions and colors your world. (Emotion).
- Bresifisme (adj.): So full of feeling, it could make a stone statue cry. (Emotional, deeply felt).
- Breler (verb.): To seize suddenly and firmly, capturing with a swift movement. (Grab).
- Brelur (verb.): To remove impurities, passing through a medium to clean. (Filter).
- Breluril (n.): The device or app that sifts out the impurities or adds a flattering glow. (Filter).
- Brer (verb.): To reach the highest point or surpass others, standing proudly at the peak of achievement. (Top).
- Breroma (adj.): So parched, even a cactus would ask for water. (Dry, devoid of moisture).
- Brerutloma (adj.): More dangerous than juggling chainsaws blindfolded. (Lethal, deadly).
- Bribmi (adj.): As even as a pancake on a sunday morning. (Flat, level).
- Bricime (adj.): So lovely, you might just skip through the day. (Wonderful, delightfully great).
- Briciril (n.): The feeling of amazement that reminds you the world is full of surprises. (Wonder).
- Briehi (n.): The rhythmic motion of a brush or swim, or the medical event you hope to avoid. (Stroke).

- Brige (n.): The official record of your words or grades, useful for proving you did, in fact, attend class. (Transcript).
- Britono (n.): The fallen tree that's perfect for sitting on or jotting down notes about. (Log).
- Briime (adj.): Happening where the wild things are. (Outdoor, open-air).
- Brime (adj.): So reflective, it could double as a mirror. (Shiny, gleaming).
- Brimivriir (verb.): To follow the outline or path of, tracking movements or lines with precision. (Trace).
- Brimir (verb.): To move from one place to another, journeying with purpose and direction. (Go).
- Brimopo (n.): The blazing ball of gas that warms your days and burns your skin if you're not careful. (Sun).
- Brisis (n.): The crunchy snack that's either a health food or an allergy waiting to happen. (Nut).
- Brisulu (n.): The end result of manufacturing, marketing, and hoping someone buys it. (Product).
- Brilenum (n.): The percussive instrument that's both a heartbeat and a source of neighborly complaints. (Drum).
- Brilime (adj.): So appreciative, it could warm even the coldest heart. (Grateful, deeply thankful).
- Brirala (n.): The soft part of your face that's perfect for pinching or blushing. (Cheek).
- Brobrumo (adj.): So good, it might just be the stuff of legends. (Fantastic, extraordinarily good).
- Brobuca (n.): The important paper that proves you did the thing, full of signatures, and sometimes coffee stains. (Document, documentation).
- Brobumar (verb.): To meticulously record every detail, ensuring that history will remember, even if it prefers not to. (Document).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Brobumaren (n.): The factual film that educates, entertains, and occasionally puts you to sleep. (Documentary).
- Brodeneca (n.): The precise act of determining size, length, or the scope of your ambitions. (Measurement).
- Brodenenta (n.): The action of quantifying things to make sure they fit, work, or impress. (Measure).
- Brodener (verb.): Quantifying as a mapmaker charts the earth, distances defined. (Measure).
- Brogaju (n.): The fiery drive that fuels your pursuits and sometimes singes your eyebrows. (Passion).
- Brogajumo (adj.): So fiery, it could light a thousand candles with one look. (Passionate, deeply enthusiastic).
- Brovrolin (n.): The tragic decision to end one's life, leaving a wake of sorrow and questions. (Suicide).
- Brotrafuhai (adv.): The final word on a matter, at least until someone changes their mind. (Ultimately).
- Broi (adv.): The general way of looking at things, missing all the pesky details. (Broadly).
- Brompri (n.): The person renting your place who hopefully pays on time and doesn't throw wild parties. (Tenant).
- Brone (prep.): Brone is for those journeys where companionship and side-by-side progress are key, even if it's just walking the dog. (Along).
- Bronei (adv.): The direction you go when following a path, often with company. (Along).
- Bronesi (prep.): For that close proximity with a dash of camaraderie, bronesi is your word for buddies sticking together. (Alongside).
- Brosbru (n.): The small idea that plants itself in your mind and refuses to leave. (Notion).
- Broscro (n.): The catastrophic event that throws life into chaos and makes for great stories later. (Disaster).

- Brose (prep.): The perfect word for spanning great distances, be it over land, sea, or just the neighbor's garden. (Across).
- Brosei (adv.): The way to get from one side to the other, ideally without falling in. (Across).
- Broseseca (n.): The exchange of information, often muddled by misunderstandings and emojis. (Communication).
- Broseser (verb.): To convey information or express thoughts, sharing messages through various means. (Communicate).
- Brosvos (prep.): For everything lurking or lingering at your back, whether it's a friend, a foe, or last night's dinner. (Behind).
- Brosvosi (adv.): The place where lost items and unfinished tasks reside. (Behind).
- Brolinte (n.): The ongoing effort to keep things running smoothly, from machines to relationships. (Maintenance).
- Brolir (verb.): Keeping in good condition, ensuring everything runs smoothly and efficiently. (Maintain).
- Brorobevir (verb.): To block passage as gates hold back the flood. (Bar).
- Brororat (n.): The joyful moment when you find something new, exciting, or just under the couch. (Discovery).
- Broumo (adj.): Clearer than a politician's promises are not. (Transparent, see-through).
- Brounto (n.): The clear visibility into actions or processes, reducing the likelihood of sneaky behavior. (Transparency).
- Brose (prep.): When things stretch into the mysterious yonder, broze is your gateway to the great beyond, be it philosophical or geographical. (Beyond, off).
- Brosei (adv.): The place just past your current limits, where adventure waits. (Beyond, off).
- Bruasvruice (n.): The organized effort to achieve a goal, often involving precision and teamwork. (Operation).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

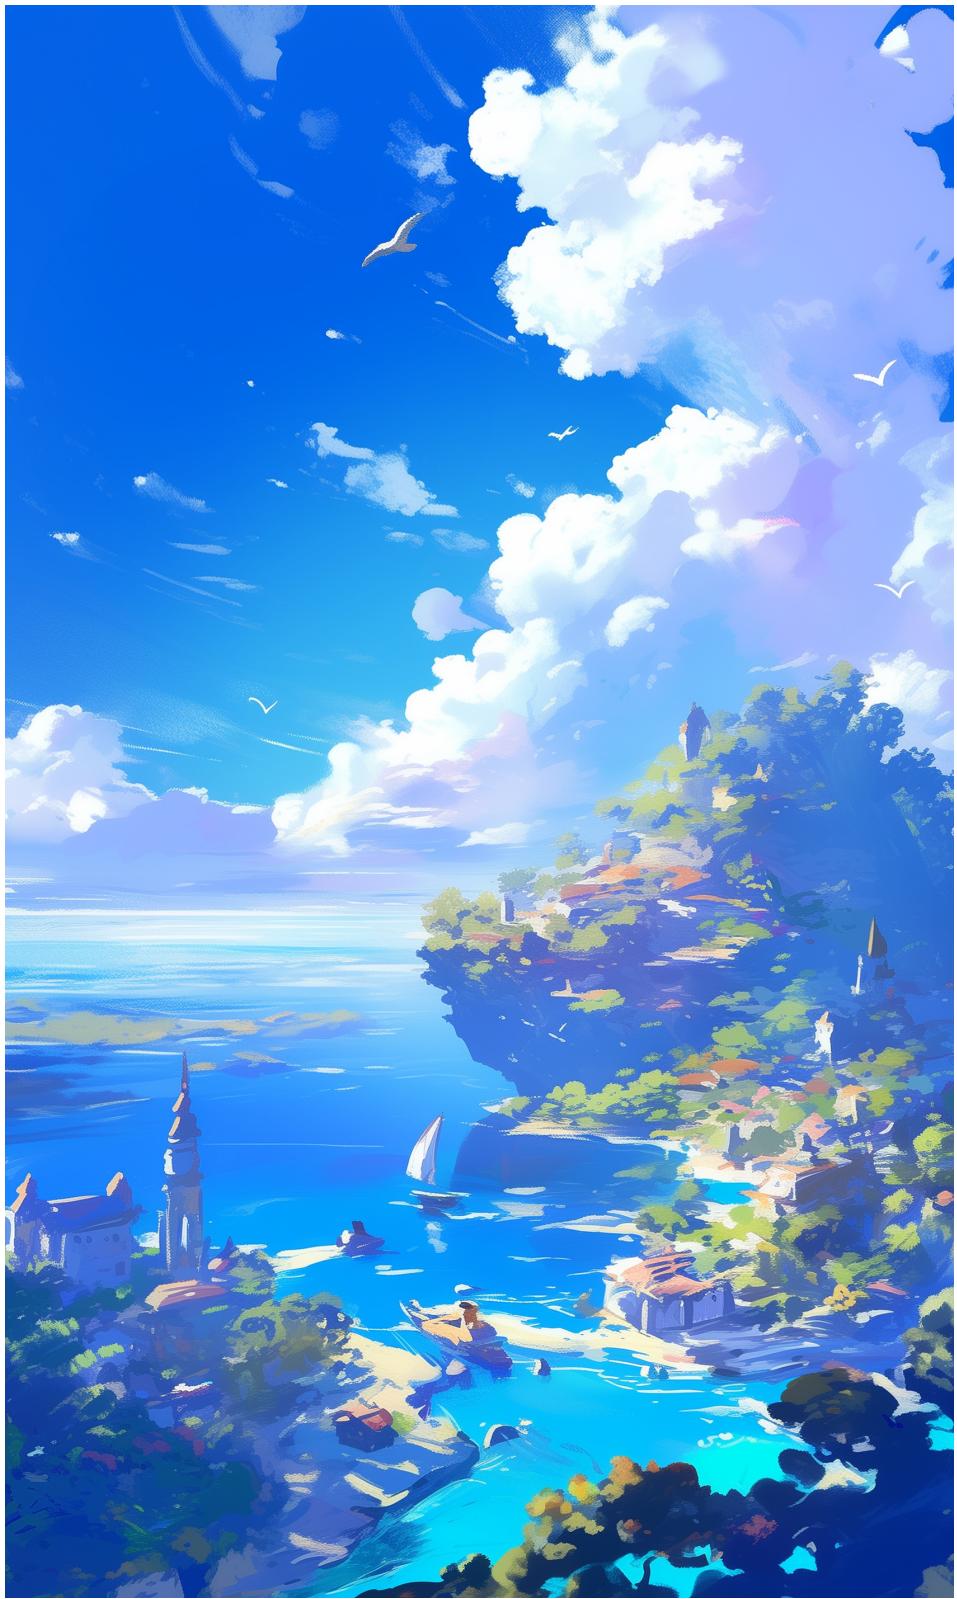

- Bruasvruir (verb.): To control the function of a machine or system, ensuring it runs smoothly. (Operate).
- Bruasvruirel (n.): The skilled person behind the controls, making sure things go as planned. (Operator).
- Brubar (verb.): To cause inconvenience or annoyance, stirring up minor troubles. (Bother).
- Brufemboime (adj.): So out of it, even a marching band couldn't wake you. (Asleep, in dreamland).
- Bruglano (n.): The royal male who's just one castle away from being king. (Prince).
- Brupadame (adj.): So tranquil, even storms tiptoe around it. (Peaceful, serenely calm).
- Brupi (adv.): The way things were before everything changed, sometimes for the better. (Previously).
- Brute (n.): The ability to see what's ahead, whether it's with your eyes or your imagination. (Vision).
- Brutiru (n.): The group of people who share your locale, interests, or both, for better or worse. (Community).
- Brutroguri (adv.): The way to describe something that didn't go as planned, often with a sigh. (Sadly).
- Bruindriser (verb.): To assign fault or responsibility, pointing fingers with righteous indignation. (Blame).
- Bruis (n.): The microscopic life forms that can be either helpful friends or harmful foes. (Bacteria).
- Brumbiole (n.): The stuff on your head that you style, cut, and occasionally curse. (Hair).
- Brumime (adj.): As impartial as a referee at a children's soccer game. (Neutral, unbiased).
- Brumur (verb.): Attacking suddenly as a hawk swoops on unsuspecting prey. (Raid).

- Brunva (n.): The rhythmic beat of your heart, reminding you you're alive and occasionally very nervous. (Pulse).
- Brulumo (adj.): So definite, it leaves no room for doubt or dessert. (Absolute, completely certain).
- Brulunto (n.): The state of having far too little of the stuff that makes life comfortable. (Poverty).
- Brur (verb.): To forgive or pardon, overlooking faults with gracious leniency. (Excuse).
- Bruriji (n.): The process of making things warm and toasty, from rooms to leftovers. (Heating).
- Brurucejo (n.): The painful experience of not winning, which builds character, allegedly. (Defeat).
- Buan (n.): The structure that gets you over the water, gap, or awkward conversation. (Bridge).
- Buar (verb.): To justify or guarantee, backing claims with the authority of an ancient oracle. (Warrant).
- Buarol (n.): The official paper that says, "we need to search your stuff, legally. (Warrant).
- Buba (n.): A month that could be sponsored by the color white, if white weren't too busy trying to cover up its lack of hue with sparkly crystal designs. (November).
- Bubo (n.): The color that can't make up its mind between black and white, but still insists on looking sophisticated. (Gray).
- Buboma (adj.): Somewhere between white and black, but not quite sure which. (Gray).
- Bud (pron.): The duo that insists on sticking together, even when one would suffice. (Both).
- Buedim (n.): The group of people watching, listening, and hopefully applauding your performance. (Audience).
- Bugear (verb.): To lead or guide, giving clear instructions. (Direct).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Bugearol (n.): The person in charge who calls the shots, whether in film, business, or traffic. (Director).
- Buprime (adj.): Sticking with you longer than your favorite pair of shoes. (Lifelong, enduring through life).
- Bundile (n.): The day that's neither the start nor the middle but somehow still feels like a slog. (Tuesday).
- Bunelega (n.): The biological function that's both a serious matter and a frequent topic of giggles. (Sex).
- Bunelema (adj.): So hot, it could melt ice cream in winter. (Sexual, sexy).
- Bunelerija (n.): The aspect of identity encompassing whom you're attracted to and how you express it. (Sexuality).
- Bungo (pron.): The twin version of something, often promising twice the fun or trouble. (Double).
- Buni (n.): The space where art is displayed, admired, and occasionally misunderstood. (Gallery).
- Bunini (adv.): The position right after first, often the one you remember just as well. (Second).
- Bunse (n.): An extra packet of time, tacked onto the end of the year like a secret epilogue or a bonus track, meant for reflection, relaxation, and perhaps deciding on next year's resolutions. (March).
- Bunsime (adj.): Not the main event, but still worth staying in your seat. (Secondary, less important).
- Busen (n. / pron.): The fifty percent that's not quite whole but still significant. (Half).
- Buseni (adv.): The portion that's less than whole but more than nothing. (Half).
- Bulu (n.): The collection of things that belong together, like tools, actors, or lego pieces. (Set).
- Buluor (verb.): To fill with intense fear, causing someone to feel extreme anxiety or dread. (Terrify).

- Buluoral (n.): The intense fear that makes you run, hide, or scream, often all at once. (Terror).
- Buroer (verb.): To shed tears, expressing sorrow or joy with heartfelt release. (Cry).
- Burum (n.): The genre of music that's loud, rebellious, and best enjoyed with headbanging. (Rock).
- Burusija (n.): The colorful liquid that transforms walls, canvases, and sometimes clothing. (Paint).
- Burusuco (n.): The artistic creation that adorns walls and sparks conversations about its meaning. (Painting).
- Burusucol (n.): The artist who brings color to life, one brushstroke at a time. (Painter).
- Burufur (verb.): To splash colors onto canvas, turning blank spaces into vibrant stories. (Paint).
- Buup (n.): The political system where everyone gets a say, ideally leading to fair outcomes. (Democracy).
- Buupamo (adj.): Where everyone has a say, even the chatty neighbor. (Democratic, majority-ruled).
- Buji (n.): The time of year when even the clock wants to hit snooze, preferring to curl up under a thick blanket of snow. (October).

C

- Caar (verb.): Igniting suddenly as flint strikes steel, a burst of light in darkness. (Spark).
- Caeru (n.): The active pursuit of something elusive, be it game, bargains, or lost keys. (Hunt).
- Catema (adj.): So tipsy, even the floor seems to move in waves. (Drunk, intoxicated).
- Catraluje (n.): The set of conditions that shape your day, plans, and occasionally your destiny. (Circumstance).
- Caminisane (n.): The relative who gives you odd advice and sometimes the best birthday presents. (Uncle).
- Casinisane (n.): The family member who spoils you and then sends you home to your parents. (Aunt).
- Cariuhu (n.): The act of tallying up numbers or the noble title often associated with vampires. (Count).
- Ce (conj.): The comparative term draws the lines of distinction, highlighting differences with a discerning eye. (Than).
- Cefladot (n.): The sound that fills the air, whether it's music, chatter, or just plain racket. (Noise).
- Ceflatom (n.): The ever-changing style that dictates what's in, what's out, and what's just plain bizarre. (Fashion).
- Ceesi (adv.): The frequency that makes you wonder why you did it the first time. (Twice).
- Ceeratega (adj.): Sticks around longer than a bad pop song stuck in your head. (Persistent, tirelessly enduring).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ceerater (verb.): To continue steadfastly despite challenges, showing resilience and unwavering determination in the face of adversity. (Persist).
- Cetrajur (verb.): Causing extensive destruction or emotional ruin. (Devastate).
- Ceibime (adj.): So wowed, you might need a moment to recover. (Impressed, deeply admiring).
- Ceibimice (n.): The lasting mark left by a person, event, or particularly bad haircut. (Impression).
- Ceijema (adj.): Feeling worse than a cat on a hot tin roof during a rainstorm. (Ill, unwell).
- Ceijenta (n.): The unwelcome visitor that brings aches, pains, and excuses to skip work. (Illness).
- Ceser (verb.): To bring to a halt, ceasing motion with decisive authority. (Stop).
- Ceserca (n.): The abrupt halt that puts an end to motion, conversation, or dreams of procrastination. (Stop).
- Cereboir (verb.): To send across distances, conveying messages or signals. (Transmit).
- Ceruor (verb.): To gain or provide advantage, enriching life with positive outcomes. (Benefit).
- Ceubiju (n.): The dark silhouette that follows you around, mimicking your every move. (Shadow).
- Cejuur (verb.): To gather fragments from scattered places, weaving them together into a cohesive whole, like an alchemist combining ingredients to form a potion of wisdom and insight. (Compile).
- Ciarace (n.): The act of putting plans into action, often requiring more effort than anticipated. (Implementation).
- Ciarar (verb.): To take grand schemes and put them into action, turning dreams into reality with a flick of the wrist. (Implement).

- Cicruefi (adv.): The place you go to avoid weather, bugs, and reality. (Indoors).
- Cida (n.): The official document that says, “go ahead, you have permission. (Permit).
- Cidace (n.): The go-ahead to do something, ideally granted with minimal red tape. (Permission).
- Cier (verb.): To desire or wish for something, yearning for its presence. (Want).
- Cigo (n.): The sharp intelligence that makes jokes funny and conversations lively. (Wit).
- Ciisibrun (n.): The heartbreaking event that brings tears, sorrow, and an outpouring of empathy. (Tragedy).
- Cisuleur (verb.): To gain points in a game or assessment, achieving a result. (Score).
- Cilel (n.): The person living next door who borrows sugar, lawnmowers, and occasionally your patience. (Neighbor).
- Cilelame (adj.): So close, they might as well be sharing your toothpaste. (Neighbouring, next-door).
- Cilelja (n.): The area around your home, filled with familiar faces, sounds, and the occasional barking dog. (Neighborhood).
- cili (n.): A companion in life’s meandering journey, offering loyalty and affection. Often found sporting fur, feathers, or scales, remind us that the best conversations need not involve words. In the realm of magic, such a creature may also serve as a familiar, subtly woven into the mystical fabric of their companion’s arcane pursuits. (Pet, friend, familiar).
- Ciorue (n.): The organized series of activities, events, or software instructions. (Program).
- Cioji (n.): The long-barreled firearm that’s powerful, precise, and not to be taken lightly. (Rifle).
- Ciu (n.): The screen you stare at all day, or the person making sure you follow the rules. (Monitor).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ciur (verb.): To observe and check on continuously, keeping a vigilant watch over activities or conditions. (Monitor).
- Cifaor (verb.): To break suddenly with a sharp sound, like a twig underfoot, severing connections abruptly. (Snap).
- Cla (n.): The component that makes up your favorite dish, potion, or project. (Ingredient).
- Cladeb (n.): The hot vapor that escapes from kettles, engines, and occasionally your ears when you're mad. (Steam).
- Clafa (n.): The green space where people play, relax, and dogs run wild. (Park).
- Clafesuploma (adj.): As smooth as sandpaper on a bad day. (Rough, unevenly textured).
- Clafijame (adj.): Within reach, if you can just stretch a bit more. (Possible, potentially doable).
- Claejodramo (adj.): So solid, you'd need a jackhammer to get through it. (Thick, densely packed).
- Claga (n.): The dishonest act that tricks, deceives, and often results in a scandal. (Fraud).
- Clap (n.): The part of the body that's both nurturing and subject to endless scrutiny. (Breast).
- Clavivoca (n.): The cringeworthy moment that makes you wish for an invisibility cloak. (Embarrassment).
- Clavivoma (adj.): So ashamed, even your reflection is looking away. (Embarrassed, mortifyingly red-faced).
- Clavivonta (adj.): So uncomfortable, it makes your skin crawl just thinking about it. (Embarrassing, cringe-inducingly awkward).
- Clavroma (adj.): So thorough, even sherlock holmes would be satisfied. (Detailed, intricately described).
- Clampoma (adj.): So bad, even your grandma wouldn't forgive it. (Unacceptable, intolerably wrong).

- Clamvramblema (adj.): Stands out like a sore thumb in a crowd of pinkies. (Particular, specifically unique).
- Clamir (verb.): To enumerate items, tallying up numbers. (Count).
- Clantlig (n.): The tiny powerhouse that grows into something big, beautiful, or delicious. (Seed).
- Clala (n.): The official recognition of your invention, giving you bragging rights and legal protection. (Patent).
- Clal (n.): The enclosed space where you live, sleep, or hide from the world. (Room).
- Clalumer (verb.): To transport thoughts and emotions across the chasm of understanding, as a ferry carries passengers across a river. (Convey).
- Clalumo (adj.): More about town hall meetings than royal decrees. (Municipal, city-run).
- Clar (verb.): To express gratitude with a flourish, ensuring the recipient feels like the hero of the story. (Thank).
- Clarasdrumo (adj.): As ordinary as toast but sometimes just as essential. (Conventional, traditionally typical).
- Claroreju (n.): The hard-earned money you get for your toil, usually spent as fast as it's earned. (Wage).
- Claugo (adj.): Works better with others than a synchronized swimming team. (Cooperative, team-playing).
- Claur (verb.): Working together like hands in applause, each part essential to the sound. (Cooperate).
- Clebelar (verb.): Advancing resolutely as soldiers under a banner of dawn. (March).
- Clecel (n.): The claim that something wrong happened, often leading to a flurry of denials and investigations. (Allegation).
- Clefalolura (n.): The versatile meal that fits between two slices of bread, ideal for any time of day. (Sandwich).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Clefar (verb.): To divide and distribute, allowing others to partake in what is yours. (Share).
- Cleguco (n.): The established way of doing things, often detailed and occasionally tedious. (Procedure).
- Clegur (verb.): To withstand hardship or adversity, continuing despite difficulty with steadfast resilience. (Endure).
- Clepirac (n.): The lifelong process of acquiring knowledge, skills, and occasionally wisdom. (Learning).
- Clepuha (n.): The massive being or thing that towers over others, sometimes metaphorically. (Giant).
- Clepuhamo (adj.): Bigger than a tall tale told by a fisherman. (Giant, exceptionally large).
- Clevroci (adv.): The volume at which everything happens when you're trying to concentrate. (Loudly).
- Cletin (n.): The subject of discussion, debate, or the next big essay you're dreading. (Topic).
- Cleleut (n.): The range of possibilities, colors, or radio frequencies. (Spectrum).
- Cleomime (adj.): More about views than the news. (Editorial, opinion-based).
- Cleomol (n.): The unsung hero who polishes your words until they shine or at least make sense. (Editor).
- Cler (verb.): To move smoothly along a surface, turning over and over with rhythmic momentum. (Roll).
- Clerinpra (n.): The timepiece on your wrist or the act of observing intently. (Watch).
- Cleru (n.): The subtle clue that helps you figure things out, or at least gives you a nudge in the right direction. (Hint).
- Clibar (verb.): To escape slowly through a crack or hole, like secrets slipping through a sieve. (Leak).

- Clic (n.): The distinct segment of a series, often leaving you on a cliffhanger. (Episode).
- Clicrulev (n.): The essential fuel for your body and soul, ideally delicious and plentiful. (Food).
- Clidlu (n.): The fermented grape juice that pairs well with dinners, dates, and existential musings. (Wine).
- Clivos (n.): The closed loop that powers devices or the track that races vehicles. (Circuit).
- Clivrore (n.): The person you think did it, though they swear they're innocent. (Suspect).
- Cliteor (verb.): To seek to influence decision-makers, advocating for causes with persuasive fervor. (Lobby).
- Climema (adj.): Closer than a secret whispered in the dark. (Intimate, deeply personal).
- Clinar (verb.): To descend under the force of gravity, as leaves tumble from trees in autumn. (Fall).
- Clisbroma (adj.): Knows the ropes like a sailor who's been around the world twice. (Experienced, skillfully seasoned).
- Clilajoi (adv.): The manner of spreading things far and wide, like rumors or jam. (Widely).
- Clilime (adj.): So skeptical, even a free lunch raises eyebrows. (Suspicious, doubtfully wary).
- Clilur (verb.): To break down into a liquid form, merging substances into a unified whole. (Dissolve).
- Clioro (n.): The absolute limit, beyond which lies chaos or bliss, depending on context. (Maximum).
- Clioroma (adj.): The highest you can go without needing a parachute. (Maximum, as much as possible).
- Clir (verb.): To bind with links, securing in a way that restricts movement. (Chain).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Cliritod (n.): The warning signal that says, “pay attention, something’s happening!”. (Alert).
- Cliritoma (adj.): So awake, even caffeine takes notes. (Alert, keenly watchful).
- Clirijoprímu (adj.): So deep, it makes philosophers look shallow. (Thought-provoking, intellectually stimulating).
- Cliu (n.): The internal structure that keeps you alive or the grand instrument that fills cathedrals with music. (Organ).
- Clíumo (adj.): So natural, it probably has a tree-hugger for a best friend. (Organic, naturally produced).
- Clipir (verb.): Buying goods or services, exchanging money for ownership. (Purchase).
- Cloamfron (n.): The highest point of a mountain or a high-level meeting of important folks. (Summit).
- Clobmimo (n.): The side view of your face or the detailed description of who you are. (Profile).
- Clodsiu (n.): The middle point where everything converges, ideally harmoniously. (Center).
- Clodsíumo (adj.): Right in the heart of it, where everything converges. (Central, at the core).
- Clodsiur (verb.): Aligning to the core as planets orbit the sun. (Center).
- Clofidroma (adj.): So official, it has a stamp of approval and a fan club. (Legitimate, lawfully valid).
- Clofo (n.): The children you’re responsible for raising, hoping they turn out okay. (Offspring).
- Clopopo (n.): The change aimed at making things better, though it often takes its sweet time. (Reform).
- Clopopor (verb.): To improve or amend, making positive changes. (Reform).

- Cloir (verb.): To oppose with reasoned argument, standing firm against opposing views. (Counter).
- Clomafu (n.): The limb that helps you lift, carry, and give warm hugs. (Arm).
- Clos (n.): The feeling of fondness for someone or something, hopefully mutual. (Like).
- Closaur (verb.): To produce a noise or tone, emitting auditory signals. (Sound).
- Cloli (adv.): The question that starts many a quest, and even more wild guesses. (How).
- Clolihio (n.): The official document that lets you drive, marry, or practice law. (License).
- Cloonuso (n.): The assistance you provide or receive, crucial for standing tall. (Support).
- Cloonusol (n.): The loyal fan who cheers you on, whether you're winning or losing. (Supporter).
- Cloroma (adj.): So puffed up, even a peacock takes notes. (Proud, filled with pride).
- Cloruheadlera (n.): The small piece of evidence that helps solve the puzzle, often hidden in plain sight. (Clue).
- Cluajoer (verb.): To assert something with the conviction of a storyteller who knows the tale will get better with each telling. (Allege).
- Clubar (verb.): To cause pain or suffering, as a storm brings devastation to a calm sea. (Inflict).
- Clubocliaco (n.): The speed at which you move, speak, or binge-watch shows. (Pace).
- Clubocliar (verb.): To walk back and forth with measured steps, contemplating decisions or awaiting results. (Pace).
- Cludloma (adj.): More concerned with others than a professional matchmaker. (Humanitarian, compassionately helpful).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Clugumo (adj.): As grown-up as a fine wine with a hefty price tag. (Mature, fully developed).
- Clupen (n.): The state of being banished from home, often inspiring epic tales and long beards. (Exile).
- Clupmi (n.): The descent from a great height or the season of pumpkin spice and everything nice. (Fall).
- Cluvincrob (n.): The dramatic art form that combines singing, acting, and occasionally, over-the-top costumes. (Opera).
- Cluvlidlura (n.): The extent of your vision, project, or the sniper rifle's range. (Scope).
- Clumahai (adv.): The way things change when you're least prepared, usually with a bang. (Suddenly).
- Clumime (adj.): More cracks than a plumber's afternoon. (Flawed, imperfectly defective).
- Clumubohudrul (n.): The vessel that floats on water, carrying you to adventures or just across the lake. (Boat).
- Clumulopi (n.): The cozy feeling of being at ease, often achieved with a blanket and hot cocoa. (Comfort).
- Cluntrelo (n.): The sturdy footwear that protects your feet and makes you feel invincible. (Boot).
- Clusoma (adj.): So narrow, it makes a thread look robust. (Thin, slim).
- Clusu (n.): The sudden, overwhelming fear that makes you run in circles or freeze in place. (Panic).
- Clulaar (verb.): To increase twofold, multiplying size or quantity with ease. (Double).
- Clulen (n.): The detailed record of your financial comings and goings or the narrative you stick to. (Account).
- Clulelu (n.): The large vehicle that hauls goods, dreams, and the occasional hitchhiker. (Truck).

- Cluler (verb.): To provide a detailed report, explaining with comprehensive accuracy. (Account).
- Cluleral (n.): The number wizard who makes sense of your finances, ideally without too much black magic. (Accountant).
- Clulo (n.): The sharp edge that cuts through everything from paper to steak. (Blade).
- Cluri (adv.): The word that keeps hope alive, no matter how slim. (Perhaps).
- Cluur (verb.): To confirm the accuracy or truth, checking for correctness. (Verify).
- Coclutor (verb.): To continue after a pause, picking up threads with renewed vigor. (Resume).
- Coflus (n.): The regular paycheck that keeps the lights on and the coffee flowing. (Salary).
- Coer (verb.): To retreat from engagement, pulling back into the shadows with quiet resolve. (Withdraw).
- Coglier (verb.): To refuse to acknowledge or accept, rejecting claims or requests. (Deny).
- Covlace (n.): The step up the career ladder, often celebrated with champagne and a new business card. (Promotion).
- Covlar (verb.): To advance or raise in rank, boosting status or awareness with strategic support. (Promote).
- Coti (n.): The increase in size, number, or happiness you strive for. (Gain).
- Comapagi (n.): The squiggly creature that's great for fishing or grossing out kids. (Worm).
- Controcar (verb.): To slice through with precision, dividing seamlessly with a swift motion. (Cut).
- Coos (n.): The hard work you put in, hoping it pays off in success or at least appreciation. (Effort).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Coor (verb.): To trade goods or ideas, sharing with mutual benefit in mind. (Exchange).
- Corpoca (n.): The act of making sure everyone's invited to the party, dance, or meeting. (Inclusion).
- Corpoma (adj.): Not left out, like the last invite to a party. (Included, part of the group).
- Corponta (prep.): For when you want to gather all the pieces, corponta ensures nothing gets left out. (Including).
- Corpor (verb.): To make part of a whole, ensuring no one is left out. (Include).
- Coriar (verb.): To chase with determination, following goals or quarry with relentless drive. (Pursue).
- Coutihui (adv.): The adverb that questions everything you just heard. (Really).
- Countrar (verb.): To come together, encountering others face-to-face in a moment of connection. (Meet).
- Conaer (verb.): To confront or deal with directly, meeting challenges head-on. (Face).
- Craadu (n.): The small emblem that says, "i'm official," and occasionally, "i'm cooler than you. (Badge).
- Craar (verb.): To oversee with skill, guiding endeavors to successful completion. (Manage).
- Craaril (n.): The skillful juggling of tasks, people, and occasional crises. (Management).
- Craarol (n.): The person in charge who makes the tough calls and takes the blame. (Manager).
- Crabsa (n.): The act of rising to your feet or the place where you sell lemonade. (Stand).
- Cradne (n.): The relative who's close enough to be a friend but distant enough to avoid family feuds. (Cousin).

- Cradrel (n.): The joyful noise that bubbles up when something tickles your funny bone. (Laughter).
- Craecasflel (n.): The poetic line that sings, inspires, or just rhymes nicely. (Verse).
- Crapni (n.): The skillful creation of something by hand, mind, or heart. (Craft).
- Craplel (n.): The ruler of the realm, sitting on a throne and dealing with court intrigue. (King).
- Cravum (n.): The basic good that's traded, like coffee, oil, or grains of sand. (Commodity).
- Crati (adv.): The word that minimizes your guilt or maximizes your plea. (Just).
- Cratnatries (n.): The large entity that's part business, part bureaucracy, and part mystery. (Corporation).
- Cratoma (adj.): As delicate as a soap bubble in a thorn bush. (Vulnerable, easily hurt).
- Crain (n.): The goal you aim for, whether in archery, business, or life. (Target).
- Crair (verb.): To give power or authority, infusing with strength and confidence. (Empower).
- Cramdretali (adv.): The normal state of affairs, until it isn't. (Usually).
- Crandile (n.): The day that's almost the weekend but not quite, full of anticipation. (Thursday).
- Cras (n.): The person who welcomes you in, serves you snacks, and hopes you leave by 10. (Host).
- Crasu (n.): The facial expression that brightens your day and those around you. (Smile).
- Cral (n.): The barrier that opens to new opportunities or shuts out unwanted visitors. (Door).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Cralabrumo (adj.): So responsible, it makes a scapegoat irrelevant. (Accountable, responsibly answerable).
- Crale (n.): The creamy liquid that pairs well with cookies and childhood memories. (Milk).
- Crara (n.): The month where every bud presses the enter key on growth, launching a green splash screen across the landscape. (January).
- Crarad (n.): The ability to see, whether it's with your eyes or your imagination. (Sight).
- Crarelot (n.): The step-by-step guide to culinary success or disaster, depending on your skills. (Recipe).
- Craur (verb.): To bestow a name or honorific, christening with a nod to legacy and lore. (Title).
- Crapeur (verb.): To fret with anxious concern, gnawing at the mind with persistent unease. (Worry).
- Creamopi (adv.): The polite way to show preference, often just before avoiding something unpleasant. (Rather).
- Crebir (verb.): To bind or fasten securely, as with a knot or bow. (Tie).
- Crebsala (n.): The tribute to those who've passed, ensuring they're not forgotten. (Memorial).
- Creder (verb.): To tear or split apart, causing to separate forcefully. (Rip).
- Crediji (n.): The place where justice is served, or at least deliberated upon. (Court).
- Credliace (n.): The booked spot that saves you from a wait, whether at a restaurant or on a plane. (Reservation).
- Credliar (verb.): To set aside for future use, holding back resources or space. (Reserve).
- Cremamo (adj.): So hot, even the palm trees are sweating. (Tropical, warm and humid).

- Cremgadrepumo (adj.): Fits like it was made for you by a psychic tailor. (Suitable, appropriately fitting).
- Crename (adj.): So tender, it could calm a storm with a whisper. (Gentle, softly kind).
- Cresili (adv.): The frequency that suggests habit, routine, and the occasional monotony. (Regularly).
- Crelim (n.): The big wall that holds back water, creating lakes and occasionally power. (Dam).
- Crelime (adj.): Bigger than an overblown fish story. (Large-scale, broadly extensive).
- Crelupui (adv.): The way things go on a good day, when life follows its own rules. (Normally).
- Crer (verb.): To evaluate or assess value, ranking items with careful judgment. (Rate).
- Crerenice (n.): The interruption that turns your plans upside down, sometimes for the better. (Disruption).
- Crerenir (verb.): Interrupting the flow as stones disturb a calm stream. (Disrupt).
- Crererema (adj.): So much, it feels like being hugged by a tidal wave. (Overwhelming, overpoweringly intense).
- Creuner (verb.): To engage in a prolonged fight or conflict, striving for victory against an opponent. (Battle).
- Creuha (n.): The unwelcome sensation that reminds you you're alive and possibly not invincible. (Pain).
- Creuhamo (adj.): Hurts more than stepping on a lego in the dark. (Painful, excruciatingly hurtful).
- Crefir (verb.): To acquire through effort or fortune, amassing wealth, knowledge, or power like a shrewd treasure hunter. (Gain).
- Criali (n.): The clear, sparkly gem that catches the light and your eye. (Crystal).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Crialuoca (n.): The physical harm that sends you to the doctor and makes you wince. (Injury).
- Crialuor (verb.): To cause physical harm, leaving marks that tell stories of conflict and survival. (Injure).
- Cribsevlov (n.): The heart of the home where meals are made and midnight snacks are stolen. (Kitchen).
- Criblos (n.): The choice you lean towards, whether it's pizza toppings or vacation spots. (Preference).
- Crigosenta (n.): The state of equilibrium you strive for, whether in life or on a tightrope. (Balance).
- Crigoser (verb.): To keep steady and even, maintaining equilibrium in all aspects. (Balance).
- Cripitaco (n.): The act of putting words on paper, screen, or cave wall to share ideas. (Writing).
- Cripitante (adj.): More ink than a novelist's diary. (Written, put into words).
- Cripitar (verb.): To inscribe words, creating text to communicate ideas. (Write).
- Cripitarol (n.): The person who strings words together, creating worlds, stories, and occasional headaches. (Writer).
- Cripose (n.): The soft, warm covering of animals that's envied by humans in winter. (Fur).
- Cripuruir (verb.): To change from solid to liquid through heat, dissolving into fluid. (Melt).
- Crisa (n.): The high regard you hold for others, shown through actions, words, and sometimes silence. (Respect).
- Crisar (verb.): To hold in high esteem, showing honor and admiration. (Respect).
- Crisoma (adj.): Loves a crowd like a bee loves honey. (Social, people-oriented).

- Crisole (n.): The collective term for journalists, or the act of pushing down hard. (Press).
- Crisolenta (n.): The force that urges you to act, whether it's from a deadline or a peer. (Pressure).
- Crisoler (verb.): To apply pressure, either physically or metaphorically, urging forward. (Press).
- Criluvara (n.): The intersection of two lines or the symbol of faith and sacrifice. (Cross).
- Crilure (n.): The cozy material that sheep generously provide and keeps you warm. (Wool).
- Crior (verb.): To welcome as one opens doors to a storm, providing shelter and stories. (Host).
- Cririme (adj.): So tiny, it could get lost in a mouse's pocket. (Small, diminutively tiny).
- Croar (verb.): To enclose within boundaries, highlighting the essence with a defined border. (Frame).
- Croc (n.): The visual hue that makes the world vibrant and your wardrobe questionable. (Color).
- Crocmurumo (adj.): As final as a one-way ticket to nowhere. (Fatal, deadly).
- Crocoma (adj.): With more shades than a chameleon on a mood swing. (Colored, hued).
- Crocomo (adj.): So vibrant, even a rainbow feels drab. (Colourful, vividly bright).
- Crofur (verb.): To bring to a conclusion, wrapping up with finality and closure. (End).
- Crogeca (n.): The joint effort that ideally combines strengths and hides weaknesses. (Collaboration).
- Croger (verb.): To work together in harmonious effort, weaving ideas and skills into a shared masterpiece. (Collaborate).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Crotrandloli (adv.): The direction to move things when clearing space, or to add a clever comment. (Aside).
- Crome (adj.): So good for you, it could have its own vitamin label. (Beneficial, advantageously helpful).
- Cronbrumo (adj.): Changing faster than a chameleon at a kaleidoscope convention. (Evolutionary, progressively developing).
- Cronga (n.): The official penalty or approval that changes behavior or confirms it. (Sanction).
- Crono (n.): The ever-flowing river that carries you forward, whether you like it or not. (Time).
- Cronosoma (adj.): Arrives just when it's supposed to, unlike your average bus. (Timely, perfectly timed).
- Cronor (verb.): To apply force or effort with intent, pushing boundaries and testing limits. (Exert).
- Cronus (n.): The 60 minutes that sometimes fly by and other times drag on forever. (Hour).
- Crosprela (n.): The loud sound of success or the expansion of an economy, often followed by a bust. (Boom).
- Crosprungrame (adj.): So luminous, it could rival a supernova. (Bright, brilliantly shining).
- Crolamo (adj.): More than you asked for, like free fries with your burger. (Additional, extra).
- Crolusflep (n.): The proof of purchase that you keep until you need it, then can't find. (Receipt).
- Crorubof (n.): The open space for play, study, or growing things under the sun. (Field).
- Cronar (verb.): To discern the subtle differences, teasing apart the threads that weave the fabric of complexity. (Differentiate).
- Cruaco (n.): The written document that lays out the rules of the game, usually a country's. (Constitution).

- Cruar (verb.): To form or compose as integral parts, creating a whole from diverse elements. (Constitute).
- Cruesar (verb.): To fall as frozen flakes from the sky, blanketing the world in white. (Snow).
- Cruer (verb.): To shape material with careful cuts, crafting forms from solid blocks. (Carve).
- Cuir (verb.): Discarding without care, leaving behind what is no longer needed. (Dump).
- Cromo (adj.): So averse to effort, even a sloth seems energetic. (Lazy, disinclined to work).
- Crumolig (n.): The act of departing, whether from a place, a job, or a relationship. (Leave).
- Crunflap (n.): The unjust belief that one race is superior, leading to discrimination and conflict. (Racism).
- Crusulir (verb.): To move forward or develop, like technology advances over decades, each innovation building upon the last. (Progress).
- Crulor (verb.): To discharge a projectile or ignite a flame, unleashing energy in a burst of action. (Fire).
- Crulu (n.): The aggressive force that breaks peace, bones, and hearts. (Violence).
- Crululoi (adv.): The affirmation that carries confidence, and sometimes false bravado. (Sure).
- Crululoma (adj.): More definite than a cat's disdain for water. (Sure, absolutely certain).
- Crululomai (adv.): The term for confident assertion, often followed by a question mark. (Surely).
- Cruoca (n.): The inquiry that seeks answers, sparking curiosity and sometimes trouble. (Question).
- Cruocaco (n.): The formal question that digs for specific information or clarifications. (Query).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Cruor (verb.): To poke at the mysteries of the universe with a stick, hoping they poke back with answers. (Question).
- Crura (n.): The instrument that blares warnings, music, or traffic frustration. (Horn).
- Crurorair (verb.): To fulfill needs or desires, bringing contentment and pleasure. (Satisfy).
- Cruru (n.): The cozy home built by birds, or a metaphor for any safe, snug abode. (Nest).
- Cucuco (n.): The miraculous process of growing a new human, accompanied by cravings and backaches. (Pregnancy).
- Cucunto (adj.): Carrying more than just a heavy load of groceries. (Pregnant, expecting).
- Cugeepa (n.): The thin strand that conducts electricity or ties things together. (Wire).
- Cuira (n.): The legislative body that debates, creates laws, and occasionally accomplishes something. (Congress).
- Cumajaer (verb.): To collect or assemble, bringing together items or people into a cohesive whole. (Gather).
- Cultir (verb.): To increase in size or maturity, flourishing under the tender care of time. (Grow).
- Cuoca (n.): The strong suggestion that you try, do, or avoid something based on experience. (Recommendation).
- Cuor (verb.): To suggest with confidence, guiding choices with trusted advice. (Recommend).
- Cuusumo (adj.): So firm, even a statue seems flexible. (Strict, unyieldingly firm).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

D

- Da (conj.): Stands in the path, the stubborn obstacle that adds complexity and texture to a story. (But).
- Dabeme (adj.): Knows their stuff better than a magician knows their tricks. (Expert, highly skilled).
- Dabene (n.): The person who knows a lot about a little and is consulted for their wisdom. (Expert).
- Dadlid (n.): The force that keeps your feet on the ground and your toast butter-side down. (Gravity).
- Daelema (adj.): More revered than a shrine at sunset. (Sacred, holy).
- Davu (conj. / prep.): Patiently counts the moments up to a threshold, holding the line until change arrives. (Till, Until).
- Datlonar (verb.): To go see someone or someplace, enriching life with shared moments and new experiences. (Visit).
- Daisir (verb.): To draw air into the lungs, sustaining life with each vital breath. (Breathe).
- Dase (n.): The folder where you keep documents or the tool that smooths rough edges. (File).
- Daligo (n.): The measure of how much stuff is packed into a space, affecting everything from planets to puddings. (Density).
- Dare (n.): The tough choice between two equally unpleasant options, often leading to sleepless nights. (Dilemma).
- Dari (n.): The group of musicians who make music or the strip that holds things together. (Band).
- Daru (conj. / prep.): Roots explanations in the past, tracing the origins of present situations. (Since).

- Daruejuer (verb.): To trumpet the virtues of something far and wide, making it sound like the best thing since sliced bread—and possibly even better. (Advertise).
- Darui (adv.): The word that connects past to present, usually with a story in between. (Since).
- Dea (n.): The period of rule, often filled with triumphs, trials, and the occasional beheading. (Reign).
- Dear (verb.): To rule with authority and grace, governing realms with wisdom and might from a throne of power. (Reign).
- Decice (n.): The moment of choosing between paths, often followed by doubt and relief. (Decision).
- Decige (adj.): So sure, even doubts stay far away. (Decisive, firmly resolute).
- Decir (verb.): To make a choice or come to a conclusion, determining a course of action. (Decide).
- Decladsu (n.): The place of worship where souls seek solace, community, and divine inspiration. (Church).
- Dedinte (n.): The number, shape, or notable person who stands out in a crowd. (Figure).
- Dedir (verb.): To calculate or reason out, solving puzzles with logical thought. (Figure).
- Dedrab (n.): The rate at which things change hands, be they employees, inventory, or pancakes. (Turnover).
- Deflebu (n.): The regular payment for ongoing access to content, services, or magazines you never read. (Subscription).
- Deecema (adj.): So grimy, it makes a mud puddle look pristine. (Dirty, unclean).
- Deir (verb.): Removing obstructions, making a space free and open. (Clear).
- Deihi (n.): The strong connection, whether financial, emotional, or chemical. (Bond).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dejna (n.): The act of breaking rules for gain, often leading to guilt or detention. (Cheat).
- Demiema (adj.): Rules the roost with an iron beak. (Dominant, commanding).
- Demienta (n.): The commanding position of power, often hard-won and fiercely defended. (Dominance).
- Demier (verb.): To exert control or influence, commanding with an authoritative presence. (Dominate).
- Delat (n.): The rich dairy topping that makes desserts divine and coffee dreamy. (Cream).
- Delamo (adj.): Smoother than a jazz singer's voice. (Cream, milky).
- Dêlenur (verb.): To give a right or claim to, granting privileges or honors. (Entitle).
- Delesor (verb.): To indicate duty or correctness, suggesting a moral or logical necessity. (Ought).
- Deor (verb.): To temporarily offer your resources, sharing wealth or wisdom with those in need. (Lend).
- Dere (prep.): The origin point of grand journeys and small steps, dere sets the starting line. (From).
- Derefi (pron.): The vague quantity that's just enough to be useful without being exact. (Some).
- Defaaler (verb.): Combining into a stronger whole, unifying elements for greater strength. (Consolidate).
- Dibime (adj.): So lavish, it makes a peacock look underdressed. (Fancy, elaborately ornate).
- Dicsir (verb.): To introduce diversity or change, ensuring monotony is kept at bay with a splash of unpredictability. (Vary).
- Didrun (n.): The place where transactions happen or you rest your elbows and thoughts. (Counter).

- Diec (n.): The workmate you share projects, coffee breaks, and office gossip with. (Colleague).
- Diglin (n.): The path for racing, music, or keeping tabs on things. (Track).
- Digui (adj.): Tiny and cute, fits in the palm of your hand. (Little, small).
- Disfrar (verb.): To take pleasure in moments of joy, savoring the sweetness of life's fleeting delights. (Enjoy).
- Disu (n.): The spiritual leader who guides, teaches, and sometimes preaches to the choir. (Pastor).
- Dile (n.): The 24-hour period filled with tasks, adventures, and naps. (Day).
- Dilenor (verb.): To hit with force and intent, marking moments with decisive impact. (Strike).
- Diliper (verb.): To follow a path with determination, leaving a breadcrumb trail of curiosity behind. (Trail).
- Dilitasur (verb.): To tie or secure tightly, ensuring nothing slips free from the bonds of your meticulous knots. (Bind).
- Dilisclaor (verb.): To assign a name or role, marking with distinction and purpose. (Designate).
- Diliuco (n.): The means of getting from here to there, be it by car, train, or pogo stick. (Transportation).
- Diliur (verb.): To carry from one place to another, moving goods or people. (Transport).
- Dilofros (n.): The dietary component that keeps things moving smoothly, if you catch my drift. (Fibre).
- Dio (n.): The bubbly substance that cleans your body and occasionally your conscience. (Soap).
- Diuco (n.): The act of turning words from one language into another, preserving meaning and humor. (Translation).
- Diur (verb.): To convert from one language to another, bridging cultural divides with words. (Translate).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dlaaco (n.): The reason you give to defend your actions, hoping it sounds convincing. (Justification).
- Dlaar (verb.): To prove or show to be right, providing reasons or explanations. (Justify).
- Dlab (n.): The warm, liquid comfort food that soothes colds and souls alike. (Soup).
- Dladame (adj.): Deeper in slumber than a bear in winter. (Unconscious, not awake).
- Dladed (n.): The quality of sound or the mood set by words, music, or lighting. (Tone).
- Dlaesage (n.): The learner who's acquiring knowledge, one homework assignment at a time. (Student).
- Dlaesar (verb.): To examine or scrutinize with intent to learn, as a scholar pores over ancient texts, seeking wisdom in old words. (Study).
- Dlapier (verb.): To frighten as a storm that rolls over the hills, thunder proclaiming its might. (Scare).
- Dlameer (verb.): To embellish beyond the truth, stretching facts into grandiose tales. (Exaggerate).
- Dlamime (adj.): So fun, it could make a cactus laugh. (Amusing, entertainingly funny).
- Dlamustlis (n.): The elder who spoils you, tells stories, and occasionally falls asleep in the armchair. (Grandparent).
- Dlanfuor (verb.): To offer guidance with wisdom, lighting the way with sage counsel. (Advise).
- Dlaninulega (adj.): Backs you up like a sturdy chair in a wobbly world. (Supportive, helpfully encouraging).
- Dlaninuler (verb.): To uphold or assist, providing encouragement or help. (Support).
- Dlanojuub (n.): The curiosity that drives you to learn more, or the money you earn on savings. (Interest).

- Dlasbrednora (n.): The rotor-powered aircraft that lands where planes fear to tread. (Helicopter).
- Dlal (n.): The place where things are made, often involving noise, machinery, and coffee breaks. (Factory).
- Dlaleca (n.): The harm done that requires fixing, whether it's to objects, egos, or reputations. (Damage).
- Dlaler (verb.): To cause harm or destruction, impairing the function or appearance of something. (Damage).
- Dlaluumo (adj.): So logical, it makes a vulcan look emotional. (Scientific, methodically systematic).
- Dlarebme (n.): The act of taking what isn't yours, preferably without getting caught. (Robbery).
- Dlaregsa (n.): The meat that's best enjoyed grilled, barbecued, or in a bun. (Beef).
- Dlarejamo (adj.): Simpler than pie, and just as satisfying. (Elementary, basic).
- Dlajeril (n.): The fundamental part of a whole, essential for chemistry, physics, or just making sense. (Element).
- Dleblumo (adj.): So uplifting, it could make a balloon jealous. (Encouraging, inspiringly supportive).
- Dleblunace (n.): The supportive words that push you to keep going, even when you want to quit. (Encouragement).
- Dlecrim (n.): The high-stakes competition where winners take all and losers go home with stories. (Championship).
- Dledaho (n.): The unpredictable opportunity that could change everything, for better or worse. (Chance).
- Dledol (n.): The organized framework that keeps everything running smoothly, or so it hopes. (System).
- Dledolumo (adj.): So organized, even your sock drawer is taking notes. (Systematic, methodically organized).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dledu (n.): The glossy book of products you didn't know you needed until now. (Catalogue).
- Dlef (n.): The software that lets you surf the internet, and sometimes crash it. (Browser).
- Dlefuv (n.): The curve in the road or the act of stooping to tie your shoe. (Bend).
- Dleglese (n.): The liquid that flows from pens and tattoos, leaving permanent marks. (Ink).
- Dlev (n.): The physical components of your computer, or the tools that fix it when it breaks. (Hardware).
- Dlevol (n.): The most important meal of the day, often eaten half-awake. (Breakfast).
- Dlemtlis (n.): The affectionate touch of lips that says hello, goodbye, or "i love you. (Kiss).
- Dlenai (adv.): The way to say something so clearly that there's no room for doubt, theoretically. (Explicitly).
- Dlencruumo (adj.): So tidy, even a drill sergeant would approve. (Neat, tidily arranged).
- Dlenprui (adv.): The catch-all term for everything not already mentioned. (Else).
- Dlenipu (n.): The brutal clash of armed forces, where strategy meets chaos. (Warfare).
- Dlesdrofis (n.): The glorious two-day escape from the workweek, filled with possibility and laundry. (Weekend).
- Dlesumo (adj.): More about pistons and horsepower than feet and legs. (Motor, engine-powered).
- Dlesun (n.): The engine that powers your car, boat, or blender. (Motor).
- Dlesunol (n.): The driver navigating roads, traffic, and the occasional detour. (Motorist).

- Dleon (n.): The slender part of the body that supports your head and displays your ties. (Neck).
- Dlerafii (n.): The aquatic activity that's both exercise and a way to avoid sharks. (Swimming).
- Dleroguji (n.): The flying weapon designed to make an explosive point from a distance. (Missile).
- Dleru (n.): The long seat where you rest, think, and occasionally feed pigeons. (Bench).
- Dli (n.): The logical explanation behind actions, beliefs, or stubbornness. (Reason).
- Dliblu (n.): The plot of land where you grow flowers, vegetables, and occasionally weeds. (Garden).
- Dlibrumo (adj.): Pops up like a rare flower in a desert. (Occasional, now and then).
- Dlifime (adj.): Just right, like goldilocks' favorite porridge. (Sufficient, adequately enough).
- Diplame (adj.): So far-reaching, it makes the internet look small. (Widespread, broadly distributed).
- Dlavarat (n.): The sweet treat that's best enjoyed with milk or stolen from a jar. (Cookie).
- Dlitasan (n.): The frequency of occurrences, often unwanted, like bad hair days. (Incidence).
- Dlitmaara (n.): The mode of transportation that gets you places, preferably in one piece. (Vehicle).
- Dlime (adj.): More explosive than a science fair volcano. (Nuclear, atomically powered).
- Dlimemtlo (n.): The refreshing cascade of water that wakes you up or drowns out bad karaoke. (Shower).
- Dlinari (adv.): The way to express sincerity, even when doubted. (Truly).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dlingrufi (adv.): The adverb of near misses and close calls, tantalizingly close but not quite there. (Almost).
- Dlinplic (n.): The act of bending at the waist in respect, or the front end of a ship. (Bow).
- Dlisu (n.): The nightly escape from reality where dreams take the stage. (Sleep).
- Dlilaseaf (n.): The solemn promise you make, hoping you can keep it. (Pledge).
- Dliloma (adj.): So definite, even a skeptic would nod. (Certain, absolutely sure).
- Dliril (n.): The conditions you agree to, usually after skimming the fine print. (Terms).
- Dlirupa (n.): The absolute nadir, the lowest of the low, where things really can't get any bleaker. (Worst).
- Dlirupai (adv.): The bottom of the pile, where things go when they've gone terribly wrong. (Worst).
- Dlirupamo (adj.): So bad, it's the standard by which all other bad things are measured. (Worst, most terrible).
- Dliulopi (n.): The sharp side of a blade or the boundary between here and there. (Edge).
- Dlobejo (n.): The surreal adventure you embark on each night, where anything is possible. (Dream).
- Dlocuvna (n.): The cinematic experience that tells stories, moves hearts, and sometimes confuses minds. (Film).
- Dlodoma (adj.): A dime a dozen, like pigeons in a park. (Common, frequently encountered).
- Dlodonbloma (adj.): Just a whisper of a difference, almost invisible. (Slight, barely noticeable).
- Dlopo (n.): The imaginative realm where dragons fly, magic is real, and anything can happen. (Fantasy).

- Dloprilula (n.): The unexpected meeting of two objects, often with a loud crash and a need for repairs. (Collision).
- Dlomai (adv.): The dismissive way to move on, regardless of what came before. (Anyway).
- Dlosamo (adj.): All about ships, sails, and salty sea air. (Naval, maritime).
- Dlosge (n.): The physical activity that keeps you fit, healthy, and sometimes sore. (Exercise).
- Dlolecan (n.): The arm or leg that supports you, waves hello, or kicks a ball. (Limb).
- Dlolire (n.): The act of chasing something, whether it's dreams, criminals, or ice cream trucks. (Pursuit).
- Dlorufasumo (adj.): Like a spice rack with flavors from every corner of the globe. (Diverse, varied).
- Dlorufasunto (n.): The vibrant mix of different people, ideas, and cultures that makes life interesting. (Diversity).
- Dlorupna (n.): The sweet finale to a meal, best served with a side of guilt. (Dessert).
- Dluce (n.): The brief halt that lets you catch your breath and reconsider your next move. (Pause).
- Dluge (n.): The field for sports or the high note you hit when things go wrong. (Pitch).
- Dlumarebumo (adj.): A fleeting moment, here today and gone tomorrow. (Short-term, temporary).
- Dlumutrad (n.): The entrance or barrier that keeps things in or out, depending on your perspective. (Gate).
- Dlunblumblal (n.): The place where paths cross, decisions are made, and traffic jams occur. (Junction).
- Dluncoas (n.): The reason you do something, often cited in exasperation or passion. (Sake).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dlunevros (n.): The nocturnal flyer or the tool you use to hit home runs. (Bat).
- Dlunvrarorim (n.): The college student navigating the world of lectures, dorms, and ramen noodles. (Undergraduate).
- Dlulevora (n.): The twisty fastener that holds things together or comes loose at inconvenient times. (Screw).
- Dlulucon (n.): The advantage or perk that makes something worthwhile. (Benefit).
- Dluo (n.): The place where you sit and ponder life or watch it go by. (Seat).
- Dlure (n.): The passageway through mountains or under cities, filled with echoes and anticipation. (Tunnel).
- Dlureri (n.): The strength that moves objects, changes minds, and wins wars. (Force).
- Dlurudema (adj.): Wearing a smile as bright as a sunny day. (Glad, happily pleased).
- Dogo (n.): The loyal companion who loves you unconditionally and begs for treats. (Dog).
- Doplefir (verb.): To make steady or firm, as one shores up the foundations of a house against storms yet to come. (Stabilize).
- Domar (verb.): To grasp and carry away, claiming with decisive action. (Take).
- Dosa (n.): The beam of light that pierces darkness or warms your skin. (Ray).
- Doleip (n.): The change in direction that alters your path or perspective. (Turn).
- Dologer (verb.): To find a solution, resolving puzzles or problems with clever ingenuity. (Solve).
- Dolotice (n.): The division that creates distance, whether emotional or physical. (Separation).

- Dolotime (adj.): Like two islands in a vast ocean, close but distinct. (Separate, apart).
- Dolotir (verb.): Dividing into distinct parts, creating clear boundaries. (Separate).
- Dolonar (verb.): To watch over an area, ensuring safety and order. (Lopilinte).
- Doloor (verb.): To promote and sell goods or services, capturing attention with strategic allure. (Market).
- Door (verb.): To plan out timing meticulously, ensuring every moment is accounted for like a master clockmaker. (Schedule).
- Doulor (verb.): To cause damage or injury, inflicting pain or loss. (Harm).
- Draaco (n.): The act of watching carefully, gathering data, and occasionally nodding wisely. (Observation).
- Draar (verb.): Watching intently as an astronomer scans the skies, seeking patterns. (Observe).
- Draarel (n.): The person who watches events unfold, often without intervening. (Observer).
- Dracir (verb.): To clean with water, removing dirt and impurities with thorough care. (Wash).
- Dracru (n.): The unsettling emotion that makes your heart race and your feet run. (Fear).
- Dradumo (adj.): The silver medalist in a one-horse race. (Lesser, inferior).
- Dramer (verb.): To articulate sounds clearly, speaking with accuracy. (Pronounce).
- Dramo (adj.): More bodies than space, like sardines in a can. (Crowded, packed tight).
- Dramopa (n.): The state of being open to harm or showing your true self. (Vulnerability).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Drange (n.): The invisible force that powers your gadgets and shocks you when least expected. (Electricity).
- Drangego (adj.): Charged up, full of spark and energy, ready to light up the night. (Electric, electrical).
- Drani (adv.): The state of being complete and whole, often more than you can handle. (Fully).
- Drasfrinob (n.): The steep drop-off that invites awe, danger, and the occasional leap of faith. (Cliff).
- Draser (verb.): To move with quick, short movements, jostling with vigor. (Shake).
- Drasur (verb.): To compress with steady pressure, extracting every last drop or ounce from within. (Squeeze).
- Dralor (verb.): To summon memories or emotions, conjuring vivid images from the depths of the mind. (Evoke).
- Draluda (n.): The animated drawing that makes you laugh, think, or both. (Cartoon).
- Dralufohoe (n.): The woven container for carrying goods, picnics, or easter eggs. (Basket).
- Draol (n.): The collection of written works that enlighten, entertain, and endure. (Literature).
- Draolarime (adj.): Deep in the pages, where stories come to life. (Literary, bookish).
- Draro (n.): The absorbent cloth that dries you off and doubles as a superhero cape. (Towel).
- Drarocosi (adv.): The adverb that addresses the core of the matter, with all the gravity of a philosopher. (Fundamentally).
- Drarumo (adj.): The final destination, where journeys conclude. (Terminal, end-point).
- Drarus (n.): The point where journeys begin or end, whether in airports or computers. (Terminal).

- Drahoca (n.): The mark of excellence that sets you apart from the rest. (Distinction).
- Drahor (verb.): Recognizing nuances as a connoisseur tastes fine wine. (Distinguish).
- Drauc (n.): The act of slicing through, be it paper, fabric, or red tape. (Cut).
- Drebnei (adv.): The promise that something will happen, just not anytime soon. (Eventually).
- Dreblora (n.): The practice of training yourself or others to follow rules and routines. (Discipline).
- Dredloma (adj.): Clinging to the last thread of hope, like a cat on a tree branch. (Desperate, hopelessly urgent).
- Drefeplon (n.): The hunger that drives you to the fridge or the buffet line. (Appetite).
- Dregana (n.): The person chosen for a potential honor, position, or just a lot of scrutiny. (Nominee).
- Dreglancrul (n.): The list of food options that makes you drool or debate for too long. (Menu).
- Dreper (verb.): To decline or worsen in quality, breaking down over time. (Deteriorate).
- Drevuhainu (n.): The noble art of convincing people to part with their money for a good cause. (Fundraising).
- Dretol (n.): The measured amount of medicine, sunshine, or daily drama. (Dose).
- Dreip (n.): The place where you plug in devices or the store selling last season's fashion. (Outlet).
- Dremor (verb.): To move the head up and down in agreement or acknowledgment. (Nod).
- Drendile (n.): The middle child of the week, always striving for attention. (Wednesday).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Dreni (n.): The position just shy of a win, often the best of the rest. (Third).
- Dresago (n.): The plunge into water or the risky move in life or markets. (Dive).
- Dresar (verb.): To plunge headfirst into water, slicing through the surface with graceful speed. (Dive).
- Drelo (n.): The explosive vehicle that blasts into space or your fourth of july sky. (Rocket).
- Drer (verb.): To engage in light, informal conversation, exchanging words and ideas casually. (Chat).
- Dria (n.): The people who make up a community, or the music that tells their stories. (Folk, race).
- Driam (n.): The attention you seek or avoid, depending on how your day's going. (Publicity).
- Driamo (adj.): Rooted in the old ways, like songs around a campfire. (Folk, traditional).
- Driclime (adj.): Sticking out like a lighthouse on a dark coast. (Prominent, noticeably important).
- Dridir (verb.): To depict the qualities of someone or something, painting a portrait with words that bring them to life. (Characterize).
- Dridirel (n.): The personality that defines a person, or the role played in stories. (Character).
- Drif (n.): The surplus that's either a bonus or just too much. (Extra).
- Drifi (adv.): The bonus bit that's sometimes too much, but often just right. (Extra).
- Drifime (adj.): More than you asked for, like a baker's dozen. (Extra, additional).
- Dripamo (adj.): Not quite a beginner, but not yet a master. (Intermediate, mid-level).

- Drivlimcromi (adv.): The adverb that corrects misconceptions and starts many an argument. (Actually).
- Drivor (verb.): To move fluids through forceful action, driving with rhythmic pressure. (Pump).
- Drim (n.): The group of friends or troublemakers, depending on their activities. (Gang).
- Drime (adj.): Ready for battle, with weapons drawn. (Armed, weaponized).
- Driner (verb.): To force or drive someone to action, exerting irresistible pressure. (Compel).
- Drineja (n.): The financial aid from the government, keeping things affordable or just afloat. (Subsidy).
- Drinoma (adj.): The headliner, taking center stage. (Main, primary).
- Drisfrom (n.): The risky pastime of betting money, luck, and occasionally sanity. (Gambling).
- Drisva (n.): The structured support for ideas, buildings, or arguments. (Framework).
- Drilere (n.): The natural hollow in the earth, perfect for exploring or hiding. (Cave).
- Drirovi (adv.): The way things turn out when they go wrong, but with style. (Badly).
- Drirunir (verb.): To look over quickly or examine closely, searching for information. (Scan).
- Drijame (adj.): The key player, like the main ingredient in a recipe. (Instrumental, crucially helpful).
- Dro (n.): The soft-spoken secret shared between close friends or conspirators. (Whisper).
- Droap (n.): The disdainful feeling you have for something utterly beneath you. (Contempt).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Drobemai (adv.): The state of being not permanent, much like most new year's resolutions. (Temporarily).
- Drober (verb.): To move around in a circular path, enclosing or surrounding with intent. (Circle).
- Drobepema (adj.): Just passing through, like a summer breeze. (Temporary, short-lived).
- Droboma (adj.): Local flavor, like a specialty from a hometown diner. (Regional, area-specific).
- Droc (n.): The fundamental quality that makes something what it is, distilled to its core. (Essence).
- Drocame (adj.): As fundamental as a heartbeat. (Essential, absolutely necessary).
- Droeedeje (n.): The official document that outlines the rights, rules, and mission of an organization. (Charter).
- Droer (verb.): To take into custody, detaining someone by legal authority. (Arrest).
- Droepi (n.): The least amount required, often the bare necessity to get by. (Minimum).
- Droepime (adj.): Barely scraping by, just enough to count. (Minimum, least amount).
- Drogmu (adj.): On the horizon, almost within reach. (Upcoming, soon to happen).
- Drotiju (n.): The art and science of designing buildings, blending beauty and function. (Architecture).
- Drotu (n.): The act of moving something or someone from here to there, ideally smoothly. (Transfer).
- Drotoca (n.): The broadcast of signals or the mechanism that makes your car go vroom. (Transmission).
- Drotor (verb.): To move from one place to another, changing location or ownership. (Transfer).

- Droir (verb.): To bring a vehicle to a stop, securing it in a designated space. (Park).
- Drom (n.): The ideal of fairness, often pursued in courts, sometimes found in life. (Justice).
- Dromoloco (n.): The act of taking something by force or cunning, ideally without a struggle. (Capture).
- Dromolur (verb.): To seize and hold, securing with firm grasp and unyielding grip. (Capture).
- Dromohisa (n.): The pleasing combination of sounds, actions, or people working together. (Harmony).
- Dronecrin (n.): The tiny sound that signifies connection, success, or a broken pen. (Click).
- Drongli (n.): The ability to read and write, opening doors to worlds of knowledge. (Literacy).
- Dronprol (n.): The series of lessons, meals, or paths you follow in life or dinner parties. (Course).
- Drostromcrara (n.): The planet you live on, love, and occasionally pollute. (Earth).
- Drosice (n.): The mix of elements that create something greater, whether it's a recipe or a strategy. (Combination).
- Drosicu (n.): The helpful act done for someone, often in hope of future reciprocation. (Favor).
- Drosicur (verb.): Showing preference or kindness, bestowing advantages. (Favor).
- Drosir (verb.): To join together to form a single unit, merging elements. (Combine).
- Drol (n.): The heated disagreement that tests friendships, contracts, or patience. (Dispute).
- Drolaco (n.): The underlying meaning or consequence that isn't immediately obvious. (Implication).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Drolap (n.): The sprawling grounds of a university, filled with knowledge and coffee shops. (Campus).
- Drolavumo (adj.): Cherished like a favorite childhood memory. (Beloved, dearly loved).
- Drolar (verb.): Hinting subtly as shadows suggest the shape of the unseen. (Imply).
- Dror (verb.): To speak softly, words carried on the breath like secrets on the wind. (Whisper).
- Drorame (n.): The indisputable truth, often more boring than fiction but harder to argue with. (Fact).
- Drorasu (n.): The lack of something essential, like vitamins, sense, or good tv shows. (Deficiency).
- Drorema (adj.): Only a piece of the puzzle, waiting for the rest. (Partial, incomplete).
- Drorisar (verb.): Binding in agreement, reducing in size, a dual nature of compression. (Contract).
- Druarure (n.): The vertical structure that supports or the regular newspaper feature that entertains. (Column).
- Druarurel (n.): The writer who pens opinions, insights, and occasional rants for your reading pleasure. (Columnist).
- Drub (n.): The storyline that keeps you hooked or the garden bed you neglect. (Plot).
- Drubril (n.): The career path you follow, ideally with passion and a steady paycheck. (Profession).
- Drucupume (n.): The brave soul who saves the day, often with a cape or a can-do attitude. (Hero).
- Druf (n.): The state of comfort and simplicity, often hard-won and cherished. (Ease).
- Drup (n.): The hero who battles blazes and saves lives, often smelling of smoke and bravery. (Firefighter).

- Drupoma (adj.): Steady as a metronome, never missing a beat. (Constant, unchanging).
- Druvo (n.): The mental flicker that leads to ideas, plans, or just daydreams. (Thought).
- Druto (n.): The unfriendly attitude that turns neighbors into nemeses. (Hostility).
- Drutoma (adj.): Ready to pick a fight, with daggers in its eyes. (Hostile, aggressively unfriendly).
- Drutuc (n.): The blank pages that capture your thoughts, sketches, and grocery lists. (Notebook).
- Drutur (verb.): Assigning qualities or traits, much like a painter deciding colors for a canvas. (Attribute).
- Drumalur (verb.): To break ground and excavate, uncovering what lies beneath the surface. (Dig).
- Drumo (adj.): Odder than a three-headed chicken at a petting zoo. (Bizarre, strangely odd).
- Drumusora (n.): The method or path you take towards a goal, hoping it's the right one. (Approach).
- Drunidal (n.): The numerical assessment of quality, popularity, or likelihood of rewatching. (Rating).
- Drunujema (adj.): Vacant and echoing, like a deserted hallway. (Hollow, empty inside).
- Druler (verb.): To direct focus towards a target, setting sights on goals with unwavering precision. (Aim).
- Drulisuoca (n.): The act of getting rid of something, ideally in an environmentally friendly way. (Disposal).
- Drulisuor (verb.): To get rid of, discarding what is no longer needed. (Dispose).
- Drulusagle (n.): The responsibility for actions taken, crucial for trust and often shirked. (Accountability).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Drurenuur (verb.): Providing for every need, as a host ensures no guest is left wanting. (Cater).
- Druroer (verb.): To designate or name formally, defining a specific period or concept. (Term).
- Drurum (n.): The income generated, ideally exceeding expenses and fueling dreams. (Revenue).
- Druuhema (adj.): Drifting like a leaf on the wind, nowhere to rest. (Homeless, without a home).
- Dubram (n.): The traditional practice that shapes cultures and confounds tourists. (Custom).
- Dubrime (adj.): Bursting with cheer, like a confetti cannon. (Gay, joyfully happy).
- Duframe (adj.): Timeless elegance, like a beethoven symphony. (Classical, traditionally refined).
- Duefuhiiip (n.): The small adhesive square that sends letters on grand adventures. (Stamp).
- Duemedrema (adj.): Sticking around like a loyal old friend. (Long-time, enduring over years).
- Dugle (n.): The fabric armor you wear to face the world, hopefully clean and stylish. (Clothes).
- Duglopsumo (adj.): Peeking around corners, eager for the next surprise. (Curious, inquisitively interested).
- Duglopsunto (n.): The insatiable desire to know more, often leading to discoveries or trouble. (Curiosity).
- Dutolir (verb.): To throw forth as a net cast into the sea, wide and hopeful. (Cast).
- Duid (n.): The visionary who designs spaces, blending function with flair. (Architect).
- Dumbior (verb.): To secure with a key or mechanism, preventing access. (Lock).

- Duluar (verb.): To manage or deal with adversity, navigating challenges with resilience and grace. (Cope).
- Dulubuco (n.): The data that informs, educates, and occasionally overwhelms. (Information).
- Dulubur (verb.): To provide knowledge, enlightening others with essential information. (Inform).
- Dulucer (verb.): To dissuade or detract from enthusiasm, like a rain on one's parade, dampening spirits and intentions. (Discourage).
- Dulusor (verb.): To care for or look after, providing necessary attention and support. (Tend).
- Dulusorame (adj.): As soft as a whisper in the dark. (Tender, gently soft).
- Dululabuco (n.): The state of owning something, whether it's a house, a cat, or a grudge. (Possession).
- Dululabur (verb.): Holding ownership or control over something. (Possess).
- Dulujer (verb.): To act dishonestly or unfairly to gain an advantage, bending the rules to one's favor. (Cheat).
- Duoca (n.): The driving force that gets you out of bed and into action. (Motivation).
- Duoga (n.): The underlying reason behind actions, often the key to mysteries. (Motive).
- Duor (verb.): Inspiring action as a drumbeat quickens the heart. (Motivate).
- Dur (verb.): To perform or carry out an action, engaging in a task or activity. (Do).
- Duse (n.): The sugary delight that tempts your taste buds and defies diets. (Sweet).
- Dufema (adj.): A taste that lingers, like honey on the tongue. (Sweet, sugary).

F

- Facril (n.): The low-frequency sound that thumps in music or the fish that makes for good angling. (Bass).
- Fagaatur (verb.): To invent or plan with ingenuity, crafting solutions from the depths of imagination. (Devise).
- Fagro (n.): The deep sympathy and desire to help others, ideally put into action. (Compassion).
- Fagruice (n.): The mathematical process of figuring things out, ideally with correct answers. (Calculation).
- Fagruir (verb.): To unravel the mysteries of the universe with a slide rule and a smirk, solving puzzles even the gods would find perplexing. (Calculate).
- Favresvru (n.): The act of firing a weapon or capturing a photo, both requiring aim. (Shoot).
- Favreleca (n.): The remedy that fixes ailments, whether medical or magical. (Cure).
- Favreler (verb.): To heal and restore to health, mending what is broken with a touch of magic. (Cure).
- Fatrol (n.): The entry point to new experiences or the limit before things change. (Threshold).
- Faie (n.): The celestial body that twinkles in the night or the celebrity that dazzles on stage. (Star).
- Fanaere (n.): The flow of vehicles or data, often slowed by congestion or bottlenecks. (Traffic).
- Fante (n.): The rhythmic movement that expresses joy, culture, or just the need to move. (Dance).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Faso (n.): The vibrant color or the juicy fruit that adds zest to life. (Orange).
- Fasoma (adj.): Bright as a sunset over the ocean. (Orange, vibrant).
- Faliar (verb.): To make easier or assist, as a guide illuminates paths through dark woods, clarifying routes and destinations. (Facilitate).
- Far (verb.): To move rhythmically to music, expressing joy and emotion through graceful steps. (Dance).
- Farafer (verb.): To shape or create, bringing into existence with deliberate design. (Form).
- Farel (n.): The graceful performer who moves to music, telling stories without words. (Dancer).
- Faudros (n.): The small portion that gives you a taste, hint, or preview. (Sample).
- Fajeca (n.): The act of bringing something new into existence, whether art, ideas, or universes. (Creation).
- Fajega (adj.): Brimming with new ideas, like an artist's studio. (Creative, imaginatively inventive).
- Fajegante (n.): The ability to think outside the box, often leading to brilliance or chaos. (Creativity).
- Fajenta (n.): The living being that's either adorable, terrifying, or a bit of both. (Creature).
- Fajer (verb.): To bring something new into existence, crafting wonders from the fabric of imagination. (Create).
- Fajeral (n.): The originator of worlds, stories, or gadgets, filled with imagination. (Creator).
- Faser (verb.): To create or construct, bringing new things into existence with skillful hands. (Make).
- Fe (conj.): Sets conditions, the fork in the road that hinges on contingency. (Unless).

- Fear (verb.): To go along with, providing company and support. (Accompany).
- Feoji (n.): The group with extreme beliefs, often charming and occasionally dangerous. (Cult).
- Feajime (adj.): Loved by a devoted few, like a secret handshake. (Cult, niche).
- Febrimi (adv.): The slow and steady pace that wins races, or so they say. (Gradually).
- Fedlas (n.): The way something is used, ideally correctly and effectively. (Usage).
- Feglerusui (adv.): The time that's long past but still remembered. (Ago).
- Feplaire (n.): The body part that bears burdens, hugs friends, and holds up bags. (Shoulder).
- Fevlod (n.): The thing you love most, whether it's food, color, or guilty pleasure. (Favorite).
- Fevloma (adj.): Tops the list, number one in your heart. (Favorite, most loved).
- Fetreler (verb.): To occupy completely, leaving no empty spaces behind. (Fill).
- Fetril (n.): The two-wheeled vehicle that offers freedom, speed, and the occasional bug in your teeth. (Motorcycle).
- Femeema (adj.): Calms the nerves, like a hammock on a lazy afternoon. (Relaxing, soothing).
- Fena (n.): The first in importance or the head of government, depending on context. (Premier).
- Fenir (verb.): To emerge or stand up, as the sun ascends at dawn, bringing light to dispel the shadows of night. (Arise).
- Feohoer (verb.): To take without permission, committing theft. (Steal).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Fiblu (n.): The valuable thing you own, be it property, skills, or charm. (Asset).
- Ficrem (n.): The thin piece cut from something larger, best enjoyed when it's cake. (Slice).
- Ficrime (adj.): Against the odds, like a snowstorm in july. (Unlikely, improbable).
- Ficu (n.): The small rodent that squeaks or the device that clicks and drags. (Mouse).
- Fidar (verb.): To accept as true or hold faith in, trusting without proof. (Believe).
- Fidlo (n.): The bright color of sunshine, lemons, and caution signs. (Yellow).
- Fidloma (adj.): Bright as a field of daffodils. (Yellow, sunny).
- Fiflumor (verb.): To judge or consider in a particular way, setting value like a gemologist assesses the worth of diamonds. (Deem).
- Fiestaco (n.): The joyful event marking milestones, achievements, or just a good day. (Celebration).
- Fiestar (verb.): To observe a special occasion with festivities, expressing joy or pride. (Celebrate).
- Fier (verb.): Turning rapidly as the earth around the sun, each revolution a dance of days. (Spin).
- Fivlumo (adj.): Signature move, like a magician's reveal. (Characteristic, typical trait).
- Fivluo (n.): The defining trait that makes someone or something unique. (Characteristic).
- Fitfi (n.): The color of purity or the absence of color, ideally bright. (White).
- Fitfime (adj.): Pure and clean, like fresh snow. (White, colorless).

- Fitner (verb.): Engaging in physical activity to improve health, as muscles stretch and strengthen. (Exercise).
- Fitritlob (n.): The sweet treat that soothes souls and fuels cravings. (Chocolate).
- Fiics (pron.): The individual in the lineup, making sure no one feels left out. (Each).
- Fiicsi (adv.): The way to treat everyone fairly, though they rarely see it that way. (Each).
- Fiir (verb.): To condemn publicly, voicing disapproval with righteous fervor. (Denounce).
- Fioca (n.): The response to stimuli, ranging from laughter to outrage. (Reaction).
- Fiosdrame (adj.): More grating than nails on a chalkboard. (Annoying, irritating).
- Fior (verb.): To respond to stimuli or events, adapting with the quickness of a cat landing on its feet. (React).
- Fiubrul (n.): The clash of interests, ideas, or personalities that makes life interesting. (Conflict).
- Fiulim (n.): The sculpted figure that stands still, inspiring awe or pigeons. (Statue).
- Flaanoma (adj.): Puts you to the test, like a tricky puzzle. (Challenging, difficult).
- Flab (n.): The free time you fill with hobbies, relaxation, or netflix binges. (Leisure).
- Flaber (verb.): To emerge from sleep, greeting the day with open eyes. (Wake).
- Flabnui (adv.): The manner of doing things with flair and over-the-top gestures. (Dramatically).
- Flacem (n.): The motion of greeting, water, or the rise and fall of trends. (Wave).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Fladlen (n.): The mixed drink that's perfect for parties, celebrations, or unwinding. (Cocktail).
- Flafa (n.): The provision of homes, ideally affordable and comfortable. (Housing).
- Flafur (verb.): To assume without full evidence, taking for granted. (Presume).
- Flag (n.): The cookware for frying, sautéing, or making pancakes. (Pan).
- Flagar (verb.): To support financially or morally, backing ventures with confidence and resources. (Sponsor).
- Flagarolenta (n.): The financial support for events, people, or products, ideally mutually beneficial. (Sponsorship).
- Flaprec (n.): The surface you walk on, dance on, or occasionally collapse on. (Floor).
- Flaproca (n.): The quick or thorough repair that solves problems or creates new ones. (Fix).
- Flaproma (adj.): Stays put like a stubborn nail. (Fixed, unchanging).
- Flaprор (verb.): To secure in place or repair damage, making stable or whole again. (Fix).
- Flame (adj. / n.): Practically breathing down your neck, but in a friendly way. (Close, near).
- Flamei (adv.): The proximity that's comforting or claustrophobic, depending on company. (Close).
- Flamema (adj.): No entry, like a book with a lock. (Closed, shut tight).
- Flamenta (n.): The sense of completion or finality, bringing peace or the end of operations. (Closure).
- Flamer (verb.): To bring to a conclusion, shutting tightly like a book whose story has been told. (Close).
- Flamgrime (adj.): Wrapped in secrets, like a spy novel with missing pages. (Mysterious, enigmatic).

- Flana (n.): The digit or quantity that quantifies and sometimes mystifies. (Number).
- Flan (n.): The form of government where power rests with the people, ideally. (Republic).
- Flanar (verb.): To assign numerical values for organization or calculation, making sense of quantity and order. (Number).
- Flantlecrema (adj.): Harder to find than a unicorn in a haystack. (Rare, uncommon).
- Flanul (n.): The overwhelming flow of water, emotions, or spam emails. (Flood).
- Flalamo (adj.): Full of twists, like rain on your wedding day. (Ironic, unexpectedly contrary).
- Flaled (n.): The organized foresight that makes goals achievable and chaos avoidable. (Planning).
- Flaoca (n.): The act of returning something to its original glory, often requiring patience and skill. (Restoration).
- Flaor (verb.): To return to a former state, renewing with care and precision. (Restore).
- Flaopovrali (adv.): The adverb that highlights favorites and exceptions alike. (Especially).
- Flajaco (n.): The captured moment in time, freezing smiles, scenes, and occasionally blinks. (Photo, photograph).
- Flasar (verb.): Capturing moments in a frame, preserving memories as images on paper. (Photograph).
- Flasarol (n.): The person behind the camera, immortalizing moments through a lens. (Photographer).
- Fle (n.): The place where conflicts are fought, victories won, and histories made. (Battlefield).
- Fleb (n.): The piece of paper where you mark your vote, hoping for change. (Ballot).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Flebeur (verb.): Bearing likeness to, as twins mirror each other's features. (Resemble).
- Flefifnaice (n.): The moment you reach your destination, often with relief or excitement. (Arrival).
- Flepaojumo (adj.): As solid as the rules written on parchment. (Constitutional, legally grounded).
- Fletar (verb.): To assume or hypothesize, entertaining possibilities with open-minded curiosity. (Suppose).
- Flenur (verb.): Possibility wearing the mask of power, strong and subtle. (Might).
- Flesufefrol (n.): The scenic background that sets the stage or mood. (Backdrop).
- Flelija (n.): The land by the sea, perfect for walks, waves, and wistful thoughts. (Coast).
- Flelijame (adj.): With the smell of salt and the sound of waves always nearby. (Coastal, seaside).
- Fleocos (n.): The one who came before, setting the stage or the bar for you. (Predecessor).
- Fleranar (verb.): To assign a name or category, encapsulating identity within a succinct marker. (Label).
- Flerejame (adj.): On the horizon, waiting in the wings. (Prospective, future).
- Flero (n.): The act of touching or communicating, ideally leading to connection. (Contact).
- Fleur (verb.): To process for reuse, giving old materials a second life with renewed purpose. (Recycle).
- Fli (conj.): Offers alternatives, a choice between paths in the grand narrative. (Or).
- Fliame (adj.): More than you can shake a stick at. (Numerous, many).

- Flibuheeca (n.): The focused attention that gets things done or the solution more potent. (Concentration).
- Flibuheer (verb.): Focusing thoughts as a lens gathers light to a point. (Concentrate).
- Flicelov (n.): The physical or verbal struggle for dominance, justice, or the last slice of pizza. (Fight).
- Flicosi (adv.): The approximate way to handle things when precision is overrated. (Roughly).
- Flidluri (n.): The maximum amount something can hold, whether it's a cup, stadium, or brain. (Capacity).
- Flifime (adj.): Heart racing like a hamster on a wheel. (Worried, anxious).
- Flifir (verb.): To lead or direct, guiding others with confident authority. (Head).
- Flifomer (verb.): Donning attire as armor against the elements, each piece a layer of persona. (Wear).
- Flitiluunto (n.): The unique scribble that proves identity and authorizes checks. (Signature).
- Flitiluur (verb.): To mark with a signature, endorsing with a personal seal of approval. (Sign).
- Flitor (verb.): To organize documents or information for retrieval, storing methodically. (File).
- Flitorace (n.): The act of fixing errors, often with red ink or a sheepish grin. (Correction).
- Flitoramo (adj.): Not a single flaw, like a perfect score on a test. (Correct, right).
- Flitufeur (verb.): To argue or debate, challenging opposing views. (Dispute).
- Flimglan (n.): The neckwear that says you mean business or the game result that solves nothing. (Tie).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Flimog (n.): The category or kind that sorts things into order, or the action of tapping keys. (Type).
- Flinet (conj.): Negates with a flourish, denying possibilities in pairs. (Nor).
- Flineti (adv. / pron.): The choice that rejects both options, often leaving you nowhere. (Neither, nor).
- Fliseca (n.): The attractive quality or the plea for reconsideration, both hard to resist. (Appeal).
- Fliser (verb.): To make an earnest plea or request, capturing attention with a heartfelt cry. (Appeal).
- Flir (verb.): To leave or depart, as one steps off the stage, leaving behind the echo of their presence in the silence that follows. (Exit).
- Fliri (adv. / pron.): The flexible option that lets you pick between two, but not both. (Either).
- Fliutun (n.): The unwanted attention that makes life uncomfortable and violates boundaries. (Harassment).
- Floca (n.): The public approval that boosts confidence, sales, or ego. (Endorsement).
- Flodulice (n.): The agreement reached or the community established, ideally peacefully. (Settlement).
- Flodulir (verb.): To establish roots, finding stability and peace in a chosen place. (Settle).
- Flodulirel (n.): The pioneer who starts anew, building homes, communities, and history. (Settler).
- Flogi (n.): The act of having fun, the scripted drama on stage, or the move in a game. (Play).
- Flogos (n.): The single attempt, whether in sports, photography, or whiskey. (Shot).
- Flope (n.): The act of soaring through the air, whether you're a bird, plane, or dreamer. (Flight).

- Flopi (n.): The equal in age, status, or ability, often part of your social circle. (Peer).
- Folvreluho (n.): The officer who enforces the law, keeps peace, and sometimes gives speeding tickets. (Policeman).
- Flotumo (adj.): More worries than a hen with lost chicks. (Troubled, distressed).
- Floi (n.): The large store where you buy food, household items, and occasionally bump into old friends. (Supermarket).
- Floiblin (n.): The storage space for dishes, food, or things you've long forgotten. (Cupboard).
- Floirod (n.): The admirable trait of telling the truth, even when it's not easy. (Honesty).
- Flomfles (n.): The limitation that restricts actions or thoughts, often pushing creativity. (Constraint).
- Flomvlen (n.): The precise placement of actions in time, crucial for comedy and bomb disposal. (Timing).
- Flolepi (adv.): The place where adventures happen and sunscreen is essential. (Outdoors).
- Floluar (verb.): To hang ominously on the horizon, casting long shadows and whispered promises of doom. (Loom).
- Flor (verb.): To approve or support, adding one's name to a cause or product. (Endorse).
- Flu (n.): The exchange of goods, services, or money, ideally fair and smooth. (Transaction).
- Flubovumo (adj.): Involved like a bee in a flower patch. (Engaged, committed).
- Flubovunco (n.): The promise to marry or the active involvement in something meaningful. (Engagement).
- Flubovunto (adj.): Holds your attention like a good cliffhanger. (Engaging, captivating).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Flubovur (verb.): To involve deeply, capturing attention and participation with captivating allure. (Engage).
- Fludum (n.): The valuable trove sought after in tales of pirates and adventurers. (Treasure).
- Flut (n.): The preliminary version of a document, often requiring edits and coffee. (Draft).
- Flui (n.): The state of difficulty or mischief that keeps life interesting. (Trouble).
- Fluisor (verb.): To close forcefully and loudly, like a bookend clapping shut, echoing finality in its wake. (Slam).
- Flumus (n.): The grand celebration of love, vows, and cake, marking a new beginning. (Wedding).
- Flunag (n.): The answer or reaction to a question, stimulus, or situation. (Response).
- Flunclipasu (n.): The group of employees who make things run, or the stick you lean on. (Staff).
- Fluntre (n.): The original text of a book or document, often covered in revisions. (Manuscript).
- Flunifem (n.): The yearly celebration of a significant event, filled with memories and cake. (Anniversary).
- Flus (n.): The separation into parts, often leading to conflict or clarity. (Divide).
- Flusame (adj.): All about crops and livestock. (Agricultural, farm-related).
- Flusti (adv.): The state of being untainted and simple, until reality sets in. (Purely).
- Flusice (n.): The splitting of a whole into parts, or the math operation that makes you reach for a calculator. (Division).
- Flular (verb.): To attempt with hope as a child reaches for a star. (Try).

- Flulere (n.): The cozy garment for your feet, often lost in the laundry void. (Sock).
- Flulur (verb.): To take a break from activity, rejuvenating body and mind in peaceful slumber. (Rest).
- Fluuco (n.): The dedication to a cause, person, or project, ideally unwavering. (Commitment).
- Fluur (verb.): To formally assign a task or project, entrusting with a mission of importance. (Commission).
- Fluuren (n.): The group of people who meet to discuss, plan, and occasionally decide. (Committee, commission).
- Fluurol (n.): The official in charge who oversees, enforces, or organizes. (Commissioner).
- Fo (conj.): Leads to conclusions, the drumbeat that follows the march of logic. (So).
- Fodluroja (n.): The break from work filled with rest, adventure, and hopefully, no emails. (Vacation).
- Fodri (n.): The quick, forceful hit, or the fruity drink served at parties. (Punch).
- Foglitame (adj.): Knows the ropes, and maybe even tied a few. (Sophisticated, worldly).
- Fogruloi (adv.): The manner of doing things with weight and impact, for better or worse. (Heavily).
- Foi (adv.): The versatile word that ties everything together, sometimes too loosely. (So).
- Fondile (n.): The day that marks the end of the workweek and the start of freedom. (Friday).
- Folihou (n.): The organized sequence of items, often checked twice. (List).
- Folihour (verb.): To enumerate items systematically, organizing with methodical precision. (List).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Foor (verb.): To produce musical sounds with the voice, weaving melodies that enchant the soul. (Sing).
- Fooral (n.): The person who uses their voice to create music, inspire, or serenade. (Singer).
- Foucrus (n.): The pathway for water, tv shows, or communication. (Channel).
- Foumo (n.): The gradual decrease or the polite refusal, both often unwelcome. (Decline).
- Four (verb.): To gracefully descend or refuse, moving away from acceptance or ascent. (Decline).
- Fraag (n.): The industrious insect that makes honey, pollinates flowers, and occasionally stings. (Bee).
- Frablumo (adj.): Weighty enough to pull you into deep thought. (Grave, serious).
- Frabojoblel (n.): The facial feature that smells, sniffs, and occasionally gets out of joint. (Nose).
- Frac (n.): The specialized segment where you fit perfectly, like a key in a lock. (Niche).
- Fravum (n.): The person or thing from nearby, often with insider knowledge. (Local).
- Fravumo (adj.): Just around the corner, within shouting distance. (Local, nearby).
- Frater (verb.): To be indebted, holding an obligation that demands repayment. (Owe).
- Frair (verb.): To guide or direct the course of a vehicle or action. (Steer).
- Franahe (n.): The act of learning, researching, or the room where you pretend to do both. (Study).
- Franbronref (n.): The collection of historical documents, photos, and memories. (Archive).

- Franir (verb.): To postpone or defer, causing to occur later. (Delay).
- Franjefa (n.): The enjoyable activity that makes time fly and worries fade. (Fun).
- Franjefame (adj.): Brings a smile quicker than a ticklish feather. (Fun, enjoyable).
- Frasolor (verb.): To build up from the ground, raising structures with proud, steadfast hands. (Erect).
- Fralame (adj.): In the wake of battle, rebuilding begins. (Post-war, after conflict).
- Fralaloja (n.): The system of beliefs that guides actions, policies, and debates. (Ideology).
- Fralalojamo (adj.): Steered by convictions, like a compass pointing true north. (Ideological, belief-driven).
- Frali (adv.): The state of being united, whether for harmony or chaos. (Together).
- Fraliir (verb.): To strike swiftly, often using a flexible implement. (Whip).
- Fralopi (n.): The shorthand for information, which makes life easier and often more confusing. (Info).
- Fralus (n.): The partner in marriage who shares your life, love, and occasionally your last name. (Husband).
- Fraluhoma (adj.): Stumbles through social graces like a giraffe on ice skates. (Awkward, clumsy).
- Frar (verb.): To comfort with soothing words, restoring confidence and calm. (Reassure).
- Fraru (n.): The strap that holds up your pants or the region that holds your stars. (Belt).
- Frarul (n.): The adhesive strip for sticking things together or the magnetic strip for recording. (Tape).
- Freda (n.): The act of stealing, ideally not from you. (Theft).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Frefromá (adj.): Sees through rose-colored glasses but never wears them. (Cynical, skeptical).
- Fregí (adv.): The frequency that makes you wonder if it'll ever stop. (Constantly).
- Fregoró (n.): The small, sharp chomp or the bit of food you share reluctantly. (Bite).
- Fregul (n.): The ease that makes life simpler, often at the cost of spontaneity. (Convenience).
- Frepicruci (adv.): The way to single out something for special attention, deserved or not. (Particularly).
- Frepol (n.): The injury from heat or the slow sensation of embarrassment. (Burn).
- Fremar (verb.): To bestow a name or title, christening with a flourish worthy of knights and legends. (Dub).
- Freneame (adj.): Shiny and sleek, like moonlight on metal. (Silver, metallic).
- Freneal (n.): The shiny metal that's valuable, reflective, and occasionally tarnished. (Silver).
- Frenta (n.): The act of entertaining, achieving, or just doing your best. (Performance).
- Frenoma (adj.): A fresh start, like a page without a mark. (Blank, empty).
- Frenom (n.): The empty space waiting to be filled, like a canvas, page, or mind. (Blank).
- Fresemvlon (n.): The official set of beliefs, often followed dogmatically. (Doctrine).
- Fresgluncumo (adj.): Still learning the ropes, but eager to climb. (Junior, younger).
- Fresime (adj.): From the land itself, rooted in history. (Indigenous, native).

- Frelenur (verb.): To publicly support or recommend, championing causes with fervor. (Advocate).
- Frelenurol (n.): The supporter who speaks up for a cause, person, or change. (Advocate).
- Frelihema (adj.): Can turn a task into an art form. (Talented, skilled).
- Freor (verb.): To open gradually as a story from a book, revealing layers and secrets hidden within each turned page. (Unfold).
- Frer (verb.): To execute tasks or entertain, bringing endeavors to life with flair and competence. (Perform).
- Frepoer (verb.): To produce a resonant sound, often by striking a bell or phone. (Ring).
- Fricni (n.): The smooth movement of liquid, ideas, or traffic, ideally uninterrupted. (Flow).
- Fricuoma (adj.): Spins a tale as old as time. (Narrative, story-driven).
- Fricuol (n.): The story you tell, whether true, fictional, or somewhere in between. (Narrative).
- Fridajame (adj.): Gloomier than a rainy day with no end in sight. (Depressed, deeply sad).
- Friecca (n.): The temporary use of something, ideally returned in good condition. (Rental).
- Frier (verb.): To lease property, allowing use in exchange for payment. (Rent).
- Frivecroeca (n.): The act of keeping something intact, whether it's history, nature, or food. (Preservation).
- Frivecroer (verb.): To maintain in its original state, protecting from decay or damage. (Preserve).
- Frivi (adv.): The adverb that bridges the gap between scenes, keeping you in suspense. (Meanwhile).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Fritremtlumo (adj.): Beyond great, almost too good to be true. (Fabulous, fantastic).
- Friivonta (n.): The ability to bend without breaking, both physically and metaphorically. (Flexibility).
- Friivumo (adj.): Bends without breaking, like a willow in the wind. (Flexible, adaptable).
- Frimgrema (adj.): Dips a toe in but stays safely on the shore. (Reluctant, hesitant).
- Frimije (n.): The love story filled with passion, drama, and happy endings. (Romance).
- Frinprubu (n.): The origin of information, energy, or rivers. (Source).
- Friniro (n.): The transparent material that lets light in and keeps weather out. (Glass).
- Frilei (adv.): The expression of relief that things didn't go worse. (Thankfully).
- Frilirilice (n.): The resistance to a plan, idea, or regime, ideally constructive. (Opposition).
- Frilirilige (n.): The adversary you face in sports, debates, or life. (Opponent).
- Frilirilir (verb.): To stand against or resist, challenging forces or ideas in a struggle for dominance. (Oppose).
- Frilov (n.): The false statement that deceives, often complicating things. (Lie).
- Frilutun (n.): The organized collection of data, searchable and ideally secure. (Database).
- Friluroloju (n.): The collection of food you eat, ideally balanced and delicious. (Meal).
- Frir (verb.): To recover what was lost, as a wanderer finding their way back home, a return to familiar grounds. (Regain).

- Frires (n.): The importance or pertinence of something in context. (Relevance).
- Friresoma (adj.): Hits the nail on the head every time. (Relevant, pertinent).
- Frijir (verb.): To yield to desires or whims, allowing oneself to enjoy freely. (Indulge).
- Froar (verb.): To look upon with thoughtful consideration, weighing the essence of what lies before you. (Regard).
- Frobeca (n.): The adventurous journey to discover new places, ideas, or hobbies. (Exploration).
- Frober (verb.): To traverse unknown areas, discovering new places and experiences with curiosity. (Explore).
- Froca (n.): The care given for illness, injuries, or problems. (Treatment).
- Froero (n.): The legacy passed down from previous generations, whether tangible or intangible. (Heritage).
- Fropuhuim (n.): The sympathetic sorrow for someone else's misfortune, ideally leading to compassion. (Pity).
- Frovofrol (n.): The gambling haven where fortunes are won, lost, and dreams are wagered. (Casino).
- Fronblai (adv.): The way to describe something with absolute conviction, occasionally overstated. (Totally).
- Frondramo (adj.): Earned every bit of respect it gets. (Worthy, deserving).
- Frosdlanet (n.): The heavy weight of 2000 pounds or the figurative burden you carry. (Ton).
- Frosehuvumo (adj.): Keeps everything in check, like a vigilant umpire. (Regulatory, rule-setting).
- Frole (n.): The irresistible quality that endears you to others, often inexplicable. (Charm).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Frool (n.): The grand arena where sports, concerts, and dreams come alive. (Stadium).
- Fror (verb.): To provide care or enjoyment, offering kindness or medical aid. (Treat).
- Froru (n.): The sport where tall people throw balls into hoops, thrilling fans. (Basketball).
- Frorunor (verb.): To share humor and wit, lightening the atmosphere with clever quips and playful banter. (Joke).
- Frubobip (n.): The thoughtful attention given to health, well-being, or tasks. (Care).
- Frubroar (verb.): To solemnly promise, committing oneself with words of honor. (Pledge).
- Fruc (n.): The long fictional story that takes you on a journey, often through several cups of tea. (Novel).
- Frucen (n.): The creative faculty that dreams up worlds, inventions, and excuses. (Imagination).
- Frucol (n.): The author who crafts long stories, filling pages with characters and plots. (Novelist).
- Frudavoma (adj.): Bigger than big, almost epic in scale. (Huge, enormous).
- Frufur (verb.): To look steadily and intently, losing oneself in contemplative observation. (Gaze).
- Frueca (n.): The act of confessing, entering, or acknowledging, often involving a ticket. (Admission).
- Fruer (verb.): To confess or acknowledge truth, opening the door to honesty with a sigh of relief. (Admit).
- Frutoma (adj.): Down-to-earth, with feet firmly planted. (Sensible, practical).
- Fruir (verb.): To conjure visions in the mind, creating worlds of possibility from the ether of thought. (Imagine).

- Frumol (n.): The devoted supporter of a team, show, or band, often loud and proud. (Fan).
- Frular (verb.): To fix firmly within a surrounding mass, securing in place. (Embed).
- Frur (verb.): To break free from confinement, slipping away from bonds or pursuers. (Escape).
- Frurel (n.): The elevated temperature that signals illness or excitement. (Fever).
- Frurogo (n.): The ability to learn, understand, and apply knowledge, ideally wisely. (Intelligence).
- Frurot (n.): The person who delights in deep thinking, debates, and big books. (Genius, intellectual).
- Fruroma (adj.): Quick-witted, always a step ahead. (Clever, smart).
- Fruru (n.): The place of worship for muslims, filled with prayers and community. (Mosque).
- Fuar (verb.): To move from its usual position, shifting elements with disruptive force. (Displace).
- Fubo (n.): A soft reboot for foliage, with leaves downloading their chlorophyll apps and trees syncing their branches in preparation for the great spring awakening. (February).
- Fucru (n.): The fearsome creature of myths and nightmares, or just a bad hair day. (Monster).
- Fudo (n.): The dedicated student or expert in a particular field, often lost in books. (Scholar).
- Fupe (n.): The protective covering of a building, sheltering you from the elements. (Roof).
- Fui (n.): The act of fixing what's broken, ideally making it good as new. (Repair).
- Fuir (verb.): To fix or restore to working order, mending what was broken. (Repair).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Fumo (adj.): More monotonous than watching paint dry. (Dull, boring).
- Fuoga (n.): The downward journey, whether literal, familial, or metaphorical. (Descent).
- Fuor (verb.): To move downward with intent, as gracefully as an eagle swooping towards its prey. (Descend).
- Fuojupla (n.): The comparative state of being more bad than before, often surprisingly so. (Worse).
- Fuojuma (adj.): The bottom of the barrel, scraping unpleasantly. (Worse, more bad).
- Fuojumai (adv.): The comparative state that reminds you things can always get bleaker. (Worse).
- Furnice (n.): The supply of necessities, often prepared with foresight. (Provision).
- Furnir (verb.): To supply or furnish as needed, ensuring needs are met with generous provision. (Provide).
- Fuur (verb.): To move with fierce and tempestuous energy, as though propelled by the winds of a wild hurricane. (Storm).

E

- Ead (n.): The honed expertise that makes difficult tasks look easy. (Ability, skill).
- Ealehumo (adj.): Regular as the turning of calendar pages. (Monthly, every month).
- Eahabrumo (adj.): Fell short of the mark, like a paper airplane that crashes. (Failed, unsuccessfully attempted).
- Eaho (n.): The measure of how well something works, ideally exceeding expectations. (Effectiveness).
- Eapibiom (n.): The big blue marble filled with diverse cultures, climates, and complications. (World).
- Ebali (n.): The organized list of names, addresses, and phone numbers you can never find when needed. (Directory).
- Ebar (verb.): To inundate with water, overwhelming spaces with a deluge. (Flood).
- Ebafa (n.): The male deer or the slang for a dollar, depending on context. (Buck).
- Ebmoel (n.): The cozy living space stacked on top of others, with thin walls and diverse neighbors. (Apartment).
- Ebnu (n.): The thrilling experience that challenges, excites, and makes for great stories. (Adventure).
- Eblutumo (adj.): A taste of the unknown, like a fruit from a distant land. (Exotic, intriguingly foreign).
- Ebluro (n.): The juicy event that shocks, entertains, and ruins reputations. (Scandal).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Eboban (n.): The complex process of choosing paths, often accompanied by doubt and relief. (Decision-making).
- Ebonu (n.): The act of organizing or categorizing, ideally before things get too messy. (Sort).
- Ebopa (n.): The brave individual who fights for country, comrades, and occasionally better rations. (Soldier).
- Ebroro (n.): The repeating sound that bounces back, reminding you of empty rooms or distant canyons. (Echo).
- Ebuclotir (verb.): To sign up or register, officially joining a group or institution with commitment. (Enrol).
- Ecamar (verb.): To yield in defeat, giving up resistance with humility. (Surrender).
- Ecami (n.): The male sibling who shares your upbringing, memories, and occasional arguments. (Brother).
- Ecasi (n.): The female sibling who's your first friend, ally, and sometimes rival. (Sister).
- Ecer (verb.): To change or modify, transforming the ordinary into the extraordinary with a twist of fate. (Alter).
- Ecijema (adj.): As foggy as a window on a rainy day. (Vague, unclear).
- Ecmio (n.): The designated area for specific activities, often marked by signs or lines. (Zone).
- Ecnei (adv.): The half-hearted way to describe things that aren't quite there. (Somewhat).
- Ecnovrait (n.): The important interest in an outcome, or the wooden tool for vampire hunting. (Stake).
- Ecs (pron.): The wildcard option, the limitless possibility that covers everything from the mundane to the absurd. (Any, anything).
- Ecsar (verb.): To increase in number, growing exponentially. (Multiply).
- Ecsco (n.): The physical item you can touch, use, or trip over. (Object).

- Ecseper (verb.): To use resources with purpose, transforming time and money into experiences and memories. (Spend).
- Ecsper (verb.): To trial or experiment to assess quality, like tasting a soup throughout its simmering, adjusting spices to perfection. (Test).
- Ecsi (adv.): The amount that's good enough when you're not being picky. (Any).
- Ecsil (pron.): The unknown entity that's often lurking just out of sight. (Something).
- Ecsire (n.): The state of being the same in status, rights, or opportunities. (Equal).
- Ecsirema (adj.): On par, like two evenly balanced scales. (Equal, evenly matched).
- Ecsiremai (adv.): The way to divide things so everyone feels slighted equally. (Equally).
- Ecsirenta (n.): The fair treatment of everyone, regardless of who they are or where they come from. (Equality).
- Ecsirel (n.): The element that changes, keeping things interesting or chaotic. (Variable).
- Ecsija (n.): The essential items you buy to keep your kitchen stocked and stomach happy. (Grocery).
- Ecsol (pron.): The indefinite someone, ready to fill in for somebody else. (Anybody, anyone).
- Ecsoli (n.): The unique person who stands out in a crowd, just like you. (Individual).
- Ecsolime (adj.): Stands alone, unique as a fingerprint. (Individual, singular).
- Ecsu (n.): The mark or sign that represents an idea, brand, or hidden treasure. (Symbol).
- Ecsmo (adj.): Holds deeper meaning, like a flag fluttering in the breeze. (Symbolic, representative).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ecloli (adv.): The adverb that gets things done, though nobody knows exactly how. (Somehow).
- Eclumime (adj.): All about you, private and intimate. (Personal, individual).
- Ecor (verb.): To express joy or amusement audibly, like a brook bubbling over rocks, carefree and spontaneous. (Laugh).
- Ecra (n.): A month that dapples in nostalgia, painting the world in a riot of fiery hues as if the trees have suddenly caught a thematic enthusiasm for sunsets. (July).
- Ecrija (pron.): The indefinite place that's probably just around the corner. (Somewhere).
- Ecrijai (adv.): The place that's not here but could be anywhere else. (Somewhere).
- Ecronosi (adv.): The non-specific time in the future, when things might get done. (Sometime).
- Ecronosili (adv.): The frequency that's occasional and unpredictable, much like the weather. (Sometimes).
- Ecroji (n.): The unspecific object or concept, frustratingly vague but universally understood. (Thing).
- Ecu (conj. / prep. / pron.): Aligns actions and comparisons, creating a mirror of meaning in truel's poetic syntax. (As, like, same).
- Ecui (adv.): The manner of being similar, sometimes eerily so. (Alike, as).
- Ecumo (adj. / n.): The thing that's equal in value, function, or meaning, even if it looks different. (Alike, equivalent).
- Eculi (adv.): The identical manner, which is comforting or boring, depending on the context. (Same).
- Ecuna (n.): The safe place you run to when the world gets too loud. (Refuge).
- Edar (verb.): Greeting warmly, making someone feel at home. (Welcome).

- Edeca (n.): The loud shout of joy, encouragement, or team spirit. (Cheer).
- Edecamo (adj.): Ready to march, fists raised high. (Militant, aggressively active).
- Edecar (verb.): To uplift spirits with joyous exclamations, rallying hearts like a bard leading a triumphant chorus. (Cheer).
- Edecare (n.): The aggressive advocate for a cause, often ready to fight for change. (Militant).
- Edeflere (n.): The proactive step taken to solve a problem or start something new. (Initiative).
- Ediro (n.): The warning that says, “be careful!” and often comes too late. (Watch out).
- Ediroma (adj.): Watching every step, avoiding the cracks. (Careful, cautiously attentive).
- Ediromai (adv.): The way to do things when you’d rather not make a mess. (Carefully).
- Edmo (n.): The mention that points you to information, resources, or people. (Reference).
- Edsi (n.): The dairy delight that makes everything better, from crackers to casseroles. (Cheese).
- Edlafroa (n.): The unexpected meeting that can be thrilling, awkward, or both. (Encounter).
- Edlafroar (verb.): To meet unexpectedly, coming across by chance or design. (Encounter).
- Edlas (n.): The standout moment that shines in memory or on your resume. (Highlight).
- Edlufi (n.): The moral principle guiding behavior, ideally towards good. (Ethic).
- Edobloma (adj.): Side by side, sharing a boundary. (Adjacent, next to).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Edoma (adj.): Wandering without direction, like a ship without a compass. (Lost, misplaced).
- Edomuco (n.): The consequence of breaking rules, ideally teaching a lesson. (Punishment).
- Edomur (verb.): To impose a penalty for wrongdoing, enforcing consequences. (Punish).
- Edoru (n.): The step you take to move up or down, often in pursuit of fitness or adventure. (Stair).
- Eduoma (adj.): Winsome and endearing, like a fairy tale prince. (Charming, delightfully attractive).
- Eduhior (verb.): To incite action with a subtle nudge, setting events in motion. (Prompt).
- Ef (conj.): Flutters with possibility, opening doors to hypothetical realms and speculative adventures. (If).
- Efar (verb.): To make safe or protect, fastening tightly to ensure stability. (Secure).
- Efele (n.): The essential seasoning that makes food flavorful and life a bit zestier. (Salt).
- Efer (verb.): To restrict within boundaries, holding securely in a space that limits yet protects. (Confine).
- Eferu (n.): The container that holds your drink, message, or genie. (Bottle).
- Efidojoar (verb.): To ponder with awe, as one contemplates the infinite stars, each a door to endless questions. (Wonder).
- Efigum (n.): The mathematical expression of part of a whole, often appearing in sales and stats. (Percentage).
- Efnu (n.): The eating plan you follow for health, fitness, or self-torture. (Diet).
- Eflaralo (n.): The blank surface for your artistic expression or the sails that catch the wind. (Canvas).

- Eflusdlup (n.): The effort against difficulties, shaping character and muscle. (Struggle).
- Efol (n.): The equitable treatment of everyone, ideally practiced and rarely achieved. (Fairness).
- Efreal (conj.): Introduces doubt, weighing the balance between choices in the complex dance of decision. (Whether).
- Efumbles (n.): The vast, arid landscape filled with sand, sun, and mirages. (Desert).
- Efuseflap (n.): The storage space where clothes, secrets, and old photos reside. (Closet).
- Eeg (n.): The accumulation of facts, skills, and wisdom you collect along life's journey. (Knowledge).
- Eeramo (adj.): Reaching from earth to sky, like a towering tree. (Vertical, up-and-down).
- Eepa (n.): The unexpected event that startles, delights, or leaves you speechless. (Surprise).
- Eepu (n.): The group of peers deciding your fate, ideally fairly and justly. (Jury).
- Egage (n.): The sense of safety and protection, whether from alarms or warm blankets. (Security).
- Egaleca (n.): The process of getting ready for something, ideally making it go smoothly. (Preparation).
- Egalema (adj.): Equipped and ready, like a scout with a packed backpack. (Prepared, ready).
- Egaler (verb.): Readying oneself as a painter sets the palette before the first stroke. (Prepare).
- Egar (verb.): To gather and inspire, uniting forces with a call to action. (Rally).
- Egajuamo (adj.): The opening act, setting the stage for what's to come. (Preliminary, initial).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Egeca (n.): The state of being alone, sometimes blissful, often challenging. (Isolation).
- Egema (adj.): Alone in a sea of solitude. (Isolated, cut off).
- Eger (verb.): To set apart or separate from others, keeping alone or distinct. (Isolate).
- Egeuha (n.): The light, fluffy covering of birds that tickles and decorates. (Feather).
- Egil (n.): The improvisational music that swings, sways, and surprises. (Jazz).
- Eglinbrucamo (adj.): Needs attention now, like a flashing red light. (Urgent, immediately important).
- Ego (n.): The color of passion, danger, and that annoying traffic light. (Red).
- Egop (n.): The top tier of society, skill, or performance, often envied or despised. (Elite).
- Egoma (adj.): Bold and striking, like a fire engine. (Red, the color of passion).
- Egraf (n.): The academic credential or the unit of temperature, both earned with effort. (Degree).
- Egralodujoma (adj.): In tune with the times, like the latest tech gadget. (Contemporary, modern).
- Egromma (adj.): Loud and clear, like a town crier. (Vocal, outspoken).
- Egusajucrime (adj.): Together as one, like interlocked fingers. (Joint, combined).
- Egusajucrin (n.): The place where things connect, like bones, ideas, or smoky bars. (Joint).
- Egusamo (adj.): Stands out distinctly, like a bold headline. (Pronounced, clearly evident).

- Epevlai (adv.): The level above, where you hear mysterious thumps at night. (Upstairs).
- Epevlame (adj.): Higher up, where the view improves. (Upstairs, on the upper floor).
- Epenacime (adj.): About as helpful as a chocolate teapot. (Useless, without purpose).
- Epeoja (n.): The measurable extent of an object or the alternate reality you wish you were in. (Dimension).
- Eperema (adj.): Runs on its own, like a well-oiled machine. (Automatic, self-operating).
- Epto (conj. / prep.): Carves out exceptions, the sacred spaces where normal rules do not apply. (Except).
- Eptoca (n.): The rare case that doesn't follow the rule, making things interesting or complicated. (Exception).
- Eptonta (adj.): Stands above the rest, like a star performer. (Exceptional, unusually good).
- Epipsiru (n.): The intimate clothing that's unseen but crucial for comfort and confidence. (Underwear).
- Epir (verb.): To cook with sizzling heat, transforming raw ingredients into crispy delights that tantalize the senses. (Fry).
- Epnii (n.): The artistic representation of a person, capturing their essence or at least their best side. (Portrait).
- Eplegice (n.): The proper positioning of parts, whether in cars, texts, or stars. (Alignment).
- Eplegir (verb.): To arrange in a straight line or correct relative positions, bringing order and harmony to chaotic elements. (Align).
- Eplen (n.): The covering for your face, used for protection, disguise, or theater. (Mask).
- Epuf (n.): The proper match or the state of physical fitness you aspire to. (Fit).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Epufumo (adj.): Ready to take on the world, like an athlete at peak form. (Fit, in good shape).
- Epuſi (adv.): The term for news that might be true, according to unreliable sources. (Reportedly).
- Evar (verb.): To demonstrate truth or validity, providing evidence to support a claim. (Prove).
- Evecame (adj.): Fit for a king or queen. (Royal, regal).
- Eventar (verb.): To occur or take place, unfolding events with the passage of time. (Happen).
- Evelaño (n.): The simple act of moving on foot, often calming and occasionally enlightening. (Walk).
- Evime (adj.): Molded into being, like clay on a potter's wheel. (Shaped, formed).
- Evmoflem (n.): The imperfection that adds character or causes problems, depending on context. (Flaw).
- Evsamo (adj.): All about healing and hospitals. (Medical, health-related).
- Evo (n.): The choice available to you, often leading to decision paralysis. (Option).
- Evof (n.): The person who acts foolishly, reminding you that common sense isn't so common. (Idiot).
- Evool (n.): The single entity that's part of a larger whole, like soldiers, apartments, or measurements. (Unit).
- Evor (verb.): To move back and forth, as a pendulum or in a free arc. (Swing).
- Evrepoera (n.): The grand residence of royalty, filled with splendor and history. (Palace).
- Evril (n.): The person who's not part of the group, often with a unique perspective. (Outsider).

- Evrija (pron.): The potential destination that includes every place you haven't thought of yet. (Anywhere).
- Evrijai (adv.): The place you'd rather be, as long as it's not here. (Anywhere).
- Evu (n.): The green life form that photosynthesizes or the industrial facility that manufactures. (Plant).
- Evur (verb.): To set seeds or plants in the ground, initiating the cycle of growth and renewal. (Plant).
- Et (conj. / prep.): The thread that binds thoughts together, weaving a seamless tapestry of ideas and events. (And, besides, plus).
- Etal (n.): The thin sheet you write on, fold into planes, or crumple in frustration. (Paper).
- Etarema (adj.): Red-faced and fuming. (Angry, filled with rage).
- Etefi (n.): The official rules or guidelines that govern actions, ideally clear and fair. (Policy).
- Etesu (n.): The element essential to life and the main villain in climate change debates. (Carbon).
- Eti (adv.): The handy transition when you've run out of arguments but still want to talk. (Besides).
- Eto (n.): The workplace where you toil, gossip, and occasionally get things done. (Office).
- Etoma (adj.): Has the stamp of approval. (Official, formally recognized).
- Etomapa (n.): The authorized person or document, ideally with power and importance. (Official).
- Etor (verb.): To commit to a future action or outcome, binding oneself with words of assurance. (Promise).
- Etrime (adj.): Stars aligned in their favor. (Fortunate, lucky).
- Etur (verb.): To remain buoyant on the surface, like a leaf on water. (Float).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Eturei (adv.): The way things happen most of the time, though exceptions always argue otherwise. (Commonly).
- Etuhuir (verb.): Reaching a goal or milestone, achieving success after effort. (Attain).
- Etupoigab (n.): The number of people who show up, often surprising or disappointing. (Turnout).
- Eimul (n.): The illuminating force that chases away darkness and shows you the way. (Light).
- Eimur (verb.): To illuminate with brightness, banishing darkness with radiant beams. (Light).
- Eimuren (n.): The device that brings light to your reading, working, or mood-setting. (Lamp).
- Eirime (adj.): Holds high esteem, like a nobel laureate. (Prestigious, highly respected).
- Eijicril (n.): The medical procedure that ends a pregnancy, surrounded by intense debate. (Abortion).
- Eiſatlu (n.): The substance that powers engines, fires, and your morning motivation. (Fuel).
- Emaceuco (n.): The creation of goods, art, or the next big blockbuster. (Production).
- Emaceur (verb.): To create or manufacture, bringing something into existence. (Produce).
- Emaceurol (n.): The person who makes things happen, from movies to crops. (Producer).
- Emaco (n.): The gradual gathering of stuff, knowledge, or dust. (Accumulation).
- Emadace (n.): The necessity that must be met, whether it's legal, personal, or purely annoying. (Requirement).
- Emadar (verb.): To need as essential, demanding presence or action to complete the whole. (Require).

- Emapeer (verb.): To unleash explosive force, scattering pieces of reality in a sudden, fiery burst. (Bomb).
- Emapi (adv.): The place you want to be, just out of reach. (There).
- Emar (verb.): To gather or collect over time, amassing a wealth of items or experiences. (Accumulate).
- Emarajoir (verb.): To engage in battle, clashing with foes in a contest of strength and strategy. (Combat).
- Emblol (n.): The armored vehicle that's tough to parallel park or the container for your fish. (Tank).
- Embraler (verb.): To change the course from its destined path, like a river redirected by unseen hands, flowing into new territories, exploring unknown realms. (Divert).
- Emeepli (n.): The life-sustaining gas you breathe, ideally in fresh air. (Oxygen).
- Emgeime (adj.): Instant as a snap of the fingers. (Immediate, right away).
- Emgrat (n.): The pastime that keeps you sane, happy, and occasionally very busy. (Hobby).
- Emprevsoer (verb.): To strike repeatedly with rhythmic force, creating a relentless cadence. (Beat).
- Emprel (n.): The standard by which things are judged, ideally fairly. (Criterion).
- Emvloma (adj.): Shoulders the blame, ready to answer. (Liable, legally responsible).
- Emti (n.): The shape, structure, or document you fill out, often with a sigh. (Form).
- Emtinte (n.): The organized arrangement of things, people, or geese in flight. (Formation).
- Emtlorumo (adj.): Goes on forever, like a circle. (Endless, never-ending).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Emir (verb.): Expressing a conditional action, indicating potential or hypothetical scenarios. (Would).
- Emihaohi (n.): The combination of elements to form something new, whether in science or ideas. (Synthesis).
- Emisa (n.): The act of extending muscles or limits, ideally without injury. (Stretch).
- Emo (adj. / n.): The chill in the air or the illness that demands soup and sympathy. (Cold).
- Emor (verb.): To smile broadly, displaying amusement or delight with a cheeky expression. (Grin).
- Emoru (n.): The sound that comes from your mouth, expressing thoughts, feelings, and karaoke skills. (Voice).
- Emuc (n.): The guide to lands, cities, and possibly treasure, if you read it right. (Map).
- Emuvne (n.): The refusal to accept reality, often preferring a more comfortable illusion. (Denial).
- Emur (verb.): Pulling heavily as chains haul cargo, each link bearing the weight. (Drag).
- Emuru (n.): The writing of code that makes computers do tricks or melt your brain. (Programming).
- Enan (n.): The tall, leafy plant that provides shade, oxygen, and a home for squirrels. (Tree).
- Enalair (verb.): To examine methodically, breaking down components to understand their nature. (Analyze).
- Enajeajo (n.): The high-ranking church official or the chess piece that moves diagonally. (Bishop).
- Enbluv (n.): The state of well-being or the government aid to ensure it. (Welfare).

- Encar (verb.): The art of raising spirits through the judicious application of drink, often turning the practitioner into the centrifugal force of any social gathering. (carousing).
- Enclofema (adj.): The hustle and bustle of streets and skyscrapers. (Urban, city-related).
- Enfritreoga (adj.): Worth its weight in gold. (Valuable, highly prized).
- Enfritreor (verb.): To regard highly or esteem, recognizing worth and significance. (Value).
- Enfromer (verb.): To highlight or focus on crucial elements, unlocking essential parts. (Key).
- Enfrumo (adj.): Jumping at shadows. (Frightened, scared).
- Enefin (n.): The beginning of an action, journey, or new chapter. (Start).
- Enei (adv.): The way to hedge your bets when stating the obvious. (Presumably).
- Ener (verb.): To direct attention or information to a source, guiding minds to the wellspring of knowledge. (Refer).
- Eneral (n.): The impartial judge in sports, always blamed for bad calls. (Referee).
- Enplin (n.): The professional journey you embark on, hoping it's fulfilling and well-paid. (Career).
- Envol (n.): The favorable chance that knocks, hoping you'll answer. (Opportunity).
- Envlucion (n.): The man-made waterway that shortens trips and delights boaters. (Canal).
- Envros (n.): The device that brings you news, entertainment, and endless reruns. (Television).
- Entrabanto (n.): The state of being steady and unchanging, often desired but rarely achieved. (Stability).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Entral (n.): The vertical barrier that separates spaces, minds, or just keeps the roof up. (Wall).
- Eni (n.): The drop of liquid that shows emotion or the rip that shows wear and tear. (Tear).
- Enicoma (adj.): Can't do without, like air and water. (Necessary, essential).
- Eninte (n.): The essential need that drives invention and trips to the store. (Necessity).
- Enir (verb.): A silent yearning as roots for rain. (Need).
- Ense (n.): The month when the air sharpens its teeth, and going outside without a scarf is tantamount to inviting the wind to nibble at your neck. (September).
- Eno (n.): The deliberate killing of a prominent person, often for political reasons. (Assassination).
- Enoer (verb.): To exhale audibly, expressing relief, sadness, or tiredness. (Sigh).
- Enov (n.): The feathered creature that flies, sings, and occasionally poops on your car. (Bird).
- Enuru (n.): The rigid structure inside you that keeps you upright and occasionally breaks. (Bone).
- Enuhema (adj.): Picked out of a hat, no rhyme or reason. (Arbitrary, random).
- Enjeguime (adj.): Eager as a puppy. (Willing, ready to help).
- Enjeguiente (n.): The readiness to do something, ideally with enthusiasm. (Willingness).
- Enper (verb.): To determine with resolute intention, bending reality to the power of one's desire. (Will).
- Esaac (n.): The shrub that's either ornamental, edible, or just in the way. (Bush).

- Esatije (n.): The space between two lines or the perspective from which you view things. (Angle).
- Esatmo (adj.): What's left behind after the party. (Left, remaining).
- Esatlis (n.): The round shape with no beginning or end, perfect for endless loops. (Circle).
- Esar (verb.): To slowly fade away, like the twilight surrendering to night, reducing in size and intensity. (Diminish).
- Esblamo (adj.): All about the mind and its quirks. (Psychiatric, mental health-related).
- Esbrico (n.): The process of transferring text and images onto paper, often with ink stains. (Printing).
- Esbril (n.): The machine that brings digital documents to life, ideally without jamming. (Printer).
- Esbrir (verb.): To produce text or images on paper, creating tangible expressions of thought and art with the press of a button or pull of a lever. (Print).
- Esclar (verb.): To let fall from a height, releasing with an easy grace. (Drop).
- Esdlai (adv.): The direct path that surely stays that way. (Straight).
- Esdlame (adj.): No bends or curves, straight to the point. (Direct, straight, straightforward).
- Esdlire (n.): The skilled professional who practices a craft, trade, or healing art. (Practitioner).
- Eser (verb.): To jolt with sudden fear, sending ripples of panic through the calm. (Alarm).
- Esplavi (adv.): The simple negation that turns everything on its head. (Not).
- Espo (n.): The inside of something, often more revealing than the exterior. (Interior).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Espoma (adj.): Within the walls, sheltered from the outside. (Interior, inside).
- Estelir (verb.): Moving forward one foot at a time, as a journey of a thousand miles begins. (Step).
- Estlar (verb.): To place carefully, positioning with intentional precision. (Set).
- Estlumor (verb.): To bring together into a single entity, creating harmony from diversity. (Unify).
- Estopenzia (n.): The part that's left after most is taken or used, often the best or the least. (Remainder, remains).
- Estrilicnuco (n.): The surrounding conditions that affect life, ideally cherished and preserved. (Environment).
- Estriredoma (adj.): Stronger together, like a tightly knit team. (United, together as one).
- Esiesice (n.): The precise meaning of a word, or the clarity of an image. (Definition).
- Esiesir (verb.): To explain the meaning clearly, delineating boundaries with precise words. (Define).
- Esir (verb.): To exist within the universe's vast tapestry, woven of stardust and time. (Be).
- Esirumo (adj.): Right here, right now. (Present, current).
- Esirumoi (adv.): The moment that's almost now but not quite yet. (Presently).
- Esija (n.): The art form that combines sound and silence to stir emotions and fill dance floors. (Music).
- Esijal (n.): The talented individual who creates, performs, and lives for music. (Musician).
- Esipi (n.): The competitive event where champions are crowned and dreams are dashed. (Tournament).

- Esifeeca (n.): The process of following in order, often involving thrones, businesses, or tv series. (Succession).
- Esifeer (verb.): To achieve desired results, reaching goals through effort. (Succeed).
- Esifeeral (n.): The person who takes over the reins, hoping to fill big shoes or fix past mistakes. (Successor).
- Esol (pron.): The certain someone who's always around when things get interesting. (Somebody, someone).
- Esolas (n.): The trader who buys and sells goods, hoping for profit and happy customers. (Merchant).
- Esouro (n.): The force that keeps things moving forward, whether it's a ball or a project. (Momentum).
- Esofo (n.): The dark half of the day, filled with stars, dreams, and mysteries. (Night).
- Esuf (n.): The systematic collection of data, opinions, or land measurements. (Survey).
- Esuvumo (adj.): Draws you in, hard to resist. (Magnetic, attractively compelling).
- Esutlal (n.): The pool of money set aside for specific purposes, ideally growing. (Fund).
- Ela (n.): The actions and reactions that define how you interact with the world. (Behavior).
- Elais (n.): The vast, salty expanse that invites exploration, fear, and awe. (Sea).
- Elasoler (verb.): To make less in size or amount, reducing gradually. (Decrease).
- Elarulanir (verb.): To turn into ice or stop suddenly, halting movement and time. (Freeze).
- Elajoma (adj.): Feebler than a wet noodle. (Weak, lacking strength).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Elaponta (n.): The vulnerability that reminds you of your humanity and need for chocolate. (Weakness).
- Elec (n.): The garments that cover your body and express your style. (Clothing).
- Elefoni (n.): The ever-changing force that keeps things lively and unpredictable. (Dynamic).
- Elefopime (adj.): Full of life, like a bustling marketplace. (Dynamic, energetically active).
- Elevir (verb.): To lift or move to a higher position, increasing in level or status. (Raise).
- Elema (adj.): Content as a cat in a sunbeam. (Pleased, satisfied).
- Elenca (n.): The delightful sensation that makes life sweet, from desserts to sunsets. (Pleasure).
- Elenta (adj.): Gentle as a spring breeze. (Pleasant, agreeably nice).
- Êlesil (pron.): The comprehensive collection of all things, often too much to handle. (Everything).
- Elel (n.): The forebear who lived long ago, contributing to your genetic and cultural heritage. (Ancestor).
- Eler (verb.): To make someone happy or satisfied, bringing joy with thoughtful actions. (Please).
- Elini (adv.): The short and sweet way to handle things, leaving no time for nonsense. (Briefly).
- Eliha (n.): The outdoor adventure of tents, fires, and possibly too many bugs. (Camp).
- Elihovla (n.): The unwanted byproducts of progress, clouding air, water, and conscience. (Pollution).
- Elo (n.): The sweet, juicy treat that's both healthy and delicious, if you avoid the seeds. (Fruit).

- Elob (n.): The vertical rod or the points where the earth's magnetic field gets interesting. (Pole).
- Eloc (n.): The part of a whole, whether it's a puzzle, pie, or peace of mind. (Piece).
- Eloflig (n.): The ranked structure that organizes society, companies, or ant colonies. (Hierarchy).
- Elop (n.): The narrow path or road, ideal for racing or leisurely strolls. (Lane).
- Elon (n.): The woman who nurtures, scolds, and loves you unconditionally. (Mom).
- Eloji (n.): The appendage that allows flight, or the part of a building that's quieter. (Wing).
- Elofoma (adj.): Out of place, like a tuxedo at the beach. (Inappropriate, unsuitable).
- Eluap (n.): The pursuit of game, bargains, or lost car keys. (Hunting).
- Eluci (adv.): The formal way to mark time, often reminding you you're late. (O'clock).
- Elumo (adj.): Twists and turns, like a winding path. (Indirect, not straightforward).
- Elunaco (n.): The specific place you hold, whether in line, in a company, or in bed. (Position).
- Elunar (verb.): To place something in a specific location, setting it precisely where needed. (Position).
- Elus (n.): The fine, dry substance that's either cosmetic, explosive, or culinary. (Powder).
- Eluse (n.): The spherical object used in sports, play, and occasionally decorating christmas trees. (Ball).
- Eluseca (n.): The art of reaching an agreement through discussion, compromise, and occasionally threats. (Negotiation).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Eluser (verb.): To discuss terms with skill and diplomacy, striking deals in the delicate dance of compromise. (Negotiate).
- Elusime (adj.): Every detail accounted for, no stone unturned. (Thorough, meticulously complete).
- Elusi (n.): The reduced price that makes shopping feel like winning. (Discount).
- Eoma (adj.): Handy as a swiss army knife. (Useful, practical).
- Eoniseer (verb.): To dive or thrust deeply, immersing oneself completely. (Plunge).
- Eolas (n.): The building where history, art, and curiosity are preserved and displayed. (Museum).
- Eor (verb.): To twist or turn in a spiral path, moving with the grace of a leaf caught in a gentle breeze. (Wind).
- Eoru (n.): The graphical representation of data, making numbers visually interesting. (Chart).
- Eojovrulud (n.): The man-made object orbiting earth, providing data, tv, and gps frustration. (Satellite).
- Erad (n.): The organized activity of making, buying, and selling goods or services. (Business).
- Eraflumo (adj.): Balances the scales, like lady justice herself. (Just, fair).
- Eraplo (n.): The event where bidders battle for treasures, armed with paddles and deep pockets. (Auction).
- Erapret (n.): The tiny coin that proves every little bit counts. (Cent).
- Eravla (n.): The designated area within a city, often with its own unique flavor. (District).
- Erata (n.): The unfair treatment based on differences, ideally eradicated. (Discrimination).
- Erate (n.): The law enforcers who patrol streets and solve mysteries, ideally without donuts. (Police).

- Erai (adv.): The way to detail things so precisely that there's no room for confusion, except there usually is. (Specifically).
- Eraib (n.): The distinctive sign that says, "this is ours, hands off!" . (Trademark).
- Eraimdlo (n.): The rogue cell party that crashes the body, unwelcome and persistent. (Cancer).
- Eranu (n.): The two-wheeled wonder that brings freedom, exercise, and the occasional scraped knee. (Bike).
- Eralauro (n.): The social gathering where fun is had and, occasionally, lampshades are worn as hats. (Party).
- Erao (n.): The valuable supply of something useful, often hoarded like a dragon's treasure. (Resource).
- Eraoplü (n.): The strong metal that builds skyscrapers, bridges, and occasionally, heroes. (Steel).
- Eraot (n.): The ever-changing atmospheric mood that decides your plans for the day. (Weather).
- Eraorahuul (n.): The fragile sphere of air or the brief period of inflated success. (Bubble).
- Eraorosi (adv.): The way to describe what happens next, ideally after a happy ending. (Thereafter).
- Eraosaepi (adv.): The balanced way to approach things, avoiding extremes. (Reasonably).
- Erare (n.): The useful service that keeps your lights on, water running, and internet streaming. (Utility).
- Eraro (n.): The deep hole in the ground or the stone inside your favorite fruit. (Pit).
- Eraja (n.): The unit of weight, currency, or the force of a heavy blow. (Pound).
- Erajema (adj.): More yawn-inducing than a snail race. (Boring, dull).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Erfe (n.): The state of being average and unremarkable, often sought and sometimes dreaded. (Normal).
- Erfema (adj.): Just another day in the life, nothing out of the ordinary. (Normal, usual).
- Ereadlem (n.): The person who acts unwisely, often providing entertainment for the rest. (Fool).
- Eregin (n.): The ground-shaking event that reminds you of nature's power and your fragility. (Earthquake).
- Erempuloor (verb.): To deceive or be disloyal, breaking trust or confidence. (Betray).
- Eresa (pron.): The satisfactory amount that tells you to stop, even if you're not sure you want to. (Enough).
- Eresai (adv.): The sufficient amount that's surprisingly hard to define. (Enough).
- Erelahu (n.): The tactile experience that gives you physical and emotional feedback. (Feel).
- Erelor (verb.): To amend errors with precision and care, like a gardener pruning away dead branches to encourage new growth. (Correct).
- Eresor (verb.): Expressing objection or disapproval, standing up against injustice. (Protest).
- Ereru (n.): The device that ticks away time, reminding you of schedules and deadlines. (Clock).
- Ereji (n.): The part of your hand for holding, high-fiving, or reading fortunes. (Palm).
- Ervir (verb.): To attend to or provide for, fulfilling roles with dedication and care. (Serve).
- Ervirel (n.): The person who works for others, often with loyalty and minimal thanks. (Servant).
- Eriamo (adj.): What's yours is mine, and vice versa. (Mutual, shared).

- Erianu (n.): The colorful cloth that represents nations, causes, or pirate ships. (Flag).
- Eriara (n.): The most recent addition to your collection of must-know things. (Latest).
- Eriaramo (adj.): Fresh off the press, brand new. (Latest, most recent).
- Eribur (verb.): To vanish from sight, fading into the unseen like a wisp of smoke. (Disappear).
- Ericliv (n.): The special event that calls for celebration, reflection, or both. (Occasion).
- Ericloin (n.): The special right or advantage enjoyed by a lucky few. (Privilege).
- Eridaime (adj.): Nothing to do, time dragging on. (Bored, uninterested).
- Eridif (n.): The outer garment that keeps you warm, stylish, and occasionally dry. (Jacket).
- Eridoumi (adv.): The intense way things go wrong, often involving scowls. (Severely).
- Eridrosfrumo (adj.): All about the house and family life. (Domestic, home-related).
- Erifren (n.): The aggressive attack, physical or verbal, ideally avoided. (Assault).
- Erigle (n.): The moral wrongdoing that keeps philosophers and clergy in business. (Sin).
- Erigreflatsema (adj.): Pairs perfectly, like socks from the same set. (Matching, coordinated).
- Erimas (n.): The chaotic protest that often turns violent and catches everyone's attention. (Riot).
- Erimeme (adj.): A climb that takes your breath away. (Steep, sharp-angled).
- Erimi (adv.): The way to highlight something important, or at least interesting. (Notably).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Erimoma (adj.): You see it coming, like the sunrise. (Predictable, expected).
- Erinodlel (n.): The science of life, where cells, genes, and ecosystems come alive. (Biology).
- Erinodlelumo (adj.): All about the living, from cells to ecosystems. (Biological, life-related).
- Erinui (adv.): The scope that encompasses the globe, impressive but daunting. (Worldwide).
- Erinumo (adj.): Spanning the globe, everywhere you look. (Worldwide, global).
- Erisime (adj.): Genuine article, no fake here. (Real, authentic).
- Erilu (n.): The charge for a service, often begrudgingly paid. (Fee).
- Erir (verb.): To clean or smooth with light strokes, often with a tool or hand. (Brush).
- Eiririno (n.): The final resting place, often marked by a stone and memories. (Grave).
- Eriu (n.): The innate drive that guides your actions without overthinking. (Instinct).
- Eriufosuas (n.): The state something's in, whether good, bad, or somewhere in between. (Condition).
- Eriunbe (n.): The process of rebuilding what was broken, ideally better than before. (Reconstruction).
- Erogo (n.): The friend who's always there for fun, support, and bad ideas. (Buddy).
- Eronipoir (verb.): To incline or slant, forming an angle with the horizontal. (Slope).
- Erol (n.): The individual object, often part of a list or collection. (Item).
- Eroloja (n.): The length of time something lasts, from a song to a lifetime. (Duration).

- Eroregi (adv.): The speed at which you wish everything would get done. (Quickly).
- Erojime (adj.): Always ready for the next game. (Sporting, athletic).
- Eropabrumo (adj.): Eyes wide, mouth agape. (Surprised, caught off guard).
- Erofa (n.): The large vehicle that transports you and a bunch of strangers across town. (Bus).
- Eru (n.): The powerful emotion that inspires songs, poems, and occasionally bad decisions. (Love).
- Erub (n.): The culinary artist who transforms ingredients into masterpieces. (Chef).
- Eruice (n.): The decrease in size, number, or price, hopefully making things more manageable. (Reduction).
- Eruir (verb.): Making smaller in size or quantity, minimizing impact. (Reduce).
- Erum (n.): The small pamphlet that informs, advertises, or clutters your mailbox. (Leaflet).
- Erunto (adj.): Not a piece missing, all in one. (Complete, whole).
- Erupoi (adv.): The total way to finish things, leaving no loose ends. (Completely).
- Ehaprecoc (n.): The tragic event of large-scale violence, leaving a dark mark on history. (Massacre).
- Ehaop (n.): The close examination that leaves no stone unturned, often revealing flaws. (Scrutiny).
- Ehara (n.): The system of rules that governs society, ideally fairly and justly. (Law).
- Eharal (n.): The professional who navigates the law, sometimes finding loopholes. (Lawyer).
- Eharija (n.): The legal battle that settles disputes or fuels dramas. (Lawsuit).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ehesasumo (adj.): Solid and unshakeable, like a rock in a storm. (Stable, firmly steady).
- Ehesiprit (n.): The shiny disc that holds movies, music, or data, and scratches too easily. (DVD).
- Ehi (n.): The change in position, perspective, or work hours. (Shift).
- Ehiflasohulo (n.): The sport of hits, runs, and catching foul balls. (Baseball).
- Ehigu (n.): The medical verdict that explains symptoms and opens the door to treatment. (Diagnosis).
- Ehivlutir (verb.): To represent in physical form, personifying concepts or qualities. (Embody).
- Ehiidnu (n.): The flat surface for lounging, dealing cards, or stacking ships. (Deck).
- Eholben (n.): The pastime of buying things, ideally on sale and needed. (Shopping).
- Ehoeſa (n.): The place where trains stop, news broadcasts, or police handle paperwork. (Station).
- Eho (n.): The magical incantation that changes reality or a period of time you can't recall. (Spell).
- Eholuo (n.): The person who provides live analysis, often interrupting your sports enjoyment. (Commentator).
- Ehuil (n.): The brief message or the musical sound that lingers in your mind. (Note).
- Ehunemiir (verb.): To gaze intently with unwavering focus, as if peering into the depths of the soul. (Stare).
- Ehuur (verb.): Deceiving with cunning, pulling off a clever ruse. (Trick).
- Euri (adv.): The way to introduce specifics, in case you were wondering. (Namely).
- Euſa (n.): The eye-catching title that makes you read the article, or just the first paragraph. (Headline).

- Ejaasupu (n.): The location where you live or the speech you give, hopefully both clear and memorable. (Address).
- Ejadlalur (verb.): Like the phoenix from its ashes, to ascend anew and reach for the heights once more. (Rise).
- Ejailema (adj.): Just enough to raise an eyebrow. (Annoyed, slightly irritated).
- Ejame (adj.): As natural as a tree's limb. (Wooden, made of wood).
- Ejear (verb.): To discover or locate, unearthing hidden treasures with keen insight. (Find).
- Ejeca (n.): The public vote on a specific issue, often stirring passionate debate. (Referendum).
- Ejefril (n.): The violent act that leaves scars on body and soul, demanding justice and healing. (Rape).
- Ejeonta (n.): The platform for performance, speeches, or life's grand drama. (Stage).
- Ejeor (verb.): To set up or present, like a playwright arranges scenes in a play, each act designed to unfold a part of the greater narrative. (Stage).
- Ejil (n.): The city that's the seat of government or the money you invest in dreams. (Capital).
- Ejilema (adj.): All about the bottom line, like a stock ticker. (Capitalist, profit-oriented).
- Ejio (n.): The small, round currency that jingles in your pocket and vending machines. (Coin).
- Ejionta (n.): The economic system where market forces reign, ideally benefiting innovation. (Capitalism).
- Ejoarali (adv.): The thorough way of doing things, often exhausting but rewarding. (Extensively).
- Ejovoi (adv.): The result of actions, usually what you didn't see coming. (Consequently).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ejoim (n.): The elemental blaze that warms, cooks, and sometimes consumes. (Fire).
- Ejoisiem (n.): The financial safety net you hope to never need but are glad to have. (Insurance).
- Ejoir (verb.): Making surfaces even, ensuring a foundation that is perfectly flat. (Level).
- Ejoiro (n.): The woman who's lost her spouse, carrying memories and finding new strength. (Widow).
- Ejoma (adj.): Off the mark, like yesterday's news. (Irrelevant, unimportant).
- Ejosi (n.): The science of eating well, balancing taste and health. (Nutrition).
- Ejoo (n.): The place where wrongdoers are kept, hopefully learning lessons. (Jail).
- Ejoogijime (adj.): Cozy as a winter's fire. (Warm, comfortably hot).
- Ejoosamo (adj.): Structured and designed, like a blueprint come to life. (Architectural, building-related).
- Enapige (n.): The act of holding back, whether it's your temper or your dog on a leash. (Restraint).
- Ene (n.): The planned occasion that brings people together, often requiring rsvps and name tags. (Event).
- Eneipeon (verb.): Urging forward as the moon coaxes the tide. (Push).
- Eniplen (n.): The generous soul who gives money, blood, or organs to help others. (Donor).
- Epiiheroor (verb.): To originate from, the source from which everything flows. (Stem).
- Ejioro (n.): The lasting impact you leave behind, ideally remembered fondly. (Legacy).

- Ejiru (n.): The tall structure that reaches for the sky, providing views and vertigo. (Tower).
- Epiule (n.): The significance of something, often pondered and occasionally found. (Meaning).
- Enopliduhei (adv.): The way to do things just well enough to avoid complaints. (Adequately).
- Enoi (adv.): The adverb that tells you what happened next, whether you care or not. (Subsequently).
- Epolo (n.): The creative visionary who brings stories to the big screen. (Film-maker).
- Epolac (n.): The earthy substance that grounds you and messes up your shoes. (Dirt).
- Epolupru (n.): The foundational idea that sets the stage for stories, arguments, or buildings. (Premise).
- Epolutlamora (n.): The joyful noise that escapes when something tickles your funny bone. (Laugh).
- Epolume (adj.): Packs a punch, strong as a bear. (Powerful, full of strength).
- Epolumo (adj.): As transparent as a clean window. (Clear, easy to understand).
- Epolusogri (n.): The defined area that's claimed, defended, and occasionally disputed. (Territory).
- Epoluuro (n.): The person who defies authority, often starting revolutions or at least loud protests. (Rebel).
- Epsaar (verb.): To be obliged by necessity, driven by circumstance to action. (Haveto).
- Epsapi (adv.): The speed that's thrilling, until you hit a bump. (Fast).
- Esapime (adj.): Speedy as a cheetah on the chase. (Fast, quick).
- Epsatlusde (n.): The starting point of something new, filled with promise and potential. (Beginning).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Efair (verb.): To strike with an open hand, delivering a sharp, stinging blow. (Slap).
- Efeflui (adv.): The handy way to add more to a list that's already too long. (Also).
- Efetrame (adj.): Built like a tank, ready to endure. (Robust, strong).
- Efeir (verb.): To identify or acknowledge someone or something, connecting memories and perceptions with clarity. (Recognize).
- Efeiren (n.): The acknowledgment of achievement, usually accompanied by applause or a plaque. (Recognition).
- Efia (n.): The elected official who represents your interests and debates policy. (Councillor).
- Efi (n.): The unlawful act of taking a life, resulting in a mystery or a manhunt. (Murder).
- Efiecro (n.): The amphibian that hops, croaks, and occasionally gets kissed in fairy tales. (Frog).
- Efiime (adj.): No give, stands its ground. (Firm, solid).
- Efjil (n.): The company that provides services or goods, often run by a tight-knit team. (Company, firm).
- Efjuba (n.): The attire that transforms you into someone else for a night or a role. (Costume).
- Efjor (verb.): To fail to hit, reach, or encounter, feeling the absence of. (Miss).
- Efjolo (n.): The governing body that makes decisions, ideally for the common good. (Council).
- Efjoraur (verb.): To lose memories to the sands of time, allowing details to fade into oblivion. (Forget).
- Efjuar (verb.): To officially prohibit, disallowing activities or behaviors. (Ban).

- Eſufrur (verb.): To reduce to the smallest possible amount, shrinking issues down to manageable sizes. (Minimize).
- Eſuma (adj.): Cream of the crop, nothing better. (Best, top-notch).
- Eſumat (n.): The top quality or performance, ideally always achieved but rarely surpassed. (Best).
- Eſumai (adv.): The superlative that's hard to argue with, except when it isn't. (Best).
- Eſulaili (adv.): The significant way to describe something with weight and importance. (Substantially).
- Eſule (n.): The substance from which things are made, ranging from fabric to facts. (Material).
- Eſulema (adj.): Tangible and real, like wood and stone. (Material, physical).

G

- Gafri (n.): The intense dislike that burns bright and darkens judgment. (Hatred).
- Gaep (n.): The lack of sufficient supply, leading to rationing, worry, or ingenuity. (Shortage).
- Gaplevab (n.): The second-in-command who steps up when the boss is away. (Deputy).
- Gavlul (n.): The outlook or posture that defines your approach to life's challenges. (Attitude).
- Gangara (n.): The great deal that feels like a win, even if you didn't need it. (Bargain).
- Galar (verb.): To measure the heaviness or importance of something, balancing factors with careful consideration. (Weigh).
- Gafsi (exclam.): The polite request that softens demands and occasionally gets results. (Please).
- Gean (n.): The advertisement that tries to convince you to buy, watch, or believe something. (Ad).
- Gecluro (n.): The legislative body that debates, decides, and sometimes dithers. (Senate).
- Geeficrem (n.): The system of communication that allows humans to share thoughts, ideas, and recipes. (Language).
- Gega (n.): The heavy load you carry, whether literal, emotional, or financial. (Burden).
- Gei (n.): The ruling government, often viewed critically or nostalgically. (Regime).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Gele (n.): The compassionate act of leniency, ideally shown in moments of power. (Mercy).
- Geroufir (verb.): To consume with fire, transforming to ash with a blaze of heat. (Burn).
- Geuhi (n.): The assignment of responsibility for a fault or wrong, often disputed. (Blame).
- Gidace (n.): The quality of guiding others towards a goal, hopefully with wisdom and integrity. (Leadership).
- Gidage (n.): The element, the action of guiding, or the role of the protagonist. (Lead).
- Gidante (adj.): At the front of the pack, setting the pace. (Leading, top-ranked).
- Gidar (verb.): To guide others with vision and confidence, forging paths through uncharted territories. (Lead).
- Gidarel (n.): The person at the helm, steering the course, ideally with vision and courage. (Leader).
- Gifuvril (n.): The civilian army ready to defend, often with varying levels of training. (Militia).
- Gier (verb.): To incite or stir up, lighting fires in hearts or minds that smolder with potential. (Provoke).
- Giplee (n.): The outcome of actions, experiments, or tests, hopefully favorable. (Result).
- Gipleer (verb.): To occur as an outcome, emerging from preceding events or actions. (Result).
- Gitiguco (n.): The positive change that makes things better, often through hard work. (Improvement).
- Gitigur (verb.): To make better with careful tweaks, refining rough edges until they shine like polished gems. (Improve).
- Gitlapi (n.): The visual representation that captures a moment, person, or idea. (Image).

- Giime (adj.): Numbers are its best friends. (Statistical, data-driven).
- Gimo (n.): The existence of life, sentience, and occasionally pondering deep questions. (Being).
- Gira (n.): The large unit of liquid measure, often used for milk, gas, or tears. (Gallon).
- Giuco (n.): The change that helps you fit new circumstances, ideally thriving. (Adaptation).
- Giur (verb.): To adjust to new conditions, evolving with the fluidity of water finding its path. (Adapt).
- Gla (n.): The reigning female monarch, ruling with grace, power, or an iron fist. (Queen).
- Glaalihe (n.): The start of the day, filled with potential and the smell of coffee. (Morning).
- Glaalomoma (adj.): Manners smoother than a silk handshake. (Polite, courteous).
- Glaalomora (n.): The official representative who bridges nations, cultures, or companies. (Ambassador).
- Glaar (verb.): To raise to a higher position, elevating with strength and grace. (Lift).
- Glabar (verb.): To call upon with reverence or need, summoning forces seen and unseen to aid your cause. (Invoke).
- Glablabl (n.): The alliance of parties for a common goal, ideally stronger together. (Coalition).
- Glacir (verb.): To cover a wide area or scope, exploring or operating within expansive bounds. (Range).
- Glafsoma (adj.): The just-in-case, always there when needed. (Spare, extra).
- Glapapieca (n.): The act of keeping safe, whether from harm, loss, or bad decisions. (Protection).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Glapapiega (adj.): Shields you from harm like a knight's armor. (Protective, safeguarding).
- Glapapier (verb.): To shield from harm, standing guard with unwavering vigilance. (Protect).
- Glav (n.): The young human who's full of energy, curiosity, and sticky fingers. (Kid).
- Glatmevle (n.): The structure or layout that organizes information, ideally clearly. (Format).
- Blair (verb.): To influence and shape, leaving an indelible mark on the world. (Affect).
- Glamarime (adj.): Hitting goals like a pro archer. (Successful, achieving).
- Glasar (verb.): To grant the freedom to act within bounds, like a bird released from its cage to fly the open skies, yet always knowing the safety of its home. (License).
- Glali (adv.): The direction to move when you need a break, or are just avoiding something. (Away).
- Glalosuji (n.): The garment that's versatile, stylish, and occasionally problematic in the wind. (Skirt).
- Glalutnu (n.): The brief note that communicates essential information, often ignored. (Memo).
- Glalulerija (n.): The loan that lets you buy a home, binding you to monthly payments. (Mortgage).
- Glaoro (n.): The answer to a problem, ideally simple and effective. (Solution).
- Glaraahoaje (n.): The unwanted intrusion that disrupts signals, plans, or peace. (Interference).
- Glarair (verb.): To see the beauty in the smallest of details, savoring moments like fine wine, each sip a revelation. (Appreciate).
- Glaramo (adj.): Between gigs, but always hopeful. (Unemployed, jobless).

- Glaruter (verb.): To aim at a specific goal, focusing efforts with pinpoint accuracy. (Target).
- Glaupor (verb.): To warn or make aware, as a siren calls out impending danger, urging all to heed its cry. (Alert).
- Gleal (n.): The solid piece of material, the chunk of time, or the obstruction in your path. (Block).
- Glecen (n.): The thing that gets top billing on your to-do list, ideally tackled first. (Priority).
- Glecum (verb.): To heat up or bring comfort, like a fire in a cold room. (Warm).
- Glefalumo (adj.): Laid-back, like a hammock on a sunny day. (Casual, relaxed).
- Glege (n.): The gift or contribution, often given in hopes of something in return. (Offering).
- Glegor (verb.): To make a solemn promise, binding words with the weight of honor. (Swear).
- Glegromoga (adj.): Marches to its own drumbeat. (Different, not the same).
- Glegromor (verb.): To stand apart in contrast, embracing uniqueness in a world of conformity. (Differ).
- Glepsahuflumo (adj.): Fits just right, like a glove made for your hand. (Appropriate, suitable).
- Gleplud (n.): The staple food that's versatile, comforting, and best with butter. (Bread).
- Gleprolur (verb.): To apply pressure until the universe bends to your will, like a stubborn blacksmith hammering reality into shape. (Force).
- Gletufaci (n.): The layer of gases surrounding earth or the mood of a place. (Atmosphere).
- Gleisera (n.): The mistake or the geological fracture that shifts the ground beneath you. (Fault).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Glema (adj.): Faces danger with a steady heart. (Brave, courageous).
- Glemer (verb.): To command authoritatively, directing actions with firm resolve. (Dictate).
- Glemeral (n.): The absolute ruler who commands with an iron fist, often uninvited. (Dictator).
- Glesag (n.): The connected system that supports communication, computers, or people. (Network).
- Glesar (verb.): To send through postal service, dispatching messages or parcels. (Mail).
- Glese (n.): The essential liquid that sustains life, cleanses, and makes rain possible. (Water).
- Gleser (verb.): To sprinkle or pour water onto, nurturing growth with liquid life. (Water).
- Glêsico (n.): The quest for information, objects, or meaning, ideally successful. (Search).
- Glesir (verb.): Seeking as a detective follows clues, each discovery a step closer. (Search).
- Glela (n.): The married woman who's your partner, friend, and occasional debate opponent. (Wife).
- Gleloglen (n.): The period of time you spend in anticipation, often longer than expected. (Wait).
- Gleunto (n.): The visual image that captures a moment, often worth a thousand words. (Picture).
- Gleur (verb.): To create an image with visual details, as an artist paints a scene on canvas, capturing moments in vibrant hues. (Picture).
- Gliaro (n.): The functional pieces that fill your home, ideally comfortable and stylish. (Furniture).
- Glice (n.): The detailed inspection or test that measures knowledge, health, or skills. (Examination).

- Glider (verb.): To bring new faces or ideas into the fold with a grand flourish, heralding fresh beginnings. (Introduce).
- Glideren (n.): The formal beginning or presentation of someone or something new. (Introduction).
- Glidir (verb.): To raise and lower shoulders, a gesture of indifference or uncertainty. (Shrug).
- Glidihoora (n.): The extra reward that makes hard work worth it, often in cash. (Bonus).
- Glidogurime (adj.): Gets straight to the point, no beating around the bush. (Pointed, sharp).
- Glier (verb.): To engage with others, exchanging actions and reactions. (Interact).
- Gligofune (n.): The sweet treat that tempts your taste buds and dentists' warnings. (Candy).
- Gliproma (adj.): Sends shivers down your spine. (Scary, frightening).
- Glindema (adj.): Stretches out like an open prairie. (Wide, broad).
- Glinvlas (n.): The device that turns things on or off, or the change from one thing to another. (Switch).
- Glisaco (n.): The act of legally taking another's child as your own or accepting a new idea. (Adoption).
- Glisar (verb.): To take up or start to use, embracing new methods or practices. (Adopt).
- Glisos (n.): The distinct being or organization that exists independently. (Entity).
- Glisor (verb.): To increase speed swiftly, propelling forward with the force of a rocket. (Accelerate).
- Glilime (adj.): Like two peas in a pod. (Similar, alike).
- Glilinte (n.): The shared traits that make things alike, often leading to confusion or camaraderie. (Similarity).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Glir (verb.): To inspect with detail, as an artist reviews each stroke after painting, ensuring every line contributes to the whole. (Examine).
- Gliral (n.): The alphabetical list that helps you find information quickly, ideally. (Index).
- Gloaco (n.): The way you see and understand the world, often subjective. (Perception).
- Gloar (verb.): To become aware through the senses, discerning details that others might miss. (Perceive).
- Glocroli (adv.): The direction that suggests improvement, or at least elevation. (Upward).
- Glodelosar (verb.): To pull attention away, scattering focus like leaves in a brisk autumn wind. (Distract).
- Glog (n.): The brief burst of light or a quick moment that catches attention. (Flash).
- Gloprema (adj.): Clear as day, no mystery here. (Apparent, obvious).
- Glotmiusi (n.): The target you set for yourself, whether in archery or life goals. (Aim).
- Glome (adj.): Jumps at shadows, nerves on edge. (Scared, fearful).
- Glomer (verb.): To pledge with unwavering resolve, as an oath sworn under the sacred moonlight. (Vow).
- Glomur (verb.): To add up to a total, the sum of parts weaving together a tapestry of quantity. (Amount).
- Glonbro (n.): The punishment for breaking rules, whether in sports or life. (Penalty).
- Glonus (n.): The administrative division within a country, often with local flavor. (Province).
- Glosaro (n.): The physical structure that carries your mind, soul, and occasional extra weight. (Body).

- Glosfo (n.): The journey you take, often with excitement, mishaps, and memories. (Trip).
- Glosgloran (n.): The worry or interest in something, ideally leading to action. (Concern).
- Glol (n.): The scattered trash that mars landscapes or the group of kittens born together. (Litter).
- Gloler (verb.): To move through water with ease, propelling oneself in a fluid dance. (Swim).
- Gloleril (n.): The activity of moving through water, ideally without sinking. (Swim).
- Gloloma (adj.): As exotic as spices from distant lands. (Foreign, from abroad).
- Glorarara (n.): The implement that makes tasks easier, whether physical or digital. (Tool).
- Glorun (n.): The secret plot that thrills, chills, and makes you question reality. (Conspiracy).
- Glounto (n.): The measure of time you've been around, celebrated yearly with cake and candles. (Age).
- Glour (verb.): To grow older, experiencing the passage of time. (Age).
- Gluace (n.): The process of spreading things out, whether goods, wealth, or rumors. (Distribution).
- Gluar (verb.): To allocate or spread, ensuring resources reach all corners of need. (Distribute).
- Gluajae (n.): The temporary home for travelers, offering beds, breakfasts, and sometimes bedbugs. (Hotel).
- Gluajaan (n.): The proposal to give, sell, or help, often with strings attached. (Offer).
- Glubese (n.): The arrangement of lights to enhance visibility, mood, or dramatic effect. (Lighting).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Gludin (n.): The set of symptoms that point to a specific condition, often baffling doctors. (Syndrome).
- Glugmo (adj.): No doubt about it, rock solid. (Definite, certain).
- Gluvic (n.): The fast aircraft or the stream of liquid that shoots out forcefully. (Jet).
- Glutar (verb.): To devise a strategy or course of action, laying out steps towards a desired goal. (Plan).
- Glui (adv.): The act of doing multiple things at once, often badly. (Simultaneously).
- Glumo (n.): The long, thin mark or the queue you wait in, ideally moving steadily. (Line).
- Glumor (verb.): To heat a liquid until it bubbles and vaporizes, reaching its boiling point. (Boil).
- Glunojolu (n.): The document outlining your final wishes or the determination to succeed. (Will).
- Glus (n.): The underground part of a plant or the fundamental cause of a problem. (Root).
- Glusahu (n.): The sense that detects odors, often evoking memories or alerting you to danger. (Smell).
- Glusdro (n.): The unconventional fighter who uses surprise and mobility, often in rugged terrain. (Guerrilla).
- Glusplib (n.): The place where freedom is taken away, ideally rehabilitating offenders. (Prison).
- Gluler (verb.): To frequent or inhabit, often with a lingering presence that evokes the past. (Haunt).
- Glulool (n.): The broad smile that shows joy, mischief, or too much caffeine. (Grin).
- Glur (verb.): To mark with a continuous stroke, drawing boundaries with a steady hand. (Line).

- Glufur (verb.): To sway gently or vigorously, calming or rousing with rhythmic motion. (Rock).
- Goar (verb.): To discard abruptly and carelessly, as one throws remnants into a bin, leaving behind the unwanted, freeing space anew. (Dump).
- Godlis (n.): The place of eternal bliss, often depicted with clouds and harps. (Heaven).
- Goiv (n.): The private room where you sleep, dream, and occasionally hide from the world. (Bedroom).
- Goisi (adv.): The time frame that sounds romantic until you realize how long it is. (Forever).
- Goni (n.): The portable shelter for camping, adventure, or just a backyard escape. (Tent).
- Gor (verb.): To have the ability to do something, possessing the necessary skills or permission. (Can).
- Goucoju (n.): The resident of a small, rural community, often close-knit and gossipy. (Villager).
- Graburior (verb.): To split open with a resounding snap, revealing hidden depths within. (Crack).
- Grafis (n.): The written message you send or the character that builds words. (Letter).
- Graef (n.): The tumultuous weather event that brings rain, wind, and the occasional rainbow. (Storm).
- Graem (n.): The physical money you spend, often disappearing faster than it appears. (Cash).
- Gragehei (n.): The religious devotee who leads a life of contemplation, simplicity, and often silence. (Monk).
- Gran (n.): The location for events, whether concerts, weddings, or secret meetings. (Venue).
- Granag (n.): The reservation made for travel, accommodation, or dinner, ideally confirmed. (Booking).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Granago (adj.): Ready to guard at a moment's notice. (Defensive, protective).
- Granar (verb.): To protect or support, shielding from harm or attack. (Defend).
- Granarol (n.): The protector who stands against threats, whether in court or on the battlefield. (Defender).
- Granem (n.): The outer garment that keeps you warm and stylish, often with pockets. (Coat).
- Granenun (n.): The person who leads meetings, boards, or organizations, ideally with wisdom. (Chairman).
- Gral (n.): The state of suffering or trouble that cries out for help. (Distress).
- Gralajo (n.): The repeating sequence or the bike you ride, often in circles. (Cycle).
- Graliace (n.): The recorded film that captures events, memories, or evidence. (Footage).
- Gralo (n.): The foundational principle or reason for something, ideally solid and well-thought-out. (Basis).
- Gralos (n.): The live performance or the short-term job that pays the bills. (Gig).
- Gralor (verb.): To strive towards a goal with a series of planned actions, like a climber ascending a mountain, step by strategic step. (Campaign).
- Grar (verb.): To train or instruct, guiding towards improvement or success. (Coach).
- Grarame (adj.): Warm and fuzzy, like a favorite memory. (Fond, affectionate).
- Grarasen (n.): The upward movement or increase, often gradual and occasionally sudden. (Rise).
- Grarudrem (n.): The joint that connects your hand to your arm, often adorned with watches. (Wrist).

- Grauf (n.): The person fleeing danger, seeking safety and a new start. (Refugee).
- Graur (verb.): To shout loudly, projecting voice with forceful intensity. (Yell).
- Grecsoer (verb.): To maintain or support, ensuring principles or standards are kept intact. (Uphold).
- Grecoca (n.): The clash of opinions that tests relationships and sharpens minds. (Disagreement).
- Grecor (verb.): Holding a different opinion, as debates in lively discussion. (Disagree).
- Grecur (verb.): To cry out as thunder roars, commanding attention. (Shout).
- Grep (n.): The ray of light or the sturdy support in construction, both essential. (Beam).
- Greviji (n.): The backbone that supports you or the row of a book's binding. (Spine).
- Grevur (verb.): To consume liquid, quenching thirst with satisfying gulps. (Drink).
- Gretrem (n.): The grand display that captivates or the eyeglasses that help you see. (Spectacle).
- Greided (n.): The clever ruse or the magic act that surprises and delights. (Trick).
- Greiramo (adj.): Twists your thoughts into knots. (Confusing, perplexing).
- Greninor (verb.): To pursue with determined speed, racing after goals or quarry with relentless energy. (Chase).
- Grelema (adj.): Gets things done, like a bee in a garden. (Productive, fruitful).
- Grelesugo (n.): The measure of output from effort, ideally high and consistent. (Productivity).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Grelocomur (verb.): To refrain from harming, granting mercy or leniency. (Spare).
- Greor (verb.): To label or mark, identifying with a succinct sign or symbol. (Tag).
- Grerasbre (n.): The tiny human who brings joy, sleepless nights, and endless diapers. (Infant).
- Greub (n.): The liquid squeezed from fruits, best enjoyed fresh and pulpy. (Juice).
- Griamo (adj.): Leaves a mark, not the good kind. (Damaging, harmful).
- Griasuoca (n.): The guesswork about future events, often leading to investment or gossip. (Speculation).
- Griasuor (verb.): To form theories or conjectures, pondering possibilities. (Speculate).
- Grib (n.): The container for storing, shipping, or surprising. (Box).
- Gribme (adj.): On your marks, set, go! . (Ready, prepared).
- Gridro (n.): The endless circle or the repeating cycle that keeps things going. (Loop).
- Griglin (n.): The projectile that speeds towards targets, often with deadly intent. (Bullet).
- Gripar (verb.): To grasp or keep in possession, securing within one's control. (Hold).
- Gripinime (adj.): Meets the bar, maybe not higher. (Acceptable, satisfactory).
- Grivneli (adv.): The manner of doing things with eagerness, assuming you want to. (Readily).
- Grivra (n.): The device that connects you to the world, now smarter than ever. (Phone).
- Gritolur (verb.): To steer clear of dangers or pitfalls, navigating life with the cunning of a seasoned rogue. (Avoid).

- Gritrundi (n.): The significance of something, ideally recognized and respected. (Importance).
- Grimas (n.): The current state or the social standing you navigate. (Status).
- Grimcrilasema (adj.): Not too shabby, earns a polite nod. (Decent, respectable).
- Grisa (n.): The introduction to new surroundings or the direction you face. (Orientation).
- Grisfloecit (n.): The green plant part that photosynthesizes and flutters in the breeze. (Leaf).
- Grisimplom (n.): The long, narrow piece of material or land, often stretched thin. (Strip).
- Gril (n.): The violent act meant to instill fear and achieve political goals. (Terrorism).
- Griomubi (adv.): The adverb that insists on accuracy, often misused for emphasis. (Literally).
- Grir (verb.): To bring back something lost or misplaced, recovering treasures thought gone forever. (Retrieve).
- Girosumo (adj.): Unmixed, like a cliff's drop straight down. (Sheer, pure).
- Groar (verb.): To remove liquid or resources, leaving behind a state of dryness or depletion. (Drain).
- Groces (n.): The general direction of change, often dictating fashion or markets. (Trend).
- Groflu (n.): The guideline you follow or the act of governing. (Rule).
- Groepenfluli (adv.): The way you do things when all hope seems lost, often involving flailing. (Desperately).
- Gropan (n.): The compulsory contribution to government revenue, often begrudgingly paid. (Tax).
- Grotur (verb.): To chart or outline, creating a visual representation of an area. (Map).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Groma (adj.): Nothing more, nothing less. (Mere, just).
- Gromglifoc (n.): The act of conversing, ideally meaningful and engaging. (Talk).
- Gronace (n.): The activity you do for income, fulfillment, or necessity. (Work).
- Gronante (adj.): Getting the job done, no complaints. (Working, functioning).
- Gronar (verb.): To engage in labor, applying effort to accomplish tasks. (Work).
- Gronarel (n.): The person who performs tasks, contributing to the greater good. (Worker).
- Gronaril (n.): The collective group of employees driving the economy, ideally united and motivated. (Workforce).
- Gronarija (n.): The location where you perform your job, ideally conducive to productivity. (Workplace).
- Groler (verb.): To break the continuity of, inserting oneself into the flow with abruptness. (Interrupt).
- Grori (n.): The perfect standard you strive for, often unattainable but inspiring. (Ideal).
- Grorime (adj.): The gold standard, like a dream come true. (Ideal, perfect).
- Grour (verb.): To put into effect by formal decree, turning plans into reality with authoritative action. (Enact).
- Grubla (n.): The misuse of power, trust, or substances, often causing harm. (Abuse).
- Grucu (n.): The error you make, ideally learned from and not repeated. (Mistake).
- Grucur (verb.): To err with unintended consequences, a stumble on the path of learning. (Mistake).

- Grudrelir (verb.): To give up something valuable for the sake of others, offering in exchange for greater good. (Sacrifice).
- Grug (n.): The color of earth, wood, and sometimes unappealing vegetables. (Brown).
- Grugor (verb.): To glide over snow on skis, dancing with the winter wind in graceful descent. (Ski).
- Grugrera (n.): The hospital section or the person under your care. (Ward).
- Grugumo (adj.): Rich as soil, grounded in simplicity. (Brown, earthy).
- Grupalir (verb.): To shower praise with the thunderous sound of clapping hands, a chorus of approval that lifts the spirits and lights up faces with smiles. (Applaud).
- Gruvor (verb.): To rise above the details and see the broader landscape, as an eagle surveys the expanse from high above. (Overlook).
- Grunor (verb.): To equip with weapons, preparing for defense or battle. (Arm).
- Grusar (verb.): Holding firm as a tree against the gales, unyielding and strong. (Insist).
- Gruso (n.): The value of something, whether monetary, sentimental, or moral. (Worth).
- Grusoma (adj.): Priceless in its importance. (Worth, value).
- Grulumo (adj.): Stands on solid ground. (Based, founded).
- Gruor (verb.): To fill a gap or hole, sealing openings to prevent leakage or loss. (Plug).
- Guagune (n.): The eager enjoyment or interest that makes activities fun. (Enthusiasm).
- Guagupema (adj.): Jumps in with both feet, ready to go. (Enthusiastic, eagerly excited).
- Guar (verb.): Casting aside as autumn sheds leaves, preparing for renewal. (Discard).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Gudrueca (n.): The hope or ambition to achieve something great, often driving effort. (Aspiration).
- Gudruer (verb.): Dreaming ambitiously as climbers eye the peak, hearts set on heights. (Aspire).
- Gugor (verb.): To possess the potential for action, the possibility lying just beyond the horizon. (Could).
- Guvoere (n.): The thought or concept that sparks innovation, conversation, or arguments. (Idea).
- Guvrem (n.): The deep, lasting shock from an injury or emotional blow. (Trauma).
- Guvuco (n.): The anticipation of future events, often leading to joy or disappointment. (Expectation).
- Guvumo (adj.): Waited for with bated breath. (Expected, anticipated).
- Guvur (verb.): To anticipate or look forward to an event, holding hope or dread in the heart as the future unfolds. (Expect).
- Guicime (adj.): All about local charm and quirks. (Provincial, regional).
- Guil (n.): The educational session where knowledge is shared and boredom occasionally sets in. (Seminar).
- Gustrucer (verb.): To teach with clarity and authority, guiding learners with a steady hand. (Instruct).
- Gustruceral (n.): The teacher who guides, educates, and occasionally scolds. (Instructor).
- Gustruceren (n.): The detailed explanation of how to do something, ideally clear and concise. (Instruction).
- Guomtlime (adj.): Lost in a fog, unsure of the way. (Confused, bewildered).
- Guri (n.): The category of artistic work, helping you choose books, movies, or music. (Genre).
- Gujiar (verb.): To weigh actions as scales balance grains of truth. (Judge).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

P

- Paaclip (n.): The roughly 30-day period marking time. (Month).
- Paba (exclam. / n.): The casual farewell that implies you'll probably see each other again, eventually. (Bye, goodbye).
- Pacran (n.): The remarkable achievement, often daring. (Feat).
- Pacrimiji (n.): The state of disorder, ideally temporary. (Mess).
- Pafe (n.): The symbol representing something important or the celebrity worshipped. (Icon).
- Paer (verb.): To challenge or compete, striving for victory in arenas of skill and wit. (Contest).
- Papeca (n.): The act of making information available, ideally well-edited. (Publication).
- Paper (verb.): To make content available to the public, spreading ideas far and wide. (Publish).
- Paperija (n.): The industry of producing books, articles, or media. (Publishing).
- Pamalia (n.): The mix of different elements, ideally harmonious. (Blend).
- Pamo (prep.): The great interrupter, pamo steps in when there's a twist in the tale or a change in the plan. (But).
- Pamujoje (n.): The alert of potential danger, ideally heeded. (Warning).
- Panohaer (verb.): To pack items meticulously, preparing them for the grand adventure ahead. (Load).
- Pasar (verb.): To move on foot, progressing step by step. (Walk).
- Paobe (n.): The assessment or critique of something. (Review).

- Pariar (verb.): To morph into something entirely new, much like a caterpillar waking up one morning to discover it's a butterfly with a penchant for adventure. (Become).
- Pau (n.): The direction opposite forward or the act of turning back. (Reverse).
- Paufer (verb.): To bring to a current state, refreshing with the latest information or improvements. (Update).
- Pauferen (n.): The act of bringing something up to date. (Update).
- Paumo (adj.): Turns everything on its head, like looking in a mirror. (Reverse, opposite).
- Paur (verb.): Turning back as rivers reroute, seeking past paths. (Reverse).
- Pajar (verb.): To dispatch across distances, carrying messages or objects on unseen wings to destinations afar. (Send).
- Pear (verb.): Moving swiftly as a stream races downhill, urgent and unbridled. (Rush).
- Pecei (adv.): The term that downplays importance, often more than necessary. (Merely).
- Pecroma (adj.): So large, it's hard to fathom. (Immense, vast).
- Pecu (n.): The headwear for fashion, protection, or statement. (Hat).
- Peflisur (verb.): To transfer data from one system to another, acquiring digital content with ease. (Download).
- Pefrasor (verb.): To gather the bounty of fields, reaping the rewards of toil under the sun's benevolent gaze. (Harvest).
- Peice (n.): The state of being bewildered, often temporary. (Confusion).
- Peime (adj.): All about the country, under one government. (Federal, national).
- Peir (verb.): To bewilder or perplex, turning clarity into a muddled enigma. (Confuse).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Pesorir (verb.): Letting go of resentment, pardoning an offense. (Forgive).
- Peocamo (adj.): Can't do without it, like the glue holding it all together. (Integral, essential).
- Peoma (adj.): Blended together, working as one. (Integrated, combined).
- Peor (verb.): To blend components into a unified whole, weaving diverse elements into a harmonious tapestry. (Integrate).
- Peoren (n.): The process of combining parts into a whole. (Integration).
- Perar (verb.): To acquire knowledge or skills, expanding one's understanding through study and experience. (Learn).
- Pere (prep.): For the precise and the meticulous, pere tallies and measures with exactitude. (Per).
- Perecsame (adj.): A fraction, but crucial in the grand scheme. (Percent, part of a hundred).
- Perecsan (n.): The part of a hundred, often used in statistics. (Percent).
- Perecsani (adv.): The adverb that makes statistics sound more precise than they are. (Percent).
- Perepi (n.): The concentrated attention on something. (Focus).
- Pereminte (n.): The allocated amount of something, often money. (Allowance).
- Peremir (verb.): To grant permission, opening doors to possibilities with a nod of approval. (Allow).
- Peresir (verb.): To persist without interruption, maintaining momentum over time. (Continue).
- Pericra (n.): The reflective surface that shows your face or a metaphor for self-reflection. (Mirror).
- Perir (verb.): To possess knowledge, understanding truths with clarity and depth. (Know).

- Pehecelaco (n.): The resolve to achieve something, ideally unwavering. (Determination).
- Pehecelamo (adj.): Won't give up, no matter the odds. (Determined, resolute).
- Pehecelar (verb.): To decide with authority, establishing outcomes with definitive clarity. (Determine).
- Piañegor (verb.): To capture or confine in a snare, preventing escape with cunning design. (Trap).
- Pibipiante (n.): The widespread occurrence of something. (Prevalence).
- Pibijiar (verb.): Triumphing over challenges, emerging victorious. (Prevail).
- Picitom (prep.): For those spiteful moments when you succeed against all odds, picitom stands defiantly. (Despite).
- Pieca (n.): The invasion of the body by harmful organisms, ideally treated. (Infection).
- Pier (verb.): To contaminate with a harmful agent, spreading illness or corruption. (Infect).
- Pipaor (verb.): To own or hold, as a collector treasures rare artifacts, each item a jewel in the crown of their collection. (Possess).
- Piplel (n.): The residential area outside a city, ideally peaceful. (Suburb).
- Piplerusu (n.): The space for creative work or broadcasting. (Studio).
- Pivlerumar (verb.): To tend with compassion, nurturing with a heart full of kindness. (Care).
- Pitir (verb.): To emit light brightly, radiating brilliance. (Shine).
- Piupesoma (adj.): Bright and clever, like a star in the night sky. (Brilliant, shining).
- Plaaruhibo (n.): The software application that makes your phone smart. (App).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Plabonji (n.): The celestial being of goodness or the kind person in your life. (Angel).
- Placoca (n.): The thing that draws interest or the theme park ride. (Attraction).
- Placoga (adj.): Catches the eye, hard to look away. (Attractive, appealing).
- Placor (verb.): To draw in others like a magnet, or perhaps like a baker's window on a cold morning. (Attract).
- Plafen (n.): The small wooden house in the woods or on a ship. (Cabin).
- Plaer (verb.): To mix or agitate, blending elements into a dynamic motion. (Stir).
- Plagne (n.): The informal term for things, often accumulated. (Stuff).
- Plagrebar (verb.): To convince others through argument or charm, swaying minds and hearts with eloquence. (Persuade).
- Platupul (n.): The skillful handling of negotiations or the adjective for ambassadors. (Diplomatic).
- Plai (n.): He tricky part of a deal. (Catch).
- Plam (n.): The earnest request or the defendant's answer in court. (Plea).
- Plamcle (n.): The straight, thin piece of material used for fishing or guiding. (Rod).
- Planpluglumo (adj.): Damp to the bone, like after a rainstorm. (Wet, soaked).
- Plas (n.): The act of employing someone or the fee for renting something. (Hire).
- Plasec (n.): The royal daughter often found in fairy tales. (Princess).
- Plalema (adj.): All about what you see, from paintings to sunsets. (Visual, sight-based).
- Plalice (n.): The process of starting something, ideally smoothly. (Activation).

- Plalico (n.): The action or task that keeps you busy. (Activity).
- Plalime (adj.): Holds weight, changes things. (Important, significant).
- Plalir (verb.): To set into motion or make operational, turning on with a decisive action. (Activate).
- Plaralu (n.): The frozen water that cools drinks and causes slips. (Ice).
- Plariro (n.): The wooden piece used for walking, poking, or fencing. (Stick).
- Plarioicur (verb.): To map out or plan, outlining courses or strategies. (Chart).
- Ple (n.): The community or the adjective for things open to all. (Public).
- Plebonta (n.): The act of navigating a boat using wind power. (Sailing).
- Plebor (verb.): To navigate the vast seas, guiding your vessel through waves and winds, embracing the call of adventure on the open water. (Sail).
- Pleboral (n.): The person who works on boats, often adventurous. (Sailor).
- Plecanto (n.): The big jump or the sudden move forward. (Leap).
- Plefa (n.): The measure of space between two points, ideally shortened by travel. (Distance).
- Plefante (adj.): Out of reach, but not out of mind. (Distant, far away).
- Pleg (n.): The person who steals, ideally caught. (Thief).
- Plegal (n.): The land's physical features, often challenging. (Terrain).
- Plepag (n.): The prejudice for or against something, ideally recognized and managed. (Bias).
- Pleta (n.): The small device you press to operate something. (Button).
- Pletelem (n.): The duration of a person's life, ideally long and fulfilling. (Lifetime).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Pletloles (n.): The hard, solid mineral material or the unit of weight. (Stone).
- Pletoma (adj.): Solid from the cold, like a winter's pond. (Frozen, iced over).
- Plema (adj.): Open to all, shared space. (Public, communal).
- Plemcroma (adj.): Out of sight, waiting to be found. (Hidden, concealed).
- Plenci (n.): The small flow of water or the continuous flow of data. (Stream).
- Plengloma (adj.): On the outside, like a shell. (Outer, exterior).
- Plesema (adj.): Dangerous to the extreme, with fatal consequences. (Deadly, lethal).
- Plesva (n.): The numerical data that summarizes information, ideally accurately. (Statistic).
- Plesus (n.): The mistake or the deviation from accuracy, ideally corrected. (Error).
- Plel (n.): The place where planes land and take off, ideally efficiently. (Airport).
- Plelaloma (adj.): Bends gracefully, like a winding river. (Curved, not straight).
- Plelice (n.): The way you show feelings or thoughts, ideally clearly. (Expression).
- Plelir (verb.): To convey thoughts and emotions clearly and vividly. (Express).
- Plelomumo (adj.): One after the other, like dominoes in a line. (Successive, following).
- Plelor (verb.): To jump energetically, propelling oneself through the air with vigor. (Leap).
- Pleluhu (n.): The state of being widely known, ideally for good reasons. (Fame).

- Pleur (verb.): To cause anxiety or sorrow, casting a shadow over hearts with a heavy sigh. (Distress).
- Pliaramo (adj.): Easy on the touch, like a feather. (Soft, gentle).
- Plibserau (n.): The body of water for swimming or the collective resource. (Pool).
- Plicadinir (verb.): To move back and forth or up and down, creating motion that signals or expresses emotion. (Wave).
- Plicihuir (verb.): To be composed of various elements, blended together like the ingredients of a wizard's potion. (Consist).
- Plier (verb.): To throw lightly or casually, as one might toss a ball. (Toss).
- Pligrun (n.): The transmission of programs over airwaves, ideally clear and engaging. (Broadcast).
- Plivar (verb.): To inflict injury, leaving marks that speak of past battles. (Wound).
- Pline (n.): The help or assistance given, often in times of need. (Aid).
- Plinplumo (adj.): Brings a smile, like a day at the fair. (Enjoyable, fun).
- Pliniruhu (n.): The rise in prices reducing money's value, ideally controlled. (Inflation).
- Plisice (n.): The act of standing for someone or something, ideally accurately. (Representation).
- Plisige (adj. / n.): The person who acts on behalf of others, ideally responsibly. (Representative, typical).
- Plisir (verb.): To act or speak on behalf of, embodying a group or idea. (Represent).
- Plisuc (n.): The programs and operating information used by computers. (Software).
- Plilo (n.): The assortment of different things, ideally adding spice to life. (Variety).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Pilonta (n.): The confidence or guarantee that something will happen. (Assurance).
- Plilor (verb.): To give confidence as a lighthouse offers safety to ships in dark waters. (Assure).
- Plilohu (n.): The high-quality or extra cost, often for better features. (Premium).
- Plilubor (verb.): To add extra elements, enhancing completeness with additional support. (Supplement).
- Pliluboren (n.): The additional part that enhances or completes something. (Supplement).
- Plior (verb.): Exploding forth as a volcano awakens from slumber. (Blast).
- Plir (verb.): To move towards or arrive at a place, joining others or reaching a destination. (Come).
- Pliro (n.): The trousers you wear, ideally fitting well. (Pants).
- Pliroma (adj.): So big, it takes your breath away. (Tremendous, huge).
- Pliru (n.): The written piece of journalism or the item in a list. (Article).
- Pliut (n.): The passage from your mouth to your stomach, often sore. (Throat).
- Plijour (verb.): To make stronger, fortifying against challenges with added resolve. (Strengthen).
- Plijir (verb.): Observing with careful attention, as a jeweler examines a gem for flaws, each detail under scrutiny. (Notice).
- Plobamenta (n.): The place where you live, ideally comfortable. (Residence).
- Plobamentijame (adj.): All about homes and where people live. (Residential, housing-related).
- Plobamer (verb.): To live or dwell in a place, making it a home with presence and care. (Reside).

- Plobamerame (adj.): Calls it home, where the heart is. (Resident, living in a place).
- Plobameral (n.): The person who lives in a particular place, ideally permanently. (Resident).
- Plobluevi (adv.): The duration that seems to stretch forever, unless it's a vacation. (Long).
- Plobluvema (adj.): Stretches out, more than you expected. (Long, extended).
- Plobol (n.): The sleuth who solves mysteries, ideally with a keen eye. (Detective).
- Plocice (n.): The direct conflict or meeting of opposing forces. (Confrontation).
- Plocir (verb.): To face boldly, standing up to challenges with unflinching courage. (Confront).
- Plofor (verb.): To make clear or understandable, removing confusion. (Clarify).
- Plog (n.): The group of similar things close together. (Cluster).
- Plopraser (verb.): To gulp down substances with gusto, sending them on a swift journey to the depths. (Swallow).
- Plovirame (adj.): All about health and hospitals. (Clinical, medical).
- Ploviro (n.): The healthcare facility for outpatient services. (Clinic).
- Plonflelamo (adj.): Hits hard and leaves a mark. (Brutal, savage).
- Plonfoma (adj.): Stops you in your tracks, jaw-dropping. (Shocking, surprising).
- Plonglemi (adv.): The adverb that emphasizes extent, whether in gratitude or disaster. (Greatly).
- Plontrom (n.): The breach of rules or the team trying to score in sports. (Offense).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Plosejuus (n.): The place for drinks or the measure of pressure. (Bar).
- Plolabamdle (n.): The space between two things, ideally bridged. (Gap).
- Plolami (adv.): The precision that leaves no room for error, except human. (Accurately).
- Plolar (verb.): To twist and secure with precision, fastening elements together with the strength of metal threads. (Screw).
- Plololamo (adj.): Off the rails, more wild than tame. (Crazy, insane).
- Ploom (n.): The flower of love or the past tense of rise. (Rose).
- Plorimi (adv.): The manner of moving forward without faltering, hopefully. (Steadily).
- Ploris (n.): The journey to various places, often educational or scenic. (Tour).
- Plouro (n.): The blood vessel or the streak in marble. (Vein).
- Pluceler (verb.): To turn or coil, creating spirals or distortions. (Twist).
- Pluceleren (n.): The unexpected turn in a plot or the action of spinning. (Twist).
- Plucumo (adj.): The building blocks, simple but essential. (Basic, fundamental).
- Plufugo (n.): The agreement to something, ideally informed. (Consent).
- Plufur (verb.): To agree willingly, granting permission with a nod or a word. (Consent).
- Pluer (verb.): To reduce speed, moving more gradually. (Slow).
- Plugeſuframe (adj.): Makes you shudder, worse than bad. (Horrible, terrible).
- Plupru (n.): The systematic way of doing something, ideally efficient. (Method).
- Plupumo (adj.): Better than great, over the top. (Super, excellent).

- Pluvelil (n.): The small pouch in clothing for carrying items, ideally not full of holes. (Pocket).
- Plute (n.): The red liquid that circulates in your veins, essential for life. (Blood).
- Plutlouf (n.): The hurried action or the flow of a crowd. (Rush).
- Pluimi (n.): The organ that pumps blood or the symbol of love. (Heart).
- Plumar (verb.): To rescue from peril or preserve for future use, safeguarding treasures or lives with heroic valor. (Save).
- Plumblu (n.): The system detecting objects using radio waves. (Radar).
- Plumfler (verb.): Elaborating intricately as a weaver adds threads to a tapestry. (Detail).
- Plunvi (n.): The person with radical views, often uncompromising. (Extremist).
- Plusvace (n.): The person who works for an employer, ideally appreciated. (Employee).
- Plusvaco (n.): The state of having a job, ideally fulfilling. (Employment).
- Plusvar (verb.): To hire someone for work, enlisting their talents to join your grand enterprise. (Employ).
- Plusvarol (n.): The person or company who hires workers. (Employer).
- Plusiame (adj.): Sees the bright side, glass half full. (Positive, optimistic).
- Plusian (n.): The good, affirmative aspect or the test result you don't want in a pandemic. (Positive).
- Plusopu (n.): The container for carrying items, often overstuffed. (Bag).
- Plusujema (adj.): Golden locks, like sunlight in strands. (Blond, fair-haired).
- Pluler (verb.): To remove or take out, drawing from a source. (Extract).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Plurir (verb.): To diminish in size or amount, as ice melts under the sun, dwindling until it merges with the water below. (Reduce).
- Pluras (n.): The assurance of doing something, ideally kept. (Promise).
- Plurod (n.): The equipment for gliding on snow or the action of using it. (Ski).
- Pluroma (adj.): Slopes and snow, all about the winter sports. (Ski, snow-related).
- Plurur (verb.): Proclaiming one's feats as a bard sings of ancient heroes. (Boast).
- Pluu'ur (verb.): To gain through effort, transforming sweat and toil into well-deserved rewards. (Earn).
- Poahini (n.): The planned piece of work. (Project).
- Pobotaniir (verb.): To stay in a place longer than necessary, often due to reluctance to leave or a desire to savor the moment. (Linger).
- Pobra (n.): The fruit that's healthy, versatile, and newton's muse. (Apple).
- Pocrice (n.): The detailed account of an event or the act of informing. (Report).
- Pocrir (verb.): To deliver news or information formally, with the gravitas of a royal herald. (Report).
- Pocrirel (n.): The journalist who gathers and presents news. (Reporter).
- Podlendlafron (n.): The aircraft for flying or the flat surface in geometry. (Plane).
- Povlumclelid (n.): The ground's top layer, essential for plants. (Soil).
- Poi (adv.): The adverb that keeps hope alive in the face of doubt. (Possibly).
- Pondaco (n.): The careful thought given to something, ideally thorough. (Consideration).
- Pondar (verb.): To think deeply about, weighing options and outcomes with careful deliberation. (Consider).

- Posei (adv.): The initial state before everything got complicated. (Originally).
- Posi (n.): The act of transferring data from the internet to your device. (Download).
- Posigui (n.): The emotion or the sense of touch, ideally positive. (Feeling).
- Posir (verb.): To experience emotions or sensations with the depth and drama of a bard's epic ballad. (Feel).
- Poo (n.): The narrow opening or the sharp sound of breaking. (Crack).
- Poovoma (adj.): Captures your interest, like a mystery unfolding. (Fascinating, intriguing).
- Portar (verb.): To carry or lead to a place, presenting something to someone. (Bring).
- Pour (verb.): To explore new frontiers, blazing trails where none have ventured before. (Pioneer).
- Pourol (n.): The trailblazer who's first to explore or develop something new. (Pioneer).
- Pra (n.): The deep understanding or the act of seeing into something. (Insight).
- Praamo (adj.): All about heritage and identity. (Racial, race-related).
- Prabofas (n.): The glass structure for growing plants or the gas effect warming the earth. (Greenhouse).
- Prabor (verb.): To collide with destructive force, shattering serenity with sudden impact. (Crash).
- Prabre (n.): The act of arriving on the ground or the place where you land. (Landing).
- Pracir (verb.): To bestow favor or protection, sprinkling divine grace like gentle rain on parched soil. (Bless).
- Pradrem (n.): The spherical model of earth or the international community. (Globe).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Prafuhuijo (n.): The digit on your foot, often stubbed. (Toe).
- Praposucoma (adj.): Puts others first, kind and caring. (Thoughtful, considerate).
- Pratap (n.): The public's way of collectively yelling, "hey, that's not fair!" . (Protest).
- Pratapal (n.): The brave soul with a sign, a chant, and often, a good pair of walking shoes. (Protester).
- Pratola (n.): The rhythmic pulse of music or the state of utter exhaustion after a long day. (Beat).
- Pramfloun (n.): The celestial body orbiting a star, ideally habitable. (Planet).
- Pramer (verb.): To express clearly and effectively, speaking with precision and clarity. (Articulate).
- Prami (n.): The structure that holds your pictures, diplomas, and occasionally your ego. (Frame).
- Pramumo (adj.): Stands out, hard to mistake. (Distinctive, unique).
- Pranto (n.): The bold leap into the unknown, often with fingers crossed behind your back. (Venture).
- Pranjaco (n.): The tiny, hard worker that chews your food and demands constant care. (Tooth).
- Pranjpar (verb.): To consume food for nourishment, breaking down sustenance into energy. (Eat).
- Pranjaropoco (n.): The state where your body decides it's a better storage unit than a temple. (Obesity).
- Praseho (n.): The event where you smile, nod, and secretly wish you were home in pajamas. (Reception).
- Prastloral (n.): The articulate individual paid to say things so you don't have to. (Spokeswoman).

- Prasur (verb.): To restrain or hold back, preventing expression or development. (Suppress).
- Prael (n.): The person running for a position or the subject for an experiment. (Candidate).
- Pralolor (verb.): To wound with words, cutting deeper than any blade with a sharp tongue. (Insult).
- Pralor (verb.): Bending gently as a book closes, preserving the stories within. (Fold).
- Praor (verb.): To strike a surface to gain attention, announcing presence with a rhythmic rap. (Knock).
- Prar (verb.): To undertake a risky or daring journey, stepping boldly into the unknown with courage and curiosity. (Venture).
- Prare (n.): The delightful dance of two opposing truths trying to occupy the same space. (Contradiction).
- Prarofras (n.): The much-needed pause in your chaos, or the accidental snap of your favorite thing. (Break).
- Praru (n.): The financial plan that optimistically assumes you'll avoid spontaneous spending. (Budget).
- Prajir (verb.): To inflict pain with the sharpness of a thorn, leaving a sting that lingers long after. (Hurt).
- Preace (n.): The well-thought-out plan or the nerve-wracking question usually accompanied by a ring. (Proposal).
- Preaco (n.): The formal offer that makes you weigh the pros, cons, and fine print. (Proposition).
- Prear (verb.): Suggesting boldly as a strategist lays plans before kings. (Propose).
- Preafeari (n.): The invisible line that says, "this far, no further. (Boundary).
- Preafema (adj.): Held together, can't escape. (Bound, tied).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Prebage (n.): The powerful leg thrust that scores goals or gets you out of bed in the morning. (Kick).
- Prebasa (n.): The carbon copy sibling who knows all your secrets and your closet's contents. (Twin).
- Prebasamo (adj.): Two peas in a pod, matching perfectly. (Twin, identical).
- Prebar (verb.): To strike with the foot, sending objects flying with a powerful motion. (Kick).
- Prebupav (n.): The piece of information that tells you where to go, or what to avoid. (Sign).
- Preca (n.): The slow, incredible process where nature fine-tunes its creations over millennia. (Evolution).
- Precmu (n.): The close-knit group that shares your quirks, traditions, and possibly your dna. (Tribe).
- Precmumo (adj.): Deep roots, family bonds. (Tribal, clan-related).
- Pred (n.): The gadget that promises to make life easier and occasionally delivers. (Device).
- Predmuor (verb.): To gather or put together, forming a cohesive unit. (Assemble).
- Prefapi (n.): The stark difference that makes life's colors pop and its stories compelling. (Contrast).
- Prefir (verb.): To find pleasure or satisfaction in someone's company or something's presence. (Like).
- Pregefiumo (adj.): Does the right thing, even when no one is watching. (Ethical, moral).
- Prepul (n.): The person who gets to say, "mine!" while holding the title deed or receipt. (Owner).
- Prepulante (n.): The state of having something that's yours to use, break, or show off. (Ownership).
- Prevamo (adj.): Stays put, doesn't fade away. (Permanent, lasting).

- Pretega (n.): The myriad ways we distract ourselves from the mundane, often involving screens. (Entertainment).
- Preter (verb.): Delighting others as a storyteller weaves tales by firelight. (Entertain).
- Preniloma (adj.): Cold as ice, no mercy shown. (Cruel, heartless).
- Prelavor (verb.): To waver in the certainty of one's beliefs, casting shadows over what once seemed clear, like fog enveloping the sure path ahead. (Doubt).
- Prelor (verb.): To shout or speak loudly to attract attention, or to contact someone via telephone. (Call).
- Prer (verb.): To gradually develop or change, as species adapt over millennia. (Evolve).
- Preroflema (adj.): Real and true, no fake in sight. (Genuine, authentic).
- Pri (n.): The habit that starts as fun but soon becomes the boss of you. (Addiction).
- Pribna (n.): The green carpet that cushions your feet and fuels your lawnmower battles. (Grass).
- Pribug (n.): The poetic line in a song that gets stuck in your head for days. (Lyric).
- Pricipipual (n.): The beginning point of a story, journey, or genetic quirk. (Origin).
- Pridi (n.): The angle from which you view something, often affecting your perspective. (Aspect).
- Prifebeer (verb.): To acquire or secure possession, claiming what was sought with triumph. (Obtain).
- Prigo (adj.): Pays no mind to details, leaves things half-done. (Careless, sloppy).
- Prigorohe (n.): The magical solution that cures ailments and fixes woes, sometimes found in grandma's pantry. (Remedy).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Privar (verb.): To direct or lead, orchestrating actions with authoritative command. (Conduct).
- Prive (n.): The little indulgence or moral failing that makes life spicy and confession necessary. (Vice).
- Privit (n.): The grand conclusion of a race, project, or particularly long meeting. (Finish).
- Pritul (n.): The act of making something less, often involving numbers and sad faces. (Decrease).
- Primbrol (n.): The cavernous building where goods live in neat rows before finding new homes. (Warehouse).
- Princroma (adj.): Not enough to meet the need. (Inadequate, insufficient).
- Printaco (n.): The act of moving faster than walking, often towards a goal or away from a responsibility. (Run).
- Printanto (n.): The continuous motion of moving swiftly, sometimes just to stay in place. (Running).
- Printar (verb.): To move swiftly on foot, covering ground with rapid strides. (Run).
- Printarol (n.): The individual who laces up and takes to the streets, trails, or tracks. (Runner).
- Prisafrema (adj.): Full of passion and dreams, like a moonlit walk. (Romantic, love-filled).
- Prisuhaifi (n.): The shiny disc that used to hold music before streaming stole its thunder. (CD).
- Prilopica (n.): The container for your belongings or the mystery that sherlock holmes solves. (Case).
- Prirel (n.): The balanced relationship of parts to the whole, ideally aesthetically pleasing. (Proportion).
- Probur (verb.): To cause distress or problems, creating difficulties or concerns. (Trouble).

- Procrice (n.): The act of gathering and presenting news, ideally before everyone tweets about it. (Reporting).
- Profabi (adv.): The persistent state that refuses to change, for better or worse. (Still).
- Profame (adj.): Quiet and calm, like a lake at dawn. (Still, unmoving).
- Proflib (n.): The topic at hand or the individual under the microscope of study. (Subject).
- Proflime (adj.): All about the matter at hand. (Subject, topic-related).
- Proepur (verb.): To share stories and weave connections through the tapestry of words, linking hearts and minds with threads of understanding. (Relate).
- Prog (n.): The appendage that wags, swishes, or trails behind, depending on its owner. (Tail).
- Propoca (n.): The gentle nudge towards an idea, often prefaced with, “if i were you...” . (Suggestion).
- Propor (verb.): To propose an idea or plan, offering for consideration. (Suggest).
- Proma (adj.): Laid-back, no need for ties and jackets. (Informal, casual).
- Pronebeju (n.): The stash you save for a rainy day or the quiet, shy demeanor of a proper brit. (Reserve).
- Pronebejumo (adj.): Hides in the corner, avoids the spotlight. (Shy, timid).
- Prosfa (n.): The journey from point a to point b, ideally without delays or detours. (Transit).
- Prosface (n.): The smooth change from one state to another, ideally seamless and without drama. (Transition).
- Proser (verb.): To give special importance to, highlighting key points with clear focus. (Emphasize).
- Prosproir (verb.): To delay an event, shifting schedules with careful consideration. (Postpone).

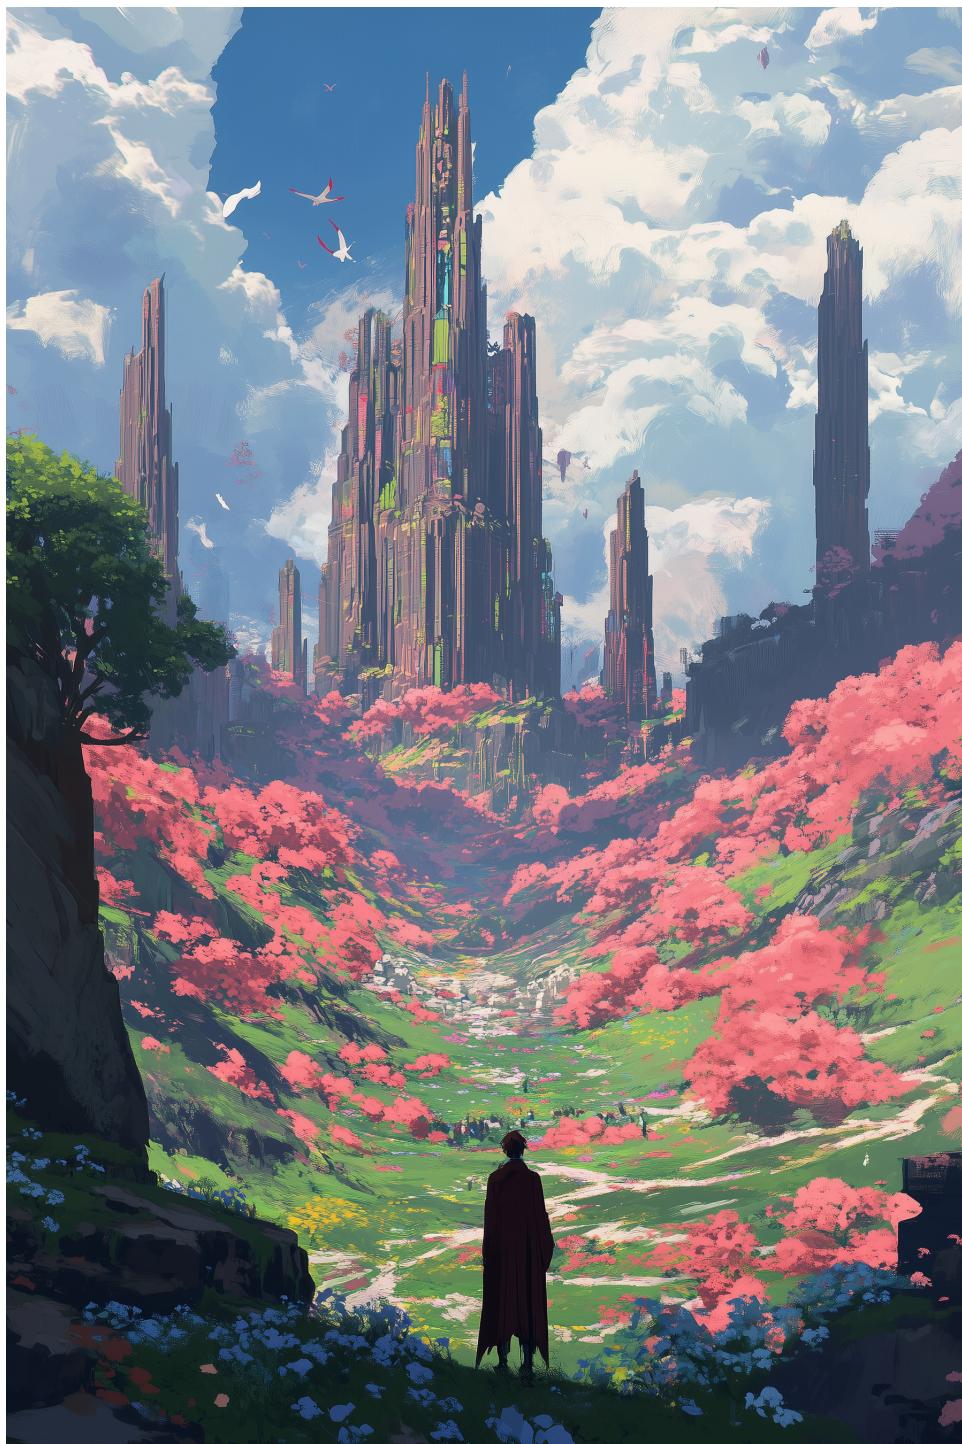

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Prolegi (adv.): The way to do things with conviction, and sometimes brute force. (Strongly).
- Prolopira (n.): The flowing body of water that meanders through landscapes and poems alike. (River).
- Prolun (n.): The versatile material from trees that builds homes and campfires. (Wood).
- Proreci (adv.): The word that persists despite obstacles, much like a stubborn mule. (Nevertheless).
- Proub (n.): The vast digital web that connects everything and everyone, for better or worse. (Internet).
- Prubrana (n.): The age-old practice of swapping goods, now done with more paperwork and less bartering. (Trading).
- Prudioma (adj.): Stands out, deserves a mention. (Notable, noteworthy).
- Prufalo (n.): The spirited gathering of like-minded folks, or the impressive comeback in sports. (Rally).
- Prutamo (adj.): Burns with intensity, like a summer's day. (Hot, warm).
- Prutijarai (adv.): The way to describe things at their most intense, often to excess. (Extremely).
- Pruime (adj.): In style, up-to-date with the latest looks. (Fashionable, trendy).
- Prumivuaco (n.): The biological process of making more of your species, or the art of copying something perfectly. (Reproduction).
- Prumivuar (verb.): To create new life, continuing the cycle of existence with generative energy. (Reproduce).
- Prunap (n.): The glass that helps you see clearly or the perspective through which you view life. (Lens).
- Prunavumo (adj.): Peaceful and quiet, like a tranquil garden. (Calm, serene).

- Prunavul (n.): The serene state you aim for in meditation, spa days, and before exams. (Calm).
- Pruner (verb.): To combine into a single entity, as streams join to form a river. (Merge).
- Pruneral (n.): The business equivalent of "let's join forces and rule the market!". (Merger).
- Prusfli (adv.): The place where you go to find adventure, or just a different kind of trouble. (Abroad).
- Pruseca (n.): The link that joins people, places, or ideas, often sparking joy. (Connection).
- Pruser (verb.): To join or link together, establishing a relationship or network. (Connect).
- Prusu (n.): The appendage that supports your walk or the unit of measurement that confuses metric users. (Foot).
- Prulo (n.): The helpful tips and guidance you're free to ignore at your own peril. (Advice).
- Pruor (verb.): To provide or offer, transferring possession to another. (Give).
- Pruratila (n.): The peaceful escape from daily chaos or the tactical move to regroup. (Retreat).
- Pruratilar (verb.): To withdraw or pull back strategically, like a general saving their forces for a better day. (Retreat).
- Pruria (n.): The path you take to reach your destination, ideally with a map. (Route).
- Prurino (n.): The solemn celebration of a life lived, ideally full of fond memories. (Funeral).
- Pruru (n.): The paved path that takes you places, ideally not covered in potholes. (Road).
- Prujio (n.): The work you do to pay bills, gain skills, and maybe find purpose. (Job).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Prunoir (verb.): To remove obstacles or clarify, like wind clears smoke from the air, revealing the clarity of a blue sky. (Clear).
- Puaco (n.): The act of tearing down, blowing up, or generally making a mess of things. (Destruction).
- Puage (adj.): Tears things apart, leaves ruins in its wake. (Destructive, damaging).
- Puar (verb.): To dismantle with finality, reducing structures or ideas to rubble and dust. (Destroy).
- Puer (verb.): To refresh or restore, bringing new life or energy to something waning. (Renew).
- Puerema (adj.): Ready and willing, can't wait to start. (Eager, enthusiastic).
- Puprumo (adj.): Cuts through the nonsense, like a well-honed blade. (Sharp, pointed).
- Puomi (n.): The act of making something more, often accompanied by cheers or groans. (Increase).
- Puomivri (adv.): The manner of things growing more intense, like interest rates or headaches. (Increasingly).
- Puhiuhaur (verb.): To hold closely in one's arms, expressing affection or acceptance. (Embrace).
- Puuco (n.): The act of saying "no" with firmness, grace, or both. (Refusal).
- Puur (verb.): To turn down offers with firm resolve, closing doors with a decisive click. (Refuse).
- Puurup (n.): The hypothetical situation that fuels your daydreams or nightmares. (Scenario).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

V

- Vaace (n.): The structured group with a common goal, striving for efficiency. (Organization).
- Vaage (adj.): Keeps everything in order, like a well-planned event. (Organizational, structure-related).
- Vaame (adj.): Everything in its place, no chaos. (Organized, orderly).
- Vaar (verb.): To arrange with meticulous order, taming chaos into structure. (Organize).
- Vabehoace (n.): The act of sending someone away or the rejection of an idea. (Dismissal).
- Vabehoar (verb.): To send away with finality, releasing from attention or obligation. (Dismiss).
- Vabla (n.): The main meal of the day, often shared with loved ones. (Dinner).
- Vaer (verb.): To move swiftly with urgency, racing against time with breathless speed. (Hurry).
- Vaploris (n.): The sour citrus fruit that adds zest to life and drinks. (Lemon).
- Vainfrem (n.): The showing of a film or the act of checking for issues. (Screening).
- Valuos (n.): The substance with a distinct molecular composition, sometimes hazardous. (Chemical).
- Valuosame (adj.): All about reactions and compounds. (Chemical, substance-related).
- Valuoseg (n.): The science of substances and their reactions, or the spark between people. (Chemistry).

- Varas (exclam. / n.): The heartfelt or hurried expression of gratitude, often more appreciated than it sounds. (Thanks).
- Varoo (n.): The steadfast allegiance to someone or something, unwavering. (Loyalty).
- Vaumu (n.): The small creature with six legs, often more fascinating than feared. (Insect).
- Vaupiir (verb.): To ascend to great heights, gliding effortlessly above the mundane on wings of ambition. (Soar).
- Vendirar (verb.): To exchange goods for currency, often with the flair of a market stall owner who can sell ice to a snowman. (Sell).
- Veniacil (n.): The act of evaluating and pointing out faults, ideally constructive. (Criticism).
- Veniaco (n.): The detailed analysis and assessment of something, insightful and fair. (Critique).
- Veniamo (adj.): Needs attention now, can't wait. (Critical, crucial).
- Veniamoi (adv.): The way to evaluate things with sharp insight and, often, harsh judgment. (Critically).
- Veniar (verb.): To evaluate or find fault with, offering feedback that can sting like a wasp. (Criticize).
- Veniarel (n.): The person who reviews and judges, hopefully knowledgeable. (Critic).
- Velara (n.): The canvas that catches the wind or the act of navigating a boat. (Sail).
- Velar (verb.): To bring about or provoke, like a catalyst in a chemical reaction, sparking change and transformation. (Induce).
- Velemir (verb.): To allow or permit, granting freedom to act. (Let).
- Veoflo (n.): The distinctive manner of expression or the fashionable way of dressing. (Style).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Veotidi (adv.): The straight path to the point, avoiding all detours. (Directly).
- Vere (prep.): Vere is the route of travel, the passage through which everything flows. (Via).
- Veusdi (n.): The vocal expression of emotion, whether joy or sorrow. (Cry).
- Viar (verb.): To grow and expand, like rivers swelling with the rains, spreading wider and deeper. (Increase).
- Vibrimir (verb.): To depart from a place, exiting with a trail of memories in your wake. (Leave).
- Viclul (n.): The period of remaining in one place. (Stay).
- Vindrati (adv.): The adverb that signals the unavoidable fate, usually with a sigh. (Inevitably).
- Viema (adj.): Not a stitch out of place, ready to go. (Dressed, clothed).
- Vies (n.): The sport of gliding over snow, aiming to stay upright. (Skiing).
- Viel (n.): The attempt to do something, with hope of success. (Try).
- Vieþe (n.): The great honor or praise, often hard-earned. (Glory).
- Vieþema (adj.): Full of splendor, like a sunrise. (Glorious, magnificent).
- Vinir (verb.): To assign a designation, bestowing identity with a word of significance. (Name).
- Vis (conj. / pron.): The specific one you're pointing at, often with great emphasis. (That).
- Vilia (n.): The act of being alive, with purpose and joy. (Living).
- Vili (adv.): The state of being in the moment, with all its unpredictability. (Live).
- Viliamo (adj.): Full of life, breathing and moving. (Living, alive).
- Vilime (adj.): In the moment, no delay. (Live, happening now).

- Viluar (verb.): To bring upon oneself, often resulting in consequences or responsibilities. (Incur).
- Vir (verb.): To perceive with the eyes, observing the world visually. (See).
- Vlaar (verb.): Declaring openly as a herald announces news in the town square. (Proclaim).
- Vlabrelir (verb.): Creating with skill as a smith forges metal, from raw to refined. (Craft).
- Vlafice (n.): The discovery of something hidden, thanks to a sharp eye. (Detection).
- Vlafir (verb.): To discover through keen observation, uncovering hidden truths with sharp perception. (Detect).
- Vlapehi (n.): The agreement where both sides give a little, often fair. (Compromise).
- Vlavetonta (n.): The act of being present, crucial for participation. (Attendance).
- Vlavetor (verb.): To be present at, participating in events or meetings. (Attend).
- Vlavipoma (adj.): Straight from the earth, untouched by man. (Natural, nature-based).
- Vlavo (n.): The system of parts working together, functioning smoothly. (Mechanism).
- Vlavoma (adj.): All about gears and engines. (Mechanical, machine-related).
- Vlavuro (n.): The coming together of people, often joyful. (Gathering).
- Vlatesnir (verb.): To rely on something or someone, like a tightrope walker trusting in their balancing pole. (Depend).
- Vlamdror (verb.): To produce a sharp sound by snapping, triggering actions with a precise motion. (Click).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vlamuril (n.): The preconceived opinion not based on reason or experience, hopefully overcome. (Prejudice).
- Vlanglenta (n.): The hopeful outlook on life, contagious and uplifting. (Optimism).
- Vlanuli (adv.): The word that introduces a twist, much like a plot device. (However).
- Vlalor (verb.): To shower praise like confetti, celebrating triumphs with gusto and glee. (Congratulate).
- Vlao (n.): The absurd or meaningless talk, sometimes surprisingly entertaining. (Nonsense).
- Vlareſema (adj.): Moves quickly, no time wasted. (Rapid, fast).
- Vle (n.): The group of living organisms capable of interbreeding, wonderfully diverse. (Species).
- Vlebis (n.): The act of retaliating, best served cold. (Revenge).
- Vlec (n.): The thick rope or wire that transmits power or information. (Cable).
- Vledromuco (n.): The legal proceedings against someone, aiming for justice. (Prosecution).
- Vledromur (verb.): To pursue legal action against, seeking justice with relentless determination. (Prosecute).
- Vledromurol (n.): The legal representative who brings charges, fair and determined. (Prosecutor).
- Vlema (adj.): Matches reality, no lies. (True, accurate).
- Vlembriuoco (n.): The job someone does or the act of taking control of a place. (Occupation).
- Vlembriuur (verb.): To take possession and control, filling a space with presence and activity. (Occupy).
- Vlemema (adj.): Nothing missing, complete. (Whole, entire).

- Vlemen (n.): The complete thing, nothing missing. (Whole).
- Vlenor (verb.): To compete in speed, striving to be the fastest. (Race).
- Vles (n.): The intoxicating drink that's a social lubricant and sometimes a crutch. (Alcohol).
- Vlesema (adj.): All about the drink, cheers! . (Alcoholic, booze-related).
- Vlel (n.): The stringed instrument that makes music, often melodious. (Guitar).
- Vlereal (n.): The advanced state of human society, ever-evolving. (Civilization).
- Vleren (n.): The fruit spread for toast or the traffic standstill, sometimes sweet. (Jam).
- Vlerilir (verb.): To overcome in a contest, causing the opponent to fail or lose. (Defeat).
- Vlerojooma (adj.): Holds weight, important to note. (Considerable, significant).
- Vlibas (n.): The smallest unit of currency, often found in couches. (Penny).
- Vlicri (adv.): The infrequent occurrence that makes things special or suspicious. (Rarely).
- Vlidinuor (verb.): To create or devise systematically, constructing a plan or theory. (Formulate).
- Vligime (adj.): Can't be trusted, like a snake oil salesman. (Dishonest, untruthful).
- Vlivutar (verb.): To rally and organize, as generals marshal their troops, preparing energies and resources for movement towards a common goal. (Mobilize).
- Vlivuho (n.): The element that contributes to a result, significant in impact. (Factor).
- Vlimasu (n.): The money received for work or investments, essential for living. (Income).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vlimal (n.): The person who watches an event, often entertained. (Spectator).
- Vlimur (verb.): To place down gently, arranging with care. (Lay).
- Vlinbles (n.): The polite term for a woman, embodying grace. (Lady).
- Vlisime (adj.): Beyond great, like a perfect score. (Superb, excellent).
- Vlisonta (n.): The state of being uncovered or the amount of light in photography. (Exposure).
- Vlisor (verb.): Revealing truths as sunrise unveils the land. (Expose).
- Vlilema (adj.): Up in the sky, soaring high. (Flying, airborne).
- Vlilem (n.): The act of soaring through the air, a joy in planes or dreams. (Flying).
- Vilos (n.): The state of mental or emotional strain, needing release. (Tension).
- Vliov (n.): The elegant manner or the favor of a higher power. (Grace).
- Vlir (verb.): To travel on or be carried by, often referring to vehicles or animals. (Ride).
- Vliresuim (n.): The elected head of a city, striving for wisdom and effectiveness. (Mayor).
- Vliuli (adv.): The direction to look when planning or running away. (Ahead).
- Vloamo (adj.): Meant to be, no accident. (Intended, planned).
- Vloar (verb.): To stop something from happening, acting as a barrier against potential events or actions. (Prevent).
- Vlocalup (n.): The rush to do something quickly, without missing details. (Hurry).
- Vlocoro (n.): The person injured or killed in an accident or conflict, regrettably. (Casualty).

- Vlofi (n.): The public perception of someone or something, often hard-earned. (Reputation).
- Vloep (n.): The rectangular block used in building, sturdy and reliable. (Brick).
- Vlovir (verb.): To restrain or hold back, preventing actions or growth with subtle control. (Inhibit).
- Vlotihe (n.): The symbol representing a brand, memorable and distinctive. (Logo).
- Vloma (adj.): Free and fierce, like a jungle cat. (Wild, untamed).
- Vlomar (verb.): To communicate a message through signs or actions, indicating intent or information. (Signal).
- Vlomaren (n.): The indication or message sent, needing clarity. (Signal).
- Vlonar (verb.): To assist or help, providing support or relief. (Aid).
- Vlonidi (adv.): The place that's not here, often sounding more appealing. (Elsewhere).
- Vlosev (n.): The durable material made from animal hide, stylish and strong. (Leather).
- Vlosoma (adj.): Nothing special, just everyday life. (Ordinary, normal).
- Vlol (n.): The comprehension of something, deeply valued. (Understanding).
- Vlolir (verb.): To stop abruptly, bringing motion to a sudden standstill. (Halt).
- Vlooca (n.): The act of becoming aware or the achievement of something, deeply satisfying. (Realization).
- Vloloma (adj.): Sees things as they are, no illusions. (Realistic, practical).
- Vlolor (verb.): To become fully aware or understand, grasping the significance or reality of a situation. (Realize).
- Vlolul (n.): The tool for writing, easily lost behind the couch. (Pen).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vlor (verb.): To hold on tightly, maintaining a firm grip. (Cling).
- Vlorogram (n.): The highest point, whether of a mountain or achievement. (Peak).
- Vloruvame (adj.): Always on the go, no time to rest. (Busy, active).
- Vlosaco (n.): The aim or purpose behind actions, hopefully clear. (Intention).
- Vlu (n.): The part played by someone in a particular situation, often significant. (Role).
- Vlualac (n.): The opposite fact or condition, requiring argument. (Contrary).
- Vlualame (adj.): Goes against the grain, not what you'd expect. (Contrary, opposite).
- Vlubeop (n.): The thin paper for blowing noses or the biological material, not to be confused. (Tissue).
- Vlucer (verb.): To catch or ensnare, securing with a curved device. (Hook).
- Vluclo (n.): The elastic material used for tires and bands, flexible and resilient. (Rubber).
- Vlucloma (adj.): Bounces back, flexible and strong. (Rubber, elastic).
- Vlufur (verb.): To shock into immobility, leaving others breathless in astonishment. (Stun).
- Vlug (n.): The person or animal that lives in a particular place, content and settled. (Inhabitant).
- Vlugen (adj.): Feels everything deeply, like a poet's heart. (Sensitive, delicate).
- Vlugsuer (verb.): To pair or compete with equal fervor, ensuring harmony or sparking rivalry with precision. (Match).
- Vlugo (n.): The faculty by which the body perceives an external stimulus, always sharp. (Sense).

- Vlugoca (n.): The physical feeling or the widespread reaction to something, hopefully positive. (Sensation).
- Vlugonta (n.): The quality of being easily affected, whether emotionally or physically, balanced and mindful. (Sensitivity).
- Vluvrarori (adv.): The omnipresent state that covers all locations, exhaustively. (Everywhere).
- Vlutur (verb.): To come near with intention, closing distance with mindful steps. (Approach).
- Vluir (verb.): To emit vapors, creating clouds that drift lazily through the air. (Smoke).
- Vlumi (n.): The outer protection or the act of hiding something, secure and complete. (Cover).
- Vlumico (n.): The extent to which something is covered or reported, comprehensive and thorough. (Coverage).
- Vlumime (adj.): Sheltered from harm, safe and sound. (Covered, protected).
- Vlumir (verb.): To overlay or protect, shielding surfaces from exposure. (Cover).
- Vlunca (n.): The state of anxiety about potential problems, to be minimized. (Worry).
- Vluncrepo (n.): The act of producing musical sounds with the voice, always in tune. (Singing).
- Vlunfu (n.): The division of the year marked by changes in weather, enjoyable and distinct. (Season).
- Vlulice (n.): The act of spinning around a central point, smooth and regular. (Rotation).
- Vlulir (verb.): To spin around an axis, revolving with a dancer's grace and precision. (Rotate).
- Vlulupara (n.): The act of slicing or the piece removed, precise and clean. (Cutting).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vluor (verb.): To reverse or upset, changing the course or position drastically. (Overturn).
- Vlur (verb.): Perceiving through touch, taste, sight, sound, and smell. (Sense).
- Vo (pron.): Personal object pronun / just you, the one i'm looking at right now. (You).
- Voer (verb.): To distribute resources or tasks, assigning with strategic foresight. (Allocate).
- Voejame (adj.): Falls short, leaves you wanting. (Bad, not good).
- Votloma (adj.): Just another day, nothing special. (Regular, normal).
- Voir (verb.): To eliminate or free from unwanted elements, purging what is unnecessary. (Rid).
- Vono (pron.): Personal object pronun / just you and me, the perfect duo against the world. (Us).
- Vonos (pron.): Personal subject pronun / just you and i, plotting our next escapade. (We).
- Vonosu (pron.): Personal subject pronun / all of us together, united for a common cause—or just dinner. (We).
- Vonou (pron.): Personal object pronun / you, me, and everyone we know, one big happy group. (Us).
- Vos (pron.): Personal subject pronun / you alone, the star of this particular moment. (You).
- Vosu (pron.): Personal subject pronun / all of you, ready to tackle whatever comes next. (You).
- Voler (verb.): To experience thoughts and images during sleep, envisioning scenarios beyond reality. (Dream).
- Volvar (verb.): Changing direction as rivers do, guided by the earth's whispers. (Turn).

- Vou (pron.): Personal object pronoun / all of you out there, the audience for today's performance. (You).
- Vouru (n.): The act of applying force to move something, always forward. (Push).
- Vrabemoji (n.): The room, often private or legislative, functional and significant. (Chamber).
- Vrafacime (adj.): All about money and markets. (Economic, finance-related).
- Vrafacis (n.): The expert in economics, accurate in predictions. (Economist).
- Vragicega (n.): The office or period of a president's term, effective and influential. (Presidency).
- Vragicema (adj.): Top of the chain, the big boss. (Presidential, leader-related).
- Vragicer (verb.): To lead or oversee a meeting or event, guiding proceedings with authority. (Preside).
- Vragiceral (n.): The elected head of a republic, wise and effective. (President).
- Vraglipeje (n.): The female actor in plays, films, or tv, talented and captivating. (Actress).
- Vragrucoca (n.): The substance within something or the state of satisfaction, rich and fulfilling. (Content).
- Vragrucocamo (adj.): Happy with what you have, no more needed. (Content, satisfied).
- Vragrucoga (n.): The large landmass, such as africa or europe, to be explored. (Continent).
- Vragrucor (verb.): To confine or hold within limits, capturing chaos like a spellbound creature. (Contain).
- Vragrucoral (n.): The object that holds something, leak-proof and secure. (Container).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vraprem (n.): The joint between the upper and lower arm, not to be bumped. (Elbow).
- Vravador (verb.): Verifying as one who counts stars, ensuring none have wandered. (Check).
- Vravase (n.): The remains of something destroyed or the act of destroying, to be avoided. (Ruin).
- Vranvli (adv.): The alternative way things could be, often better in imagination. (Otherwise).
- Vranoles (n.): The person who buys goods or services, satisfied and valued. (Customer).
- Vrasdli (n.): The science of matter and energy, understood and respected. (Physics).
- Vrasdlime (adj.): All about the flesh and bones. (Physical, body-related).
- Vrasfro (n.): The person with control or expertise, respected and skilled. (Master).
- Vrasfror (verb.): To become highly skilled, commanding abilities with the confidence of a seasoned expert. (Master).
- Vrasihous (n.): The systematic study of the natural world, advancing knowledge. (Science).
- Vrasihousol (n.): The person who studies and experiments in science, curious and dedicated. (Scientist).
- Vral (n.): The item worn on feet, comfortable and stylish. (Shoe).
- Vralar (verb.): To set something down carefully, positioning it with intention. (Place).
- Vraliro (n.): The instrument that rings to signal events, melodious and clear. (Bell).
- Vralonur (verb.): To cast off or discard, as trees lose leaves in autumn. (Shed).
- Vraloja (n.): The escape of liquid or gas, quickly fixed. (Leak).

- Vraoroma (adj.): More than mortal, like a touch of heaven. (Divine, godly).
- Vrauco (n.): The firm decision or the clarity of a screen, always high. (Resolution).
- Vraur (verb.): To find a solution or make a firm decision, settling an issue. (Resolve).
- Vrecsala (n.): The close observation, often for security, not intrusive. (Surveillance).
- Vredar (verb.): To act in a specified manner, conducting oneself according to norms or expectations. (Behave).
- Vreduligir (verb.): To suffocate in water, losing breath beneath the waves. (Drown).
- Vreeprime (adj.): Causes issues, a real headache. (Problematic, troublesome).
- Vreprumo (adj.): Brand new, breaking new ground. (Unprecedented, never before seen).
- Vrema (n.): The male offspring, cherished and well-behaved. (Son).
- Vremanir (verb.): To remain steadfast and unmoving, with the resolve of a statue that's seen everything and moved for nothing. (Stay).
- Vremfloema (adj.): All about thinking and knowing. (Cognitive, mind-related).
- Vrempi (n.): The brave soul who signs up, shows up, and occasionally wonders why. (Participant).
- Vremplinoja (n.): The moment you say goodbye and hope you packed everything important, like pants. (Departure).
- Vrenar (verb.): To perceive with senses, as an animal detects a predator, every nerve attuned to survival. (Sense).
- Vrenplusiþui (adv.): The manner of doing things suitably, though often subjectively. (Appropriately).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vrenipu (n.): The tubular object for channeling water, smoke, or the occasional escape route. (Pipe).
- Vrenuco (n.): The grand institution that runs things, usually with a lot of paperwork and a stern look. (Establishment).
- Vrenur (verb.): To set up or lay the foundation, creating lasting institutions or systems. (Establish).
- Vresbema (adj.): Full of sorrow, like a shakespearean play. (Tragic, sad).
- Vresblema (adj.): Down in the dumps, feeling blue. (Sad, unhappy).
- Vrelam (n.): The loud, high-pitched cry, in response to joy or fear. (Scream).
- Vrelame (adj.): Worth the effort, like a good investment. (Worthwhile, valuable).
- Vrelangragim (n.): The discovery or conclusion, enlightening and significant. (Finding).
- Vrelius (n.): The lack of order or the medical condition, treated and managed. (Disorder).
- Vreor (verb.): Intimidating with the possibility of harm. (Threaten).
- Vreopidime (adj.): So sweet, you just want to hug it. (Cute, adorable).
- Vrera (n.): The spiritual guide who navigates the divine, often while wearing slightly uncomfortable robes. (Priest).
- Vreraf (n.): The optimistic gamble where dreams of riches meet the cold reality of odds. (Lottery).
- Vrerai (n.): The industry that convinces you that you need another pair of shoes, right now. (Retail).
- Vrerinar (verb.): To step into the world of make-believe, donning masks and playing roles, weaving fantasies as a spider spins its web. (Pretend).
- Vreriro (n.): The physical activity where people compete, cheer, and occasionally get hit in the face with a ball. (Sport).

- Vrefja (n.): The cherished offspring who might borrow your shoes and your heart. (Daughter).
- Vri (n.): The set number you aim for, often reached just as you start to doubt it's possible. (Quota).
- Vriame (adj.): You can trust it, no reason to doubt. (Credible, believable).
- Vriante (n.): The precious commodity of trust, earned slowly and lost quickly, usually just before the important bit. (Credibility).
- Vriar (verb.): To break forcefully into pieces, shattering obstacles with ogre-like strength. (Smash).
- Vrica (n.): The fresh face in the ranks, full of enthusiasm and blissful ignorance. (Recruit).
- Vricaco (n.): The process of finding new faces to join the ranks, ideally before the old ones run away. (Recruitment).
- Vricar (verb.): To enlist new members or supporters, building your ranks with fresh faces. (Recruit).
- Vridsema (adj.): Wiggles and moves, not fixed in place. (Loose, not tight).
- Vrifne (n.): The lush lowland nestled between hills, perfect for picnics and dramatic echoes. (Valley).
- Vrimcloi (adv.): The excessive manner that takes things a bit too far. (Overly).
- Vrimu (n.): The aquatic creature that swims, gills, and occasionally lands on your plate with a lemon slice. (Fish).
- Vrimur (verb.): To catch aquatic creatures, casting lines into the depths with patient anticipation. (Fish).
- Vriname (adj.): No trouble at all, like a walk in the park. (Easy, simple).
- Vrinfllob (n.): The group of things or people, gathered together like grapes or gossip. (Bunch).
- Vrinflurora (n.): The pointed projectile that flies straight and true, unlike most of your life plans. (Arrow).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vringrastlen (n.): The shiny award that says, "well done, you managed to outlast the others. (Medal).
- Vriseru (n.): The collective group that stands together, often while negotiating for better coffee breaks. (Union).
- Vrista (n.): The joint that bends, supports, and occasionally reminds you of your age. (Knee).
- Vril (n.): The adventure that begins with a single step and often a misplaced map. (Journey).
- Vrilanto (n.): The sturdy framework holding things together, unlike your weekend plans. (Structure).
- Vrilar (verb.): To organize into a coherent form, building frameworks that support complexity. (Structure).
- Vrilajil (n.): The generous benefactor who funds your endeavors, often in exchange for a tiny logo everywhere. (Sponsor).
- Vrileje (n.): The short excursion where the weather is fine and the sandwiches are inevitably soggy. (Outing).
- Vriluhaer (verb.): Marking a point in time, going out socially. (Date).
- Vrior (verb.): To impose a financial charge, levying payments for public purposes. (Tax).
- Vriramo (adj.): Not too much, not too little, just right. (Moderate, balanced).
- Vrireci (n.): The oversimplified idea of a group, handy for arguments but rarely accurate. (Stereotype).
- Vriuc (n.): The sudden surge of something, usually undesirable, and often in need of immediate action. (Outbreak).
- Vriusadrumo (adj.): More fireworks and fanfare, takes your breath away. (Spectacular, amazing).
- Vrija (conj.): Anchors actions to places, mapping out the geography of events. (Where).

- Vrijai (adv.): The question that points to location, essential for lost wanderers. (Where).
- Vrijea (conj.): Opens up the infinite possibilities of location, boundless and unrestricted. (Wherever).
- Vrijal (conj.): Draws lines of contrast, setting up comparisons in the narrative. (Whereas).
- Vroar (verb.): Crafting a storyline, weaving events into a coherent narrative. (Plot).
- Vrobrier (verb.): To bring to a state of disrepair or disaster, dismantling with the efficiency of a well-aimed curse. (Ruin).
- Vrobus (n.): The essential act that keeps you alive and occasionally reminds you to calm down. (Breathing).
- Vrodar (verb.): To extend or lengthen to the limit, reaching beyond ordinary bounds. (Stretch).
- Vrodsaeer (verb.): Reducing as shadows recede with the rising sun. (Shrink).
- Vroduer (verb.): To direct spoken or written words to someone, focusing attention with deliberate communication. (Address).
- Vrofmeice (n.): The brilliant creation that changes the world or at least makes toast faster. (Invention).
- Vrofmeir (verb.): Creating something new, bringing innovation into existence. (Invent).
- Vrofonta (n.): The excruciating experience that's both illegal and unfortunately metaphoric for monday mornings. (Torture).
- Vrofor (verb.): To inflict severe pain as punishment or for coercion. (Torture).
- Vroer (verb.): To diminish in strength, losing vigor like a wilting flower under the midday sun. (Weaken).
- Vrogroma (adj.): Gets things done, no fuss. (Capable, able).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vrognonga (n.): The potential to do something great, often hidden behind a veil of procrastination. (Capability).
- Vropleroja (n.): The rapid turn that makes you dizzy, whether in politics or on a playground. (Spin).
- Vrovajuar (verb.): To inquire or request, seeking answers or assistance with a polite query. (Ask).
- Vrovuco (n.): The task given with a deadline, often requiring coffee and late nights. (Assignment).
- Vrovul (n.): The group of voters who look to you for representation, and occasionally, free barbecues. (Constituency).
- Vrovur (verb.): To allocate tasks or roles, distributing responsibilities with thoughtful planning. (Assign).
- Vrotreni (adv.): The elevated manner of doing things, often leading to lofty expectations. (Highly).
- Vroil (n.): The precise recipe for success, whether in chemistry or cracking the perfect joke. (Formula).
- Vromae (n.): The clever quip that either lands you laughs or a confused silence. (Joke).
- Vromblasir (verb.): To propel through the air with force, sending objects on a swift trajectory. (Throw).
- Vromole (n.): The piece of land surrounded by water, often dreamt of in winter and regretted in hurricane season. (Island).
- Vromoho (n.): The list of questions that promises insight but usually results in more questions. (Questionnaire).
- Vrondioma (adj.): All about soldiers and strategy. (Military, armed forces-related).
- Vrondion (n.): The organized armed forces, known for discipline, strategy, and shiny medals. (Military).
- Vroni (n.): The legal member of a nation, responsible for taxes, voting, and the occasional jury duty. (Citizen).

- Vroninte (n.): The status of belonging to a nation, ideally coupled with rights and responsibilities. (Citizenship).
- Vrosfilema (adj.): Takes charge, owns up to their actions. (Responsible, accountable).
- Vrolar (verb.): To hold a feeling of aversion, turning away with distaste or disinterest. (Dislike).
- Vrolu (n.): The quaint settlement where everyone knows your name, and your business. (Village).
- Vrolumer (verb.): To impose a fee or accuse formally, setting a price or accusation. (Charge).
- Vroolipumo (adj.): Stands out, one of a kind. (Special, unique).
- Vror (verb.): Changing positions or roles, like swapping places in a line. (Switch).
- Vrubsebo (n.): The gleaming prize that says, "you did it!" and often collects dust. (Trophy).
- Vrubuegir (verb.): To allow or authorize, granting access or approval with official sanction. (Permit).
- Vrucuhutlo (n.): The vast cosmos full of stars, planets, and the occasional black hole to throw things into perspective. (Universe).
- Vrudir (verb.): Bringing back to life, restoring energy or consciousness. (Revive).
- Vrudsilei (adv.): The urgent time frame that demands action right now, not a second later. (Immediately).
- Vrudo (n.): The cost of your journey, often more than you expected but hopefully worth the trip. (Fare).
- Vruduco (n.): The organized group of people with a common purpose, or at least a good newsletter. (Association).
- Vrudumo (adj.): Tied together, related in some way. (Associated, linked).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Vrudur (verb.): To connect with others in thought or action, forming relationships and networks of shared purpose. (Associate).
- Vruel (conj.): Holds simultaneous actions in harmony, the graceful dance of events occurring together. (Whilst).
- Vrugulema (adj.): Stands up to scrutiny, no fake. (Valid, legitimate).
- Vrugulen (n.): The state of being sound and convincing, especially important when explaining missed deadlines. (Validity).
- Vruva (n.): The potential danger lurking around the corner, best avoided if spotted in time. (Hazard).
- Vruvemeice (n.): The skillful handling of situations or people, often with more finesse than ethics. (Manipulation).
- Vruvemeir (verb.): To skillfully control or influence, moving pieces on life's chessboard with a puppet master's finesse. (Manipulate).
- Vruviu (n.): The regular payment for a place to call home, occasionally accompanied by a leaky roof. (Rent).
- Vruime (adj.): Known for all the wrong reasons, like a villain in a tale. (Infamous, notorious).
- Vrum (n.): The announcement that something's happening, whether you're ready or not. (Notice).
- Vrumamclie (n.): The person who's genuinely excited about something, even if no one else is. (Enthusiast).
- Vrumclulun (n.): The grand assembly of musicians, creating harmony or at least trying to. (Orchestra).
- Vrumge (n.): The story spun with words, enchanting or enlightening, sometimes both. (Tale).
- Vrun (conj. / pron.): Marks the moments in time, the waypoints of any journey. (When).
- Vrundaupa (n.): The action taken, whether noble or otherwise, often followed by paperwork. (Deed).

- Vrunea (conj.): Embraces flexibility in time, ready for any moment to seize its place in the story. (Whenever).
- Vruni (adv.): The question that frames time, always seeking answers. (When).
- Vrunir (verb.): To move slowly and quietly, advancing stealthily. (Creep).
- Vrunur (verb.): To step forward into new realms, diploma in hand like a map to unknown lands. (Graduate).
- Vrul (conj. / n.): Watches over concurrent happenings, the twin streams of narrative flowing side by side. (While).
- Vrulaf (n.): The protective gear for your head, crucial in sports and unwise diy projects. (Helmet).
- Vrulemor (verb.): To burst open with a sharp sound, releasing pressure in a sudden display. (Pop).
- Vruli (n.): The interval between events, often filled with plans that didn't quite work out. (Meantime).
- Vuceon (n.): The urgent situation that demands action and usually prompts a lot of frantic phone calls. (Crisis).
- Vuir (verb.): To breathe life into dreams with words of support and acts of kindness, lifting spirits to soar like eagles in the wind. (Encourage).
- Vuihuni (adv.): The way to match items in order, neatly and without confusion. (Respectively).
- Vuohaga (n.): The process of healing and getting back on track, whether for people or buildings. (Rehabilitation).
- Vuoho (n.): The device that connects to a power source or the casual endorsement slipped into conversations. (Plug).
- Vuupnumo (adj.): Draws you in, hard to resist. (Compelling, irresistible).
- Vuurur (verb.): To traverse from one side to another, bridging distances with purposeful steps. (Cross).

T

- Taasamo (adj.): Once a year, like a birthday. (Annual, yearly).
- Taalef (n.): The regular pattern of activities, ideally efficient and not too dull. (Routine).
- Taalema (adj.): Every day, nothing out of the ordinary. (Routine, regular).
- Tablaar (verb.): To transmit widely, spreading messages like seeds on the wind. (Broadcast).
- Tablaarol (n.): The person or company transmitting programs to entertain or inform. (Broadcaster).
- Taploma (adj.): All about the company and the bottom line. (Corporate, business-related).
- Tatrad (n.): The fixture for waste disposal or the room containing it. (Toilet).
- Tair (verb.): To supervise and manage, ensuring tasks are completed correctly and efficiently. (Oversee).
- Tameul (n.): The spirit of the dead that haunts or the elusive trace of something past. (Ghost).
- Tanta (adj. / n.): Meets the expectations, nothing more, nothing less. (Standard, normal).
- Tantante (n.): The position you take on an issue or the way you stand. (Stance).
- Tantar (verb.): To remain upright and steadfast, a pillar of resolve. (Stand).
- Tasoer (verb.): To bend gracefully, forming arcs and sweeps that defy rigid lines. (Curve).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Tao (n.): The smaller part of a group, often underrepresented but loud. (Minority).
- Taor (verb.): To overcome adversities, much like a climber conquers a peak, persisting despite the harsh winds and steep paths. (Prevail).
- Tarehi (n.): The lightweight, silvery metal used in cans, planes, and conspiracy theories. (Aluminium).
- Tarpar (verb.): To be compelled by necessity, an imperative that cannot be ignored. (Must).
- Tariplom (n.): The large, often wild animal or the term for something formidable. (Beast).
- Taroto (n.): Taroto (n.): The cosmic hiccup in every plan, the secret ingredient that ensures nothing works quite as intended. It's the universe's way of adding spice to the mundane. (Defect).
- Tealamo (adj.): Pretends to be, but isn't. (Fake, not real).
- Tecloma (adj.): More than needed, overflowing. (Excessive, too much).
- Tedrore (n.): The perspective from which you see or understand something. (Viewpoint).
- Tefrei (adv.): The complete state of unity, leaving nothing out. (Altogether).
- Tevri (adj. / n.): Balanced and fair, no ups and downs. (Level, even).
- Teime (adj.): Without cover, exposed. (Bare, naked).
- Tesamo (adj.): Like everyone else, nothing special. (Generic, common).
- Tesoir (verb.): To stretch across distances, bridging gaps with the elegance of a rainbow arcing over stormy skies. (Span).
- Teluuvi (adv.): The end state that comes after much waiting and anticipation. (Finally).
- Tic (n.): The brief unit of time, ideally not wasted. (Second).

- Tigrevlomijo (n.): The activities promoting and selling products or services. (Marketing).
- Titlas (n.): The inflatable object of joy at parties. (Balloon).
- Time (adj.): Just made, like morning dew. (Fresh, new).
- Tisar (verb.): To embark on a new beginning, the first step of a journey filled with unknown adventures. (Start).
- Tilui (adv.): The fractional state that's more than none but less than whole. (Partly).
- Tire (n.): The state of great comfort and extravagance, ideally appreciated. (Luxury).
- Tiuji (n.): The polite behavior, ideally sincere. (Courtesy).
- Tla (n.): The person recognized for holiness or virtue, often inspiring. (Saint).
- Tlaaco (n.): The preservation of resources or heritage, ideally sustainable. (Conservation).
- Tlaar (verb.): To protect and preserve, maintaining resources with careful management. (Conserve).
- Tlacsei (adv.): The exact manner of doing things with no room for error. (Precisely).
- Tlafojame (n.): The device that initiates action or the cause of a reaction. (Trigger).
- Tlae (n.): The person forced to work without freedom, ideally liberated. (Slave).
- Tlagroma (adj.): Falls short, needs more. (Insufficient, not enough).
- Tlapaahaaco (n.): The act of bringing goods to a location or the process of childbirth. (Delivery).
- Tlapaahaar (verb.): To bring goods or messages with speed and care, ensuring they reach their destination safely. (Deliver).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Tlapir (verb.): To impart knowledge and skills, shaping minds with enlightening instruction. (Educate).
- Tlavuna (n.): The ability to influence or control, ideally used wisely. (Power).
- Tlavunar (verb.): To supply with energy or force, driving forward with strength and momentum. (Power).
- Tlamadlefí (adv.): The method by which things are done, often confusingly explained. (Whereby).
- Tlanvrulema (adj.): Full of energy, discovering the world. (Teenage, adolescent).
- Tlaso (n.): The person who receives something, ideally grateful. (Recipient).
- Tlala (n.): The forward part or the place of confrontation. (Front).
- Tlalame (adj.): Leading the way, at the forefront. (Front, forward).
- Tlalime (adj.): No mistakes, as good as it gets. (Perfect, flawless).
- Tlalilar (verb.): To remove moisture, leaving behind a state of arid stillness. (Dry).
- Tlalo (n.): The small amount of liquid or the act of letting something fall. (Drop).
- Tlaon (n.): The important topic or problem, ideally addressed. (Issue).
- Tlaor (verb.): Beseeching earnestly as a petitioner kneels before a throne. (Plead).
- Tlararuor (verb.): To feel a burning disdain that consumes the spirit, casting shadows over kindness and light. (Hate).
- Tlararuoren (n.): The intense dislike, ideally transformed into understanding. (Hate).
- Tlarime (adj.): Hard to lift, weighs you down. (Heavy, weighty).

- Tlaru (n.): The property owner who rents to tenants, ideally fair. (Landlord).
- Tlecer (verb.): Sending words as messengers on swift wings, from one mind to another. (Notify).
- Tlefan (n.): The wrapped parcel or the comprehensive offer, ideally arriving on time. (Package).
- Tleeca (n.): The renewed interest or activity, ideally vibrant. (Revival).
- Tleer (verb.): To restore to life or consciousness, like rain revitalizes wilted flowers, coaxing them back to vibrant life. (Revive).
- Tlegravaur (verb.): To irritate with persistent actions, causing mild frustration. (Annoy).
- Tleta (n.): The educational book filled with knowledge and occasionally doodles. (Textbook).
- Tletsa (n.): The system of administrative rules and officials, ideally efficient. (Bureaucracy).
- Tlenan (n.): The polite, considerate man, ideally chivalrous. (Gentleman).
- Tlentlosur (verb.): To have the courage to do something, challenging boldly. (Dare).
- Tlesarura (n.): The flat surface for storing items, ideally not overburdened. (Shelf).
- Tlesvrusu (n.): The ceremonial act performed regularly, ideally meaningful. (Ritual).
- Tlel (n.): The measure of how tall something is or the peak of achievement. (Height).
- Tleor (verb.): To rip or rend apart, creating division with forceful action. (Tear).
- Tlera (n.): The source of water or the state of being healthy. (Well).
- Tli (n.): The damage or injury caused, ideally avoided. (Harm).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Tlifmu (n.): The device for typing or the musical instrument with keys. (Keyboard).
- Tlivime (adj.): Easy to use, just within reach. (Convenient, handy).
- Tliter (verb.): To select from options, making a decision. (Choose).
- Tlitime (adj.): In the spotlight, everyone's watching. (High-profile, well-known).
- Tlitus (n.): The slip for entry or the fine for an offense, ideally avoided. (Ticket).
- Tlimalorame (adj.): All about the plan, every move counts. (Tactical, strategic).
- Tlime (adj.): Man-made, not from nature. (Plastic, synthetic).
- Tlimocras (n.): The community of people living together, ideally harmoniously. (Society).
- Tlin (n.): The versatile, synthetic material or the adjective meaning moldable. (Plastic).
- Tlinape (n.): The office worker who handles administrative tasks, ideally efficiently. (Clerk).
- Tlinvlalep (n.): The quick back-and-forth movement or the milk-based drink. (Shake).
- Tlisostlirol (n.): The piece of furniture for dining or the array of data. (Table).
- Tlilotir (verb.): To begin formally, marking the start of an important event or process. (Commence).
- Tlirem (n.): The preserved remains of ancient organisms, ideally displayed in museums. (Fossil).
- Tiriho (n.): The recognition of value or the gratitude shown, ideally often. (Appreciation).
- Tlirul (n.): The amount of something, ideally measured accurately. (Quantity).

- Tliur (verb.): To assign a monetary value, placing a tag on the worth of goods and services. (Price).
- Tloci (adv.): The absolute negation that's surprisingly hard to uphold. (Never).
- Tlodame (adj.): Used to be, but no longer. (Former, previous).
- Tlofonta (n.): The state of being confined, ideally justly. (Imprisonment).
- Tlofor (verb.): To confine within walls, sealing away freedom with iron bars and unyielding locks. (Imprison).
- Tloeca (n.): The group born around the same time or the act of producing something. (Generation).
- Tloer (verb.): To create or produce, bringing forth new energy or ideas into the world. (Generate).
- Tloma (adj.): Harmful and dangerous, stay away. (Toxic, poisonous).
- Tlomflo (n.): The reward for winning, ideally coveted. (Prize).
- Tlomear (verb.): To wrap or bundle for transport, enclosing with care for the journey ahead. (Package).
- Tlomohiflame (adj.): Speaks the truth, no lies. (Honest, truthful).
- Tlos (n.): The power to influence or direct, ideally responsibly. (Control).
- Tlosuso (n.): The result in a game or the music written for a film. (Score).
- Tlore (n.): The versatile end-effector at the arm's extremity, adept at gestures and grips. (Hand).
- Tloricem (n.): The viral illness causing fever and aches, ideally short-lived. (Flu).
- Tlorumo (adj.): The end of the line, no further to go. (Ultimate, final).
- Tluacime (adj.): Doesn't last long, blink and you'll miss it. (Short, brief).
- Tluav (n.): The person who studies and writes about history, ideally accurately. (Historian).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Tluajaeca (n.): The movement of blood in the body or the distribution of media. (Circulation).
- Tluajaer (verb.): Moving through a system, like blood through veins or rumors through a crowd. (Circulate).
- Tlubel (n.): The ordered arrangement of items, ideally systematic. (Array).
- Tlubonu (n.): The aggressive action against someone or something, ideally avoided. (Attack).
- Tlubolojium (n.): The two-wheeled vehicle you pedal, ideally without falling. (Bicycle).
- Tlucrevir (verb.): To halt briefly, allowing a moment of stillness before continuing. (Pause).
- Tlucrenante (adj.): Been around forever, like an old oak tree. (Long-standing, enduring).
- Tludiamo (adj.): Meets the criteria, ready to go. (Eligible, qualified).
- Tludir (verb.): To shatter or fracture, disrupting the integrity with a decisive blow. (Break).
- Tlugra (n.): The vast expanse beyond earth or the area around you, ideally not cluttered. (Space).
- Tluvup (n.): The organ of sight or the careful look, ideally perceptive. (Eye).
- Tlumir (verb.): To awaken interest as a spark lights a flame. (Stimulate).
- Tlunvra (n.): The device that shields you from rain or the term for covering a range. (Umbrella).
- Tlunuvu (n.): The feeling that something is wrong or hidden, ideally unfounded. (Suspicion).
- Thulistiav (n.): The act of keeping someone in custody or the punishment in school. (Detention).
- Tluol (n.): The feeling or emotion expressed, ideally genuine. (Sentiment).

- Tlur (verb.): To dedicate oneself fully to a cause or task, binding oneself with unyielding resolve. (Commit).
- Tluref (n.): The surface's whimper, a minor scratch that's hardly a battle scar but enough to make your belongings look well-adventured. (Scratch).
- Tluruvsapla (n.): The motion made to express something, ideally meaningful. (Gesture).
- Toar (verb.): To heap items into towering stacks, creating a monument to organized chaos. (Pile).
- Tobrepemdre (n.): The hard outer covering of some animals or the protective casing, ideally not broken. (Shell).
- Tobrumo (adj.): Tied the knot, together forever. (Married, wedded).
- Tobrumunto (n.): The union of two people, ideally loving and lasting. (Marriage).
- Toc (n.): The 60-second unit of time or the adjective meaning very small. (Minute).
- Todiur (verb.): To speak falsely, misleading others with untruths. (Lie).
- Togredep (n.): The utensil for eating or the branching in a path. (Fork).
- Toprero (n.): The terrifying dream that jolts you awake, ideally rare. (Nightmare).
- Tovi (n.): The formal accusation of a crime, ideally just. (Indictment).
- Tovlelur (verb.): To reveal or make known, sharing information publicly. (Disclose).
- Ton (n.): The solid mineral material or the genre of music, both timeless. (Rock).
- Tono (n.): The state of matter that's firm or the adjective meaning reliable. (Solid).
- Tonomo (adj.): Strong and unyielding, like a rock. (Solid, firm).
- Tolumo (adj.): Full of fear, heart racing. (Afraid, scared).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Toosblime (adj.): Keeps its balance, doesn't waver. (Steady, stable).
- Touris (n.): The equipment for activities or the mechanism in machines, ideally functional. (Gear).
- Tra (n.): The plate for food or the prepared meal, ideally delicious. (Dish).
- Trabar (verb.): To pause with uncertainty, caught between decisions. (Hesitate).
- Tracace (n.): The belief taken for granted, ideally checked. (Assumption).
- Tracar (verb.): To take on responsibility or adopt a stance, stepping into roles with confident resolve. (Assume).
- Tracotu (n.): The tiny billboard on objects, proclaiming what they claim to be or whispering instructions on how not to ruin them. (Label).
- Tradainfu (n.): The person owning shares in a company, ideally profitably. (Shareholder).
- Trafame (adj.): Full of meaning, touches the soul. (Profound, deep).
- Trafavar (verb.): To be without something essential, feeling the void where presence ought to be. (Lack).
- Trafilen (n.): The process of evaluating something's quality or performance, ideally thoroughly. (Testing).
- Trafile (n.): The examination or trial to assess something, ideally passed. (Test).
- Trava (prep.): Trava pushes forward, through obstacles and barriers, ensuring progress. (Through, throughout).
- Travai (adv.): The adverb that covers everything, leaving no corner untouched. (Through, throughout).
- Travio (n.): The personal upholstery that wraps you up, keeping insides in and the world mostly out. (Skin).
- Tramaja (n.): The back-and-forth movement or the seat hanging from a frame, ideally joyful. (Swing).

- Tramcripa (n.): The formal test of knowledge or skills, ideally prepared for. (Exam).
- Trameſo (n.): The backbone of the botanical world, holding up leaves like ambitions toward the sky. (Stem).
- Tramorira (n.): The group of things sharing characteristics, ideally clearly defined. (Category).
- Tranemtlumo (adj.): Shows no mercy, ruthless. (Vicious, savage).
- Transien (n.): The section of text or the act of moving through something, ideally smoothly. (Passage).
- Transinte (n.): The act of moving by or the euphemism for dying, ideally peaceful. (Passing).
- Transil (n.): The triumphant leap over academic hurdles, a test's cheerful nod of approval. (Pass).
- Transir (verb.): To move beyond or across, continuing forward with smooth progression. (Pass).
- Transirel (n.): The person traveling in a vehicle, ideally safely. (Passenger).
- Transirija (n.): The document allowing international travel, ideally up-to-date. (Passport).
- Tranurumo (adj.): Nothing missing, all there. (Full, complete).
- Trasdlin (n.): The authority to enforce laws or the area of control, ideally clear. (Jurisdiction).
- Trasvreclime (adj.): Tied together, forming a chain. (Connected, linked).
- Trale (n.): The organization or act of giving to those in need, ideally generously. (Charity).
- Traleca (n.): The act of verifying something's truth or accuracy, ideally prompt. (Confirmation).
- Traleclusi (adv.): The emphatic agreement that's both old-fashioned and charming. (Indeed).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Traler (verb.): To verify with certainty, solidifying truths with the weight of evidence. (Confirm).
- Tralere (n.): The personal view or belief, ideally informed. (Opinion).
- Traluhauso (n.): The periodical publication or the part of a firearm holding bullets. (Magazine).
- Traoga (n.): The purpose behind actions, ideally clear. (Intent).
- Traor (verb.): To plan with purpose and foresight, envisioning the future with clarity. (Intend).
- Trar (verb.): To call off with finality, ending plans as swiftly and decisively as a guillotine's fall. (Cancel).
- Traridlora (n.): The amount consumed or the act of taking something in, ideally balanced. (Intake).
- Traro (n.): The container for cooking or the slang for marijuana, ideally not confused. (Pot).
- Traru (n.): The container for liquids or the ship on water, ideally seaworthy. (Vessel).
- Trapegui (n.): The statement given under oath, ideally truthful. (Testimony).
- Traper (verb.): Giving evidence or bearing witness, as in a court of law. (Testify).
- Traſar (verb.): To leave behind or desert, giving up completely. (Abandon).
- Trealame (adj.): Knows what they're doing, gets it done right. (Competent, capable).
- Trealen (n.): The ability to do something well, ideally proven. (Competence).
- Trebamploc (n.): The general agreement among a group, ideally harmonious. (Consensus).
- Trefuhoi (adv.): The state of perpetual busyness, often accompanied by a paycheck. (Full-time).

- Trefuhoma (adj.): The whole workday, no part-time here. (Full-time, all day).
- Treer (verb.): To set up temporary shelter in nature, living simply under the stars. (Camp).
- Tregmugi (n.): The midday meal, ideally balanced and satisfying. (Lunch).
- Tremaetsa (n.): The energy emitted from a source, often dangerous. (Radiation).
- Tremclime (adj.): Needs gentle care, easily broken. (Delicate, fragile).
- Tremfrenaji (n.): The granular material found on beaches and deserts, ideally warm. (Sand).
- Tremglas (n.): The sudden attack or the police search, ideally swift. (Raid).
- Trenuenta (n.): The opposition to something or the ability to withstand it, ideally strong. (Resistance).
- Trenuer (verb.): To withstand or oppose, holding firm against external pressures with steadfast resolve. (Resist).
- Tres (n.): The abbreviation for identification, essential for proving who you are. (ID).
- Tresui (adv.): The manner of enforcing rules without flexibility, often leading to rebellion. (Strictly).
- Trele (n.): The metric unit of length, just over three feet. (Meter).
- Trelojo (n.): The severe low mood or the economic downturn, ideally temporary. (Depression).
- Trelojotrif (n.): The powerful tropical storm with strong winds and rain, ideally avoided. (Hurricane).
- Trelofi (n.): The doctor who performs operations, ideally skillfully. (Surgeon).
- Treovmei (adv.): The point in the middle that's too far to turn back. (Halfway).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Treofisamo (adj.): Spanning the globe, everyone included. (Global, worldwide).
- Treris (n.): The person who repairs machines, ideally knowledgeable. (Mechanic).
- Trerujavracmo (n.): The survey of opinions or the voting place, ideally fair. (Poll).
- Tribram (n.): The act of firing a gun or the sport involving targets, ideally accurate. (Shooting).
- Trice (n.): The contest where individuals or teams vie for victory, ideally fair. (Competition).
- Tridagnumo (adj.): Leaves a bad taste, hard to swallow. (Bitter, harsh).
- Trifema (adj.): Fits perfectly, no wiggle room. (Tight, snug).
- Triferumo (adj.): Things just didn't go their way. (Unfortunate, unlucky).
- Trige (adj.): Always in the race, aiming to win. (Competitive, driven).
- Tripe (n.): The act of examining something or the written order for payment, ideally not bouncing. (Check).
- Tripejoi (adv.): The adequate way to meet requirements, just enough and no more. (Sufficiently).
- Trimflaleli (n.): The adornments made of precious metals and stones, ideally sparkling. (Jewelry).
- Trime (adj.): Needs proof, questions everything. (Sceptical, doubting).
- Trininto (n.): The process of learning skills or knowledge, ideally thorough. (Training).
- Trinir (verb.): To drill skills and knowledge into eager minds, shaping novices into experts with a steady hand. (Train).
- Trinirel (n.): The person who teaches skills or the athletic shoe, ideally comfortable. (Trainer).

- Triseorime (adj.): Sticks to the old ways, like family recipes handed down. (Traditional, customary).
- Trilago (adj.): Not quite right, a little off. (Odd, strange).
- Triler (verb.): To engage in repeated exercise to improve skill, honing talents with persistent effort. (Practice).
- Trilir (verb.): To bring to completion with a sense of purpose, as a tree bears fruit after seasons of growth. (Fulfil).
- Trilugo (adj.): Leaves you speechless, like fireworks on the fourth of july. (Impressive, awe-inspiring).
- Trilur (verb.): To leave a mark upon the minds of others, like footprints in the sand, memorable and enduring. (Impress).
- Trir (verb.): Engaging in rivalry as knights in a joust, honor and skill clashing. (Compete).
- Trirel (n.): The person or team competing in an event, ideally respectful. (Competitor).
- Tririju (n.): The timeless standard or the adjective meaning high quality, ideally enduring. (Classic).
- Triripumo (adj.): Never goes out of style, like a little black dress. (Classic, timeless).
- Triunar (verb.): To revise or correct text, making improvements or corrections. (Edit).
- Tro (pron.): Personal object pronun / the person who's the subject of conversation . (Her, him).
- Troci (adv.): The complete state of being, often leading to dramatic statements. (Utterly).
- Troda (n.): Troda (n.): The instinctive nose-wrinkle at life's less palatable offerings, a seasoned connoisseur of 'no thank you'. (Dislike).
- Troeca (n.): The remark or observation made about something, ideally constructive. (Comment, commentary).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

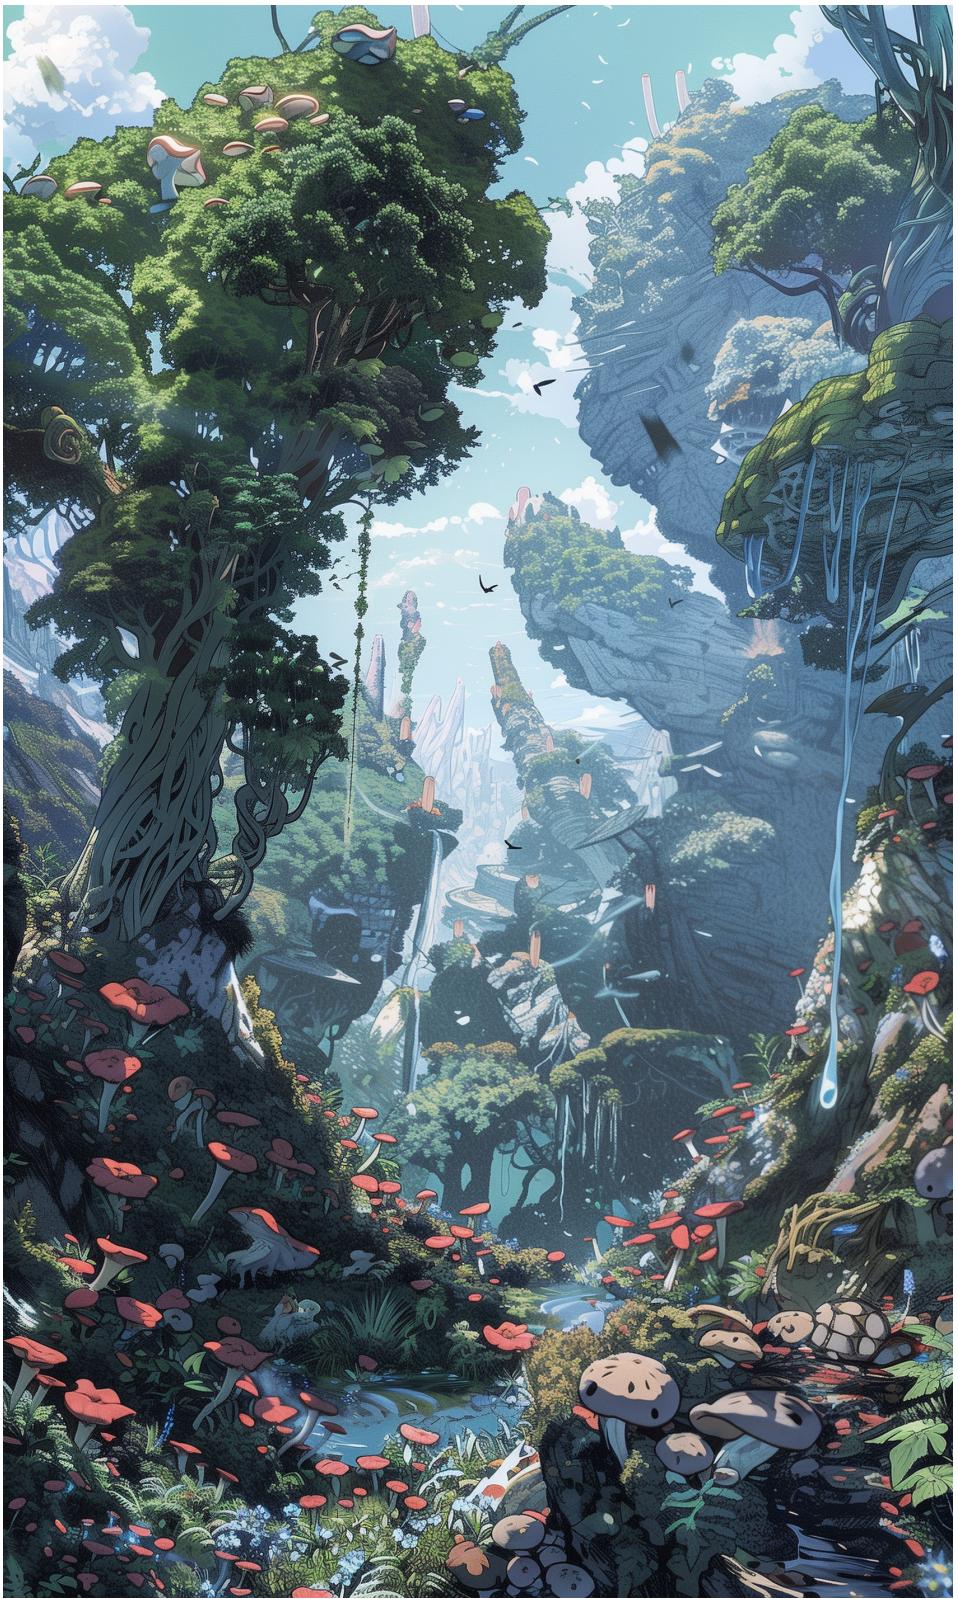

- Troer (verb.): To drop pearls of wisdom or nuggets of wit into a conversation, elevating the mundane to the sublime. (Comment).
- Tropirun (n.): The systematic explanation of phenomena, ideally testable. (Theory).
- Troter (verb.): To foresee or forecast future events, peering into what lies ahead with foresight. (Predict).
- Troteren (n.): The forecast of future events, ideally accurate. (Prediction).
- Trotlu (n.): The system of methods used in a field, ideally systematic. (Methodology).
- Troicar (verb.): To bear pain as trees endure winter, silently and with the promise of renewal. (Suffer).
- Troin (n.): The administrative assistant or the government official, ideally efficient. (Secretary).
- Tron (n.): The sandy shore by a body of water, ideal for relaxation. (Beach).
- Troncrime (adj.): Knows their stuff, a master in their field. (Professional, expert).
- Troncrin (n.): The person engaged in a profession or the adjective meaning expert. (Professional).
- Tros (pron.): Personal subject pronun / the person who's always central to the plot, whether they know it or not. (She, he).
- Trosbrilopnodelema (adj.): Quiet streets, where lawns are mowed and kids play. (Suburban, outer-city).
- Trosdruprul (n.): The malevolent spirit or the metaphor for inner struggles, ideally vanquished. (Demon).
- Trosi (n.): The formal discussion of opposing views, ideally civil. (Debate).
- Trosir (verb.): To engage in argument or discussion, exchanging views with intellectual vigor. (Debate).
- Trosu (pron.): Personal subject pronun / the crowd that makes decisions you'll never quite understand. (They).

- Trolanogui (n.): The correct arrangement of letters in words, ideally accurate. (Spelling).
- Trolanor (verb.): To form words with letters, articulating language through written symbols. (Spell).
- Troloma (adj.): A little bit of everything, like a mixed bag. (Various, different).
- Trroredei (adv.): The comprehensive view that covers all aspects, but not in detail. (Overall).
- Trroredema (adj.): Looking at the big picture, not the details. (Overall, general).
- Trou (pron.): Personal object pronoun / the mysterious group over there, often up to something. (Them).
- Truaji (n.): The raised land smaller than a mountain, ideal for hiking. (Hill).
- Trubiji (n.): The state of being youthful or the adjective meaning not old. (Young).
- Trubijime (adj.): Full of energy and potential, just starting out. (Young, youthful).
- Trubonta (n.): The state of things as they are, often compared to dreams. (Reality).
- Trucice (n.): The structure with walls and a roof or the act of construction. (Building, complex).
- Trucir (verb.): To create structures from the ground up, constructing dreams out of bricks and mortar. (Build).
- Truger (verb.): Directing attention with precision, akin to a compass needle finding north. (Point).
- Trugonema (adj.): Stories told through the ages, like king arthur. (Legendary, famous).
- Truvir (verb.): To move in a repeating sequence, like seasons turning or wheels spinning. (Cycle).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Truvu (n.): The slice of the pie that's rightfully yours, whether it's pie or not. (Share).
- Trute (n.): The state of being in accordance with facts or reality, ideally absolute. (Truth).
- Trumfruv (n.): The condition or the political entity, ideally stable. (State).
- Trumfrumo (adj.): All about the big picture, from laws to leaders. (State, governmental).
- Trunfal (n.): The person who achieves victory, ideally humble. (Winner).
- Trunfar (verb.): To achieve victory or success, triumphing over opponents. (Win).
- Trunor (verb.): To fasten securely, anchoring in place with a pointed object. (Pin).
- Trus (n.): The precision and correctness of something, ideally high. (Accuracy).
- Truserera (n.): The miniature lance in your sewing kit, perfect for taming fabric or picking locks in fairy tales. (Pin).
- Trulesire (n.): The goal you aim for or the adjective meaning unbiased. (Objective).
- Trulesirema (adj.): Sees things as they are, without personal feelings. (Objective, unbiased).
- Trulig (n.): The person who leads and informs or the book with information, ideally helpful. (Guide).
- Trulir (verb.): To position in a hierarchy, ordering with keen judgment of status and importance. (Rank).
- Trulonta (n.): The lack of success or the act of falling short, ideally temporary. (Failure).
- Trulor (verb.): To fall short of success, learning valuable lessons from the ashes of defeat. (Fail).
- Truosime (adj.): Leaves a mark, not a good one. (Harmful, damaging).

- Trurev (n.): The quality that makes things funny, ideally abundant. (Humor).
- Trurevoma (adj.): Makes you laugh, like a good joke. (Humorous, funny).
- Trureloma (adj.): Not quite right, something's off. (Uncomfortable, uneasy).
- Truroma (adj.): Waits calmly, without rushing. (Patient, enduring).
- Truronta (n.): The ability to wait calmly, ideally abundant. (Patience).
- Truroral (n.): The person receiving medical care or the adjective meaning able to wait calmly. (Patient).
- Truruploma (adj.): Down in the dumps, nothing's right. (Miserable, unhappy).
- Tuar (verb.): To declare something utterly unfit, often with the righteous indignation of a judge with a grudge. (Condemn).
- Tudrime (adj.): Catches you off guard, like a sudden twist. (Surprising, unexpected).
- Tueca (n.): The act of participating or being engaged, ideally proactive. (Involvement).
- Tuer (verb.): To include or engage, making part of a larger whole. (Involve).
- Tulei (n.): The public procession of celebration or demonstration, ideally festive. (Parade).
- Tuohi (n.): The person favoring progress or the adjective meaning generous, ideally open-minded. (Liberal).
- Tuohime (adj.): Embraces change and new ideas. (Liberal, open-minded).
- Tuur (verb.): To liberate, as one would open the cage of a long-captive bird, watching it soar into the sky with newfound freedom. (Free).
- Tunaenar (verb.): To draw in deeply, absorbing completely, like the earth drinks the rain. (Suck).

I

- Iaf (n.): The large piece of something, best savored or shared. (Chunk).
- Iam (n.): The electronic message that's fast, efficient, and sometimes spam. (Email).
- Iaru (n.): The release of something, often pollutants, that impacts the environment. (Emission).
- Ibaha (n.): The dish for food or the tectonic slab that shifts continents. (Plate).
- Iber (verb.): To capture and store information, preserving moments for posterity. (Record).
- Ibehuclame (adj.): Treasured like a family heirloom. (Precious, highly valued).
- Iblascrora (n.): The large mass or volume of something, often unwieldy. (Bulk).
- Ibiloil (n.): The land by the water where waves meet sand and dreams. (Shore).
- Iblug (n.): The focused beam that highlights stars or issues. (Spotlight).
- Iboca (n.): The added part that lengthens or expands something. (Extension).
- Iboga (n.): The degree or scope of something, often underestimated. (Extent).
- Ibovlure (n.): The legal professional who argues your case or drafts your contracts. (Attorney).
- Ibor (verb.): To stretch beyond limits, reaching for the stars with boundless ambition. (Extend).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ibohoclera (n.): The specific group of animals or plants with shared traits. (Breed).
- Ibroqe (prep.): When you're trying to encompass the vague and mysterious, like why the sky is blue or how socks disappear, ibroqe is your go-to. (About).
- Ibropei (adv.): The preposition that's close enough for most people's standards. (About).
- Ibur (verb.): To become part of a group, uniting with others in shared purpose. (Join).
- Ibuhei (adv.): The timeless word that spans past, present, and future, often optimistically. (Ever).
- Ibujo (n.): The group of twelve, often eggs or donuts. (Dozen).
- Icapor (verb.): To choose with keen discernment, plucking the best options from the bunch. (Pick).
- Icem (n.): The unit of distance that's long enough to make you think twice about walking. (Mile).
- Icil (n.): The elevated state, whether it's altitude, mood, or prices. (High).
- Icili (adv.): The vertical position that gives you a better view, if not a clearer perspective. (High).
- Icilime (adj.): Above the rest, like a mountain peak. (High, elevated).
- Iclilor (verb.): To cascade liquid gracefully from one vessel to another, like a waterfall performing a ballet. (Pour).
- Icirime (adj.): Real as it gets, no fakes here. (Authentic, genuine).
- Icmelu (n.): The floor covering that's soft, warm, and occasionally stained. (Carpet).
- Icluregace (n.): The desire for goods or services, ideally balanced with supply. (Demand).
- Icluregar (verb.): To insist with authority, making requests that brook no refusal. (Demand).

- Icoca (n.): The division into parts, often equal and sometimes painful. (Split).
- Icogem (n.): The circuit of a track or the comforting part of a seated person. (Lap).
- Icogrenpros (n.): The productive result of effort, ideally exceeding input. (Output).
- Icoma (adj.): What's left after the dust settles. (Net, remaining).
- Icon (n.): The meshed material for catching or the amount left after deductions. (Net).
- Icor (verb.): To divide into parts, creating distinct sections from the whole. (Split).
- Icumo (adj.): Turns everything on its head, like a revolution. (Radical, extreme).
- Idapula (n.): The pause between events, often brief and welcome. (Interval).
- Idige (n.): The replacement for something or someone, ideally just as good. (Substitute).
- Idsucrali (adv.): The destination that's as elusive as it is undesirable. (Nowhere).
- Idloculel (n.): The coordinated set of clothes that expresses style and mood. (Outfit).
- Iduempo (n.): The study of how resources are used and distributed, ideally wisely. (Economics).
- Iduempoi (adv.): The manner of treating things justly, though opinions may differ. (Fairly).
- Ifeime (adj.): Hidden away, like roots of a giant tree. (Underground, beneath the surface).
- Ifeisi (adv.): The subterranean place where secrets and moles thrive. (Underground).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ifemoli (adv.): The direction that takes you to the past, or just the wrong way. (Backward).
- Ifelocoma (adj.): Bursting with life and color. (Vibrant, lively).
- Ifijema (adj.): Larger than life, almost legendary. (Great, grand).
- Ifleloar (verb.): To remember or bring to mind, summoning memories from the depths of one's mind. (Recall).
- Iforiro (n.): The small body of water, ideal for ducks, frogs, and quiet reflection. (Pond).
- Ifojoor (verb.): To bind legally or shrink in size, like fabric under heat, becoming denser and more defined. (Contract).
- Ifus (n.): The shortfall between income and expenses, often causing concern. (Deficit).
- Ien (n.): The act of inhaling tobacco, leading to addiction and health issues. (Smoking).
- Iestluler (verb.): To assess or rank, as teachers evaluate tests, marking each answer with knowledge of right and wrong. (Grade).
- Iejilefe (n.): The automated machine that performs tasks, ideally without taking over the world. (Robot).
- Iga (n.): The worth of something, ideally recognized and appreciated. (Value).
- Igar (verb.): To set something into motion with vigor and determination, sending it forth into the world with purpose. (Launch).
- Igarco (n.): The act of starting something new, whether a rocket or a business. (Launch).
- Igice (n.): The heated exchange of differing views, ideally resolving issues. (Argument).
- Ijisoro (n.): The non-physical essence or the lively enthusiasm that animates you. (Spirit).

- Igit (verb.): To engage in a verbal dispute, clashing opinions with fervor and passion. (Argue).
- Igino (n.): The metric unit of volume, essential for measuring liquids. (Litre).
- Igmaati (adv.): The way to do things completely and meticulously, often taking forever. (Thoroughly).
- Ignaup (n.): The small booth for selling goods or the engine stopping unexpectedly. (Stall).
- Iglil (n.): The unit of land area, often farmed or aspired to own. (Acre).
- Igo (n.): The cost you pay for goods, services, or sometimes peace of mind. (Price).
- Igor (verb.): To stay in expectation, poised for the arrival of anticipated events. (Await).
- Igour (verb.): Persuading someone to believe or do something. (Convince).
- Igoje (n.): The small, precise element that makes up the bigger picture. (Detail).
- Igroro (n.): The literary genre of imagined stories, taking you to other worlds. (Fiction).
- Ipenor (verb.): To pursue and capture prey, engaging in a primal quest for sustenance or sport. (Hunt).
- Ipenopear (verb.): To change position or direction, altering the course with the subtlety of a whispering wind. (Shift).
- Iperema (adj.): Waiting to happen, like a seed ready to sprout. (Potential, possible).
- Iperu (n.): The latent ability waiting to be realized, ideally spectacularly. (Potential).
- Ipinte (n.): The advice or direction that helps you navigate life's labyrinth. (Guidance).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ipir (verb.): To lead or direct with wisdom and care, lighting the path for others to follow. (Guide).
- Ipladsonto (n.): The act of receiving or agreeing to something, ideally with grace. (Acceptance).
- Ipladsour (verb.): To receive willingly, embracing opportunities or responsibilities with open arms. (Accept).
- Iplegejoma (adj.): Rolls in dough, more than enough. (Rich, wealthy).
- Ipor (verb.): To cause fear, sending shivers down spines with a chilling presence. (Frighten).
- Ipur (verb.): To scrape or etch, as a key might mar a surface, leaving a mark both felt and seen. (Scratch).
- Ivar (verb.): Deduce information not explicitly stated, like solving a mystery with minimal clues. (Infer).
- Ivajo (n.): The period of holding a position or the job security for professors. (Tenure).
- Ivem (n.): The gentle farm animal that gives milk, beef, and occasional moos. (Cow).
- Ivemime (adj.): Moves at lightning speed, making snails and turtles look like they're standing still. (Quick, fast).
- Ivemu (n.): The wordsmith who crafts verses that touch hearts and minds. (Poet).
- Ivi (n.): The melody that gets stuck in your head or the act of adjusting instruments. (Tune).
- Ivir (verb.): Focusing skill as a sculptor carves details into stone. (Specialize).
- Ivmi (n.): The consequences following an event, often dealing with cleanup and reflection. (Aftermath).
- Ivnear (verb.): To bring about an effect or result, initiating action. (Cause).

- Ivletuha (n.): The authoritative figure in military, police, or corporate ranks. (Officer).
- Ivupu (n.): The expression of dissatisfaction, ideally constructive. (Complaint).
- It (pron.): Personal object pronun / the thing that's often hard to describe but always present. (It).
- Itasmo (adj.): Not a single flaw, perfect in form. (Right, correct).
- Itebrime (adj.): Older than dirt, with stories to tell. (Ancient, very old).
- Iter (verb.): To depend on with confidence, trusting in someone's support. (Rely).
- Its (pron.): Personal subject pronun / the elusive entity that's always just out of reach. (It).
- Itsu (pron.): Personal subject pronun / those things over there, multiplying like rabbits. (It).
- Itu (pron.): Personal object pronun / the collection of things that probably multiply when you're not looking. (It).
- Ituamo (adj.): Master of the craft, with a deft touch. (Skilled, adept).
- Itumi (adv.): The polite way to deliver bad news, often met with sighs. (Unfortunately).
- Itundlame (adj.): Applies everywhere, like gravity. (Universal, worldwide).
- Iic (n.): The taste experience that delights or disappoints your palate. (Flavour).
- Iim (n.): The one-fourth portion or the three-month segment of the year. (Quarter).
- Iime (adj.): Not the sharpest tool in the shed. (Dumb, stupid).
- Iis (n.): The category of things sharing characteristics or the quality of being nice. (Kind).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Iihuprei (adv.): The adverb that ignores obstacles and charges ahead. (Regardless).
- Iijema (adj.): Boiling over, hotter than a volcano. (Furious, extremely angry).
- Iijoer (verb.): Snaring fleeting moments as hands capture fireflies at dusk. (Catch).
- Imab (n.): The figurative comparison that paints pictures with words. (Metaphor).
- Imaflirice (n.): The refusal or dismissal of something or someone, ideally handled gracefully. (Rejection).
- Imaflirir (verb.): To refuse acceptance, casting aside with firm resolve. (Reject).
- Imaovi (adv.): The adverb that states the clear, though it often isn't. (Obviously).
- Imar (verb.): Setting up for a performance, organizing events meticulously. (Stage).
- Imajome (n.): The supply of goods or the ownership shares in a company. (Stock).
- Imbludliice (n.): The assessment of value, performance, or quality. (Evaluation).
- Imbludliir (verb.): To assess with the scrutiny of a dragon appraising its treasure hoard. (Evaluate).
- Imbrudrep (n.): The place of refuge or the protection granted to those fleeing danger. (Asylum).
- Imclos (n.): The postponement that makes you wait, often frustratingly. (Delay).
- Imcric (n.): The long-distance race that tests endurance, or any prolonged struggle. (Marathon).
- Imdlilalahe (n.): The focused beam of light used in surgery, presentations, or sci-fi battles. (Laser).

- Imdretar (verb.): To reduce the price or value, offering at a lower cost. (Discount).
- Imflema (adj.): Out in the boonies, miles from anywhere. (Remote, far away).
- Imfotrolime (adj.): Famous for all the wrong reasons. (Notorious, infamously known).
- Imel (n.): The self-assurance that carries you through challenges and speeches. (Confidence).
- Implip (n.): The trigger that provokes a response, whether economic or biological. (Stimulus).
- Imviice (n.): The creative spark that ignites ideas, art, or actions. (Inspiration).
- Imviir (verb.): To breathe life into dreams as winds stir dormant leaves. (Inspire).
- Imvri (n.): The hat that shields you from the sun or the lid that seals in freshness. (Cap).
- Imvro (n.): The exchange of goods or services, ideally mutually beneficial. (Trade).
- Imteor (verb.): To encircle completely, enveloping with presence. (Surround).
- Imi (n.): The characteristic that defines someone or something. (Attribute).
- Imitar (verb.): To concentrate with intense clarity, honing attention on the task at hand. (Focus).
- Imir (verb.): Cutting swiftly as a chef orchestrates a dance of knives and ingredients. (Chop).
- Imisa (n.): The group of ships or vehicles, ideally coordinated and impressive. (Fleet).
- Imoca (n.): The act of growing or increasing, ideally sustainably. (Expansion).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Imor (verb.): To increase in size or scope, spreading outwards with growth and ambition. (Expand).
- Imusuor (verb.): To suffer or die from lack of food, experiencing extreme hunger. (Starve).
- Imur (verb.): Curving lips in a silent ballet of joy, infectious and bright. (Smile).
- Imuriseif (n.): The biased information spread to influence public opinion, often subtly. (Propaganda).
- Impe (n.): The curved tool for catching fish or the catchy element of a song. (Hook).
- In (prep.): For the ongoing and the in-progress, ini holds time in its hand, whether it's during the day or during a dragon attack. (During).
- Inanajo (n.): The flavorful liquid that enhances meals, or the metaphorical extra touch. (Sauce).
- Inante (adj. / n.): The typical value or performance, ideally not too shabby. (Average, typical).
- Inar (verb.): To find the mean value, balancing highs and lows into a central figure. (Average).
- Inapaumo (adj.): Brings in the bacon, and then some. (Profitable, money-making).
- Inbluri (n.): The smaller urban area with its own charm, quirks, and community. (Town).
- Indras (n.): The tools and machinery you use to get jobs done, ideally functioning. (Equipment).
- Ineca (n.): The allocation of resources for future gain, ideally yielding returns. (Investment).
- Ineor (verb.): Assuming a stance as a model before a painter, each angle a choice. (Pose).
- Iner (verb.): Committing resources with foresight, planting seeds of effort in anticipation of future growth. (Invest).

- Ineral (n.): The person who commits money to ventures, hoping for profit. (Investor).
- Inglu (n.): The nutrient that adds flavor, energy, and occasionally guilt to your diet. (Fat).
- Inglumo (adj.): More to love, as they say. (Fat, overweight).
- Ingoerafu (n.): The hot beverage that soothes, energizes, and fuels british conversations. (Tea).
- Ingroro (n.): The total number of people in a given area, ideally counted accurately. (Population).
- Inplogsema (adj.): Against the rules, on the wrong side of the law. (Illegal, unlawful).
- Invau (n.): The goods brought in from abroad, boosting variety and trade. (Import).
- Invaur (verb.): Bringing goods into a country, introducing new elements into a familiar environment. (Import).
- Invigoce (n.): The systematic investigation to establish facts, theories, or new insights. (Research).
- Invigor (verb.): To systematically investigate, uncovering truths and knowledge with meticulous study. (Research).
- Invigoral (n.): The dedicated individual who digs for data, often in the pursuit of knowledge. (Researcher).
- Invlamo (adj.): Comes next, waits its turn. (Later, after).
- Invlari (adv.): The time that's always in the future, just when you plan to be productive. (Later).
- Int (prep.): When you find yourself in the thick of things, whether it's a crowd or a cluster of troublesome thoughts, int captures the essence. (Amid, among, between).
- Inti (adv.): The space separating two points, often filled with tension. (Between).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Intime (adj.): All about the structure and rules. (Institutional, organizational).
- Intija (n.): The organization dedicated to education, research, or specific purposes. (Institute, institution).
- Intredoviju (n.): The kitchen appliance where meals are cooked and hands are warmed. (Stove).
- Intuivar (verb.): To grasp the meaning or significance, comprehending fully. (Understand).
- Ini (adv / prep.): Simple and encompassing, inside places, within bounds or confines. (In, inside, into, onto).
- Iniclogoma (adj.): No choice but to follow. (Compulsory, mandatory).
- Inime (adj.): Tucked away, sheltered from the outside. (Inside, interior).
- Inimpraer (verb.): To apply friction with gentle pressure, soothing or polishing surfaces. (Rub).
- Inija (prep.): The truel word "inija" evokes the comforting embrace of one's own space, where mysteries are hidden within the familiar and introspection leads to profound discoveries. (Inside).
- Inosofo (n.): The stroke of twelve when cinderella's magic ends and a new day begins. (Midnight).
- Inor (verb.): To interrupt or upset, causing a break in peace or order. (Disturb).
- Inopifroma (adj.): Paints a picture with every word. (Graphic, vividly detailed).
- Isagsu (n.): The act of creating or the brand that signifies quality. (Make).
- Isatmo (adj. / n.): Where the sun rises, fresh beginnings. (East, eastern).
- Isatmoi (adv.): The cardinal direction where the sun rises and adventures begin. (East).
- Isai (adv.): The adverb that describes life's little twists and contradictions. (Ironically).

- Isbroma (adj.): Deep in the thick of it. (Involved, engaged).
- Isbrola (n.): The linked series of metal or the sequence of events, both holding things together. (Chain).
- Isbrusga (adj.): Rich in heritage and tradition. (Ethnic, cultural).
- Isetema (adj.): All business, no time for jokes. (Serious, grave).
- Isplatoji (n.): The official decision handed down by those in power, ideally just. (Ruling).
- Isplec (n.): The device that lets you communicate across distances, now smart and indispensable. (Telephone).
- Ispoi (n.): The final act of laying someone to rest, often with solemn ceremonies. (Burial).
- Isprame (adj.): Bare as a newborn. (Naked, unclothed).
- Isvlis (n.): The absence of sound, often golden and occasionally deafening. (Silence).
- Isvloma (adj.): Balanced and fair, no ups or downs. (Even, level).
- Isvlomi (n.): The break of day when light returns and hopes rise. (Dawn).
- Isvloli (adv.): The adverb that levels the playing field, or emphasizes extremes. (Even).
- Isvri (n.): The legal protection of creative works, ensuring credit and royalties. (Copyright).
- Ist (n.): The direction opposite right or the political stance favoring social equality. (Left).
- Isti (adv.): The direction that's the opposite of right, often favored by the creative. (Left).
- Istlimblumo (adj.): Recognized everywhere, like a pop star. (Famous, well-known).
- Isivrim (n.): The conflict of ideas, interests, or physical confrontation. (Clash).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Isirose (n.): The recognition for achievements or the financial trust extended to you. (Credit).
- Isihiare (n.): The physical exercise session that builds strength, endurance, and sometimes sweat puddles. (Workout).
- Isovar (verb.): To notice or identify, recognizing details or items with sharp observation. (Spot).
- Isor (verb.): To slide unintentionally, losing footing with a sudden glide. (Slip).
- Isuahame (adj.): Slips through tight spaces, like a thread through a needle. (Narrow, thin).
- Isur (verb.): To be a part of, fitting into a particular group or place. (Belong).
- Isuui (adv.): The word that ends things with finality, often tinged with regret. (Anymore).
- Ilavrut (n.): The widespread outbreak of disease, spreading faster than gossip. (Epidemic).
- Ilaisa (n.): The distinct section of a legal document, often full of fine print. (Clause).
- Ilamo (adj.): Stands out like a lighthouse in fog. (Distinct, clearly different).
- Ilalor (verb.): To attack violently, unleashing force with aggressive intent. (Assault).
- Ilajuime (adj.): Heavier than a lead balloon. (Depressing, deeply sad).
- Ilaso (n.): The plentiful supply of something, ideally more than enough. (Abundance).
- Ilem (n.): The regal headgear symbolizing authority, or the top of something. (Crown).
- Ilenen (n.): The effective use of resources, ideally minimizing waste. (Efficiency).

- Ilenta (n.): The state of self-reliance and freedom, often hard-won. (Independence).
- Ilesplud (n.): The first appearance or performance, ideally impressive and memorable. (Debut).
- Ilelaja (n.): The skilled negotiator who represents a nation, ideally fostering peace. (Diplomat).
- Ilelu (n.): The formal discussion of ideas, often enlightening and occasionally tedious. (Discourse).
- Illehur (verb.): To suspend in midair, leaving objects to dangle like ornaments in the breeze. (Hang).
- Ili (n.): The distant line where sky meets earth, full of promise and sunsets. (Horizon).
- Ilifa (n.): The traditional story of heroes and myths, or the person of great fame. (Legend).
- Ilivamo (adj.): Not quite straight, a bit off-kilter. (Bent, curved).
- Ilit (n.): The act of asking questions, ideally leading to answers. (Inquiry).
- Iliti (n.): The cylindrical container or the underground train system. (Tube).
- Ilim (n.): The bound collection of pages that tells stories, imparts knowledge, or decorates shelves. (Book).
- Ilimeir (verb.): To worry or trouble someone, casting shadows of doubt like a suspicious cloud on a sunny day. (Concern).
- Ilir (verb.): To measure and coordinate moments, orchestrating the rhythm of life's events. (Time).
- Ilisi (n.): The sense that lets you enjoy food or the discerning appreciation of quality. (Taste).
- Ilobrame (adj.): The bedrock beneath the surface. (Underlying, fundamental).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Iloca (n.): The act of yielding or presenting something for consideration. (Submission).
- Ilonacret (n.): The tracks and trains that transport goods and people, fueling journeys and economies. (Railroad).
- Ilosa (n.): The consideration or respect for someone or something. (Regard).
- Ilor (verb.): To yield or surrender, as a contestant concedes defeat, acknowledging the prowess of a competitor. (Submit).
- Ilojo (n.): The insect that buzzes annoyingly or the act of soaring through the air. (Fly).
- Ilojor (verb.): To soar through the air with grace and freedom, embracing the sky with outstretched wings. (Fly).
- Ilup (n.): The essential nutrient that keeps you healthy and your pee colorful. (Vitamin).
- Iluviv (n.): The strong, shiny element used in construction, art, and jewelry. (Metal).
- Ilur (verb.): Inviting as a siren song, irresistible and sweet. (Tempt).
- Ilupoglaci (adv.): The way to handle things with resolve, though not necessarily gently. (Firmly).
- Iostra (n.): The period or word that defines something, often setting limits. (Term).
- Ioleca (n.): The green light given after consideration, ideally well-deserved. (Approval).
- Ioler (verb.): To accept or endorse, giving consent or confirmation. (Approve).
- Iorem (n.): The middle of something, often chaotic or crucial. (Midst).
- irâglaro(): The linguistic rebel that makes grammar teachers sigh and poets cheer, always dancing to its own offbeat rhythm (irregular).
- Iramo (adj.): Wide awake, eyes wide open. (Conscious, aware).

- Irasema (adj.): Ahead of the curve, breaking new ground. (Progressive, forward-thinking).
- Irasenta (n.): The state of awareness, whether awake, dreaming, or philosophically pondering. (Consciousness).
- Irar (verb.): To draw something towards oneself, as if reeling in the universe. (Pull).
- Irajala (n.): The adventurous journey in search of something significant, often transformative. (Quest).
- Irapnia (n.): The high-speed internet connection that keeps you online and happy. (Broadband).
- Ireejoepi (n.): The money you use to buy things, ideally worth more than the paper it's printed on. (Currency).
- Ireepaov (n.): The online journal where thoughts, opinions, and cat pictures are shared. (Blog).
- Iregui (adv.): The manner of achieving results, ideally without too much fuss. (Effectively).
- Irepratne (n.): The joint that connects your leg to your foot, often sprained in sports. (Ankle).
- Ireval (n.): The representative who acts on your behalf, ideally with your best interests in mind. (Agent).
- Irevi (n.): The forceful collision that leaves a mark, physically or metaphorically. (Impact).
- Irevija (n.): The organization that provides services, or the power to act independently. (Agency).
- Irevucret (n.): The narrow opening for coins, cards, or moments of luck. (Slot).
- Iretiplopav (n.): The diplomatic outpost that's a little slice of home in a foreign land. (Embassy).
- Iratron (n.): The devices that blink, beep, and occasionally cause tech rage. (Electronics).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ireicime (adj.): Bigger and better, like a palace. (Grand, magnificent).
- Iremevluvian (n.): The metric unit of distance that's a bit more than half a mile. (Kilometer).
- Ireindrora (n.): The signal to start something, ideally unmistakable. (Cue).
- Ireubumo (adj.): Doors sealed tight, no way in or out. (Shut, closed).
- Ireudsi (n.): The reason you give for not doing something, ideally believable. (Excuse).
- Ireulic (n.): The tension in muscles, situations, or sourdough starters. (Strain).
- Ireujema (adj.): Knows their worth, stands tall. (Confident, self-assured).
- Irid (n.): The group of experts or the flat piece of material, both providing support. (Panel).
- Irifor (verb.): To receive from a predecessor, often property or traits passed down through generations. (Inherit).
- Iriv (n.): The rural worker who tills the land, often underappreciated and overworked. (Peasant).
- Irinalel (n.): The ten-year span that changes trends, technology, and sometimes your perspective. (Decade).
- Iriru (n.): The state of tranquility and harmony, ideally global but often personal. (Peace).
- Irobamo (adj.): Takes up space, hard to miss. (Big, large).
- Irobmo (n.): The stretch of time or distance, ideally significant and noteworthy. (Span).
- Ironeoca (n.): The public declaration that shares news, ideally clearly and concisely. (Announcement).
- Ironeor (verb.): To declare news with fanfare, making sure everyone from here to the moon is in the know. (Announce).

- Irolasbame (adj.): Fresh from the source, untouched by flame. (Raw, uncooked).
- Irolime (adj.): Bound to happen, like night following day. (Inevitable, unavoidable).
- Iru (n.): The rebellious subculture that's loud, bold, and unapologetically anti-establishment. (Punk).
- Irub (n.): The soft, breathable fiber that's a staple in clothing and comfort. (Cotton).
- Irugreti (n.): The invisible gas you breathe, essential and often taken for granted. (Air).
- Irul (n.): The rear part of your body or the return to a previous state. (Back).
- Iruli (adv.): The direction that leads to where you started, often with lessons learned. (Back).
- Irulomo (adj.): Behind you, watching your six. (Back, rear).
- Iruru (n.): The authoritative order you give or the control you exert. (Command).
- Ihafrare (n.): The act of dropping explosives, causing destruction and fear. (Bombing).
- Ihailoho (n.): The state of being free from public attention, often hard to achieve. (Privacy).
- Ihanaco (n.): The phase of life after work, ideally filled with relaxation and hobbies. (Retirement).
- Ihanar (verb.): To withdraw from active work, finding rest and reflection after a lifetime of toil. (Retire).
- Ihaulen (n.): The act of directing your gaze or the style you present. (Look).
- Ihauſo (n.): The motivation to act, often a carrot or a stick. (Incentive).
- Iheprime (adj.): Powered by the big yellow in the sky. (Solar, sun-related).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ihemisi (n.): The supreme power to govern without interference, ideally respected. (Sovereignty).
- Ihiloner (verb.): To release or expel, letting go from confinement or obligation. (Discharge).
- Ihior (verb.): To explode suddenly with force, breaking forth in a dramatic reveal. (Burst).
- Ihogros (n.): The specific job or duty you undertake, ideally completed. (Task).
- Ihoprecreub (n.): The country you call home, filled with pride, memories, and sometimes longing. (Homeland).
- Ihoi (n.): The single sheet of a book or website, turning knowledge into manageable pieces. (Page).
- Iubi (n.): The mail you send, the job you hold, or the message you share. (Post).
- Iubir (verb.): To publish or display publicly, sharing information on platforms. (Post).
- Iubirel (n.): The large printed picture or announcement you hang on walls. (Poster).
- Iuclus (n.): The person or thing holding a similar position in another context. (Counterpart).
- Iuf (n.): The time of day post-lunch and pre-dinner, often the sleepy part. (Afternoon).
- Ija (n.): The measure of how wide something is, ideally fitting through doors. (Width).
- Ijaa'ace (n.): The detailed description of requirements, often technical and precise. (Specification).
- Ijaa'ar (verb.): To state explicitly, detailing particular requirements or conditions. (Specify).
- Ijadie (n.): The quantity of something, ideally counted correctly. (Amount).

- Ijagroob (n.): The prolonged period without rain, causing thirst and cracks. (Drought).
- Ijaihema (adj.): Thick as a forest in midsummer. (Dense, tightly packed).
- Ijase (n.): The fundamental truth or law that guides actions and beliefs. (Principle).
- Ijaonun (n.): The essential facilities and systems that support a community, ideally robust. (Infrastructure).
- Ije (n.): The piece of the whole, whether mechanical, musical, or narrative. (Part).
- Ijetrir (verb.): To be the right size or shape, matching requirements perfectly. (Fit).
- Ijesoor (verb.): To perform a role or take action, stepping into character or initiating movement. (Act).
- Ijesoorco (n.): The act of doing something, ideally with purpose and energy. (Action).
- Ijeor (verb.): To record events or data systematically, preserving details for future reference. (Log).
- Ijeoro (n.): The state of being together and cohesive, ideally in harmony. (Unity).
- Iji (n.): The inaugural month where Nature, in its infinite wisdom, decides to reboot, prompting flora and fauna to update their seasonal settings. (April).
- Ijioma (adj.): Deadly as a snake's bite. (Poisonous, toxic).
- Ijoblaco (n.): The admission of guilt or secrets, ideally leading to redemption. (Confession).
- Ijoblar (verb.): Admitting to something, often with a sense of relief. (Confess).
- Ijoflegos (n.): The playful primate that swings, chatters, and occasionally steals your lunch. (Monkey).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ijofravramo (adj.): Easy on the senses, like a spring breeze. (Mild, gently soft).
- Ijoprare (n.): The act of lifting or increasing, ideally in salary or spirits. (Raise).
- Ijoipatlumo (adj.): Straight out of a castle, with knights and dragons. (Medieval, middle ages-related).
- Ijome (n.): The public space for discussion, debate, and sharing ideas. (Forum).
- Ijosai (adv.): The manner of doing things right, despite popular opinion. (Correctly).
- Ijuflema (adj.): Clings to you, like honey on fingers. (Sticky, adhesive).
- Ijutlacoma (adj.): Eyes on the horizon, ready for the dawn. (Hopeful, optimistic).
- Ijuir (verb.): To strike with significant effect, leaving a lasting impression. (Impact).
- Ijune (n.): The small team of people united by purpose, often in sports or battle. (Squad).
- Ijna (n.): The device that's a phone, computer, camera, and distraction in your pocket. (Smartphone).
- Ijnaes (n.): The competitive speed sport that thrills fans and fuels adrenaline. (Racing).
- Ijnaer (verb.): To strike with force and intention, delivering a blow that resonates with both impact and purpose. (Punch).
- Ijne (n.): The unmarried state or the one song that defines an album. (Single).
- Ijnedlecor (verb.): To hide or keep secret, preventing discovery. (Conceal).
- Ijneitriar (verb.): To provide shelter or accommodation, offering refuge within welcoming walls. (House).

- Inejiruco (n.): The likelihood of something happening, often calculated and sometimes gambled on. (Probability).
- Inejirumo (adj.): Chances are good, like a well-placed bet. (Probable, likely).
- Inejirumoi (adv.): The tentative affirmation that leaves plenty of room for doubt. (Probably).
- Ijema (adj.): Flying solo, alone but capable. (Single, one).
- Inejolir (verb.): To help someone remember, bringing past events or obligations to mind. (Remind).
- Inejolirel (n.): The prompt that jogs your memory, ideally preventing forgetfulness. (Reminder).
- Ijeruen (n.): The staff members who keep an organization running, ideally smoothly. (Personnel).
- Ijiaco (n.): The small change that makes a big difference, ideally for the better. (Adjustment).
- Ijiar (verb.): To alter or modify for better fit or function, making small changes. (Adjust).
- Ijibili (adv.): The word that explains the result, if you're paying attention. (Thereby).
- Ijibo (n.): The transport of goods, often awaited eagerly by online shoppers. (Shipping).
- Ijicabruf (n.): The physical or moral power to withstand and overcome challenges. (Strength).
- Ijidleguugui (n.): The way you manage tasks or goods, ideally with care and efficiency. (Handling).
- Ijidleguur (verb.): To manage or deal with, addressing issues with skillful attention. (Handle).
- Ijidlere (n.): The obligation you fulfill, whether out of responsibility or honor. (Duty).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ipienentrusvi (n.): The natural home of living organisms, ideally preserved and thriving. (Habitat).
- Ipiier (verb.): To nurture and support growth, encouraging potential to blossom under your care. (Foster).
- Ipiivruful (n.): The tissue that enables movement and strength, often built in gyms. (Muscle).
- Ipiime (adj.): All about the mom and dad vibes. (Parental, parent-related).
- Ipiior (verb.): To move slowly on hands and knees, progressing close to the ground. (Crawl).
- Ipiuco (n.): The sudden, violent burst that shatters calm and captures attention. (Explosion).
- Ipiur (verb.): To burst forth with sudden force, scattering fragments far and wide in a spectacular display. (Explode).
- Ipoar (verb.): To immerse fully in liquid, saturating until absorption is complete. (Soak).
- Ipoetulamo (adj.): In the flesh, not just in theory. (Actual, real).
- Ipotrilaje (n.): The competitive event or the perfect pairing, both ideally striking. (Match).
- Ijoma (adj.): Hides in plain sight, like a ghost. (Invisible, unseen).
- Ipubema (adj.): Missed the mark, off target. (Incorrect, wrong).
- Ipublinoco (n.): The act of controlling a vehicle or the force propelling you forward. (Driving).
- Ipublinocoma (adj.): Steering the wheel, leading the way. (Driving, in control).
- Ipublinoga (n.): The motivation to achieve or the route you take to get there. (Drive).
- Ipublinor (verb.): To propel forward with energy and determination, steering towards your goals. (Drive).

- Ipublinoral (n.): The person behind the wheel, navigating roads and traffic. (Driver).
- Ipufroma (adj.): Squeaky clean, no dirt in sight. (Clean, spotless).
- Ipusoire (n.): The interconnected network of sites or the intricate design of spiders. (Web).
- Ipuor (verb.): Possessing as one claims a cherished book, its stories part of one's soul. (Own).
- Ipuoco (n.): The promise of quality or refund, ideally honored without hassle. (Guarantee).
- Ipuur (verb.): To assure with confidence, backing promises with unwavering certainty. (Guarantee).
- Isacrafugo (n.): The previous example that sets the standard for future actions. (Precedent).
- Isacrafur (verb.): To come before in time or order, leading up to an event. (Precede).
- Isafe (n.): The conduit for transporting resources or the sequential process for projects. (Pipeline).
- Isapre (n.): The soft tissue that covers your bones and occasionally gets bruised. (Flesh).
- Isaprire (n.): The judicial officer who administers the law, ideally impartially. (Magistrate).
- Isaic (n.): The societal and biological distinctions between male, female, and beyond. (Gender).
- Isaoi (n.): The distinctive attribute or the highlighted element in media. (Feature).
- Isega (adj.): As agreeable as a summer day. (Nice, pleasant).
- Isena (n.): The academic award that helps fund education, ideally based on merit. (Scholarship).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Iferuclumi (adv.): The word that adds more to an already convincing argument. (Furthermore).
- Ifeur (verb.): To cut swiftly and decisively, akin to a hero's blade in action. (Slash).
- Ificuo (n.): The large quantity or the religious ceremony, both significant. (Mass).
- Ificuoma (adj.): Big enough to matter, like a crowd at a concert. (Mass, large-scale).
- Ifier (verb.): To approximate or assess value, making educated guesses based on available information. (Estimate).
- Ifieren (n.): The rough calculation you make when exact figures elude you. (Estimate).
- Ifiinte (n.): The informative talk that educates, occasionally bores, and hopefully enlightens. (Lecture).
- Ifiir (verb.): To deliver a formal talk, imparting knowledge with the gravity of a seasoned scholar. (Lecture).
- Ifo (n.): The sports enthusiast who trains hard and competes fiercely. (Athlete).
- Ifodroramipoma (adj.): Not on the same team, at odds. (Opposed, against).
- Ifoi (n.): The documented achievement or the vinyl disc that spins music. (Record).
- Ifosiic (n.): The vital organ that detoxifies or the dish some people actually enjoy. (Liver).
- Ifooma (adj.): Picky as a cat with its dinner. (Selective, choosy).
- Iforoma (adj.): Floats with the current, not against it. (Mainstream, widely accepted).
- Iforore (n.): The prevailing trend or culture, often shunning the niche and alternative. (Mainstream).

- Ijousir (verb.): To confine in a prison, restricting freedom with bars and cells. (Jail).
- Isubrugrelejo (n.): The classical dance form that combines grace, strength, and tutus. (Ballet).
- Ijudrosoca (n.): The act of putting something inside, ideally with precision and care. (Insertion).
- Ijudrosor (verb.): To put into or introduce, placing within something. (Insert).
- Ijuonir (verb.): Expecting with certainty, like awaiting the return of spring. (Anticipate).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

M

- Maac (n.): The water that falls from the sky, often refreshing and sometimes relentless. (Rain).
- Maadir (verb.): To form or mold, crafting the contours of reality with the hands of a master sculptor. (Shape).
- Maamo (adj.): Missed the first train, waiting for the next. (Late, delayed).
- Maancrus (n.): The abhorrent practice of owning humans, ideally abolished forever. (Slavery).
- Maali (adv.): The timing that's fashionable in some circles and rude in others. (Late).
- Mablesar (verb.): To raise to a higher level or position, lifting spirits or statuses. (Elevate).
- Mablesarel (n.): The lift that carries you between floors, ideally without awkward silences. (Elevator).
- Macsur (verb.): To increase to the greatest possible amount or degree, optimizing fully. (Maximize).
- Maclero (n.): The sign of illness that prompts you to see a doctor. (Symptom).
- Madrepamo (adj.): Filling in for now, like a placeholder until the main event. (Interim, temporary).
- Mae (n.): The natural substance mined from the earth, often essential and valuable. (Mineral).
- Magluro (n.): The firearm that's used for protection, hunting, or harm. (Gun).
- Mapaonuoca (n.): The confident statement or claim, often needing proof. (Assertion).

- Mapaonuor (verb.): To declare with confidence, making one's stance clear and undeniable. (Assert).
- Mapleplen (n.): The audible breath that expresses relief, frustration, or resignation. (Sigh).
- Maprip (n.): The contrast between things, often sparking curiosity or conflict. (Difference).
- Mavrenur (verb.): To leave behind duties or comrades, vanishing like a mirage in the midday sun. (Desert).
- Mailosaob (n.): The official decision in a court case, ideally just. (Verdict).
- Manisane (n.): The male parent who guides, teaches, and occasionally embarrasses. (Father).
- Manus (n.): The method or resources used to achieve something. (Means).
- Malui (adv.): The way to do things reliably, if somewhat predictably. (Consistently).
- Maodi (adv.): The manner that shows likeness, often more than you'd expect. (Similarly).
- Maor (verb.): Descending gently like a leaf on a quiet pond. (Sink).
- Mauv (n.): The sight or opinion you hold, ideally clear and insightful. (View).
- Mauvol (n.): The person who watches tv, movies, or the world go by. (Viewer).
- Maujutrur (verb.): To grow wise and seasoned, ripening like fine cheese or a well-told tale. (Mature).
- Mea (n.): The sense that feels textures, temperatures, and sometimes emotions. (Touch).
- Mebruvne (n.): The risk-taker who starts businesses, chasing dreams and occasionally profits. (Entrepreneur).
- Meclum (n.): The amount produced or the act of giving way. (Yield).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Medicamo (adj.): Fit as a fiddle, bouncing with vitality. (Healthy, well).
- Medicanto (n.): The state of physical and mental well-being, ideally maintained. (Health).
- Medical (n.): The medical doctor who diagnoses, treats, and sometimes cures. (Physician).
- Medicar (verb.): Mending wounds, both seen and unseen, as time knits together what was torn apart. (Heal).
- Medicarija (n.): The system providing medical services, ideally accessible and efficient. (Healthcare, medication, medicine).
- Medraluje (n.): The standard practice or typical behavior in a society. (Norm).
- Medrema (adj.): Nursing a wound, like a bird with a broken wing. (Hurt, injured).
- Medrere (n.): The physical or emotional pain that's ideally temporary. (Hurt).
- Mefame (adj.): Firm on its feet, not easily swayed. (Standing, upright).
- Meflol (n.): The thin, flat piece of material, often covering beds or papers. (Sheet).
- Mefraosante (n.): The collective customs, arts, and achievements of a group. (Culture).
- Meer (verb.): To emphasize or highlight, underlining importance with intensity. (Stress).
- Meeju (n.): The writer who crafts books, articles, or stories. (Author).
- Megi (n.): The duplicate of an original, ideally accurate. (Copy).
- Megliv (n.): The exactness and accuracy in action or measurement. (Precision).
- Mepuocer (verb.): To provide protection and refuge, offering a safe haven from the storm. (Shelter).

- Mepuoceja (n.): The place of refuge from weather or danger, ideally safe and warm. (Shelter).
- Mevlufihime (adj.): So small, it could hide behind a grain of sand. (Tiny, minuscule).
- Metlegmo (n.): The edge or the amount of difference, often in profits or votes. (Margin).
- Metlun (n.): The assistance you give or receive, ideally when most needed. (Help).
- Metoru (n.): The faucet for water or the light touch for attention. (Tap).
- Meim (n.): The regular beat or flow in music, speech, or life. (Rhythm).
- Meili (adv.): The way to pile on more information, just when you thought it was over. (Additionally).
- Meilutime (adj.): Stretches out as far as the eye can see, like the open ocean. (Vast, immense).
- Meir (verb.): To search with intent and curiosity, questing for knowledge or treasures hidden away. (Seek).
- Memorace (n.): The level of quality or the mark you receive in school. (Grade).
- Memorar (verb.): Evaluating performance, assigning levels of achievement. (Grade).
- Mesoor (verb.): To arrange according to type or category, organizing systematically. (Sort).
- Meloo (n.): The physical or strategic effort to solve a problem or bring down an opponent. (Tackle).
- Meonto (n.): The support you get, ideally strong and reliable. (Backing).
- Meor (verb.): To strike with a club, sending balls soaring with calculated swings. (Bat).
- Meohoma (adj.): Leaves nothing to the imagination, spelled out in black and white. (Explicit, clear).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Meru (n.): The middle state or the means of communication. (Medium).
- Merumo (adj.): Not too big, not too small, just right. (Medium, moderate).
- Meurot (n.): The large, bustling urban area, full of life and opportunities. (City).
- Miar (verb.): Sketching lines on paper, pulling something towards oneself. (Draw).
- Mibramo (adj.): Handle with care, like a butterfly's wing. (Fragile, delicate).
- Mibrefuha (n.): The blade weapon of knights, warriors, and fantasy epics. (Sword).
- Micie (n.): The record of past events, ideally learned from. (History).
- Miciema (adj.): Rich with stories from days long gone. (Historical, past-related).
- Microtoi (adv.): The term that adds weight to an argument, whether needed or not. (Moreover).
- Midrid (n.): The measure of heat or cold, ideally comfortable. (Temperature).
- Miframo (adj.): Rolls in abundance, like a treasure chest overflowing with gold. (Wealthy, rich).
- Mifu (n.): The unruly crowd or the organized crime group, both potentially dangerous. (Mob).
- Mielema (adj.): Shares more than expected, with a heart as big as the sky. (Generous, giving).
- Mier (verb.): To bolster or strengthen, adding layers of defense like a paranoid hedgehog acquiring extra spikes. (Reinforce).
- Migel (n.): The crazy state of continually lighting candles in a relentless windstorm, held by one who doubts the calm but perseveres with matches in hand. (pessimistic perseverance).
- Migiar (verb.): To run away from danger, seeking safety with swift urgency. (Flee).

- Migo (adj. / prep.): On the heels of what just passed, ready to step forward. (Following, next).
- Migol (n.): The loyal group of fans or supporters, ideally engaged and numerous. (Following).
- Miprog (n.): The point of interaction between systems or users, ideally smooth. (Interface).
- Miprot (n.): The leftover portion or the pause for relaxation. (Rest).
- Mivamo (adj.): Revered and untouchable, like ancient relics in a shrine. (Holy, sacred).
- Mitron (n.): The domesticated bird that's a staple in diets and jokes. (Chicken).
- Miiper (verb.): To endure over a period, maintaining presence through trials and seasons. (Last).
- Miime (adj.): So good, it deserves a round of applause. (Terrific, excellent).
- Miir (verb.): To use carelessly or without purpose, squandering resources. (Waste).
- Miijaer (verb.): To completely remove or eradicate, as weeds pulled from a garden. (Eliminate).
- Mimir (verb.): To drift into the realm of dreams, where the mind finds solace and the body rejuvenates under the gentle caress of night. (Sleep).
- Mintes (n.): The representative who speaks or acts on behalf of others. (Delegate).
- Mintesil (n.): The group of delegates or the act of assigning tasks. (Delegation).
- Mino (n.): The statement of charges or the proposed law in government. (Bill).
- Minobis (n.): The friend or partner who shares your journey, ideally loyal and fun. (Companion).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Mile (n.): The distinct stage in a process, ideally leading to progress. (Phase).
- Milivu (n.): The sharp tool for cutting, cooking, or occasionally defense. (Knife).
- Miom (n.): The objective you aim for, ideally clear and achievable. (Goal).
- Miuvumo (adj.): Turns your stomach, makes you cringe. (Gross, disgusting).
- Miur (verb.): Calculating with precision, numbers and formulas brought to life. (Compute).
- Mifardil (n.): The start of life or the beginning of something new. (Birth).
- Mifardile (n.): The annual celebration of your arrival on earth, ideally with cake. (Birthday).
- Moamba (n.): The cozy spot for coffee, conversation, and contemplation. (Cafe).
- Moar (verb.): To limit within boundaries, imposing controls to maintain order. (Restrict).
- Moaren (n.): The limit placed on activities or freedoms, ideally fair and necessary. (Restriction).
- Mobice (n.): The act of changing position or location, ideally towards progress. (Move, movement).
- Mobinte (adj.): Tugs at your heartstrings, leaves you misty-eyed. (Moving, emotionally touching).
- Mobir (verb.): To change position or location, traversing space with intent and energy. (Move).
- Moblese (n.): The present time or the flow of electricity or water. (Current).
- Mocliluco (n.): The use of goods and services or the act of eating. (Consumption).

- Moclilur (verb.): To use up or eat entirely, like fire devours wood, leaving nothing but ash in its wake. (Consume).
- Moclilurol (n.): The person who buys and uses products, ideally informed and satisfied. (Consumer).
- Modlupora (n.): The important task or the journey with a purpose. (Mission).
- Modroro (n.): The captured audio or video of events, ideally clear and memorable. (Recording).
- Moflalud (n.): The crunchy orange vegetable or the incentive dangled to motivate. (Carrot).
- Moevi (n.): The person who speaks on behalf of a group, ideally clear and trustworthy. (Spokesman).
- Moeteli (n.): The flat piece of wood or the group that governs an organization. (Board).
- Moetelir (verb.): To get on a vehicle, embarking on a journey. (Board).
- Moeluja (n.): The passionate advocate for change, often loud and persistent. (Activist).
- Moer (verb.): To cook with dry heat, transforming dough into golden crusts and fragrant delights. (Bake).
- Moesei (adv.): The subjective perspective that makes things interesting and biased. (Personally).
- Mopraur (verb.): To touch down on solid ground, completing the journey from sky to earth. (Land).
- Moprau'ija (n.): The solid ground underfoot or the property you own. (Land).
- Mote (n.): The word you're called by or the reputation you build. (Name).
- Motil (n.): The name of a book, job, or the honorific before your name. (Title).

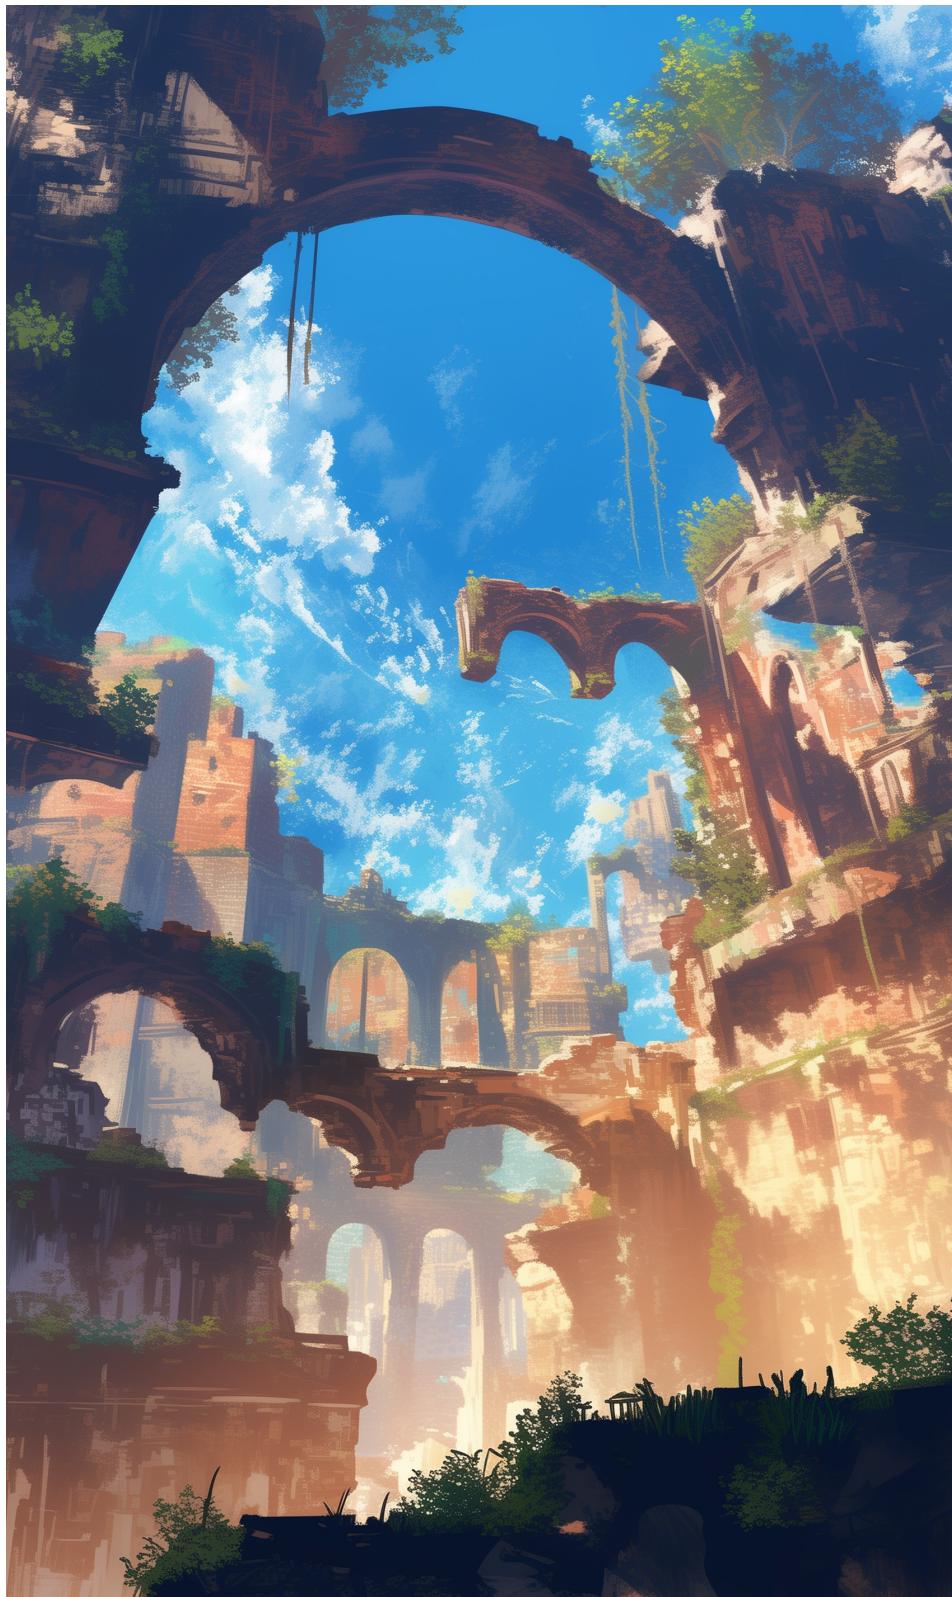

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Motrivas (n.): The device that performs tasks, ideally efficiently. (Machine).
- Motrivasuco (n.): The collective machines that keep industries running. (Machinery).
- Motuva (n.): The large group of people gathered together, often unpredictable. (Crowd).
- Moitar (verb.): Drawing conclusions from hints and clues, like piecing together a puzzle from scattered fragments. (Infer).
- Moimtrefur (verb.): To press lips with tender affection, a silent promise sealed in the gentlest touch. (Kiss).
- Moir (verb.): To merit or earn, being worthy of reward or recognition. (Deserve).
- Molaatinuco (n.): The process of reviewing and improving, ideally resulting in perfection. (Revision).
- Molaatinur (verb.): To review and alter, improving or updating content. (Revise).
- Mooni (adv.): The time frame that's always just around the corner, perpetually approaching. (Soon).
- Morobamo (adj.): Moves with a beauty that's almost poetic. (Elegant, graceful).
- Mougo (n.): The space where you keep things, ideally organized and accessible. (Storage).
- Moulope (n.): The concentrated essence or the act of pulling out something valuable. (Extract).
- Mouru (n.): The place where goods are sold or the act of keeping things for future use. (Store).
- Mudlomer (verb.): To tilt or incline slightly, offering a subtle shift or suggestion. (Tip).
- Mudoema (adj.): Gets the job done right, with results that speak for themselves. (Effective, successful).

- Mudral (n.): The collection of people or things, ideally working together. (Group).
- Mudrepas (n.): The repeated exercise to improve skills or the professional work you do. (Practice).
- Mudrepasime (adj.): Down-to-earth, like a swiss army knife in your pocket. (Practical, useful).
- Mufrime (adj.): Not the main act, but still in the show. (Minor, lesser).
- Muenogur (verb.): To make more secure or taut, drawing elements closer with firm precision. (Tighten).
- Muglo (n.): The supernatural force that defies explanation, delighting and puzzling. (Magic).
- Mugloma (adj.): Full of wonder, like a magician pulling rabbits from hats. (Magic, enchanting).
- Muplir (verb.): To keep possession of, holding onto something securely. (Retain).
- Muprame (adj.): All about the thoughts racing through your head. (Mental, mind-related).
- Muvlisimplas (n.): The rough drawing that captures ideas quickly and imperfectly. (Sketch).
- Mutramo (adj.): Twists and turns like a winding mountain road. (Curly, wavy).
- Muiborihe (n.): The state of being free from harm, ideally guaranteed. (Safety).
- Muil (n.): The distinguishing characteristic that defines you, ideally positively. (Trait).
- Muir (verb.): To encapsulate succinctly, as one captures the essence of a long tale in a few choice words, distilling vast narratives into droplets. (Summarize).
- Muirija (n.): The brief overview that captures the main points, ideally concisely. (Summary).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Muifamo (adj.): Stomach growling, eyes wide open for a meal. (Hungry, famished).
- Muijal (n.): The physical craving for food or the intense desire for something. (Hunger).
- Munteral (n.): The thinker who ponders deep questions, often confusing everyone else. (Philosopher).
- Muntero (n.): The study of fundamental truths, ideally enlightening. (Philosophy).
- Munteroma (adj.): Deep and contemplative, pondering the mysteries of life. (Philosophical, thought-provoking).
- Muo (n.): The central part or the essential element. (Core).
- Muoma (adj.): At the very heart, where everything converges. (Core, central).
- Muomorot (n.): The sudden increase or the powerful forward movement. (Surge).
- Muololer (verb.): To arrange someone comfortably, offering a throne for weary travelers. (Seat).
- Muur (verb.): To feel intense apprehension, trembling at the thought of impending danger. (Fear).
- Muujoi (adv.): The polite british way of agreeing, or the intense american emphasis. (Quite).
- Mujuija (n.): The place where crops grow and animals graze, often idyllic. (Farm).
- Mujuunto (n.): The practice of cultivating land and raising livestock, ideally fruitful. (Farming).
- Mujuur (verb.): To cultivate the land and tend to crops and livestock, nurturing life from the soil with care and labor. (Farm).
- Mujuurol (n.): The person who works the land, providing food and occasionally wisdom. (Farmer).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

N

- Na (exclam.): The exclamation of realization, relief, or sudden understanding, often accompanied by a nod. (Ah).
- Nabroore (n.): The tool for defense or attack, ideally kept in safe hands. (Weapon).
- Nabudluoca (n.): The temporary halt or the part of a vehicle that smooths rides. (Suspension).
- Nabudluor (verb.): To temporarily halt or hang, pausing activities in midair or in time. (Suspend).
- Nadaehu (n.): The corrosive substance or the sour taste that puckers lips. (Acid).
- Nadaehumo (adj.): Sharp on the tongue, like a lemon's bite. (Acid, sour).
- Nadlulir (verb.): To identify the cause of a problem, discerning underlying issues with expert analysis. (Diagnose).
- Nadrepur (verb.): To ask formally for something, seeking assistance or permission. (Request).
- Nae (n.): The probability of something happening, ideally favorable. (Likelihood).
- Naeca (n.): The act of stepping in to solve a problem, ideally timely. (Intervention).
- Naemaime (adj.): Chances are, it's right around the corner. (Likely, probable).
- Naer (verb.): To step in and alter the course, shifting the trajectory of events with decisive action. (Intervene).
- Nagramo (adj.): Can't sit still, always looking at the clock. (Impatient, restless).

- Naplafl (n.): The breaking of rules or barriers, often causing trouble. (Breach).
- Navrop (n.): The way you behave or the act of leading. (Conduct).
- Navrom (n.): The act of preparing food, ideally delicious and nutritious. (Cooking).
- Natar (verb.): To welcome with warmth and enthusiasm, making every encounter feel like a joyous reunion. (Greet).
- Nato (n.): The plant-based food that's nutritious, varied, and sometimes despised by kids. (Vegetable).
- Nais (n.): The digit on your hand that points, types, and occasionally gets burned. (Finger).
- Nair (verb.): To cut into thin pieces, dividing with sharp precision. (Slice).
- Nami (adj.): From coast to coast, spreading far and wide. (Nationwide, across the country).
- Nalo (n.): The illness that disrupts health, ideally cured or managed. (Disease).
- Naoca (n.): The breach of rules or laws, often leading to penalties. (Violation).
- Naociju (n.): The formal agreement between nations, ideally fostering peace. (Treaty).
- Naolife (n.): The act of coming back or the profit on an investment. (Return).
- Naolifer (verb.): To go back to a previous place or state. (Return).
- Naor (verb.): Transgressing boundaries as invaders breach walls, defiance of law and norm. (Violate).
- Nareir (verb.): To lower in temperature, bringing refreshing relief from heat. (Cool).
- Naufem (n.): The wood used for building, ideally strong and sustainable. (Timber).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Naur (verb.): To communicate via phone, connecting voices across distances with technology. (Telephone).
- Nauroma (adj.): The part you leave behind, watching your six. (Rear, back).
- Naurore (n.): The back part of something or the act of raising children. (Rear).
- Neace (n.): The creation of an idea or the beginning of pregnancy. (Conception).
- Neancrumo (adj.): Beyond reach, like catching the moon in a net. (Impossible, not doable).
- Near (verb.): Imagining anew as an artist envisions a masterpiece before the first stroke. (Conceive).
- Nearali (adv.): The way to approach things with heart, for better or worse. (Emotionally).
- Neblivuoco (n.): The formal announcement of intentions, often bold and official. (Declaration).
- Neblivuur (verb.): To announce formally, making known with official authority. (Declare).
- Nebuco (n.): The act of moving from place to place, ideally enriching. (Travel).
- Nebur (verb.): To journey through lands unknown, collecting tales and experiences like rare gems. (Travel).
- Neburol (n.): The person who journeys to new places, often seeking adventure or rest. (Traveler).
- Necamu (n.): The business venture or the bold, ambitious project. (Enterprise).
- Nedu (n.): The significant discovery or achievement that opens new doors. (Breakthrough).
- Nee (pron.): The question that opens doors to answers, mysteries, and occasional confusion. (What).

- Neeca (n.): The clear expression of facts, opinions, or financial balances. (Statement).
- Neel (n.): The pair of individuals working together, ideally harmoniously. (Duo).
- Neer (verb.): To express clearly and definitively, as a king declares his rulings from the throne, leaving no room for doubt. (State).
- Neeri (pron.): The flexible choice that goes with the flow, no matter where it leads. (Whatever).
- Negiamo (adj.): Sees the glass half empty, with a chip on its shoulder. (Negative, pessimistic).
- Negian (n.): The adverse effect or the pessimistic outlook. (Negative).
- Negresimur (verb.): To pull or sketch, as an artist drags a pencil across paper, lines flowing to form images that capture the eye. (Draw).
- Neploononta (n.): The dependability of someone or something, ideally unwavering. (Reliability).
- Netarija (n.): The online page or collection of pages that inform, entertain, or sell. (Website).
- Netrodi (adv.): The adverb that keeps hope alive, even in the face of improbability. (Potentially).
- Neicopruuco (n.): The intense focus on something, often all-consuming. (Obsession).
- Neicopruur (verb.): To fixate with relentless intensity, circling thoughts like a hawk over its prey. (Obsess).
- Neimflu (n.): The movement of people or animals from one place to another. (Migration).
- Neimfol (n.): The person who moves to a new country, often seeking a better life. (Immigrant).
- Neisime (adj.): Takes its sweet time, like a novel with no end. (Lengthy, long-winded).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Neilesbro (n.): The official procedure or the set of rules to follow. (Protocol).
- Neolul (n.): The cost incurred, ideally justified and controlled. (Expense).
- Neor (verb.): To burst forth suddenly and forcefully, like a volcano releasing its fury. (Erupt).
- Neoru (n.): The person in search of truth, adventure, or employment. (Seeker).
- Neuna (n.): The settlement of people in a new territory, often expanding empires. (Colony).
- Neunamo (adj.): From the days of old, where new worlds were found. (Colonial, early-settlement related).
- Niad (n.): The main road for fast travel, ideally free of traffic jams. (Highway).
- Niar (verb.): To move lightly and quickly, leaping over obstacles with joyful abandon. (Skip).
- Niafuur (verb.): To reach out and communicate, connecting across distances. (Contact).
- Nidrinal (n.): The prohibition of something, ideally for good reasons. (Ban).
- Nidrom (n.): The tool for climbing heights or the metaphorical path to success. (Ladder).
- Niflinema (adj.): Has the stars in their favor, like finding a four-leaf clover. (Lucky, fortunate).
- Niece (n.): The comment or observation that catches attention. (Remark).
- Niecer (verb.): To comment or note, often offhand or casually, as if dropping leaves into a stream, subtle but with ripples. (Remark).
- Nier (verb.): Compelling as the moon pulls the tides, irresistible calling. (Urge).

- Nigiliir (verb.): To remove people from a place of danger, ensuring safety and orderly departure. (Evacuate).
- Nigropime (adj.): Under the weather, in need of a warm bed and soup. (Sick, ill).
- Niprumo (adj.): Tilted scales, where justice takes a back seat. (Unfair, unjust).
- Nivratime (adj.): Steps lightly, avoiding the pitfalls. (Cautious, careful).
- Nivrut (n.): The logical process of thinking, ideally sound and clear. (Reasoning).
- Niijor (verb.): To begin or come into existence, like the first spark that ignites a grand adventure. (Originate).
- Nimonaca (n.): The repeating design or the predictable sequence. (Pattern).
- Nimudril (n.): The distance downward or the complexity of thought. (Depth).
- Nis (pron.): The particular thing right here, demanding your immediate attention. (This).
- Nisamifar (verb.): To come into existence, the dawn of life unfolding. (Born).
- Nisal (n.): The individual belonging to a group, ideally active and engaged. (Member).
- Nisar (verb.): To start or initiate, marking the onset of an action or journey. (Begin).
- Nisi (adv.): The adverb that specifies the current focus, keeping things grounded. (This).
- Nisidumo (adj.): So bad, it makes you wince. (Awful, terrible).
- Nioc (n.): The group of words expressing an idea, often memorable. (Phrase).
- Niov (n.): The informal conversation, often light and friendly. (Chat).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Niore (n.): The protection against attack or the argument in support. (Defense).
- Niroma (adj.): Running smoothly, like a well-oiled machine. (Operational, functional).
- Niumo (adj.): Hidden in plain sight, without a name to call. (Anonymous, unnamed).
- Niular (verb.): To extend over a large area, dispersing widely and evenly. (Spread).
- Niur (verb.): To investigate with thoroughness, delving deep into mysteries with curious precision. (Probe).
- Nifi (pron.): The selective query that narrows down the options, eventually. (Which).
- No (pron.): Personal object pronoun / the individual identity, often introspectively explored. (Me, self).
- Noblegrome (adj.): Everyone's favorite, like the star of the show. (Popular, well-liked).
- Nofliro (n.): The form or outline of something, ideally well-defined. (Shape).
- Noer (verb.): Following commands or rules, submitting to authority. (Obey).
- Noplun (n.): The extraction of valuable minerals, ideally sustainably. (Mining).
- Noplunel (n.): The worker who digs for minerals, often in tough conditions. (Miner).
- Noprem (n.): The outdoor activity of sleeping in tents, ideally enjoyable. (Camping).
- Nopruli (n.): The fee for using a road or the heavy cost of hardships. (Toll).
- Novonos (pron.): Reflexive / you and i, contemplating our brilliance. (Ourselves).

- Novonosu (pron.): Reflexive / all of us, pondering our collective wisdom. (Ourselves).
- Novos (pron.): Reflexive / just you, having a good old think. (Yourself).
- Novosu (pron.): Reflexive / all of you reflecting, perhaps a bit crowded. (Yourself).
- Notros (pron.): Reflexive / the person taking a long, hard look in the mirror. (Herself, himself).
- Notrosu (pron.): Reflexive / the group introspecting, hopefully learning something. (Themselves).
- Noits (pron.): Reflexive / the things considering their existence, in unison. (Itself).
- Noitsu (pron.): Reflexive / the lone thing, thinking deeply about being. (Itself).
- Noisvlac (n.): The team working together, often on a ship, film set, or project. (Crew).
- Noihaore (n.): The principal landmass, as opposed to islands. (Mainland).
- Noma (adj.): Down in the dumps, like a rainy monday morning. (Unhappy, sad).
- Nonoma (adj.): Just enough to get by, but not much more. (Adequate, sufficient).
- Nonos (pron.): Reflexive / the person you should listen to—me, of course. (Myself).
- Nonosu (pron.): Reflexive / me and my clique, self-reflecting without you. (Ourselves).
- Nos (pron.): Personal subject pronun / the narrator of this grand adventure, sometimes unreliable. (I).
- Nosatmo (adj. / n.): Where the compass points, towards cooler climes. (North, northern).

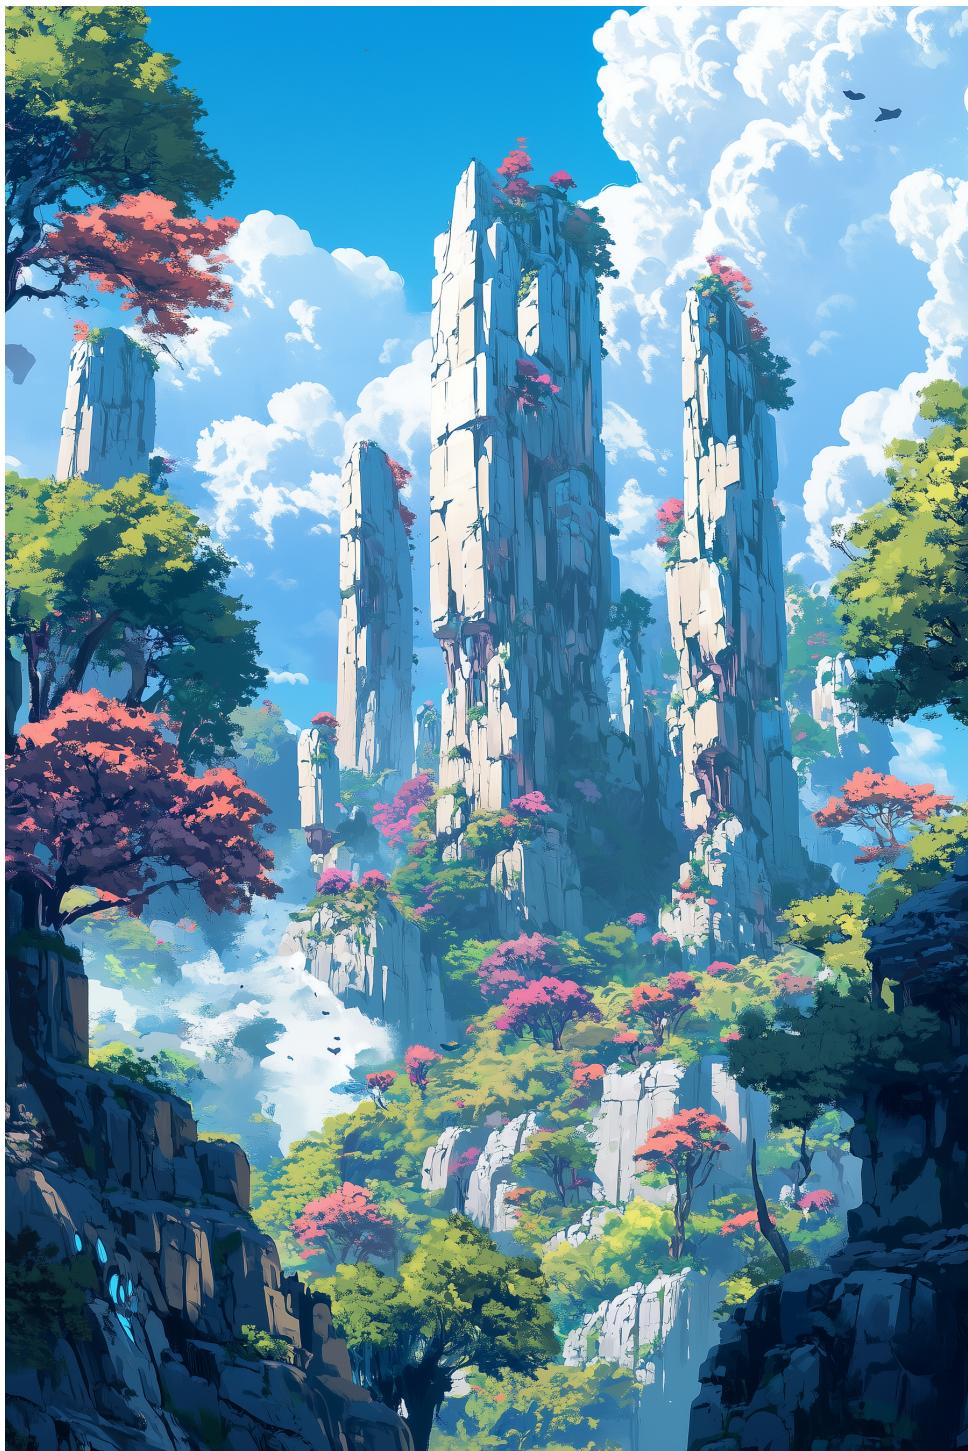

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Nosatmoi (adv.): The direction that leads to cold climates and magnetic compasses. (North).
- Nose (n.): The adversary you oppose, ideally overcome. (Enemy).
- Nosu (pron.): Personal subject pronun / my friends and i, forming plans that don't include you. (We).
- Nola (n.): The quality that pleases the senses or the heart, often subjective. (Beauty).
- Nolo (n.): The customer who engages your services, ideally satisfied. (Client).
- Nolu (n.): The area of knowledge, control, or internet address. (Domain).
- Noogi (adv.): The way to highlight importance, often more than deserved. (Significantly).
- Noor (verb.): To formally forbid an action, setting boundaries that must not be crossed. (Prohibit).
- Nou (pron.): Personal object pronun / me and my crew, but not you—sorry, exclusive club. (Us).
- Nouno (n.): The person who sees an event, ideally truthful. (Witness).
- Nous (n.): The course you follow or the guidance you give. (Direction).
- Nour (verb.): To observe firsthand, bearing testimony to events with attentive presence. (Witness).
- Nuar (verb.): To fill a container with items, preparing for a journey with methodical precision. (Pack).
- Nuclefrim (n.): The opposable digit that sets humans apart, useful for everything. (Thumb).
- Nuelig (n.): The conversation between characters or people, ideally meaningful. (Dialogue).
- Nuer (verb.): To stick firmly to a surface, maintaining contact with strong cohesion. (Adhere).

- Nugloma (adj.): Runs on circuits and chips, humming with energy. (Electronic, digital).
- Nuplun (n.): The distinct part of the economy, society, or a circle. (Sector).
- Nuvlere (n.): The fluffy mass in the sky or the storage for your digital life. (Cloud).
- Nuvredur (verb.): To shine briefly and brightly, illuminating the dark with a burst of light. (Flash).
- Nuilor (verb.): To fall like droplets from clouds, each unit a part of a greater downpour, refreshing the earth. (Rain).
- Nume (adj.): Whispering instead of shouting, a gentle hint. (Subtle, understated).
- Numueca (n.): The ornament that adds beauty, often seasonal. (Decoration).
- Numuer (verb.): Adorning as one dresses a hall for a feast, each ornament enhancing the whole. (Decorate).
- Nusegaer (verb.): To assert ownership or right, declaring with firm conviction. (Claim).
- Nusial (n.): The healthcare professional who cares for patients, often with compassion. (Nurse).
- Nusinta (adj.): Tending to needs, like a gentle hand on a fevered brow. (Nursing, caregiving).
- Nusija (n.): The place for young children or plants, ideally nurturing. (Nursery).
- Nulasoma (adj.): Louder than a rock concert in a library. (Noisy, loudly disruptive).
- Nularecnace (n.): The unfavorable condition that makes success harder. (Disadvantage).
- Nulecs (pron.): The complete absence of something, which somehow still matters. (None, nothing).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Nulesime (adj.): Not there, a gap in the usual lineup. (Absent, missing).
- Nulesil (n.): The state of being away or missing, often noticed. (Absence).
- Nuli (pron.): The absence of anyone, often noticed more than someone's presence. (Nobody, no one).
- Nuliame (adj.): Like day and night, never the same. (Opposite, contrary).
- Nulian (n. / prep.): The position or quality completely different from another. (Opposite).
- Nuliani (adv.): The position that's diametrically different, keeping life interesting. (Opposite).
- Nulime (adj.): Nothing inside, hollow and bare. (Empty, vacant).
- Nulojin (prep.): For the lack and the absence, nulojin marks what's missing with a subtle touch. (Without).
- Nuo (n.): The distinct part of a whole, ideally clear-cut. (Section).
- Nuoma (adj.): Bottomless and vast, like an ocean trench. (Deep, profound).
- Nuomohamo (adj.): All about the ears, music to the soul. (Audio, sound-related).
- Nuonta (n.): The formal meeting for discussion, ideally productive. (Conference).
- Nuosi (adv.): The way to describe things with profoundness, or just a really long dive. (Deep).
- Nuor (verb.): Discussing as scholars debate, each argument a sharpening of minds. (Confer).
- Nuujice (n.): The state of being thrilled, often contagious. (Excitement).
- Nuujime (adj.): Bouncing with energy, can't wait for what's next. (Excited, thrilled).
- Nuujinte (adj.): Keeps you on the edge of your seat. (Exciting, thrilling).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

S

- Sacumo (adj.): Feels like silk, no rough edges. (Smooth, sleek).
- Sacur (verb.): To pierce with a sharp object, causing injury. (Stab).
- Saer (verb.): To sense the world through whispers of wind, each scent a tale. (Smell).
- Sapa (n.): The erasable writing tool that often vanishes when needed most. (Pencil).
- Saproma (adj.): Takes up space, can't be ignored. (Large, big).
- Savla (n.): The solid earth beneath your feet or the basis of an argument. (Ground).
- Savlanca (n.): The act of extending over an area or the feast laid out for enjoyment. (Spread).
- Savrul (n.): The section of a book or a distinct period in your life. (Chapter).
- Sati (adv.): The adverb that amplifies everything, whether needed or not. (Very).
- Satme (adj.): To the utmost degree, like turning the dial to 11. (Very, extremely).
- Satladoi (adv.): The manner of feeling things profoundly, often to tears. (Deeply).
- Satrunvlev (n.): The fiery afterlife destination for the wicked or the exasperating situation you can't escape. (Hell).
- Satrus (n.): The trusted friend who's got your back, in battles or barbecues. (Ally).

- Satrusinte (n.): The strategic partnership that says, “together, we’re unstoppable. (Alliance).
- Saice (n.): The act of stepping down or accepting the inevitable, ideally gracefully. (Resignation).
- Saiclair (verb.): To hear with intention, absorbing the sounds and words that weave stories. (Listen).
- Saiclairiel (n.): The attentive person who hears and understands, ideally deeply. (Listener).
- Sair (verb.): To step down as a king abdicates his crown, a reign concluded. (Resign).
- Saisupamo (adj.): Built on facts and data, no guesswork. (Empirical, evidence-based).
- Sami (adj.): Out of sorts, like a stormy sea. (Upset, distressed).
- Samisara (n.): The journey from birth to death, full of twists, turns, and a few reruns. (Life).
- Samodrob (n.): The stab in the dark that’s sometimes spot on. (Guess).
- Samuuco (n.): The mathematical statement that makes algebra students groan. (Equation).
- Samuur (verb.): To balance or match perfectly, like the scales of justice, each side a mirror of the other. (Equal).
- Sani (n.): The legal advisor who knows their way around laws, loopholes, and courtrooms. (Solicitor).
- Sanisane (n.): The nurturing figure who juggles love, discipline, and endless laundry. (Mother).
- Sanopei (adv.): The time following an event, where you reflect on what just happened. (Afterward).
- Sasen (n.): The practice of quieting the mind, finding peace, and occasionally falling asleep. (Meditation).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Salui (adv.): The careful manner of doing things with intention, and sometimes mischief. (Deliberately).
- Saop (n.): The extraterrestrial being or the person who's just a bit different from the norm. (Alien).
- Saopoma (adj.): Not from here, strange and different. (Alien, foreign).
- Sara (n.): The affectionate term for the woman who raised you (Mom).
- Sariime (adj.): Full of years and wisdom. (Elderly, old).
- Sauco (n.): The charge of wrongdoing that points fingers and raises eyebrows. (Accusation).
- Saufumo (adj.): Surface level, nothing profound. (Shallow, not deep).
- Saunto (n.): The person facing the pointed finger, often proclaiming innocence. (Accused).
- Saulema (adj.): Where the sun rises, bringing new beginnings. (Eastern, from the east).
- Saur (verb.): To charge someone with a fault or crime, pointing a finger in judgment. (Accuse).
- Sauseare (n.): The ghostly dance partner of fire, twirling visibly into the air with every flicker and flame. (Smoke).
- Sebi (n.): The underground train that whisks you through the city, ideally on time. (Subway).
- Secur (verb.): To come after or pursue, moving in the same direction. (Follow).
- Sedar (verb.): Resting the body in a chair, taking a moment of respite. (Sit).
- Sedlid (n.): The yellow grain that's a staple in diets and fuel for ethanol. (Corn).
- Seflelinte (n.): The management of money, investments, and sometimes, stress levels. (Finance).

- Seflelintema (adj.): All about the dollars and cents. (Financial, money-related).
- Seflelir (verb.): To provide funds for, supporting endeavors with monetary resources. (Finance).
- See (n.): The adjective describing something related to a nation or the citizen. (National).
- Seegema (adj.): Looks so good, it could be a painting. (Aesthetic, visually pleasing).
- Seema (adj.): All about the nation, under one flag. (National, country-related).
- Sees (n.): The work that builds empires, families, and sometimes muscles. (Labor).
- Seehe (n.): The result of an action, ideally considered beforehand. (Consequence).
- Seplisflo (n.): The freshly minted scholar, diploma in hand, ready to take on the world or at least figure out what's next. (Graduate).
- Sepramo (adj.): Deep within, where secrets lie. (Inner, internal).
- Seivir (verb.): To place something carefully and securely, as if leaving a cherished treasure in a secret hidey-hole. (Deposit).
- Seime (adj.): Feels like a feather, easy to carry. (Light, weightless).
- Seisi (adv.): The beginning phase, before everything gets complicated. (Initially).
- Seifamo (adj.): Shrouded in mystery, waiting to be discovered. (Unknown, mysterious).
- Semaplen (n.): The abbreviation for information technology, the backbone of modern life. (IT).
- Sendile (n.): The glorious day of rest, relaxation, and regretting Friday night's choices. (Saturday).
- Sene (n.): The spiritual essence that defines you, ideally pure. (Soul).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Seniar (verb.): To separate into parts, like a mage splitting a spell into its elemental components. (Divide).
- Senija (n.): The place where you hang your hat and heart, ideally cozy. (Home).
- Senijai (adv.): The place where the heart is, and the wi-fi connects automatically. (Home).
- Senijame (adj.): Where the heart is, full of warmth. (Home, domestic).
- Sesoi (adv.): The repetition that can be comforting or maddening, depending on context. (Again).
- Selda (n.): The connection between things, ideas, or people, ideally strong. (Link).
- Seldar (verb.): To connect or join together, forging bonds that bridge gaps between ideas or entities. (Link).
- Seojeoca (n.): The aquatic mammal with a bark or the act of closing something tightly. (Seal).
- Seojeor (verb.): To close securely, ensuring contents are protected and tamper-proof. (Seal).
- Seopa (n.): The fresh fruits and vegetables that fill your basket and diet. (Produce).
- Seu (n.): The set of tools or equipment for a specific purpose, ideally complete. (Kit).
- Seusa (n.): The profound immorality that's often dressed in charming disguise. (Evil).
- Seus (n.): The smooth descent or the powerpoint presentation that's more snooze than wow. (Slide).
- Seusamo (adj.): Dark as night, with no redemption. (Evil, wicked).
- Seuli (adv.): The way to do things without drawing attention, ideally. (Quietly).

- Seur (verb.): To clean or remove, as one erases chalk from a blackboard, leaving behind a dark, blank slate ready for new ideas. (Wipe).
- Sia (n.): The vast expanse above, filled with clouds, stars, and dreams. (Sky).
- Siace (n.): The realistic imitation of a process, ideally indistinguishable from the real thing. (Simulation).
- Siatre (n.): The theatrical production where people sing and dance their emotions. (Musical).
- Siatrema (adj.): Full of tunes and harmonies, like a song in your head. (Musical, melody-related).
- Sial (n.): The formal event with rituals, traditions, and often, tears of joy. (Ceremony).
- Siar (verb.): Imitating reality as a play mirrors life, scenes painted in artifice. (Simulate).
- Sibludir (verb.): To follow as a natural consequence, like darkness follows the setting of the sun, inevitable and expected. (Ensue).
- Siblumblim (n.): The obstacle that blocks your path, physically or metaphorically. (Barrier).
- Sidrufahime (adj.): All about the debates and decisions. (Parliamentary, government-related).
- Siflisijai (adv.): The manner of achieving maximum productivity with minimum wasted effort. (Efficiently).
- Siesar (verb.): To use the mind to consider or reason, processing thoughts and ideas. (Think).
- Sigead (n.): The physical or mental condition that limits activities, ideally accommodated. (Disability).
- Signir (verb.): To signify or intend, expressing with clear purpose. (Mean).
- Sigro (n.): The secret code that keeps your digital life safe, ideally memorable. (Password).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Sigui (adj. / adv. / pron.): Just a handful, easy to count. (Few, not many, less).
- Siprime (adj.): High price tag, worth every penny. (Costly, expensive).
- Siva (n.): The oval object laid by birds or the beginning of many breakfasts. (Egg).
- Sivoer (verb.): To establish the foundation, grounding actions on a firm and reliable bedrock. (Base).
- Sivrugrare (n.): The person held captive for leverage or ransom, ideally rescued. (Hostage).
- Sitrolib (n.): The final curtain call of life, often prompting reflection and legacy building. (Death).
- Siit (n.): The petty desire to annoy or hurt, often counterproductive. (Spite).
- Siil (n.): The ascent up a hill, mountain, or corporate ladder, ideally reaching the top. (Climb).
- Siiri (adv.): The way things happen without thinking, much like muscle memory. (Automatically).
- Simperi (adv.): The persistent state that's comforting in routine, yet stifling in permanence. (Always).
- Sistir (verb.): Staying in place, enduring the passage of time. (Remain).
- Siloer (verb.): To give way or produce under pressure, offering up results or concessions with grace. (Yield).
- Siondema (adj.): Just as it should be, no mistakes. (Proper, correct).
- Sior (verb.): To acknowledge or recognize contributions or achievements, bestowing deserved praise. (Credit).
- Sirecumo (adj.): By the book, no rules broken. (Legal, lawful).
- Siro (exclam.): The quick apology that tries to mend fences, smooth over mistakes, or avoid conflict. (Sorry).

- Siroma (adj.): Full of regret, seeking forgiveness. (Sorry, apologetic).
- Siu (n.): The extra copy or plan b that saves you from disaster. (Backup).
- Siur (verb.): Moving forward in development or time. (Progress).
- Sijin (pron.): The minimal amount that manages to still be something, barely. (Least).
- Sijini (adv.): The minimal amount that's still something, if barely. (Least).
- Soadmi (n.): The experienced person, often with stories to tell and wisdom to share. (Veteran).
- Soavi (adv.): The word that implies doubt while covering your bases legally. (Allegedly).
- Soam (n.): The sport played on ice with sticks, pucks, and occasional fisticuffs. (Hockey).
- Soar (verb.): To estimate or speculate, making an educated assumption. (Guess).
- Soajipraora (n.): The way you live, ideally balanced and fulfilling. (Lifestyle).
- Soclanbli (adv.): The way things happen when you're not paying attention, often with amusing results. (Accidentally).
- Soflomvlora (n.): The picture made with lines or the act of sketching. (Drawing).
- Soema (adj.): Wants to know more, always asking questions. (Interested, curious).
- Soenta (adj.): Holds your attention, like a cliffhanger. (Interesting, fascinating).
- Soelar (verb.): To arrange or command with authority, organizing systematically or issuing directives. (Order).
- Soer (verb.): To attract curiosity or concern, engaging someone's attention. (Interest).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Sogrefeho (n.): The period of 100 years, marking eras and legacies. (Century).
- Sopo (pron.): The handful that's more than a couple but less than a crowd. (Many, more, most, much, several).
- Sopoi (adv.): The additional amount that keeps piling up, whether you need it or not. (More, most, much).
- Sote (n.): The small insect that bugs you or the software glitch that causes tech rage. (Bug).
- Sotlime (adj.): So amazing, it's hard to believe. (Incredible, unbelievable).
- Soiti (adv.): The incomplete state that's better than nothing, but not by much. (Partially).
- Soma (adj.): Knows they've done wrong, carries the burden. (Guilty, at fault).
- Sosoi (adv.): The manner of taking things with gravity, often more than needed. (Seriously).
- Soler (verb.): To shine brightly in a leading role, captivating audiences with stellar performances. (Star).
- Soomcri (n.): The frozen precipitation that turns landscapes into winter wonderlands. (Snow).
- Soor (verb.): To engage in battle with the fervor of a knight charging at windmills, convinced they are dragons. (Fight).
- Sooru (n.): The specific form or variant of something, ideally improved. (Version).
- Sorol (n.): The person or tool that keeps things in order, ideally effectively. (Organizer).
- Souvroori (adv.): The word that points forward with a touch of archaic flair. (Hence).
- Soum (n.): The vehicle for transporting goods or large families. (Van).

- Soulomo (adj.): From another time, full of charm. (Old-fashioned, out-of-date).
- Sour (verb.): To illuminate the most important aspects, casting a spotlight on what must be seen. (Highlight).
- Sopiclar (verb.): To conduct a formal conversation, drawing out stories and insights from another's mind. (Interview).
- Sopiice (n.): The detailed account of something, ideally vivid and accurate. (Description).
- Sopiir (verb.): To depict with words, painting pictures in the minds of listeners. (Describe).
- Suar (verb.): To grasp forcefully and take hold, as an eagle captures its prey. (Seize).
- Suapu (n.): The act of letting go or the debut of a new product. (Release).
- Suapur (verb.): To set free from confinement, unleashing potential into the world. (Release).
- Subra (n.): The sweet crystalline substance that fuels desserts and cavities. (Sugar).
- Sudlisi (n.): The steady, intent look that sees more than just the surface. (Gaze).
- Sudronvliplame (adj.): Any moment now, just around the corner. (Imminent, about to happen).
- Sudruni (adv.): The main focus, before everything else piles on. (Primarily).
- Sufacinte (n.): The way something looks or the act of showing up. (Appearance).
- Sufacir (verb.): To come into view, materializing as if from nowhere to surprise and delight. (Appear).
- Suflerema (adj.): Must-have, can't do without. (Crucial, essential).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Suflime (adj.): Warm and welcoming, like a southern breeze. (Southern, from the south).
- Suflocsoma (adj.): Sticks around, not easily shaken off. (Chronic, long-term).
- Suelusar (verb.): To make use of resources with efficiency, turning potential into tangible results. (Utilize).
- Suerob (n.): The underlying subject or recurring idea in art, literature, or life. (Theme).
- Sugran (n.): The creamy spread made from milk, often found on toast. (Butter).
- Supligo (adj.): Full of joy, brightens the room. (Cheerful, happy).
- Suplime (adj.): Smiles and laughter, the best of times. (Happy, joyful).
- Suplilante (n.): The state of joy and contentment, ideally long-lasting. (Happiness).
- Sutlaar (verb.): Following as a result, unfolding events in a natural sequence. (Ensue).
- Suipir (verb.): To clean by brushing away dirt, clearing a surface efficiently. (Sweep).
- Suir (verb.): To leave or give up, stepping away from commitments with a final, resolute step. (Quit).
- Suneri (pron.): The open-ended choice that could be anyone, and often is. (Whoever).
- Suno (pron.): The inquiry into a person's identity, sparking curiosity and drama. (Who, whom).
- Susatmo (adj. / n.): From below, where the days are long and lazy. (South, southern).
- Susatmoi (adv.): The direction that leads to warmth, beaches, and occasionally, trouble. (South).

- Susudu (n.): The sloping land beside a river, ideal for picnics and contemplation. (Bank).
- Suovu (n.): The sense of self-importance that needs occasional deflation. (Ego).
- Suoji (n.): The cosmetics for enhancing looks or the patch-up after a quarrel. (Make-up).
- Surufo (n.): The span of time or the punctuation mark ending a sentence. (Period).
- Surufoi (adv.): The challenging way things often are, making success sweeter. (Hard).
- Surufoma (adj.): Tough as nails, not easy to break. (Hard, difficult).
- Suur (verb.): To provide financial support, backing projects or ventures with resources. (Fund).
- Sujaprunto (n.): The lack of knowledge, ideally reduced by curiosity and learning. (Ignorance).
- Sujaprur (verb.): To deliberately pay no attention, disregarding presence or importance. (Ignore).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

L

- Laamutinar (verb.): To prohibit with stern authority, closing doors to forbidden paths. (Forbid).
- Laar (verb.): To try with earnest effort, embarking on a quest with determination and hope. (Attempt).
- Labu (n.): The midday point when shadows are short and lunches long. (Noon).
- Ladeupime (adj.): Completely unbroken, as pristine as a museum artifact behind glass. (Intact, whole).
- Ladramo (adj.): Forever and a day, like the stars in the sky that never fade. (Eternal, everlasting).
- Ladrusoma (adj.): The one and only, not shared with another. (Sole, singular).
- Laeca (n.): The explanation or performance of something, ideally illuminating. (Interpretation).
- Laecliriir (verb.): To cast a ballot in an election, expressing a choice or preference. (Vote).
- Laetmooca (n.): The unwelcome intrusion, often military or alien. (Invasion).
- Laetmoor (verb.): To enter forcefully or aggressively, encroaching upon territories. (Invade).
- Laer (verb.): To unravel meanings hidden within words, decoding the language like a linguist unearthing ancient scripts. (Interpret).
- Laeruro (n.): The excess beyond what's needed, often leading to sales or storage. (Surplus).

- Lagro (n.): The act of decoding words on a page, ideally pleasurable. (Reading).
- Laprunor (verb.): To prepare preliminary versions, outlining initial plans or documents. (Draft).
- Lavlame (adj.): Delightful and fun, like a childhood memory come to life. (Toy, plaything).
- Lavlal (n.): The object of play, cherished by children and nostalgic adults. (Toy).
- Lavluv (n.): The person who signs up for regular content, ideally enjoying it. (Subscriber).
- Latoma (adj.): One after the other, like dominoes falling in a perfect line. (Consecutive, sequential).
- Latraco (n.): The wax cylinder that burns to give light, scent, or ambiance. (Candle).
- Lai (n.): The prize given for achievement, often shiny and dust-gathering. (Award).
- Laic (n.): The small seed used for food, or the texture of wood and truth. (Grain).
- Laim (n.): The group working together towards a common goal, ideally winning. (Team).
- Lail (n.): The thorough examination of accounts, ideally revealing accuracy and honesty. (Audit).
- Lair (verb.): To bestow honor or recognition, celebrating achievements with formal acknowledgment. (Award).
- Lairu (n.): The undomesticated animals living freely, often admired and protected. (Wildlife).
- Lanija (n.): The notable feature that guides and identifies places. (Landmark).
- Lasamo (adj.): Built to last, like an old oak tree weathering a storm. (Tough, resilient).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Lasolo (n.): The quality of being virtuous or the item you seek in stores. (Good, plus).
- Lasoloma (adj.): Pure of heart, making everyone's day a little brighter. (Good, virtuous).
- Lasolonta (n.): The state of being morally right or the delicious essence of food. (Goodness).
- Laoheir (verb.): Constructing anew, each brick laid with hopes for the future. (Rebuild).
- Laofsi (n.): The seven-day cycle that structures your life, often ending too soon. (Week).
- Laralar (verb.): To send forth proclamations or edicts, often with the enthusiasm of a town crier who's just discovered the power of their own voice. (Issue).
- Laroma (adj.): Courageous enough to dive headfirst into the unknown. (Bold, daring).
- Lauco (n.): The act of carrying out a plan or the legal death sentence. (Execution).
- Laugo (adj. / n.): Calling the shots from the top floor, with a view that commands respect. (Executive, managerial).
- Laur (verb.): To carry out or perform a task, often with precision and effectiveness. (Execute).
- Laurular (verb.): To exercise restraint or command, as a conductor directs an orchestra, each note played at his behest. (Control).
- Leari (n.): The green grass in front of your house, ideally mowed and weed-free. (Lawn).
- Leblefi (n.): The moving air that cools, annoys, and powers kites. (Wind).
- Lebreni (n.): The system of production, distribution, and consumption, ideally balanced. (Economy).
- Lebrivir (verb.): To lose blood, the crimson life force flowing dramatically. (Bleed).

- Ledlam (n.): The set of rules, symbols, or software instructions that make things work. (Code).
- Ledrel (n.): The quantitative relationship between two numbers, ideally clear and fair. (Ratio).
- Leelema (adj.): Full of deep thoughts and good advice, like an old owl perched in a library. (Wise, sagacious).
- Leehigro (n.): The fortuitous events that make life surprising, for better or worse. (Luck).
- Legi (n.): The father figure who teaches, guides, and occasionally embarrasses. (Dad).
- Legir (verb.): Absorbing words as roots take in rain, each drop a seed of knowledge. (Read).
- Legirel (n.): The person who loves books, articles, and the smell of old pages. (Reader).
- Legroroi (adv.): The uncertain answer that keeps possibilities alive, however slim. (Maybe).
- Levlepijumo (adj.): Where the rules are born and shaped, like a blacksmith in a forge. (Legislative, law-making).
- Levlulebi (adv.): The agreeable way to reciprocate feelings or actions. (Likewise).
- Levoma (adj.): Stands head and shoulders above the rest, shining brightly. (Outstanding, exceptional).
- Levrисoca (n.): The replacement of one thing with another, ideally seamless. (Substitution).
- Levrisor (verb.): To replace with an alternative, filling roles with suitable stand-ins. (Substitute).
- Letem (prep.): For the ultimate showdowns and comparisons, letem pits one against the other in dramatic fashion. (Versus).
- Letlen (n.): The arrangement of elements in design, ideally functional and aesthetic. (Layout).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Letune (n.): The force that draws something towards you, ideally not your back muscles. (Pull).
- Leibime (adj.): More numbers than words, solving puzzles with precision. (Mathematical, number-based).
- Leibis (n.): The abstract science of numbers and shapes, solving problems from simple to mind-bending. (Math, mathematics).
- Leic (n.): The relaxing soak in water that cleanses and soothes. (Bath).
- Leir (verb.): To nurture and grow, developing potential with careful attention and effort. (Cultivate).
- Leirace (n.): The process of choosing leaders through votes, ideally fair and democratic. (Election).
- Leme (adj.): Oddly fascinating, like a curious artifact in a dusty old shop. (Strange, unusual).
- Lemêl (n.): The unfamiliar person you might greet with a smile or avoid altogether. (Stranger).
- Lemofur (verb.): To calculate or estimate, making an informed guess. (Reckon).
- Lesulo (n.): The fleshy border of your mouth, often kissed or bitten. (Lip).
- Leo (n.): The hopeful desire for something to happen, ideally granted. (Wish).
- Leor (verb.): To yearn for something with all your heart, sending your hopes into the cosmos like a message in a bottle. (Wish).
- Leraaco (n.): The scientific test to discover, confirm, or debunk theories. (Experiment).
- Leraar (verb.): Testing the waters of the unknown, each trial a step on a path of discovery. (Experiment).
- Leradlei (adv.): The precision that insists on getting it right, often with a touch of smugness. (Exactly).

- Leradlema (adj.): Hits the mark every time, no room for error. (Exact, precise).
- Lerecurir (verb.): To overpower or flood with emotions or tasks, causing one to feel submerged. (Overwhelm).
- Lerivluni (adv.): The way to do things correctly, though rarely attempted. (Properly).
- Leuco (n.): The act of showing and explaining, ideally engaging and informative. (Presentation).
- Leunema (adj.): Green and clean, like a breath of fresh air in a forest. (Environmental, eco-friendly).
- Leur (verb.): Offering up as gifts are given, hands open, revealing treasures. (Present).
- Lejaer (verb.): To forcefully establish rules or expectations, often against one's will. (Impose).
- Lefu (n.): The present you give or receive, ideally thoughtful and appreciated. (Gift).
- Li (exclam.): The positive affirmation that can open doors, start adventures, or complicate life. (Yes, yeah).
- Lialib (n.): The organ that breathes air, ideally clean and fresh. (Lung).
- Liar (verb.): To recline or rest horizontally, finding comfort in stillness. (Lie).
- Libra (n.): The casual shirt that's a staple in wardrobes, often emblazoned with slogans. (T-shirt).
- Lifloca (n.): The introduction of new ideas, methods, or products, ideally revolutionary. (Innovation).
- Lifloma (adj.): Breaks new ground with ideas that shift the world on its axis. (Innovative, groundbreaking).
- Lifrodice (n.): The exchange of ideas, ideally leading to understanding. (Discussion).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Lifrodir (verb.): Engaging in dialogue, exchanging ideas like a dance of minds. (Discuss).
- Liega (adj.): Raises hackles and eyebrows, best approached with caution. (Offensive, insulting).
- Lier (verb.): To cause displeasure or hurt, like a discordant note in a symphony, jarring and unexpected. (Offend).
- Lieral (n.): The person who breaks rules or laws, ideally rehabilitated. (Offender).
- Liglupi (adv.): The adverb that boils things down to their core, though often missing details. (Essentially).
- Lipracoma (adj.): For your eyes only, behind closed doors and whispered in trust. (Private, confidential).
- Liprage (adj.): As essential as the air we breathe, without which we falter. (Vital, crucial).
- Litlop (n.): The persistent worry that nags at peace of mind, ideally managed. (Anxiety).
- Litric (n.): The collective group of humans, often interesting and occasionally frustrating. (People).
- Limflaer (verb.): To begin or commit to a task, assuming responsibility. (Undertake).
- Lime (n.): The state of matter that fills spaces or the fuel that powers engines. (Gas).
- Limo (adj.): Happens more times than you can count, like clockwork. (Frequent, often occurring).
- Limoca (n.): The rate of occurrence, often measured in hertz or awkward silences. (Frequency).
- Liodep (n.): The metric unit of mass equal to 1000 kilograms, often used for heavyweights. (Tonne).
- Liom (n.): The place of healing, often filled with beeping machines and hope. (Hospital).

- Liomore (n.): The evidence that confirms truth, ideally indisputable. (Proof).
- Liopir (verb.): To lead a meeting or committee, guiding discussions and decisions. (Chair).
- Lira (n.): The most brilliant star in the firmament for any given moment. (biggest star)
- Liru (n.): The organ that filters blood and produces urine, ideally functioning well. (Kidney).
- Liuco (n.): The input you add to a cause, project, or conversation. (Contribution).
- Liul (n.): The edge or surface of something, often taken in debates. (Side).
- Liur (verb.): To give or add to a collective effort, enhancing the whole with your unique touch. (Contribute).
- Liurol (n.): The person who adds value, ideas, or funds, ideally recognized. (Contributor).
- Load (n.): The sturdy cord used for tying, climbing, or the occasional tug-of-war. (Rope).
- Loar (verb.): To surprise greatly, causing sudden emotional impact. (Shock).
- Loahime (adj.): All about production lines and machines humming in harmony. (Industrial, factory-related).
- Loafiosa (n.): The unfair use of resources or people, ideally eradicated. (Exploitation).
- Loafior (verb.): To make use of resources or opportunities, often with strategic or self-serving intent. (Exploit).
- Loblime (adj.): The starting point, like the first chapter of an epic tale. (Initial, first).
- Lobrufufi (adv.): The word that leaves no room for doubt, even when there should be. (Absolutely).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Locar (verb.): To place or set down, positioning with intentionality. (Put).
- Locloma (adj.): Full of life, vibrant and breathing, like a bustling city street. (Alive, living).
- Loclun (n.): The excavation for minerals or the possessive pronoun causing confusion. (Mine).
- Locreli (adv.): The term that covers most of the bases, but not all. (Mainly).
- Loframdlo (n.): The realm ruled by a monarch, often filled with subjects and intrigue. (Kingdom).
- Loef (n.): The upper garment that's essential for casual and formal wear. (Shirt).
- Loevahi (n.): The difficult task that tests your abilities, often leading to growth. (Challenge).
- Loer (verb.): To whisk someone away against their will, spiriting them off to a fate unknown and undoubtedly dramatic. (Kidnap).
- Loga (n.): The staple grain that's versatile, filling, and occasionally sticky. (Rice).
- Loplime (adj.): A little bit of this and a little bit of that, like a potluck dinner. (Mixed, varied).
- Loplil (n.): The blend of ingredients or elements, ideally harmonious. (Mix, mixture).
- Lopralera (n.): The metal track for trains or the bar for support and safety. (Rail).
- Lovar (verb.): To feel deep affection or passion for, cherishing deeply. (Love).
- Lovremod (n.): The central point between extremes, ideally balanced. (Middle).
- Lovremoma (adj.): Right in the heart of things, balanced on all sides. (Middle, central).

- Lotrois (n.): The quantity of space something occupies or the level of sound. (Volume).
- Lotrusvroma (adj.): Goes with the flow, like a leaf on a gentle stream. (Passive, inactive).
- Loi (adv.): The way to explain things so that there's no misunderstanding, in theory. (Clearly).
- Loirime (adj.): Rough around the edges, like raw ore straight from the mine. (Crude, unrefined).
- Loiha (n.): The gathering of crops, celebrating the fruits of labor. (Harvest).
- Loneramo (adj.): Pops up out of nowhere, like a surprise party you didn't see coming. (Sudden, unexpected).
- Lonoglola (n.): The ability to move freely, whether physically or socially. (Mobility).
- Looca (n.): The return to health, stability, or normalcy, ideally swift. (Recovery).
- Loom (n.): The work stoppage demanding rights or the decisive hit that wins games. (Strike).
- Loomivri (adj.): Catches the eye and holds it, like a vivid painting in a gallery. (Striking, noticeable).
- Looluc (n.): The wealth or fate that shapes your life, ideally in your favor. (Fortune).
- Loor (verb.): To regain strength or possession, bouncing back from adversity with resilience. (Recover).
- Loraumdrubur (verb.): Evaluating as judges score performances, discernment in each mark. (Assess).
- Loraumdrubuco (n.): The evaluation of value, performance, or understanding, ideally fair. (Assessment).
- Lori (n.): The species that's capable of great wisdom and foolishness, often simultaneously. (Human, person).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

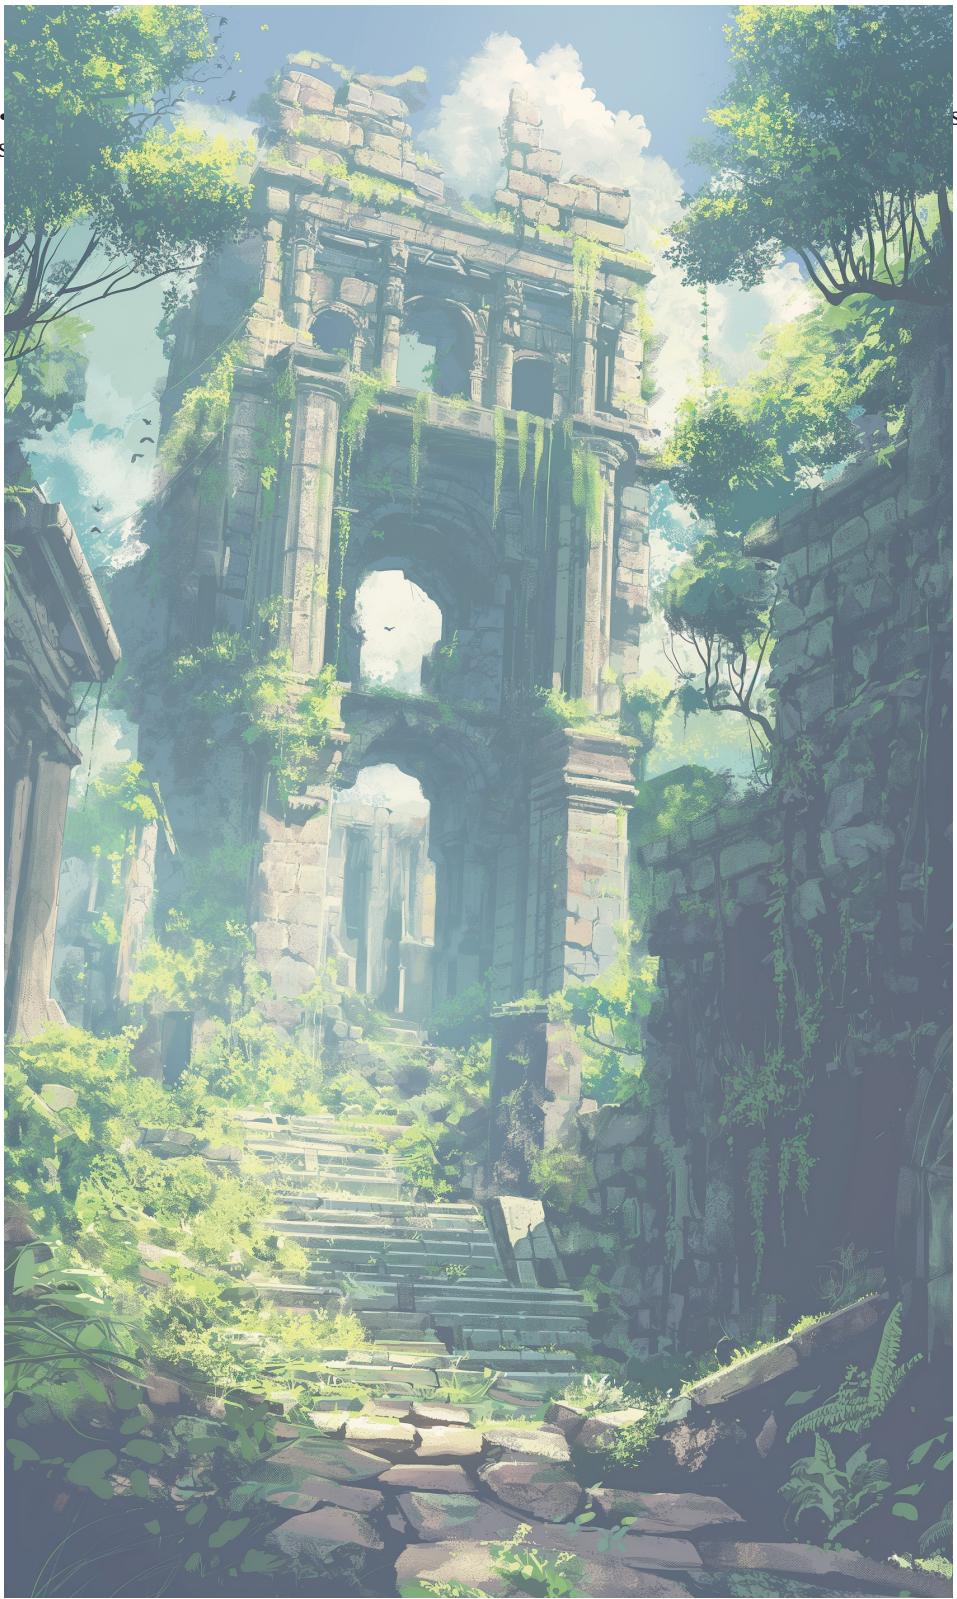

- Lorime (adj.): Flesh and blood, with all the complexities that entails. (Human, person-related).
- Loril (n.): The collective human race or the compassionate quality that defines us. (Humanity).
- Lou (n.): The large sign for announcements or the ad at the top of websites. (Banner).
- Lour (verb.): To close tightly, sealing off from the world like the finality of a door locking behind you. (Shut).
- Lousafe (n.): The slippery liquid that fuels engines, cooks food, and stains clothes. (Oil).
- Luapuflip (n.): The organized group of people with shared governance and identity. (Nation).
- Lubeclec (n.): The internal organs that digest food or the instinctual feeling. (Gut).
- Lublale (n.): The limit or boundary that defines scope, ideally clear and measurable. (Parameter).
- Lubra (n.): The professional guidance for emotional, mental, or personal issues. (Counselling).
- Lubral (n.): The advisor who offers support, whether in therapy, school, or law. (Counsellor).
- Lubrema (adj.): Thrown away, like yesterday's news. (Waste, discarded).
- Lubrel (n.): The unwanted material or the careless use of resources. (Waste).
- Lubrinama (adj.): Stays with you forever, like your first kiss or a breathtaking sunset. (Memorable, unforgettable).
- Luclumo (adj.): So good, it makes your taste buds dance with joy. (Delicious, tasty).
- Lucrulori (adv.): The adverb that concludes arguments and begins convoluted explanations. (Thus).

- Ludar (verb.): Engaging in activity for enjoyment, like children in a game. (Play).
- Luflas (n.): The large area of trees and wildlife, ideal for hiking and getting lost. (Forest).
- Lufrasdlim (n.): The fabric that covers windows or stages, revealing and concealing. (Curtain).
- Lue (n.): The layered vegetable that adds flavor to dishes and tears to eyes. (Onion).
- Luebapumo (adj.): Always on the move, like a hummingbird flitting from flower to flower. (Active, energetic).
- Luepra (n.): The equipment or machinery used for specific tasks. (Apparatus).
- Lueje (n.): The importance of something, often recognized in hindsight. (Significance).
- Luejema (adj.): Carries weight, like a decision that changes everything. (Significant, important).
- Lupla (n.): The act of achieving victory, ideally celebrated. (Win).
- Luveta (n.): The feeling of wishing you'd done things differently. (Regret).
- Luvetar (verb.): To look back with a heart heavy from the weight of missed opportunities and wrong turns, where every memory carries a sigh, and each sigh is a whisper of 'if only. (Regret).
- Luvinam (n.): The mental storage of past experiences, ideally vivid and pleasant. (Memory).
- Lutrolur (verb.): To make a visible sign, indicating significance with a deliberate stroke. (Mark).
- Lutrolurol (n.): The tool for writing or the indicator of something important. (Marker).
- Luiti (adv.): The place across the water where adventures and jet lag await. (Overseas).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Luitime (adj.): Across the vast ocean, in lands far from home. (Overseas, abroad).
- Luin (n.): The rectangular piece for greetings, transactions, or identification. (Card).
- Luinice (n.): The act of evaluating similarities and differences, ideally fair and enlightening. (Comparison).
- Luinige (adj.): Weighs one against the other, like scales measuring balance. (Comparative, relative).
- Luinime (adj.): Almost twins, but with a twist of their own. (Comparable, similar).
- Luinir (verb.): To evaluate similarities and differences with keen insight. (Compare).
- Luilime (adj.): As cool as a summer breeze, with not a care in the world. (Relaxed, laid-back).
- Luirit (n.): The tall, majestic landform that challenges climbers and awes viewers. (Mountain).
- Lume (n.): The small, furry pet known for independence and curiosity, ideally cuddly. (Cat).
- Luneflum (n.): The earnest effort to achieve something, ideally successful. (Endeavour).
- Lunitroma (adj.): Lives in the mind, where ideas dance and theories spin. (Theoretical, conceptual).
- Lule (n.): The principles of right and wrong that guide behavior, ideally ethical. (Morality).
- Luleca (n.): The lesson from a story or the standard of good conduct. (Moral).
- Lulema (adj.): Guided by principles, like a compass pointing true north. (Moral, ethical).
- Luoc (n.): The pair of people in a romantic relationship or the small number of items. (Couple).

- Luod (n.): The unwanted emails clogging your inbox or the canned meat product. (Spam).
- Lure (n.): The increase in size, number, or maturity, ideally healthy. (Growth).
- Luro (n.): The young person in the awkward stage between childhood and adulthood. (Adolescent).
- Lurosaace (n.): The change from one form to another, ideally improved. (Conversion).
- Lurosaar (verb.): To change from one form to another, transforming identities or states. (Convert).
- Luuplumo (adj.): Leans towards a particular path, like a sunflower turning to the sun. (Inclined, likely).
- Luumi (adv.): The speed that's frustratingly unhurried, but often safer. (Slowly).
- Luujefrem (n.): The grain that's the basis of bread, pasta, and sometimes fields of gold. (Wheat).
- Lupuvii (n.): The response to a question, ideally correct and clear. (Answer).
- Lupuviir (verb.): To respond with information or action, fulfilling the call of inquiry. (Answer).
- Luſeca (n.): The connection between people, ideas, or things. (Relation).
- Luſema (adj.): Connected by the thread of family or resemblance. (Relative, related).
- Luſemaco (n.): The family member you see at holidays or the dependent nature of something. (Relative).
- Luſemai (adv.): The term that compares things, making you wonder if it's all just perspective. (Relatively).
- Luſenta (n.): The bond between individuals, often complex and rewarding. (Relationship).

O

- Oabar (verb.): To arrange for use or occupancy, reserving time or space for future engagement. (Book).
- Oap (n.): The probability of something happening, often calculated in bets. (Odds).
- Oafedren (n.): The majestic animal that's ridden, raced, and revered. (Horse).
- Obamen (n.): The high level of skill or knowledge, ideally respected. (Expertise).
- Ober (verb.): To make known what was hidden, uncovering truths with illuminating clarity. (Reveal, discover).
- Oberen (n.): The surprising disclosure of something previously unknown. (Revelation).
- Obigija (n.): The tool for precision work or the musical device that makes melodies. (Instrument).
- Obmute (n.): The place you're headed, ideally reached and enjoyed. (Destination).
- Obsaclime (adj.): Makes your skin crawl, keeps you up at night. (Disturbing, unsettling).
- Oblime (adj.): The best of the best, like a perfectly ripe fruit. (Prime, top).
- Obo (n.): The color of nature or the eco-friendly movement. (Green).
- Obrosti (n.): The material with specific properties or the essence of something. (Substance).
- Obrostime (adj.): Carries weight, like a well-anchored ship. (Substantial, significant).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Obrumur (verb.): To increase in intensity or scope, raising stakes like a plot thickening in an epic saga. (Escalate).
- Ocalum (n.): The reason behind actions or the mission you support. (Cause).
- Ocar (verb.): To select with deliberate care, as if placing stars in the night sky to guide the way. (Appoint).
- Oceleca (n.): The sign or signal pointing to something, ideally clear. (Indication).
- Oceler (verb.): To point out with clarity, guiding attention with a gentle nudge towards hidden truths. (Indicate).
- Oceleren (n.): The device or sign that shows status or direction. (Indicator).
- Ocer (verb.): To give orders authoritatively, directing actions with control. (Command).
- Oceral (n.): The leader in charge, often in military contexts. (Commander).
- Oceje (n.): The potential harm or risk, ideally avoided. (Danger).
- Ocejema (adj.): Proceed with caution, risk ahead. (Dangerous, hazardous).
- Ocipioca (n.): The duty you're bound to, ideally fulfilled with honor. (Obligation).
- Ocipior (verb.): To bind by duty or necessity, compelling actions with an unspoken command. (Oblige).
- Ocir (verb.): To misuse or mistreat, inflicting harm through improper actions. (Abuse).
- Ocmubran (n.): The specific location or the position you hold. (Place).
- Ocmubranaco (n.): The act of positioning something, ideally precisely. (Placement).
- Oclol (n.): The lightest element, fueling stars and dreams of clean energy. (Hydrogen).

- Oco (n.): The color of mystery, elegance, and the abyss that stares back. (Black).
- Ocoma (adj.): Absorbs all light, like a moonless night. (Black, dark).
- Ocras (n.): The version of a published work, ideally updated. (Edition).
- Ocrocilmar (verb.): To enhance quality or value, infusing with wealth or depth. (Enrich).
- Ocublal (n.): The business model granting rights or the series of related films. (Franchise).
- Ocumo (adj.): Deep as a prayer, touching the unseen. (Spiritual, soul-related).
- Ocujei (adv.): The present state of affairs, until everything changes again. (Currently).
- Odeca (n.): The leisurely sea voyage or the smooth travel mode. (Cruise).
- Oder (verb.): To travel smoothly at a steady pace, navigating life's currents with relaxed confidence. (Cruise).
- Odiamuco (n.): The firm hold on something, ideally strong and steady. (Grip).
- Odiamur (verb.): To hold firmly with determination, as climbers grasp the ledge, refusing to let go. (Grip).
- Odir (verb.): To divide distinctly, as a curtain splits a stage, each side revealing a different aspect of the same story. (Separate).
- Odlaebes (n.): The firm belief in reliability or the arrangement managing assets. (Trust).
- Odleb (n.): The context or scenery behind the main focus. (Background).
- Odre (n.): When the days stretch themselves out with an indolence that suggests they've nowhere in particular to be and all the time in the world to get there. (June).
- Odriir (verb.): To place underground, laying to rest beneath the earth. (Bury).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Odrin (n.): The application of scientific knowledge, ideally improving life. (Technology).
- Odrinime (adj.): All about gadgets and gizmos, the future at your fingertips. (Technological, tech-related).
- Odro (n.): The arrangement or preparation for something, ideally efficient. (Set-up).
- Ofeca (n.): The exchange of letters or emails, ideally clear and polite. (Correspondence).
- Ofen (n.): The creative plan or the aesthetic arrangement of elements. (Design).
- Ofelim (n.): The liquid refreshment or the act of consuming it. (Drink).
- Ofer (verb.): To communicate through letters or messages, maintaining connections across distances. (Correspond).
- Oferal (n.): The journalist reporting from afar or the person writing letters. (Correspondent).
- Ofi (n.): The facility for grinding grain or the industrial site for production. (Mill).
- Ofim (n.): The physical or verbal conflict, ideally resolved peacefully. (Fighting).
- Ofimo (n.): The powerful explosion or the burst of loud sound. (Blast).
- Ofiru (n.): The noble title or the person in charge, often demanding respect. (Lord).
- Ofsumo (adj.): Testing new waters, like a scientist in a lab. (Experimental, trial-based).
- Oflavaige (n.): The substitute for something or someone, ideally just as good. (Replacement).
- Oflavair (verb.): To take the place of, substituting one element for another. (Replace).
- Oflor (verb.): Expressing dissatisfaction or grievances vocally. (Complain).

- Oflug (n.): The leader of a ship, team, or industry, ideally steering well. (Captain).
- Ofoma (adj.): Fresh as a spring meadow, kind to the earth. (Green, eco-friendly).
- Ofonta (n.): The surprising occurrence of events without apparent connection. (Coincidence).
- Ofor (verb.): To occur at the same time, events aligning with perfect synchronicity. (Coincide).
- Oframe (adj.): Lacks manners, like a bull in a china shop. (Rude, impolite).
- Ofubi (adv.): The term that simplifies everything, sometimes too much. (Basically).
- Ofuco (n.): The letdown from unmet expectations, ideally short-lived. (Disappointment).
- Ofumo (adj.): Hopes dashed, like a balloon losing air. (Disappointed, let down).
- Ofunto (adj.): Didn't live up to the hype, like a dud firework. (Disappointing, unsatisfactory).
- Ofur (verb.): To fail to meet expectations, leaving hopes unfulfilled with a sigh of regret. (Disappoint).
- Oepiner (verb.): To pair for companionship or reproduction, bonding with another in natural unity. (Mate).
- Oepineren (n.): The friend, partner, or the pairing for life in some species. (Mate).
- Oeru (n.): The predetermined outcome, often mysterious and inescapable. (Fate).
- Oga (n.): The competitive speed contest or the pursuit for a goal. (Race).
- Ogace (n.): The reluctant acceptance or the snack stand at events. (Concession).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ogar (verb.): To admit defeat or grant a point, yielding gracefully. (Concede).
- Ogarisumo (adj.): Spanning borders and oceans, like a jet-setter's itinerary. (International, globally connected).
- Ogelema (adj.): Like a blink, over before you realize it. (Brief, short).
- Oger (verb.): To obtain or receive, acquiring what was sought with eager hands. (Get).
- Ogesei (adv.): The regular occurrence that becomes habit, whether you like it or not. (Frequently).
- Ogif (n.): The improvement to a higher standard, ideally noticeable. (Upgrade).
- Ogitloma (adj.): More outlandish than a clown at a business meeting. (Ridiculous, laughably absurd).
- Ogor (verb.): To embrace uncertainty, venturing boldly into the unknown with a heart full of daring. (Risk).
- Ogiheema (adj.): So splendid, it leaves you breathless and clapping for an encore. (Magnificent, grand).
- Ogsi (n.): The majestic big cat, symbol of strength and nobility. (Lion).
- Ogor (verb.): To obstruct or hinder passage, creating barriers that must be navigated or overcome. (Block).
- Ogroca (n.): The credential proving ability or the condition limiting a statement. (Qualification).
- Ogroga (n.): The standard of excellence or the characteristic feature. (Quality).
- Ogroma (adj.): Has all the credentials and then some, like a résumé with gold stars. (Qualified, competent).
- Ogror (verb.): To meet the necessary criteria, becoming eligible or certified. (Qualify).

- Ogur (verb.): To flourish and prosper, growing vigorously under favorable conditions. (Thrive).
- Opitalaco (n.): The restriction that bounds possibilities, often challenged. (Limitation).
- Opitalago (n.): The boundary of extent, ideally clear. (Limit).
- Opitalamo (adj.): Only so much to go around, like a limited edition. (Limited, restricted).
- Opitalar (verb.): Setting boundaries as mapmakers chart edges of known lands. (Limit).
- Opirupiime (adj.): Far from the hustle and bustle, surrounded by nature. (Rural, countryside).
- Opmata (n.): The measurement of something from end to end. (Length).
- Oplugur (verb.): To greet or acclaim enthusiastically, calling out with admiration or welcome. (Hail).
- Opoli (adv. / exclam.): The universal approval that's as flexible as it is noncommittal. (Allright, OK).
- Opolime (adj.): Gets the job done, but doesn't wow. (OK, fine).
- Oprarun (n.): The part you grasp or the way you manage something. (Handle).
- Opromo (adj.): Where all roads lead, the heart of the matter. (Capital, main).
- Oprun (prep.): For those moments of defiance and standing firm, whether it's against the wind or a particularly stubborn dragon. (Against).
- Oput (n.): The viewpoint from which you see things, ideally broad. (Perspective).
- Opum (n.): The legless reptile that slithers or the treacherous person. (Snake).
- Opurema (adj.): Exists in the ether, like an online world. (Virtual, digital).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ovapamo (adj.): No flexibility, like a board of wood. (Stiff, rigid).
- Ovamo (adj.): Weighs both sides equally, fair and square. (Balanced, even).
- Overuni (adv.): The way to act in response to something, hopefully with wisdom. (Accordingly).
- Ovepaamplera (n.): The way you walk, often leading to destinations and discoveries. (Path).
- Ovija (n.): The act of becoming different or the coins in your pocket. (Change).
- Oviji (n.): The person who breaks the law or the adjective for unlawful activities. (Criminal).
- Ovijime (adj.): Against the law, with consequences looming. (Criminal, illegal).
- Ovsupliv (n.): The humorous story in pictures or the stand-up comedian. (Comic).
- Ovsuplime (adj.): Makes you laugh, with a punchline waiting. (Comic, funny).
- Ovlame (adj.): Each to their own, respecting differences. (Respective, individual).
- Ovoma (adj.): Can do the job, no doubts. (Able, capable).
- Ovonos (pron.): Possessive / yours and mine, a cozy little duo's stash. (Ours).
- Ovonosu (pron.): Possessive / what we all share, the communal pot. (Ours).
- Ovos (pron.): Possessive / the things that are yours alone, undeniably. (Yours).
- Ovosu (pron.): Possessive / the stuff that belongs to all of you, shared or fought over. (Yours).
- Ovoloma (adj.): All about discipline and combat. (Martial, military-related).

- Ovor (verb.): To examine or inspect, often to gather information. (Survey).
- Ovriro (n.): The vacation spot with amenities or the last option. (Resort).
- Ovrusor (verb.): Appreciating beauty as one beholds the splendor of a sunset. (Admire).
- Ovumglol (n.): The bony structure protecting your brain. (Skull).
- Ovur (verb.): To break into many pieces, causing something to fracture completely. (Shatter).
- Otice (n.): The official suggestion of someone for a position or award. (Nomination).
- Otvoma (adj.): Love between women, with pride and passion. (Lesbian, female same-sex).
- Otir (verb.): To propose for a position or honor, presenting candidates with a nod to their potential. (Nominate).
- Otsaglif (n.): The act of leaving your vehicle in a designated spot. (Parking).
- Otlac (n.): The specific area defined by geography, culture, or administration. (Region).
- Otlisvloma (adj.): Hard to bear, like a winter storm. (Harsh, severe).
- Otoru (n.): The group of soldiers or the pack of scouts. (Troop).
- Otouvur (verb.): To be able to spare the cost or provide, having the means for. (Afford).
- Otros (pron.): Possessive / the possessions of that person, guarded like dragon's gold. (Hers, his).
- Otrosu (pron.): Possessive / what belongs to them, often better than what's yours. (Theirs).
- Otunto (n.): The strong feeling of anger or shock, often righteous. (Outrage).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Otur (verb.): To provoke intense anger, igniting fiery passions and indignant protests. (Outrage).
- Oidante (n.): The reliance on something or someone, ideally balanced. (Dependence).
- Oidime (adj.): Like a vine clinging to a sturdy tree. (Dependent, reliant).
- Oige (n.): The enigma that intrigues, puzzles, and demands solving. (Mystery).
- Oits (pron.): Possessive / belonging to it, whatever it might be. (Its).
- Oitsu (pron.): Possessive / belonging to those things, creating endless confusion. (Its).
- Oincipu (n.): The farm animal that's intelligent, messy, and bacon-y. (Pig).
- Oifisi (n.): The winner who excels and inspires, ideally modestly. (Champion).
- Omaeca (n.): The careful examination to ensure quality, safety, or compliance. (Inspection).
- Omaer (verb.): To examine closely for details or quality, scrutinizing with care. (Inspect).
- Omaeral (n.): The person who examines and ensures standards, often with a keen eye. (Inspector).
- Omami (adv.): The comparative state that makes you strive for more, or just feel inadequate. (Better).
- Omamo (adj.): One step up from good, like the cherry on top. (Better, improved).
- Omana (n.): The opening that lets in light, air, and views. (Window).
- Ombler (verb.): Inviting a duel with fate, swords clashing under watchful stars. (Challenge).
- Ombliuhuna (n.): The joint connecting your leg to your torso or the trendy, stylish thing. (Hip).

- Omblu (conj.): Concedes gracefully, acknowledging a point with gentle reservation. (Albeit).
- Ombredoma (adj.): A title that might not fit, like calling a cat "dog. (So-called, supposedly named).
- Omdiar (verb.): Using up resources completely, as fire consumes fuel. (Consume).
- Omdrot (n.): The rubber ring on your vehicle's wheels, ideally not flat. (Tire).
- Omfram (n.): The contribution of information or effort, ideally valued. (Input).
- Ome (n.): The prediction of future weather, trends, or events. (Forecast).
- Omepro (n.): The small sign of something or the act of following its path. (Trace).
- Omer (verb.): To predict future conditions, offering insights into what lies ahead. (Forecast).
- Omeremu (n.): The financial gain after expenses, ideally substantial. (Profit).
- Omgriseser (verb.): To steal or take by force, depriving others of their possessions illicitly. (Rob).
- Omplev (n.): The money you make from work, ideally enough. (Earnings).
- Omplido (n.): The place for scientific experiments and discoveries. (Laboratory).
- Ompramo (adj.): All about what you see, like light through a lens. (Optical, visual).
- Ompris (n.): The financial institution that holds, lends, and grows your money. (Bank).
- Omvlum (conj.): Introduces contrast, a surprising twist that layers meaning and complexity. (Although).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Omtlela (n.): The toxic substance that harms or kills, ideally avoided. (Poison).
- Omtronema (adj.): Not in working order, like a shattered mirror. (Broken, damaged).
- Omtrumo (adj.): Full of potential, like the first bloom of spring. (Promising, hopeful).
- Omtrun (n.): The competitive activity for fun, skill, or strategy. (Game).
- Omi (n.): The sector of economy producing goods, ideally innovative. (Industry).
- Omitrue (n.): The system of faith and worship, ideally uplifting. (Religion).
- Omitruema (adj.): Deep in belief, like a monk in meditation. (Religious, faith-based).
- Ominar (verb.): To send written messages electronically, bridging distances with typed words. (Text).
- Omir (verb.): To quietly slip into the background, like a ghost tiptoeing out of a haunted house at dawn. (Fade).
- Omirumo (adj.): Takes up more space than it should, like a giant's footprint. (Enormous, huge).
- Omuloma (adj.): Ready to burst, like a firecracker in a matchbox. (Explosive, volatile).
- Omulos (n.): The substance that causes blasts or the sudden, forceful burst. (Explosive).
- Onafuclon (n.): The person harmed by actions or events, ideally supported. (Victim).
- Oncrac (n.): The fine particles that settle on surfaces, ideally cleaned. (Dust).
- Ondlema (adj.): Carries weight, like a heartfelt promise. (Meaningful, significant).

- Onfrime (adj.): Pushed to the limits, like a daredevil's stunt. (Extreme, intense).
- Onfrire (n.): The furthest point from the middle or the intense degree of something. (Extreme).
- Oneiv (n.): The place of worship or the side of your head. (Temple).
- Onglaojueca (n.): The act of administering a drug with a needle. (Injection).
- Onglaojuer (verb.): To introduce substances forcefully, sending them straight into the heart of the matter. (Inject).
- Ongru (n.): The act of breaking free from confinement or danger. (Escape).
- Onvlorera (n.): The letters and packages you send and receive. (Mail).
- Onivaro (n.): The act of reaching out vocally or by phone, often urgent. (Call).
- Onilit (n.): The state of being without a job, ideally temporary. (Unemployment).
- Onisi (pron.): The possessive question that sorts out ownership, hopefully without argument. (Whose).
- Ono (pron.): The possession that's unmistakably yours, for better or worse. (Own).
- Onopol (n.): The injury that breaks the skin or spirit, ideally healed. (Wound).
- Onovov (n.): The act of resisting authority or convention. (Rebellion).
- Onoma (adj.): Belongs to you and no one else, like your favorite mug. (Own, personal).
- Onos (pron.): Possessive / the stuff that's mine, cherished and hoarded. (Mine, my).
- Onosu (pron.): Possessive / belonging to me and my gang, excluding you—no hard feelings. (Ours).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Onoloma (adj.): Always there when you need it, like a swiss army knife. (Handy, useful).
- Onor (verb.): To possess or hold, like treasures kept close to the heart. (Have).
- Onubiju (n.): The group of singers harmonizing in joy or worship. (Choir).
- Onubrere (n.): The distinctive identity of a product or company, ideally strong. (Brand).
- Onupos (n.): The achievement of success in a challenge or competition. (Victory).
- Onunvlaf (n.): The state of wealth and success, ideally widespread. (Prosperity).
- Onur (verb.): To misplace or be deprived of, the sting of absence felt keenly. (Lose).
- Osatmo (adj. / n.): Where the sun sets. (West, western).
- Osatmoi (adv.): The direction of sunsets, pioneers, and occasional wild adventures. (West).
- Osajne (n.): The fee for services or the act of running towards something. (Charge).
- Osblifer (verb.): To reply or react, offering answers or actions that continue the dialogue. (Respond).
- Osciepumo (adj.): All about the sea, with waves and tides. (Marine, oceanic).
- Osdrift (n.): The strong wish or craving for something. (Desire).
- Oser (verb.): To soak up completely, integrating new information or substances until they are part of your very being. (Absorb).
- Osejne (n.): The point where two lines meet or the secretive place you hide. (Corner).
- Osepu (n.): The assistant who supports someone, often in politics. (Aide).

- Osplitor (verb.): To forcefully violate, committing an act of profound violence and violation. (Rape).
- Osvrot (n.): The alleviation of pain or the feeling of reassurance. (Relief).
- Ost (n.): The moral or legal entitlement or the opposite of left. (Right).
- Osti (adv.): The direction that's not left, often favored by correctness. (Right).
- Ostrelani (adv.): The manner of examining things in detail, sometimes too much so. (Closely).
- Ositsu (n.): The quality deserving praise or reward. (Merit).
- Osirime (adj.): Pinpoint accuracy, like a laser beam. (Precise, exact).
- Osu (n.): The financial aid given for a specific purpose or the act of giving it. (Grant).
- Osucum (n.): The lines that never meet or the similarity in situations. (Parallel).
- Osucumo (adj.): Running together, never crossing paths. (Parallel, side-by-side).
- Osum (n.): The path through nature or the marks left behind. (Trail).
- Osur (verb.): To bestow or give, as a king awards titles, each decree a gift of status and responsibility. (Grant).
- Olamo (adj.): All about the now, sleek and stylish. (Modern, contemporary).
- Olaru (n.): The front part of your head or the act of confronting. (Face).
- Olapi (n.): The early years of life, ideally carefree and memorable. (Childhood).
- Oleca (n.): The building process or the complex creation of ideas. (Construction).
- Olega (adj. / n.): Prefers the old ways, like a well-worn path through the woods. (Conservative, traditional).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Olepar (verb.): To twist out of true shape, as mirrors in a carnival, altering reflections to amuse or confound. (Distort).
- Olesi (adv.): The infrequent happening that surprises and delights. (Occasionally).
- Oler (verb.): To build with precision and creativity, crafting masterpieces from mere plans and imagination. (Construct).
- Oleramo (adj.): Closer to the top, like the penthouse suite. (Upper, higher).
- Olerapi (n.): The giant wave caused by underwater disturbances, often devastating. (Tsunami).
- Olepu (n.): The small piece or the binary unit of digital information. (Bit).
- Olefamo (adj.): Knows what's happening, eyes wide open. (Aware, conscious).
- Olefanto (n.): The state of being conscious of something, ideally leading to action. (Awareness).
- Oli (n.): The regular update of news, ideally informative. (Newsletter).
- Olif (n.): The color of the sky and ocean, often calming. (Blue).
- Olifime (adj.): As vast and serene as the ocean on a calm day. (Blue, color of the sky).
- Olitire (n.): The standard for comparison, ideally high. (Benchmark).
- Oline (n.): The group of three, often harmonious in music or mischief. (Trio).
- Olis (n.): The cold season of snow, holidays, and cozy fires. (Winter).
- Olir (verb.): To take temporarily with the promise of return, using resources with gratitude and care. (Borrow).
- Olisuprilir (verb.): To alert of danger or risk, advising caution. (Warn).
- Oloca (n.): The medical procedure to fix, remove, or repair, ideally successfully. (Surgery).

- Oloero (n.): The deep sorrow from loss, ideally eased with time. (Grief).
- Oloma (adj.): Makes you cringe, like fingernails on a chalkboard. (Terrible, awful).
- Olomeseca (n.): The thorough examination to uncover facts, often revealing. (Investigation).
- Olomeser (verb.): To examine in detail, uncovering hidden truths with meticulous inquiry. (Investigate).
- Olomeseral (n.): The person who digs for truth, ideally relentless. (Investigator).
- Olomvluor (verb.): To clash or struggle, engaging in a battle of wills or forces. (Conflict).
- Olomoſa (n.): The assertion of a right or the demand for something. (Claim).
- Ololaro (n.): The potential for future success or the view from a high place. (Prospect).
- Ololuco (n.): The act of taking something away, ideally improving the situation. (Removal).
- Ololur (verb.): To take away or detach, erasing presence with a swift, clean swipe. (Remove).
- Olorife (n.): The person who protects or the act of shielding from harm. (Guard).
- Olorifer (verb.): To protect vigilantly, standing watch with unwavering resolve. (Guard).
- Oloroma (adj.): Not concrete, like dreams floating in the mind. (Abstract, conceptual).
- Olojai (adv.): The way things go wrong with flair and drama. (Terribly).
- Oluco (n.): The purpose or the action that makes something work. (Function).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Olusaho (n.): The abundance of valuable resources or assets, ideally well-managed. (Wealth).
- Olur (verb.): To operate or perform as intended, like the cogs in a well-oiled machine. (Function).
- Oluhu (n.): The art of governing and the debate of policies, often contentious. (Politics).
- Oluhumo (adj.): All about policies and power plays. (Political, government-related).
- Oluhul (n.): The person who practices politics, ideally for the public good. (Politician).
- Oo (exclam.): The expression of surprise, disappointment, or sudden clarity, useful in almost any situation. (Oh, wow).
- Oop (n.): The bundle of fibers transmitting signals or the courage to face fear. (Nerve).
- Oopema (adj.): Butterflies in the stomach, palms sweaty. (Nervous, anxious).
- Oolime (adj.): In the spotlight, catching everyone's eye. (Pop, popular).
- Oolin (n.): The music genre, the fizzy drink, or the quick burst. (Pop).
- Oojoom (n.): The glorious victory that's celebrated and remembered. (Triumph).
- Ora (n.): The specific instance illustrating a concept, ideally clear. (Example).
- Oraadin (n.): The individual navigating the corporate jungle with briefcase in hand. (Businessman).
- Oraamo (adj.): Faces challenges with resilience and strength. (Disabled, differently-abled).
- Oraala (n.): The regular walk or drive of someone ensuring safety and order. (Patrol).

- Oraboma (adj.): All about the community and public affairs. (Civic, city-related).
- Orabram (n.): The greater part of a whole, often deciding the vote or consensus. (Majority).
- Oraclen (n.): The magical brew that turns morning zombies into functioning humans. (Coffee).
- Oraclidi (adv.): The state of being in harmony with nature, or just avoiding artificiality. (Naturally).
- Oradlel (n.): The pounding reminder that stress, dehydration, or loud noises are bad. (Headache).
- Oradrereg (n.): The enthusiast who loves their craft enough to do it for free. (Amateur).
- Oradrerema (adj.): Doing it for love, not money. (Amateur, non-professional).
- Orafrel (n.): The part of the whole that's meant to be enough but never feels like it. (Portion).
- Orae (n.): The live music event where ears ring and spirits soar. (Concert).
- Oraglidrumi (adv.): The sincere manner that's refreshingly real, though sometimes awkward. (Genuinely).
- Oragran (n.): The chemical compound that heals or harms, depending on dosage and intent. (Drug).
- Oragralil (n.): The goods you send out to the world, ideally boosting your economy. (Export).
- Oragresrib (n.): The relaxing sport of catching fish, often involving tall tales of "the one that got away. (Fishing).
- Oraplog (n.): The art of bringing drawings to life, often more magical than real life itself. (Animation).
- Oratu (n.): The heap of objects, ideally organized. (Pile).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Oraiso (n.): The person who gains from something, ideally appreciative. (Beneficiary).
- Orasgrime (adj.): More valuable than gold, shimmering with worth. (Golden, precious).
- Orasprif (n.): The act of bending something over on itself, ideally neatly. (Fold).
- Orara (n.): The seed used in cooking or the plant that grows from it. (Bean).
- Orahuli (adv.): The state of recent acquisition or change, often still shiny. (Newly).
- Oraul (n.): The frothy beverage that's best enjoyed cold and in good company. (Beer).
- Orauhacri (n.): The products made from milk or the farm that produces them. (Dairy).
- Orauhacrime (adj.): All about the cows and the cream. (Dairy, milk-related).
- Oraja (n.): The general description or the border of a shape. (Outline).
- Orajai (adv.): The distance that's just enough to feel adventurous, yet tiresome. (Far).
- Orajair (verb.): To draw the main features or principles, sketching the essential structure. (Outline).
- Orajame (adj.): A long way off, like a faraway land in a fairy tale. (Far, distant).
- Orbucil (n.): The events or actions happening in an official context. (Proceedings).
- Orbuco (n.): The series of steps to achieve something, ideally efficient. (Process).
- Orbugo (n.): The money obtained from an event or sale, ideally put to good use. (Proceeds).

- Orbunto (n.): The act of handling or preparing something through a series of steps. (Processing).
- Orbur (verb.): To continue forward, advancing along a path. (Proceed).
- Orburija (n.): The device or person who processes information or materials. (Processor).
- Oreg (n.): The inclined surface or the measure of steepness. (Slope).
- Orepro (n.): The experience of pain or distress, ideally alleviated. (Suffering).
- Orenaro (n.): The animal flesh used as food, ideally tender and tasty. (Meat).
- Oresi (adv.): The word that reminds you time flies when you're not paying attention. (Already).
- Oresivri (adv.): The persistent way things keep happening, like bad weather. (Continually).
- Oreji (n.): The act of going in or the written submission in a competition. (Entry).
- Orepí (adv.): The almost-but-not-quite state that teases completion. (Nearly).
- Orihiohei (adv.): The way to speak bluntly, whether people want to hear it or not. (Frankly).
- Oriur (verb.): To persuade effectively, as a lawyer argues a case, each fact presented to sway judgment in favor of his argument. (Convince).
- Ornet (n.): The smooth, luxurious fabric made by silkworms. (Silk).
- Orogú (n.): The precious gem formed under pressure, or the shape used in baseball. (Diamond).
- Orom (n.): The circular component that rolls and supports vehicles. (Wheel).
- Orolu (n.): The state of being clear and understandable. (Clarity).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ororian (n.): The limbs for hugging, lifting, or the weapons for defending. (Arms).
- Oropela (n.): The visible features of an area or the art depicting them. (Landscape).
- Oruasa (conj.): Acknowledges an obstacle, yet keeps the story moving forward against the odds. (Though).
- Oruasai (adv.): The word that introduces contrast, like a plot twist in conversation. (Though).
- Orubi (n.): The overhead surface that caps your rooms and dreams. (Ceiling).
- Oruce (n.): The warm, fuzzy feeling you get for people, pets, and occasionally, inanimate objects. (Affection).
- Orucla (n.): The fight that's either epic or avoided, depending on your skills and luck. (Battle, combat).
- Oruclago (adj.): Forceful and brutal, no holds barred. (Violent, aggressive).
- Oruclumi (adv.): The additional distance or degree that's just a bit more than you wanted. (Further).
- Oruclumo (adj.): Beyond what you thought, even further still. (Further, more distant).
- Orudlog (n.): The event that happens, planned or unexpected, ideally noteworthy. (Occurrence).
- Orudren (n.): The long passageway that leads to rooms, adventures, and sometimes mysteries. (Corridor).
- Orudrugosanto (n.): The duty you shoulder, ideally without buckling under the weight. (Responsibility).
- Oruem (n.): The section of an organization where specialized magic happens. (Department).
- Orueju (n.): The grown-up human who's supposed to know better but often doesn't. (Adult).

- Oruejumo (adj.): All grown, no more child's play. (Adult, grown-up).
- Oruga (n.): The empty space that shouldn't be there but often is. (Hole).
- Orugloprame (adj.): Nursing wounds, needs tender care. (Injured, hurt).
- Oruprut (n.): The essential nutrient for muscle growth and repair. (Protein).
- Oruicur (verb.): To triumph over obstacles, rising above difficulties with unyielding spirit. (Overcome).
- Oruirime (adj.): Comes next, right after. (Subsequent, following).
- Oruije (n.): The ordered series of events, ideally leading to a satisfying conclusion. (Sequence).
- Oruijelime (adj.): All about the bits and bytes. (Digital, electronic).
- Orumo (adj.): The very base, like the root of a tree. (Bottom, lowest).
- Orun (n.): The lowest part or the base of something. (Bottom).
- Orus (n.): The structured course of study in education. (Curriculum).
- Orusafla (n.): The safe haven for ships, thoughts, and occasionally fugitives. (Harbour).
- Orusi (n.): The comfy shoe for running, jumping, and casual fridays. (Sneaker).
- Orula (n.): The solid material that builds cities or the adjective meaning definite. (Concrete).
- Orulamo (adj.): Real and tangible, like a sidewalk underfoot. (Concrete, solid).
- Orulajo (n.): The formal examination of evidence in court or the test of something new. (Trial).
- Oruogi (adv.): The rare frequency that makes occurrences special or suspicious. (Seldom).
- Oruori (adv.): The alternative choice, often better in hindsight. (Instead).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Oruoho (n.): The sneaky rodent that scurries in sewers and labs, often vilified. (Rat).
- Oruraeho (n.): The state of suffering that loves company but rarely gets invited. (Misery).
- Oruram (n.): The successful strike or popular success. (Hit).
- Oruros (n.): The collection of work samples or investments. (Portfolio).
- Oruun (n.): The government department or the religious vocation, both serving higher purposes. (Ministry).
- Orujelidrema (adj.): On the exterior, where the weather hits first. (External, outside).
- Orupumo (adj.): Pure as the driven snow, untainted by wrongdoing. (Innocent, guiltless).
- Orufali (n.): The young human who's small, cute, and demands attention. (Baby).
- Orusumo (adj.): Part of the very essence, like a tree's need for sunlight. (Inherent, innate).
- Ohaadime (adj.): Fits the situation perfectly, like a puzzle piece sliding into place. (Applicable, relevant).
- Ohafrič (n.): The local church community or the area it serves. (Parish).
- Ohafur (verb.): To indicate future intention with resolute certainty, a promise etched in the annals of destiny. (Shall).
- Ohagli (n.): The art of finding your way, ideally accurately. (Navigation).
- Ohuento (n.): The state of being alive or present, often pondered philosophically. (Existence).
- Ohaur (verb.): Being as stars are in the sky, simply and brilliantly so. (Exist).
- Oheridro (n.): The exclusive control over a market or the classic board game. (Monopoly).

- Oheubi (n.): The challenging aspect that tests resolve and skill. (Difficulty).
- Oheumo (adj.): Not for the faint-hearted, like climbing everest in a snowstorm. (Difficult, challenging).
- Ohi (n.): The social group or the weapon for hitting balls or heads. (Club).
- Ohiplime (adj.): As if the sun decided to play hide and seek. (Pale, lightly colored).
- Ohiorili (adv.): The way to do things without flaw, theoretically. (Perfectly).
- Ohiohono (n.): The waste you discard, ideally reduced and recycled. (Garbage).
- Ohiujaru (n.): The flying machine that takes you above the clouds. (Aircraft).
- Ohoiv (n.): The sharp rap on a door or the unexpected setback. (Knock).
- Ohoma (adj.): As obvious as a lighthouse on a foggy night. (Visible, clearly seen).
- Ohosi (n.): The reporter who uncovers, writes, and occasionally disturbs. (Journalist).
- Ohosinte (n.): The profession of investigating, reporting, and informing. (Journalism).
- Ohour (verb.): To insert or affix securely, ensuring it stays in place firmly. (Stick).
- Ohu (n.): The curved yellow fruit that's nutritious and peel-able. (Banana).
- Ohuveo (n.): The removal or retreat, often involving atms or emotions. (Withdrawal).
- Ohuir (verb.): To handle systematically, transforming inputs into outputs. (Process).
- Ohuoca (n.): The accomplished goal, ideally celebrated. (Achievement).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ohuor (verb.): To reach a desired goal through effort and skill, crowning endeavors with success. (Achieve).
- Ohuur (verb.): To input text using a keyboard, creating written documents with precision. (Type).
- Oudir (verb.): To perceive sound, listening attentively. (Hear).
- Ougumo (adj.): Makes perfect sense, no emotions attached. (Rational, logical).
- Ouhi (n.): The written words in a book, message, or document. (Text).
- Ouhuglera (n.): The educational session or the moral learned from experience. (Lesson).
- Ojaa (n.): The selfless act of giving up something valued for a greater good. (Sacrifice).
- Ojaasbrera (n.): The group united by a common interest, often competitive. (League).
- Ojae (n.): The brain-teasing challenge that fits pieces or thoughts together. (Puzzle).
- Ojaerumo (adj.): Sways opinions with ease, like a silver-tongued orator. (Convincing, persuasive).
- Ojarile (n.): The pursuit that's thrilling, exhausting, and often worth it. (Chase).
- Ojebeluoma (adj.): Wanted more than the last piece of chocolate cake. (Desirable, highly sought).
- Ojeeſouſei (adv.): The emphatic way to rule out any possibility, no ifs, ands, or buts. (Whatsoever).
- Ojeplu (n.): The place for crafting or the session for learning skills. (Workshop).
- Ojeir (verb.): To plead earnestly, seeking mercy or favor with heartfelt desperation. (Beg).

- Ojemu (adj.): Makes perfect sense, like 2+2 always equals 4. (Logical, reasonable).
- Ojeoca (n.): The mutual understanding reached, ideally amicably. (Agreement).
- Ojeor (verb.): To share the same opinion, reaching a consensus. (Agree).
- Ojeujocroma (adj.): Towers over everything, like a giant among dwarfs. (Massive, enormous).
- Oji (n.): The unit of language that conveys meaning, ideally chosen wisely. (Word).
- Ojipuprira (n.): The device that captures images, memories, and sometimes ghosts. (Camera).
- Ojin (prep.): Ojin brings things together, marking companionship and unity. (With).
- Ojinin (prep.): Deep within the heart of things, ojinin ensures nothing is left out. (Within).
- Ojo (n.): The break for rejuvenation, ideally restful. (Rest).
- Ojobime (adj.): Just another day in the life, nothing out of the ordinary. (Usual, normal).
- Ojofru (n.): The small round mark or the point of connection. (Dot).
- Ojonega (adj.): Makes you want to pull your hair out and scream at the sky. (Frustrating, annoying).
- Ojonema (adj.): Ready to snap, like a rubber band stretched too far. (Frustrated, annoyed).
- Ojones (n.): The feeling of thwarted goals, ideally overcome. (Frustration).
- Ojoor (verb.): To mirror or think deeply, considering thoughtfully. (Reflect).
- Ojour (verb.): To unite in matrimony, forging a bond as binding as ancient oaths spoken under starlit skies. (Marry).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ojuario (n.): The red fruit often mistaken for a vegetable, essential in sauces. (Tomato).
- Ojucumo (adj.): Knows the field inside and out, like a master of their craft. (Specialist, expert).
- Ojucul (n.): The expert in a specific field, ideally sought after. (Specialist).
- Ojudlial (n.): The place for buying and selling goods, or the arena for competition. (Market).
- Onacruvvol (n.): The residue from burning or the tree with strong wood. (Ash).
- Onai (adv.): The confident affirmation that often precedes uncertainty. (Certainly).
- Onaudi (n.): The position in a hierarchy or the unpleasant odor. (Rank).
- Onevadrem (n.): The vast body of saltwater that covers most of the earth. (Ocean).
- Onetruui (adv.): The way to describe something so amazing, it's almost not believable. (Incredibly).
- Oneifom (n.): The appliance that keeps food cold and fresh. (Refrigerator).
- Oneoraja (n.): The collected information that's analyzed and interpreted. (Data).
- Operao (n.): The selection from options, ideally well-informed. (Choice).
- Onidlolin (n.): The written dialogue for plays, films, or the code for software. (Script).
- Opiir (verb.): To express admiration or approval, celebrating achievements with words. (Praise).
- Onilacema (adj.): Reaches for the sky, like a skyscraper. (Tall, high).
- Onoepumo (adj.): Feels like home, where you can relax. (Comfortable, cozy).

- Oñufra (n.): The size or importance of something, ideally substantial. (Magnitude).
- Oñuegime (adj.): All about laws and debates, like a heated session in parliament. (Congressional, legislative).
- Oñugreliv (n.): The pre-set option or the failure to meet obligations. (Default).
- Oñaima (adj.): Buzzing with energy, like a bee in spring. (Lively, full of life).
- Oñair (verb.): To add up to a complete sum, calculating the entirety with thorough precision. (Total).
- Oñetasice (n.): The act of ensuring compliance with laws or rules. (Enforcement).
- Oñetasir (verb.): To compel obedience to rules or laws, ensuring compliance through authority. (Enforce).
- Oñejema (adj.): Keeps the earth green and the waters clean. (Ecological, environment-related).
- Oñi (n.): The government official or the religious leader. (Minister).
- Oñidrore (n.): The experienced advisor who guides and supports. (Mentor).
- Oñiep (n.): The path or method to achieve something. (Way).
- Oñiepi (adv.): The manner or path that leads you forward, unless it leads you astray. (Way).
- Oñiil (n.): The mental or physical strain from pressure. (Stress).
- Oñio (n.): The act of doing something again, ideally improving. (Repeat).
- Oñior (verb.): To do or say again, ensuring retention through repetition. (Repeat).
- Oñoplicroma (adj.): Within the walls, shielded from the elements. (Indoor, inside).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ojonor (verb.): To hold onto with care, preserving treasures and memories with tender vigilance. (Keep).
- Ofor (verb.): To reveal or display with flair, turning the mundane into a spectacle for all to behold. (Show).
- Ofuclética (n.): The infectious agent that causes disease or the computer malware. (Virus).
- Ofutres (n.): The activity of buying and selling goods. (Commerce).
- Ofutresoca (n.): The advertisement or the business-oriented aspect. (Commercial).
- Ofutresoma (adj.): All about profit, where money talks. (Commercial, business-related).
- Ofuso (n.): The organ that digests food or the area you're told to tuck in. (Stomach).
- Ofuoca (n.): The change or alteration to improve something. (Modification).
- Ofuor (verb.): To alter subtly or drastically, reshaping reality with a deft touch. (Modify).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

U

- Uamprig (n.): The device for receiving broadcasts or the medium itself, ideally clear. (Radio).
- Uanto (n.): The grand parade of artifacts or artworks, where items step out to tell their stories to the world.. (Exhibit).
- Ualecer (verb.): To secure firmly, attaching or closing tightly. (Fasten).
- Uarelar (verb.): To surpass limits with flair, turning impossible feats into yesterday's news. (Exceed).
- Uahuur (verb.): Recognizing presence as a nod greets a passerby. (Acknowledge).
- Ubadal (n.): The physical dimensions or magnitude of something, ideally just right. (Size).
- Ubar (verb.): Passing an item from one person to another. (Hand).
- Ubaſo (n.): The leader or the adjective meaning most important, ideally wise. (Chief).
- Ubaſoma (adj.): Top dog, in charge. (Chief, main).
- Ube (n.): The personal account of someone's experiences, ideally captivating. (Memoir).
- Ubetuco (n.): The act of obtaining something or the item obtained, ideally valuable. (Acquisition).
- Ubetur (verb.): To gain possession of, obtaining through effort or purchase. (Acquire).
- Ubehaom (n.): The regular practice or the garment worn by monks and nuns, ideally positive. (Habit).
- Ubi (adv.): The small degree that's noticeable but not significant. (Slightly).

- Ubice (n.): The act of organizing activities or the physical ability to move smoothly, ideally seamless. (Coordination).
- Ubili (adv.): The twofold amount that's either twice as good or twice as bad. (Double).
- Ubilime (adj.): Twice as much, like a double helping. (Double, twofold).
- Ubir (verb.): To organize activities to ensure harmony, working together efficiently. (Coordinate).
- Ubirel (n.): The person who organizes activities, ideally efficient. (Coordinator).
- Ubmedrice (n.): The rule or law governing behavior, ideally fair. (Regulation).
- Ubmedrir (verb.): To control or maintain the rate of a process, ensuring smooth operation. (Regulate).
- Ubmedrirel (n.): The device controlling a process or the person enforcing rules, ideally unbiased. (Regulator).
- Ubnethlumo (adj.): From the heart, no pretense. (Sincere, genuine).
- Ubsabre (n.): The sudden, surprising event or the physical reaction to injury, ideally brief. (Shock).
- Ubler (verb.): To compare in such a way as to emphasize differences, highlighting distinctions. (Contrast).
- Uplibor (verb.): To begin a journey or venture, setting out on a new and significant path. (Embark).
- Ublumo (adj.): Nothing out of the ordinary, just as expected. (Typical, usual).
- Ubosca (n.): The visual or descriptive language in literature, ideally vivid. (Imagery).
- Ubol (n.): The sequence of related items or events, ideally engaging. (Series).
- Ubolame (adj.): One after the other, in a series. (Serial, successive).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ubrurarer (verb.): To display or show clearly, revealing an idea or quality through actions. (Manifest).
- Ubumo (adj.): More than you can count, like stars in the sky. (Countless, innumerable).
- Ubur (verb.): To take away something valuable, leaving a void in its absence. (Deprive).
- Ucalime (adj.): Works well, does its job. (Functional, practical).
- Ucisa (n.): The season of renewal or the coiled device for storing energy, ideally bouncy. (Spring).
- Uclamare (n.): The region or part of a space, ideally well-defined. (Area).
- Uclil (n.): The pleasing sequence of musical notes, ideally harmonious. (Melody).
- Ucoca (n.): The process of recognizing or proving something, ideally accurate. (Identification).
- Ucol (n.): The underground level of a building, ideally dry. (Basement).
- Ucor (verb.): To recognize and name, establishing the identity of someone or something. (Identify).
- Ucojatlot (n.): The conclusion or the final part of something, ideally satisfying. (Ending).
- Ucojiplo (n.): The act of speaking or the noun meaning influence or control, ideally clear. (Say).
- Ucofi (n.): The sense of self or the distinguishing characteristics of someone, ideally unique. (Identity).
- Ucosime (adj.): Mirror images, can't tell them apart. (Identical, exactly alike).
- Ucroma (adj.): Happening now, up to date. (Current, present).
- Ucul (n.): The opposite of high or the noun meaning a depressed state, ideally temporary. (Low).

- Uculi (adv.): The downward position that's close to the ground or the mood. (Low).
- Uculumo (adj.): Close to the ground, not reaching up. (Low, not high).
- Uculuner (verb.): To fall in or give way suddenly, crumbling under pressure. (Collapse).
- Ucusacrura (n.): The device for measuring weight or the relative size of something, ideally balanced. (Scale).
- Uda (n.): The unit of length, ideally used in small measurements. (Inch).
- Udef (n.): The little badge that whispers the identity of things, from the price of a sweater to the name of a teddy bear. (Tag).
- Udi (n.): The official order or the authority to act, ideally clear. (Mandate).
- Udmai (adv.): The brief time span that's always just a bit longer than you'd like. (Shortly).
- Udledroma (adj.): Above the rest, top tier. (Superior, better).
- Udoir (verb.): To rebound with irrepressible energy, defying gravity and expectations with every leap. (Bounce).
- Udro (n.): The sport played with rackets and a ball on a court, ideally fast-paced. (Tennis).
- Udrorapema (adj.): Stands alone, needs no help. (Independent, self-sufficient).
- Udrut (n.): The act of casting a ballot in an election, ideally fair. (Voting).
- Uduco (n.): The base on which something stands or the organization supporting causes, ideally strong. (Foundation).
- Udur (verb.): To establish or create an institution or organization, laying the groundwork for its future. (Found).
- Udurol (n.): The person who establishes something, ideally visionary. (Founder).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Uf (prep.): Uf connects everything to its essence, marking possession and relation with a deft touch. (Of).
- Ufade (n.): The institution of higher education and research, ideally prestigious. (University).
- Ufegrire (n.): The paved public way for vehicles and pedestrians, ideally safe. (Street).
- Ufelohoi (adv.): The extended duration that requires patience and vision. (Long-term).
- Ufelohoma (adj.): Lasts through time, like a long friendship. (Long-term, enduring).
- Ufi (n.): The vehicle for personal transportation, ideally reliable. (Car).
- Ufir (verb.): To roam aimlessly, exploring the world with the curiosity of a restless spirit. (Wander).
- Uflalamo (adj.): Must be done, no choice in the matter. (Mandatory, required).
- Ufleros (n.): The act of speaking or the formal address, ideally eloquent. (Speech).
- Ufo (n.): A robust period when the earth decides to yield its pixelated bounty and every meal is a festive save point in the culinary game of life. (August).
- Ufon (n.): The long academic essay or the statement to be proved, ideally well-argued. (Thesis).
- Ufonta (n.): The act of showing reverence, ideally sincerely. (Worship).
- Ufor (verb.): To show reverence and adoration, lifting spirits in devotion to the divine. (Worship).
- Ufritlepige (n.): The surface for displaying images or the act of hiding something, ideally clear. (Screen).
- Ufritlepir (verb.): To filter or protect, as a mesh separates the fine from the coarse. (Screen).

- Ufrofru (n.): The event, often unpleasant or unexpected, ideally resolved. (Incident).
- Ufuvil (n.): The itemized record or the act of placing something on a list, ideally complete. (Listing).
- Ufumo (adj.): Sends chills down your spine. (Frightening, scary).
- Ufuhumo (adj.): Just happened, fresh news. (Recent, new).
- Uebsu (n.): The section of text with a single idea, ideally concise. (Paragraph).
- Uebuco (n.): The end or the summary of something, ideally logical. (Conclusion).
- Uebur (verb.): To bring to an end, wrapping up events with finality and closure. (Conclude).
- Uenflore (n.): The act of helping others or the system of providing utilities, ideally efficient. (Service).
- Uesag (n.): The young human being, often curious and lively, ideally happy. (Child).
- Uejeiloc (n.): The sudden fright or the noun meaning fear, ideally brief. (Scare).
- Uger (verb.): To expel air with force, sending breezes or gusts that stir the world. (Blow).
- Ugmuohi (n.): The feeling of having done wrong or the responsibility for wrongdoing, ideally alleviated. (Guilt).
- Ugna (n.): The outermost layer or the adjective meaning shallow, ideally smooth. (Surface).
- Ugnaer (verb.): To communicate over distance, bridging gaps with magical devices. (Phone).
- Ugloma (adj.): All about sharing the wealth, everyone gets a piece. (Socialist, equality-based).
- Ugon (n.): The musical composition, ideally catchy. (Song).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ugor (verb.): To meddle or disrupt, hindering progress or actions. (Interfere).
- Ugregar (verb.): To total up, adding all parts to a complete whole. (Sum).
- Ugrisovi (adv.): The conditional way to say something's required, but not always welcome. (Necessarily).
- Ugu (adj.): Happens in a flash, no waiting. (Instant, immediate).
- Ugurim (n.): The person invited to a place or event, ideally welcomed. (Guest).
- Upage (adj.): Open to everyone, no barriers. (Accessible, easy to reach).
- Upar (verb.): To obtain entry or use, unlocking secrets with finesse. (Access).
- Upemca (n.): The storage box for treasures or the front part of your torso that holds your heart. (Chest).
- Uper (verb.): To employ or engage someone's services, bringing them onto a team. (Hire).
- Uperuhair (verb.): To fail to care for properly, overlooking duties or responsibilities. (Neglect).
- Upidlav (n.): The small, convenient package containing anything from ketchup to secrets. (Packet).
- Upigime (adj.): Keeps you amused, like a good story. (Entertaining, fun).
- Uploar (verb.): Yielding to authority, presenting oneself for judgment. (Submit).
- Upлом (n.): The quiet sanctuary filled with books, knowledge, and the faint smell of old paper. (Library).
- Upoi (adv.): The completely encompassing state, leaving no part out. (Wholly).
- Upoma (adj.): All about cowboys and wide-open spaces. (Western, from the west).

- Uprunof (n.): The sum of money placed in a bank or the action of dropping something off. (Deposit).
- Upuve (n.): The moving pictures that entertain, educate, and occasionally go viral. (Video).
- Upurecnoma (adj.): Courteous and respectful, like a well-mannered guest. (Civil, polite).
- Uvaer (verb.): To hold back or delay, keeping someone from proceeding. (Detain).
- Uvantreri (adv.): The frequent occurrence that's regular enough to be noticeable. (Often).
- Uveca (n.): The choice among options, wide and varied. (Selection).
- Uvelijoma (adj.): Exact and detailed, no ambiguity. (Specific, particular).
- Uver (verb.): To choose with discernment, picking the best from a field of possibilities. (Select).
- Uvne (n.): The feel of a surface, intriguing to touch. (Texture).
- Uvsau (n.): The company that flies you to distant lands, on time, if you're lucky. (Airline).
- Uvril (n.): The unit of heredity, blamed for family traits. (Gene).
- Uvrilema (adj.): All about the building blocks of life. (Genetic, DNA-related).
- Uvrileruf (n.): The heated debate that divides opinions and sometimes families. (Controversy).
- Uvrilerufoma (adj.): Sparks debate, gets people talking. (Controversial, debatable).
- Uvrombumo (adj.): Hard to look at, like a bad painting. (Ugly, unattractive).
- Uvroru (n.): The sweet dessert that's the highlight of celebrations. (Cake).
- Uvrumo (adj.): All together, like a team. (Collective, group-related).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Uvuco (n.): The act of setting something up or the large-scale art piece. (Installation).
- Uvulopuer (verb.): To dissolve a marriage, severing the bonds of matrimony. (Divorce).
- Uvulupo (n.): The legal end of a marriage, hopefully amicable. (Divorce).
- Uvur (verb.): To set up equipment or systems, making them operational and ready for use. (Install).
- Uvura (n.): The entrance hall of a building or the group that tries to influence lawmakers. (Lobby).
- Uta (n.): The high respect or the act of showing admiration. (Honor).
- Utar (verb.): To show respect and admiration, celebrating achievements with reverence. (Honor).
- Utive (n.): The secret romance or the important event. (Affair).
- Utili (adv.): The straightforward manner that avoids complications, ideally. (Simply).
- Utilime (adj.): No complications, just straightforward. (Simple, easy).
- Utipe (n.): The segment of a play, movie, or novel, often dramatic. (Scene).
- Utmiri (n.): The carefulness in speech and actions, a sign of wisdom. (Discretion).
- Utsa (n.): The healthy mix of vegetables that makes you feel virtuous. (Salad).
- Utobema (adj.): So stunning, it takes your breath away. (Gorgeous, beautiful).
- Utojiel (n.): The helpful hint or the extra money given for good service. (Tip).
- Utrime (adj.): Not to be taken seriously, like a clown's antics. (Silly, foolish).

- Utrulu (n.): The information about recent events, crucial and timely. (News).
- Uibunabace (n.): The visual representation or the example clarifying a point, ideally vivid. (Illustration).
- Uibunabar (verb.): To explain with visual aids, bringing concepts to life with artistic clarity. (Illustrate).
- Uinogar (verb.): Choosing between options, making a selection after careful consideration. (Opt).
- Uihoehear (verb.): To reach an agreement through mutual concession, balancing differing needs. (Compromise).
- Uihule (n.): The official permit to enter a country, ideally valid. (Visa).
- Uijovlime (adj.): Stands out from the rest, like a diamond in the rough. (Remarkable, extraordinary).
- Uma (adj.): Not about the money, just the good deeds. (Non-profit, charitable).
- Umas (n.): The person who pays taxes, ideally fairly. (Taxpayer).
- Umalol (n.): The goods transported by ship, plane, or truck, ideally secure. (Cargo).
- Umaſu (n.): The forceful strike or the act of expelling air, ideally gentle. (Blow).
- Umblentref (n.): The act of taking someone into custody, ideally justly. (Arrest).
- Umbram (n.): The challenger in your story, always one step behind or ahead, keeping you sharp and your victories sweeter. (Rival).
- Umbrame (adj.): Always in the race, neck and neck. (Rival, competitor).
- Umbroro (n.): The unwitting star of the food chain's drama, always in a high-stakes game of hide and seek. (Prey).
- Umdralur (verb.): To admit truths or sins, as one unburdens their soul, revealing secrets kept hidden in the depths of the heart. (Confess).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Umdrosamo (adj.): Off the deep end, not making sense. (Mad, crazy).
- Umebro (n.): The seat for one person or the head of a committee, ideally comfortable. (Chair).
- Umec (n.): The slender, sharp instrument for sewing or injecting, ideally precise. (Needle).
- Umpreuco (n.): The doctor's written order for medication, ideally accurate. (Prescription).
- Umpreur (verb.): To recommend with authority, setting guidelines for action. (Prescribe).
- Umifar (verb.): Weakening foundations as water erodes stone, subtly but surely. (Undermine).
- Umim (n.): The state of health and happiness, ideally abundant. (Well-being).
- Umir (verb.): Offering oneself as freely as leaves fall to the ground. (Volunteer).
- Umirema (adj.): Your choice, no pressure. (Voluntary, optional).
- Umirel (n.): The generous soul who donates their time without a price tag, weaving kindness into the fabric of community. (Volunteer).
- Umihumo (adj.): Full of integrity, like a knight in shining armor. (Noble, honorable).
- Umijpur (verb.): To provide with necessary tools or gear, preparing for challenges ahead. (Equip).
- Umo (adj.): Butterflies in the stomach, pacing the floor. (Anxious, nervous).
- Umui (adv.): The word that signals good luck or favorable outcomes, often unexpectedly. (Fortunately).
- Umur (verb.): Coming forth into view, like the sun emerging at dawn. (Arise).
- Unapime (adj.): Takes its time, no rush. (Slow, not fast).

- Unar (verb.): Warning of impending danger, keeping others aware. (Alert).
- Unarodi (adv.): The broad manner that covers most bases, with room for exceptions. (Generally).
- Unapi (n.): The back part of the foot or shoe, ideally supportive. (Heel).
- Unapo (n.): The potential for loss or danger, ideally managed. (Risk).
- Unapuini (adv.): The way to continue despite obstacles, much like a determined goat. (Nonetheless).
- Unbloplos (n.): The financial support for a project or organization, ideally sufficient. (Funding).
- Uncloma (adj.): No longer alive, like a stone. (Dead, lifeless).
- Undeho (n.): The person from another country, ideally welcomed. (Foreigner).
- Undri (n.): The performance or display of something, ideally entertaining. (Show).
- Undrom (n.): The unfair treatment or lack of justice, ideally rectified. (Injustice).
- Undrupoma (adj.): Shifts like the wind, never staying the same. (Variable, changeable).
- Undu (n.): The small quantity or the number of items one hand can hold, ideally manageable. (Handful).
- Unflamenta (adj.): Welcoming, like a door with a friendly sign. (Open, not closed).
- Unflamer (verb.): Unfolding as dawn spreads across the horizon, welcoming the day. (Open).
- Unflamija (n.): The essential element or the tool for unlocking, ideally kept safe. (Key).
- Unflamijame (adj.): The main point, without which nothing works. (Key, crucial).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Unflamoi (adv.): The transparent way to do things, hiding nothing and risking everything. (Openly).
- Unfo (n.): The abstract idea or the general notion, ideally clear. (Concept).
- Unfro (n.): The short segment or the device for holding things together, ideally secure. (Clip).
- Unfrumo (adj.): Full of wonder, like a fairy tale. (Magical, enchanting).
- Unead (n.): The lack of ability to do something, ideally overcome. (Inability).
- Unecsirenta (n.): The state of being unequal, ideally addressed. (Inequality).
- Unecu (prep.): For the unexpected and the different, unecu highlights the contrasts and oddities. (Unlike).
- Uned (n.): The capacity to do work or the vitality and enthusiasm, ideally high. (Energy).
- Uneimul (n.): The absence of light or the adjective meaning gloomy, ideally brief. (Dark, darkness).
- Uneimulumo (adj.): Hard to see, like midnight without stars. (Dark, without light).
- Unenva (n.): The bustling headquarters of thought, where ideas are born, plans are made, and daydreams are diligently crafted. (Mind).
- Unenicoma (adj.): More than needed, like an extra umbrella on a sunny day. (Unnecessary, redundant).
- Unenim (n.): The process of producing goods, ideally efficiently. (Manufacturing).
- Unesir (verb.): To cease living, transitioning from life to death. (Die).
- Unel (n.): The regular rise and fall of sea levels, ideally predictable. (Tide).
- Ungee (n.): The result of a cause or the influence of something, ideally positive. (Effect).
- Ungidante (adj.): Takes you down the wrong path. (Misleading, deceptive).

- Ungor (verb.): Lacking the ability or permission to do something, unable to perform an action. (Cannot).
- Ungroma (adj.): First in line, the most important. (Principal, main).
- Ungrol (n.): The head of a school or the adjective meaning primary, ideally fair. (Principal).
- Unguvumo (adj.): Out of the blue, like a surprise party. (Unexpected, surprising).
- Unprintrup (n.): The supreme being in many religions, often called upon in moments of crisis. (God).
- Unvlorun (n.): The borrowed money that comes with a friendly note: "please return with interest. (Loan).
- Untruboma (adj.): Exists only in the mind, like dreams. (Imaginary, not real).
- Unible (n.): The room for bathing and other personal needs, ideally clean. (Bathroom).
- Unic (n.): The intense fear or the genre of scary entertainment, ideally fictional. (Horror).
- Univesti (n.): The teaching staff or the mental ability, ideally sharp. (Faculty).
- Unime (n.): The state of no longer having something or the defeat, ideally temporary. (Loss).
- Unir (verb.): To endure or cope with, carrying burdens with stoic determination. (Bear).
- Unob (n.): The precious metal that glitters and never loses its shine. (Gold).
- Unovoma (adj.): Can't do it, no matter how hard they try. (Unable, not able).
- Unoma (adj.): Shiny and valuable, like treasure. (Gold, precious metal).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Unolopeenta (n.): The floating vessel that navigates the seas, carrying both cargo and dreams. (Ship).
- Unolopeer (verb.): To send goods or items across distances, ensuring delivery with nautical efficiency. (Ship).
- Unoro (n.): The heavy object that keeps ships steady and metaphors grounded. (Anchor).
- Unutime (adj.): So detailed, it takes time to understand. (Complex, intricate).
- Unutilco (n.): The twist in the plot that makes life both interesting and frustrating. (Complication).
- Unutilgo (n.): The intricate web of details that makes challenges rewarding. (Complexity).
- Unutilimo (adj.): Not simple, full of twists and turns. (Complicated, complex).
- Unumosema (adj.): Goes on and on, no breaks. (Continuous, unending).
- Unuumo (adj.): Full of might, like a raging river. (Strong, powerful).
- Unjin (n.): The conclusive stroke in the symphony of sequences, the last word that decides when the story ends.. (Last).
- Unjini (adv.): The ultimate position in a series, often the most memorable. (Last).
- Usapaji (n.): The vehicle that takes you where you need to go, for a fare. (Taxi).
- Usala (n.): The barrier that marks boundaries and keeps neighbors neighborly. (Fence).
- Usaje (n.): The little patch that catches the eye, marking its territory with a distinct presence. (Spot).
- Usbril (n.): The brother or sister who knows your secrets and occasionally uses them. (Sibling).
- Uscloma (adj.): More than one, plenty to go around. (Multiple, many).

- Uscri (n.): The possessions you own or the land you can call yours. (Property).
- Usduocer (verb.): To intimidate or imply harm, as storm clouds loom ominously, their dark forms promising the fury of a storm. (Threaten).
- Useas (n.): The small area of something or the piece of fabric for mending. (Patch).
- Usel (n.): The small, rolled cylinder of tobacco that smolders slowly, for better or worse. (Cigarette).
- Uselema (adj.): Ends in ruin, like a shipwreck. (Disastrous, catastrophic).
- Usgecrulace (n.): The group of items gathered together, often cherished or displayed. (Collection).
- Usgecrular (verb.): To gather items systematically, amassing a curated array of objects. (Collect).
- Usgecrularol (n.): The person who amasses collections, from stamps to stories. (Collector).
- Usglanir (verb.): To reveal something hidden, lifting the curtain on mysteries and secrets. (Unveil).
- Usgle (n.): The place where food is prepared, served, and savored. (Restaurant).
- Usglas (n.): The list of items to discuss or do, hopefully not too long. (Agenda).
- Usgu (adj.): Covers everything, leaves nothing out. (Comprehensive, thorough).
- Uspradmu (adj.): Sets your mouth on fire, full of flavor. (Spicy, hot).
- Usve (n.): The person who flies planes or the first episode of a tv series. (Pilot).
- Ustrin (n.): The rude remark that stings and sometimes inspires comebacks. (Insult).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ustrugo (n.): The state of being outstanding, a standard to strive for. (Excellence).
- Ustrumo (adj.): Can't get better, at the peak. (Excellent, top-notch).
- Usir (verb.): To be appropriate or fitting, matching needs or preferences perfectly. (Suit).
- Usiru (n.): The act of revealing information, ideally transparent. (Disclosure).
- Uso (n.): The twist of fate where outcomes are opposite to what was expected. (Irony).
- Usod (n.): The leap into the air or the start of something new. (Jump).
- Usofoma (adj.): No danger here, rest easy. (Safe, secure).
- Usoero (n.): The power source for your gadgets or the charge of assault. (Battery).
- Usoirear (verb.): To ascend or move upward, scaling heights or overcoming obstacles. (Climb).
- Usupumo (adj.): Warm-hearted, always there to help. (Kind, compassionate).
- Usuta (n.): The bustling area where goods are bought and sold. (Marketplace).
- Usuifa (n.): The measure of heaviness or the metaphorical burden. (Weight).
- Usur (verb.): To create products with skill and precision, turning raw materials into polished goods. (Manufacture).
- Ulapi (n.): The numerical part of a whole, often simplifying math. (Fraction).
- Ulat (n.): The adolescent between childhood and adulthood, ideally not too rebellious. (Teenager).
- Ulamo (adj.): No edges, just curves. (Round, circular).

- Ular (prep.): Ular captures the circular essence, whether it's a round table or a roundabout way. (Round).
- Ulari (adv.): The circular manner of moving or the complete state. (Round).
- Ularu (n.): The circular shape or the adjective meaning complete, ideally perfect. (Round).
- Ulajele (n.): The literary form with rhythmic and expressive qualities, ideally evocative. (Poetry).
- Ulañueleco (n.): The piece of writing in verse, often evocative. (Poem).
- Ule (n.): The place for storing cars or the workshop, ideally organized. (Garage).
- Ulem (n.): The harbor for ships or the left side of a ship, ideally busy. (Port).
- Uleser (verb.): To attend to or be concerned with, keeping vigilant watch over matters of importance. (Mind).
- Uliglic (n.): The years of life between 13 and 19, ideally full of growth. (Teens).
- Ulitime (adj.): The core, can't do without it. (Fundamental, essential).
- Ulincro (n.): The plan of activities or events, ideally followed. (Schedule).
- Ulisime (adj.): Can be done, like a plan with legs. (Viable, workable).
- Ulihe (n.): The device for catching or the situation that's hard to escape, ideally avoided. (Trap).
- Ulije (n.): The process of creating or producing something, ideally innovative. (Making).
- Ulsa (pron.): The collective sum of everything, often more than you bargained for. (All, lot, plenty).
- Ulsai (adv.): The large quantity that seems unmanageable, yet often necessary. (All, lot).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ulsamo (adj.): Every single bit, nothing left out. (All, everything).
- Ulsdilema (adj.): Part of the routine, like brushing your teeth. (Everyday, daily).
- Ulsol (pron.): The whole crowd, ensuring that no one gets left behind or unnoticed. (Everybody, everyone).
- Uloca (n.): The act of finishing something, ideally successfully. (Completion).
- Ulosil (n.): The industrious gadget that dances with liquids, giving them the momentum to move from here to there. (Pump).
- Ulolu (n.): The large shopping center, often with many stores, ideally bustling. (Mall).
- Ulor (verb.): Finishing a task fully, bringing to a satisfying end. (Complete).
- Ulorojei (adv.): The direction that keeps you moving ahead, ideally without tripping. (Forward).
- Ulorojema (adj.): Looking to the future, no turning back. (Forward, ahead).
- Ulohairoca (n.): The carefulness to avoid danger or mistakes, ideally wise. (Caution).
- Ulofi (n.): The steady stream of goods, flowing from the source to satisfy the ever-hungry demands of need and desire. (Supply).
- Ulunir (verb.): To record moving images, capturing scenes and stories through the lens. (Film).
- Ulus (n.): The fabric sculpture tailored for the female form, (and male too, why not?) artfully draping, twirling, and telling tales in its folds..(Dress).
- Uluor (verb.): To lightly touch or strike, initiating action with a gentle, precise gesture. (Tap).
- Uluru (n.): The space devoid of matter or the device for cleaning, ideally powerful. (Vacuum).

- Uluhu (n.): The acceptance that something is true or exists, ideally unwavering. (Belief).
- Uluu (n.): The organ for hearing or the attentive listener, ideally sharp. (Ear).
- Ulunesui (adv.): The economical way to do things, sometimes at the cost of quality. (Cheap).
- Ulunesumo (adj.): Doesn't cost much, easy on the wallet. (Cheap, inexpensive).
- Ulusidrum (n.): The person who speaks for an organization or group, ideally articulate. (Spokesperson).
- Uogu (n.): The plants grown for food, fuel, and the occasional farm-to-table bragging right. (Crop).
- Uom (n.): The way of doing something that separates the graceful from the clumsy. (Manner).
- Uofime (adj.): Hits hard, leaves a mark. (Severe, harsh).
- Urad (n.): The steadfast metal guardian of food and drink, keeping contents cozy and fresh until summoned. (Can).
- Uramo (adj.): Always there when you need it, like a good friend. (Helpful, useful).
- Urasema (adj.): Full of peril, like walking a tightrope. (Risky, dangerous).
- Uraslame (adj.): Pulls you in, like a good mystery. (Intriguing, fascinating).
- Urajema (adj.): Leaves no stone unturned, covers all bases. (Intensive, thorough).
- Ured (n.): The currency used in many european countries, perfect for continental shopping sprees. (Euro).
- Uregrere (n.): The strong, magnetic metal that builds structures and wrinkles clothes. (Iron).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Uremor (verb.): To leap into action suddenly, with the energy of a rabbit on a trampoline. (Spring).
- Ureru (n.): The organized military force ready to defend, attack, and march impressively. (Army).
- Urefutlos (n.): The abrupt stop that says, "hold on a second!" . (Halt).
- Uriantante (n.): The string of words that conveys a complete thought or the punishment given by a judge. (Sentence).
- Uriantar (verb.): To declare a judicial punishment, deciding the fate of a defendant. (Sentence).
- Uriajumo (adj.): All about the law and justice. (Judicial, court-related).
- Urivib (n.): The competitive event where participants vie for glory and prizes. (Contest).
- Urivril (n.): The woven material that becomes clothes, curtains, and occasionally, art. (Cloth).
- Uriisur (verb.): To convey information or narrate a story, sharing knowledge through words. (Tell).
- Urim (n.): The reason for which something is done, clear and motivating. (Purpose).
- Urimo (adj.): Locked up tight, no worries. (Secure, safe).
- Uriilaju (n.): The arbiter with the gavel, reigning over the court with a balance of wisdom and the law's stern script. (Judge).
- Uriilajuco (n.): The final decision given in court or the act of forming an opinion. (Judgment).
- Urijaesema (adj.): Not natural, but works just as well. (Artificial, man-made).
- Uroab (n.): The flickering pictures on a screen that tell stories, often with popcorn. (Movie).
- Urobo (n.): The wild, wonderful world outside your window, best enjoyed without screens. (Nature).

- Urobrel (n.): The act of setting something aside for future use, whether money or lives. (Saving).
- Urobrotehi (n.): The limb you stand on, kick with, and occasionally, put your foot in your mouth with. (Leg).
- Urodrutlamo (adj.): Takes your breath away, like a sunset over the ocean. (Stunning, breathtaking).
- Urovral (n.): The famous person adored, envied, and occasionally avoided. (Celebrity).
- Urovletra (n.): The perfectly round shape that rolls, bounces, and symbolizes completeness. (Sphere).
- Urotrumafof (n.): The investigative tool or the act of digging for information, often uncomfortably thorough. (Probe).
- Urom (n.): The democratic tool that lets you choose leaders, policies, and reality show winners. (Vote).
- Uromibe (n.): The act of cleaning clothes, dishes, and sometimes sins. (Washing).
- Uronamai (adv.): The almost-but-not-quite state that leaves much to be desired. (Hardly).
- Uros (n.): The act of coming in or the place where you enter. (Entrance).
- Urole (n.): The visual representation that makes complex ideas look simple. (Diagram).
- Uroreca (n.): The long-established custom that connects generations, often celebrated. (Tradition).
- Urupui (adv.): The state of just managing, often with a sigh of relief. (Barely).
- Uruneacor (verb.): To clothe, not just in fabric but in an aura, dressing not only the body but also the spirit in its chosen identity. (Dress).
- Urul (n.): The place where dramas unfold on stage or screen, often accompanied by popcorn. (Theater).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Urulumo (adj.): Full of flair, like a broadway show. (Theatrical, dramatic).
- Uruluhaer (verb.): To exchange goods or services, conducting business transactions. (Trade).
- Uruur (verb.): To administer a harmful substance, causing illness or death with. (Poison).
- Uruje (n.): The encouraging lift that propels you forward, whether physically or emotionally. (Boost).
- Urujou (n.): The heroic act of saving someone from danger, requiring bravery and skill. (Rescue).
- Urujour (verb.): To save from danger or harm, bringing to safety. (Rescue).
- Uhacrv (n.): The sense of sound or the formal meeting to gather evidence, ideally attentive. (Hearing).
- Uhagris (n.): The fee for education or the act of teaching, ideally affordable. (Tuition).
- Uhaplu (n.): The act of moving rhythmically to music, ideally joyful. (Dancing).
- Uhailo (n.): The cloth material or the underlying structure of something, ideally durable. (Fabric).
- Uhasoma (adj.): Burns with a strong flame, like a wild animal. (Fierce, intense).
- Uhaur (verb.): To remove or erase, eliminating text or data. (Delete).
- Uheir (verb.): To observe secretly, gathering information with keen, clandestine eyes. (Spy).
- Uheur (verb.): To move smoothly and continuously, like a river winding its way through valleys and plains. (Flow).
- Uhialul (n.): The optimistic desire for something to happen, ideally realized. (Hope).
- Uhialuli (adv.): The optimistic adverb that looks forward to better things, fingers crossed. (Hopefully).

- Uhibrem (n.): The method or skill used in a specific task, ideally perfected. (Technique).
- Uhibremoma (adj.): All about gadgets and gizmos. (Technical, tech-related).
- Uhiicre (n.): The small container for drinking or the prize for winning, ideally clean. (Cup).
- Uhiu (n.): The place for burying the dead, ideally peaceful. (Cemetery).
- Uhoice (n.): The clarification of something, ideally clear. (Explanation).
- Uhoifui (adv.): The forever state that's both comforting and terrifying. (Permanently).
- Uhoilil (n.): The journey in a vehicle or the amusement park attraction, ideally smooth. (Ride).
- Uhoir (verb.): To unravel the mysteries with clarity and eloquence, as a teacher enlightens eager minds, transforming confusion into comprehension. (Explain).
- Uhour (verb.): To rest or unwind, releasing tension and finding calm. (Relax).
- Uu (conj.): Snaps the focus to the present, the immediacy of the current moment in the tale. (Now).
- Uuber (verb.): To conceal from view, shielding from discovery with careful cover. (Hide).
- Ucriler (verb.): To ascend or climb, rising to a higher position. (Mount).
- Uudile (n.): The present day, best lived to the fullest. (Today).
- Uudilei (adv.): The current day, ripe with possibilities and potential disappointments. (Today).
- Uudilili (adv.): The modern era that's often nostalgic for the past. (Nowadays).
- Uui (adv.): The present moment that's fleeting and always turning into then. (Now).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Uulijame (adj.): Two parts, working together. (Dual, twofold).
- Uuru (n.): The place where learning happens, filled with potential. (Classroom).
- Uuſa (n.): The permanent part of a structure or the established presence. (Fixture).
- Ujabrime (adj.): Plain and unadorned, no frills. (Stark, bare).
- Ujaime (adj.): Beyond ordinary, like a hero's tale. (Extraordinary, exceptional).
- Ujasi (n.): The firm hold or the understanding of something, ideally strong. (Grasp).
- Ujar (verb.): To appear as though viewed through a mist, where shapes and truths shift with perspective. (Seem).
- Ujefoclira (n.): The formal assembly or the customary practice, ideally productive. (Convention).
- Ujeed (n.): The intense anger, often short-lived. (Rage).
- Ujeeji (n.): The place designed for a specific function or the ease of doing something, ideally functional. (Facility).
- Ujeplolofaem (n.): The warm season of sunshine and vacations, ideally relaxing. (Summer).
- Ujejatlemi (adv.): The significant way to describe something that's more than you expected. (Considerably).
- Ujema (adj.): All about the web, connected by wires and waves. (Online, internet-based).
- Ujemai (adv.): The digital state of being, where everything happens at the speed of light. (Online).
- Ujeoli (adv.): The time that follows now, leading to a series of events. (Then).
- Ujiar (verb.): To dismiss from employment, removing from a position. (Sack).

- Ujibrub (n.): The rate of motion or progress, ideally safe. (Speed).
- Ujiif (n.): The device warning of danger or the state of sudden fear, ideally functional. (Alarm).
- Ujiinglili (adv.): The general state of being true, with room for exceptions. (Mostly).
- Ujilenoir (verb.): To grant permission or power, formally approving actions or decisions. (Authorize).
- Ujoaro (n.): The study of religious beliefs and practices, ideally profound. (Theology).
- Ujoetime (adj.): So small, you might need a magnifying glass. (Minute, tiny).
- Ujoer (verb.): To express dissatisfaction or grievances, as a customer recounts shortcomings, each detail a testament to unmet expectations. (Complain).
- Ujoglolum (n.): The actors in a play or the act of throwing, ideally stellar. (Cast).
- Ujoplol (n.): The administrative division within a state or country, ideally well-governed. (County).
- Ujopror (verb.): To follow the trail or movements, tracing paths with the keen eye of a seasoned hunter. (Track).
- Ujoipleoca (n.): The process of growth and improvement, ideally progressive. (Development).
- Ujoipleor (verb.): To grow or expand over time, evolving from simple to complex. (Develop).
- Ujosı (n.): The raised surface or the political stance, ideally stable. (Platform).
- Ujoof (n.): The feeling of compassion for someone's suffering, ideally comforting. (Sympathy).
- Ujoofime (adj.): Feels your pain, ready to help. (Sympathetic, compassionate).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ujooflal (n.): The arachnid with eight legs or the web weaver, ideally outside. (Spider).
- Ujuame (adj.): Pushes hard, takes what it wants. (Aggressive, forceful).
- Ujuamo (adj.): Just around the corner, right on time. (Due, expected).
- Ujuco (n.): The act of employing something or the noun meaning purpose, ideally efficient. (Use).
- Ujuema (adj.): Works against you, like a bad wind. (Adverse, harmful).
- Ujuer (verb.): Shedding layers as trees bare branches to the winter chill. (Strip).
- Ujugleg (n.): The institution for education or the group of fish swimming together, ideally enlightening. (School).
- Ujuplumo (adj.): Not here, like a puzzle piece gone astray. (Missing, absent).
- Ujumo (adj.): Not brand new, but still has life in it. (Used, second-hand).
- Ujur (verb.): To employ for a purpose, utilizing effectively. (Use).
- Ujurol (n.): The person who uses a service or product, ideally satisfied. (User).
- Ujuudram (n.): The small, round medication, ideally easy to swallow. (Pill).
- Unaafare (n.): The detailed proposal for achieving something, ideally more than just a hopeful outline. (Plan).
- Ujaali (adv.): The logical conclusion that follows from what was previously stated. (Therefore).
- Unavlosonor (verb.): To think deeply or ponder, reflecting on ideas or scenarios. (Contemplate).
- Unalo (n.): The foggy state of not knowing, which can lead to either worry or adventure. (Uncertainty).
- Uneblenijame (adj.): Like clockwork, never misses a beat. (Weekly, every week).

- U_ŋebu (n.): The juicy tidbit of information that spreads like wildfire, accuracy optional. (Rumour).
- U_ŋelis (n.): The detailed examination of something, often leading to newfound clarity. (Analysis).
- U_ŋeo (n.): The delightful emotion that makes life worth living, often found in small moments. (Joy).
- U_ŋiflim (n.): The ideal example to follow or the person posing for artists and cameras. (Model).
- U_ŋiploma (adj.): Equal on all sides, like a box. (Square, four-sided).
- U_ŋiplora (n.): The shape with four equal sides or the place in town where people gather. (Square).
- U_ŋiil (n.): The nagging feeling that keeps you second-guessing yourself, often unnecessarily. (Doubt).
- U_ŋior (verb.): To look at or examine, perceiving with focused attention. (View).
- U_ŋiojetrime (adj.): Full of past glory, like an ancient monument. (Historic, history-related).
- U_ŋira (n.): The quality of being honest and having strong moral principles, steadfast and true. (Integrity).
- U_ŋuir (verb.): To propel oneself off the ground with a sudden burst of energy, leaping into the air with enthusiasm. (Jump).
- U_ŋoamo (adj.): Packs away neatly, like a folding chair. (Folding, collapsible).
- U_ŋotlalugui (n.): The heartfelt "i'm sorry" that mends fences and soothes egos. (Apology).
- U_ŋotlalur (verb.): To express regret for a misstep, mending rifts with heartfelt words. (Apologize).
- U_ŋoloonta (n.): The act of following rules or regulations without a grumble. (Compliance).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- Ujhlooor (verb.): To adhere to rules or requests, following directions with disciplined obedience. (Comply).
- Ujnalumo (adj.): From here, rooted in the land. (Native, indigenous).
- Ujnalus (n.): The person born in a particular place or the adjective meaning indigenous. (Native).
- Ujuef (n.): The flowing substance that fills your glass and sometimes your shoes. (Liquid).
- Ujnuema (adj.): Flows and moves, like water. (Liquid, fluid).
- Ujsafrun (n.): The legal right to care for someone or the state of being detained. (Custody).
- Ujsae (n.): The final point of something, often a new beginning in disguise. (End).
- Ujsai (n.): The rural area with open fields, fresh air, and the occasional cow. (Countryside).
- Ujsara (n.): The part of your face that speaks, eats, and occasionally puts its foot in. (Mouth).
- Ujedafi (n.): The set of rooms in a hotel or the collection of related software. (Suite).
- Ujeruame (adj.): Hits the mark, no wavering. (Acute, sharp).
- Ujsiclu (n.): The plant whose leaves are smoked, chewed, or snuffed, often controversially. (Tobacco).
- Ujivoer (verb.): To rise suddenly with powerful force, swelling like a tide that sweeps all before it. (Surge).
- Ujina (n.): The act of spending money, ideally wisely. (Expenditure).
- Ujior (verb.): Rushing swiftly as a falcon dives through the air. (Speed).
- Ujiur (verb.): To dedicate with passionate commitment, giving oneself fully to a cause. (Devote).
- Ujocaer (verb.): To trip or lose balance, faltering momentarily. (Stumble).

- Uſoel (n.): The arrangement or command that brings harmony, ideally followed. (Order).
- Uſorare (n.): The governing body that makes laws, hopefully justly. (Legislature).
- Uſuvrore (n.): The treatment that heals minds, bodies, and sometimes hearts. (Therapy).
- Uſuir (verb.): To press or squeeze forcefully, breaking down into fine pieces or powder. (Crush).
- Uſusigui (n.): The act of causing death, preferably avoided. (Killing).
- Uſusir (verb.): To end a life, extinguishing the spark of existence with finality. (Kill, Murder).
- Uſulir (verb.): To disappear suddenly, leaving no trace behind. (Vanish).
- Uſuor (verb.): To bring a legal action against, seeking justice or compensation. (Sue).
- Uſufu (n.): The locomotive that chugs along tracks or the act of preparing for something. (Train).

A	B	C	D	F	E	G	P	V	T	I	M	N	S	L	O	U	J
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

J

- Jicsi (adv.): The restrictive word that narrows down options, usually more than you'd like. (Only).
- Jicsime (adj.): The single one, standing alone like the last cookie in the jar. (Only, sole).
- Jitesime (adj.): Fresh and new, like a painter's first masterpiece. (Original, unique).
- Jitesira (n.): The unique creation or the source from which copies are made. (Original).
- Jin (pron.): The single entity that stands alone. (One).
- Jinai (adv.): The time something happens before it's lost to memory. (Once).
- Jindile (n.): The start of the workweek, often dreaded and caffeine-fueled. (Monday).
- Jini (adv. / n.): The initial position, always desired, rarely achieved. (First).
- Jinia (conj.): A fleeting moment, a singular point in time where something remarkable happened. (Once).